Motet — Winfred Douglas

O Food of men wayfaring,
The Bread of Angels sharing,
O Manna from on high!
We hunger, Lord, supply us
Nor Thy delights deny us,
Whose hearts to Thee draw nigh.

O stream of love past telling,
O purest Fountain welling
From out the Saviour's side.
We faint with thirst, revive us,
Of Thine abundance give us,
And all we need provide.

O Jesu, by Thee bidden,
We here adore Thee hidden
'Neath forms of Bread and Wine.
Grant when the veil is riven,
We may behold in Heaven
Thy countenance divine. Amen.

TODAY throughout the Church we are observing Theological Education Sunday. The offering will be divided between the Philadelphia Divinity School and the General Theological Seminary in New York. Our seminarian, Mr. Myron Herrick, a student at the Philadelphia Divinity School, will be our preacher this morning.

SISTER DARTHEA'S ROOM in the parish house has been redecorated and refurnished through the generosity of a member of the parish. A gift from another member has made it possible to refinish the floor in the parish hall. The recent cleaning of the rood beam was made possible by offerings from both branches of the Auxiliary and the Altar Guild. These expressions of interest in furthering the parish work are encouraging and commendable.

WE WELCOME as our preacher at High Mass today the Rev. Albert J. duBois, Executive Director of the American Church Union. There will be an opportunity to meet Father duBois at the coffee hour. The people of St. Mark's appreciate Father duBois giving us this Sunday out of a very busy life.

"52 FOR 52"—The American Church Union is enlisting the support of 500 parishes and congregations throughout the country to give $52 each this year for the work of the Union. The scope of the A. C. U. has so widened since Father duBois has taken its leadership that it would be tragic to have it curtailed for lack of funds. In these days of indifference and often plain hostility to the Catholic faith and life as set forth in the Episcopal Church, the American Church Union brings together for concerted action those who love the faith of the Church. A number of our parishioners already are members of the A.C.U. More memberships are needed. Information and blanks are in the Church porch. We also ask those who wish to contribute towards "52 for 52" to send their offering to the Rector. Your gifts for the "52" fund do not include membership.

COFFEE HOUR—The women of the Church, comprising the members of the Afternoon and Evening Auxiliaries, will be hosts at the coffee hour this Sunday following High Mass. Come to the parish hall after this Service whenever possible and meet friends old and new.

BISHOP HART has designated Sunday, May 11, as the day of his visitation for Confirmation. Those who desire this Sacrament should speak to the Rector as soon as possible or attend the Inquirers' Class, conducted for adults on Wednesdays, or the Confirmation Class on Saturday mornings for children.

INQUIRERS' CLASS — No class this Wednesday. Next class will be on Wednesday, February 27th.

CONFIRMATION CLASS for children Saturdays at 11.00 A. M.

SCHOOL OF RELIGION—"Life of Prayer". Five lectures on some technique of praying: Private prayer, meditation, "little books", the community prayer (Eucharistic prayer); what prayer is, preparation for prayer, the results of prayer, need of the prayers of others, how God does things through prayer. Classes will be conducted by Fr. Kintzing each Thursday during Lent at 5.15 P. M. in the library.

PRE-LENTEN QUIET DAY, Tuesday, February 19th, at St. Margaret's House. Conductor: The Rev. Emmett P. Paige. Please register early.

LENTEN QUIET DAY, Tuesday, March 4th, at St. Margaret's House. Starting at 8.30 and closing at 3.15 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. William I. Edwards. Please register early.

Choral Evensong

This afternoon St. Mark's Choir will sing Choral Evensong at 4 P. M. followed by Mendelssohn's "Christus." It is hoped that many members of the Parish and their friends will attend this service.

The Rector's Message

It was most encouraging to have the Ash Wednesday services so largely attended. In that respect we have made a good beginning for Lent. It is now up to each one of us to apply a little "stick-to ativeness" and see if we can't come to Easter with some sense of "well done". Lent is hardly worth our trouble unless we have a simple RULE based upon our Lord's precepts of Prayer, Fasting and Almsgiving. If you haven't made your rule yet, it is never too late to do it—make one today.

Father Kintzing and I look forward to Lent this year because we have come to feel very much at home at St. Mark's, and these Forty Days give us the opportunity of a more concentrated devotional life together with our people. We have done the best we can in visiting the members of the parish, and still hope to reach all the people on the parish list before summer. Except for those who are kept from church through sickness or age, we want to strengthen the bond of fellowship between priests and people, and between the members themselves, by our life of prayer around St. Mark's Altars. We are always available to visit the sick, to bring the Sacrament of the Holy Communion to those kept from the Altar, and we urge you to call us and come to see us if we can assist you in any problems. We are happy also that many who are not members of the parish turn to the ministry of your priests at St. Mark's.

I am convinced that St. Mark's has always done well to emphasize the Church's high standard of requirement for receiving Holy Communion, and that only those should receive at the High Mass on Sunday and at the 12.10 Masses during Lent who notify the celbrant at least five minutes before the service. There may be those who wish to come at these late hours keeping the fast, and those, who by reason of age, are unable to come at an earlier hour. Communion is never "closed" to confirmed members of the Church in good standing, and I ask your understanding and co-operation in maintaining this simple standard. When there are no communions at these late masses the communion devotions are omitted, as the rubrics permit.

May God bless each one of you this Sunday as we offer our Lord's Own Service to the glory of God.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

St. Mark's Church has always clearly stood for the Catholic Faith and Life as set forth in the Book of Common Prayer. This is not just one view of the Church, something peculiar to St. Mark's and a few parishes like it; it is setting forth in teaching and practice our Anglican heritage as part of a tradition almost 2000 years old. We are a valid part of the historic Catholic Church, and the creeds mean for us what that Church has always meant, our three-fold Ministry of Apostolic Succession, our Liturgy, our devotional customs are to be interpreted in the light of the faith and life of the undivided Church. All schemes to dispose of differences which we may have with our Protestant brethren as unimportant are dangerous morally and intellectually. Anglican Catholics cannot be accused of being uncharitable if they feel bound by conscience to defend "the faith once delivered to the saints". With a powerful Rome claiming a Catholic monoply on one side, and a developing Pan-Protestantism so attractive to some Episcopalians on the other, the religion of the Prayer Book, the Catholic Faith as our Communion has received the same, is facing a test. It is a situation which demands that every Churchman know his faith, make the practice of it vital, and witness before men the joy and privilege of the Sacramental life.

The American Church Union needs your support, and I hope that many of this congregation will become members. It does not wish to be a "party" group, but simply a fellowship of those who care about the things I mention above. We also need more contributions towards our A.C.U. pledge of $52 in 1952. I shall be happy to receive memberships and contributions.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

THE CLERGY have been asked about certain customs at Mass relative to the congregation. People should be free to worship as they desire without any pressure towards mere uniformity. However, your clergy see no need for the members of the congregation to rise when the priest enters and leaves at Low Mass. As to the Litany in procession, the most fitting custom seems to be for the congregation to stand, in token that each member has a part in the procession. The prevailing custom during the Nicene Creed is to kneel at the words, "And was incarnate", and rise after the words, "and was made man". The clergy also suggest that the Agnus Dei, at Low Mass, be said in unison with the priest throughout.

The Rector's Message

Worship is the first and foremost function of the Christian Life. Because man has been created as he is, and, as his chief end is to glorify and serve God, worship must be expressed by every faculty of the whole person. This can mean that no less than both priest and people share in the wonderful "work" of worship. The priest ministers at the altar; laymen minister in the sanctuary, in the choir and in the congregation. A congregation is essential in the offering of the Eucharistic Rite, according to Anglican tradition.

How can the layman "assist at", rather than merely attend, a service? In the first place both priest and people are bound by at least two obligations before coming to the corporate action. Each is equally responsible for being at Mass on Sundays and the traditional days of obligation. Each also must make a preparation, a recalling of Our Lord's Sacrifice, a personal intention as we assist in offering the Holy Sacrifice, and, if we are to receive Holy Communion, a self-examination of our lives and a confession of sin. When we have assumed our place in the Service itself, each has his share in the responses to be made and the parts to be said in chorus with the priest. The singing of hymns and the people's parts of the Mass should offer opportunity for each worshipper to further "assist". The hymns are especially for the congregation, and I hope that an already good response in this regard will be improved. In these days it may be impossible to have all the congregational parts of the Mass sung to music in which we can participate, yet we can learn to sing the Creed, the Lord's Prayer and the fixed responses.

I hope that more and more we shall become a singing congregation, each worshipper rightfully expressing himself in the music as well as the said parts of our services. Our worship must be a corporate action, and your share in it is of the utmost importance in a worthy offering to God.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

In a recent discussion of church customs, one offered the comment that I was called "father" and yet didn't even have a family. This bit of friendly ribbing gave me the opportunity to assure my friend that actually, in one respect, I had a large and wonderful family. The pastor of a parish tries to minister to one part of Christ's Family, and in this pastoral function to earn the affectionate title of "father." A parish, after all, is a family of the children of God, members of Christ, who have been spiritually born in Holy Baptism. We are, then, spiritual brothers and sisters, comprising a mixture of varied personalities, temperaments, cultural interests, races and social groups. Isn't it an astonishing thing to find people who are so different in many ways, proclaiming a common Faith and kneeling together at the Lord's Table? This achievement is beyond the scope of human effort. Only as we are one in Christ have we any oneness at all.

This glorious ideal is far from being perfectly expressed. All the time the perverse element in our human nature is popping up and ruffling the serenity of parish family life. We would do well to accept this as a fact, realizing that, as in all human relationships, the course of true love never runs smoothly. We might put it this way; in a parish family we learn through Christ this matter of living as brothers and sisters. Here is the proving-ground of the Christian Life where character is developed, where weakness becomes strength, where love gains meaning, and where differences are turned into talents. Of course we would like to see a perfect life of unity in the parish family, but, first of all, our main work is to seek the Will of God. Faith tells us that the answer is there for us to find. God the Holy Spirit is always in the Church to lead us into all truth. He is in the parish to bring us all to the Mind of Christ. The prayer of the spiritual fellowship, the parish family, must be "Thy will be done." As children of Grace it is our vocation to show forth in common life the truth that oneness in Christ is of greater power than all the natural human differences we find among us. We must work for the unity of our parish life, but, above all, we must surrender our selves to a greater unity in our Lord Jesus Christ.

NOTES

THE CLERGY have been asked about certain customs at Mass relative to the congregation. People should be free to worship as they desire without any pressure towards mere uniformity. However, your clergy see no need for the members of the congregation to rise when the priest enters and leaves at Low Mass. As to the Litany in procession, the most fitting custom seems to be for the congregation to stand, in token that each member has a part in the procession. The prevailing custom during the Nicene Creed is to kneel at the words, "And was incarnate", and rise after the words, "and was made man". The clergy also suggest that the Agnus Dei, at Low Mass, be said in unison with the priest throughout.

NOMINATIONS FOR VESTRYMEN — The by-laws require that "Nominations for the office of Vestryman shall be made in writing to the Secretary of the Vestry, by any qualified voter, ... at least ten days before the date of the annual election on Easter Monday." The Rector's Message

This is Passion Sunday, and our thoughts are directed towards the Cross. The veiled crosses suggest the deepening shadows as our Lord's earthly Ministry came to a close. Two weeks more remain of Lent. Our opportunities as churchmen are intensified, and we are brought before our Blessed Lord in His Passion to evaluate our spiritual growth and to prepare for Easter and the Easter Communion.

What have we made of this Lent? Perhaps only God knows, but certainly we can make up for any failures in our Lenten rule by the use we make of these last two weeks. Each one of us as individuals will want to take advantage of Passiontide, but more than that as a parish family we can grow in spiritual fellowship by keeping our eyes on the Cross, and learning again what Christ's love for us cost Him in terms of humiliation and suffering. There are many examples we might find to show how this should be carried out in the unity of a worshipping community. The oneness of union with God and with our fellow parishioners, which reaches the high point as we kneel together at the Communion Rail during Passiontide and on Easter Day for our communions, can be the same oneness of loving understanding when we meet on Easter Monday to elect a Vestry. It is all the Lord's business.

Each of us must sincerely face how he will prepare for the Easter Communion. The direction of our hearts and wills by the Church in her Liturgy, especially in Holy Week, puts plainly before us the unavoidable necessity of looking at ourselves in the light of the Man upon the Cross. If we do this, there is only one result. We are convicted of sin; we are sinners. Yet, as Christ willingly and lovingly took the sins of all mankind upon Him to the Cross, so the benefits of His redemptive act are extended to us whenever we turn to Him for help. He still will lift the burden of sin from our lives.

Merely feeling generally sinful, making a general confession of sin, and asking God to forgive us because of our good intentions, may for some people fulfil a need. For most of us, however, nothing short of a thorough self-examination with true contrition, and a specific confession of sin followed by Absolution, can be the answer. Those brought up in the Catholic Faith, those loving the full Catholic Life, know that confession in the Sacrament of Penance is the best way to fulfil this spiritual need. There may be some of us who have drifted away from this Sacrament. Now is the time to return to the Church's hallowed way. Others may need just a little encouragement to begin to use this way and prepare for Easter by making a firstconfession. Both Father Kintzing and I are most anxious to talk with people about this, to be of what help we can in bringing more of our parish family to use such a rich gift in the Christian Life.

The technique of making a confession to God in the presence of a priest is very simple and natural. The meaning behind the act is tremendous, however, and gives to the Christian Faith its point in being called the Religion of the New Start. The psychiatrist is a great help many times in bringing health to the whole personality of a man, but he is not, and never can be, a substitute for the priest and pastor. The psychiatrist's waiting rooms are filled with too many Christians who should have made—and still should make—a quiet visit to the confessional.

Yes, we must prepare for our Easter Communion, and make these days before Easter bear rich fruit of devotion. Stay close to the Church's wonderful liturgical life this Passiontide and Holy Week. Live again with our Blessed Lord "those mighty acts, whereby thou hast given unto us life and immortality."

May each of you be blessed this holy season, and come to know the joy of Christ's Resurrection Day.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

"And the third day He rose again according to the Scriptures."

According to witnesses who recorded their experience, Our Blessed Lord was raised from death by God the Father, and by them the fact has been established that Jesus appeared to many people as the One they knew so well. There were the evidences of His crucifixion—the nail prints in His hands and feet; there was the voice of loving assurance, and they were convinced that the One who shared a meal with them by the shore of the lake was the same as He who had eaten with them at the Last Supper. History is the record of those who were there. Those who were witnesses of the days following Christ's death declared that they found the tomb in the garden to be empty, that they knew Him to be the Lord in His full humanity, body, mind and spirit—Risen and Glorified, to be sure—yet the same Person.

It was this confidence in a Christ risen from the dead which fired the apostles, St. Paul and the first missionaries to go forth with the Good News for all men. The heart of the Gospel was the Risen Lord, with new life for those who believe, a new life unto Eternal Life with God. St. Paul put it strongly to the Corinthians, "If Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain and your faith is in vain."

The new life of the Lord Jesus, Risen and Ascended,—the same Lord who shared our humanity—is in turn shared with us in His Spiritual Body and Blood of the Holy Eucharist. The continuing Easter is the continuing of His faithful people to live as members of His Body becoming one with Him again and again at the Altar. This we do today. This is the Easter joy available always for those who come to Christ. It is this joy which St. Paul declared when he said, "Thanks be to God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." Easter is the Festival of the Victory over sin and death. The Holy Eucharist—each Communion—is our sharing in that Victory.

May the Risen Christ be your life and true joy this glorious Easter Day.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

ST. MARK'S DAY comes on Friday of this week. It is our Parish Patronal Feast Day, and many will want to attend one of the three Masses that day. Those who are able will receive Holy Communion with intention for our parish. Those unable to attend a service on Friday should remember St. Mark's in their prayers, thanking God for the heritage of Catholic Faith and witness which has come down to us through a hundred years.

AT THE ANNUAL ELECTION for members of the Vestry, held on Easter Monday, the following gentlemen were elected:

Robert C. Allen
Will E. Beck
Frank V. Caruso
Burton Chance
William H. K. Creamer
John G. Hand
S. David Hart
Clayton McElroy, Jr.
N. Crenshaw McElroy
George Wharton Pepper
Ernest Scott

Two candidates having tied for the twelfth position, it is the opinion of our legal advisor that no one was elected to this position and a vacancy exists which, under the By-Laws, will be filled in due course by the Vestry. The organization meeting of the Vestry will be held on Tuesday morning at 12.30, and the terms of those elected under Section II of Article I shall be determined by lot.

OUR ANNUAL PARISH DINNER was a pleasant and friendly occasion. In no small part this was due to Mr. Jesse Wood of our parish, who prepared and served the dinner with the assistance of his co-workers of the George Evans Drug Co. Our thanks and appreciation to Mr. Wood for a delicious dinner.

THE RECTOR was received as Priest Associate of the Society of St. Margaret at a Service on Easter Tuesday afternoon.

THE SPECIAL MISSIONARY PROJECT sponsored by the women of the parish resulted in a total offering of $649.80. This as you recall goes to meet the increased pledge made by our parish to the general missionary work of the Church and Diocese. This response is excellent and very heartening to those interested in our missionary program. We are grateful to Miss Virginia Cramp and Mrs. Harold Lufkin, representing the auxiliaries, for their effort in promoting this project.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY—Annual Meeting on Thursday, May 1, at 2 P. M., at which time the Rector will install the newly elected officers, which are:

Mrs. George W. Lee, Jr., President.
Mrs. Theodore F. Jenkins, Vice-President.
Mrs. Sara Hall Vetterlein, Secretary.
Mrs. Harold M. Lufkin, Treasurer.
Miss E. M. Fryer, Asst. Treas. and Treas. of U. T. O.

They will meet in the Parish Parlor and proceed to the Lady Chapel for the Service, which will be followed by a reception and tea in the parish parlor. All women of the Church are cordially invited to attend.

EVENING AUXILIARY—Business Meeting and election of officers for the coming year, on Thursday, May 1, at 7.30 P. M.

THE EVENING BRANCH of the Auxiliary, and the Brotherhood of St. Andrew brought Easter joy to the patients at the Philadelphia General Hospital by sending generous gifts of Easter eggs to our Chaplain at the Hospital, Father Lascelles-Ward. He is most grateful for these gifts from St. Mark's organizations.

UNITED THANK OFFERING—Spring Presentation, Thursday, April 24th, at 8 P. M., at Holy Trinity Church. Bishop Hart will present the offering and Bishop Block of California will deliver the address. Every woman in the parish is asked to contribute to this Offering, which not only supports women workers in the Missionary field at home and abroad, but also provides pensions for them when they retire.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW—Card Party, Friday, May 9, at 8 P. M., in the parish hall.

DIOCESAN ALTAR GUILD Spring Meeting Wednesday, April 30, at Church of the Holy Apostles and Mediator, 51st & Spruce Sts., followed by social hour.

KALENDAR FOR THE WEEK

TODAY—Coffee Hour after 11 o'clock Mass. The women of the Church will be hosts today. Come to the parish hall and meet friends old and new.

WEDNESDAY—8 P. M.—Confirmation Class for adults.

THURSDAY—5.15 P. M.—Fellowship of Prayer

FRIDAY—8 P. M.—Brotherhood of St. Andrew Card Party

SATURDAY—11 A. M.—Confirmation Class for children.

THE SACRAMENT OF CONFIRMATION will be administered next Sunday at 4 o'clock by the Rt. Rev. Oliver J. Hart, D. D. All the members of the congregation should make a special effort to welcome our Bishop on his annual visitation and greet the newly confirmed members of our parish.

NOTES

WE WELCOME the Rev. Thomas J. Bigham as our preacher this morning. Father Bigham is instructor in Christian Ethics at the General Theological Seminary, New York.

THE FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER will have regular meetings at 5.15 P. M. on Thursdays instead of Wednesdays. We use these few moments to compile an intercession list of the sick and other requests that may be received. If any in the parish would care to have a monthly intercession list, kindly make such request at the office. The names of the sick and other requests for prayer are welcomed by members of the Fellowship.

THE RUMMAGE SALE last week was a big success. It was lots of fun but it was also lots of work. The women of the parish who conducted the sale wish to thank all the members of the parish for the merchandise sent in to sell, for the checks and gifts of money, and last but not least the hard work of all who helped. The total receipts for the sale thus far amount to about $800. It is hoped that this amount can help us make a start in furnishing the pews with new cushions. With this in view there may be others who wish to make contributions to this fund for new cushions so that in the first order we give we can secure enough for the central part of the Church.

ANNUAL CONVENTION of the Diocese of Pennsylvania opens Monday, May 5th, at 5 P. M., in the Church of the Holy Trinity. Tuesday, May 6th, the Convention will open at 9 A. M.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS is asking the support of our people in securing adequate funds to meet the emergency brought about by the flood disaster in the mid-west. Those who have not given to the National Roll Call will certainly want to do this and others may wish to supplement their annual contribution by a special gift for flood relief. The office would be glad to forward contributions to the Red Cross if this is more convenient.

NOTES

FROM TIME TO TIME in any Church needs arise and articles wearing out must be replaced. I know the members of the parish would want to know about these needs in case there is any way they might help. Right now, for example, we need a silver tray, rectangular in shape, not larger than 10x18, for use in the sacristy and on the credence tables. The drape in back of St. John's Altar should be replaced and a certain amount of restoration work done on the triptych. Vestments do wear out. Before another Advent we should have a new purple set for the Lady Chapel. Lastly, for now, we sorely need some new servers' cassocks and about a dozen new cottas. I shall be happy to receive help for these from any interested members of the congregation.—E. P. P.

The Rector's Message

Someone asked me the other day if I realized what effect warm, summer week-ends has on attendance at services in a city parish. I appreciate the blessing the weekly exodus is to many individuals and families. My only hope is that the people of St. Mark's will observe the Sunday obligation to attend Mass wherever they may be. Acquaint yourselves with the hour of service, and make the Lord's Service on the Lord's Day the high point of the week-end or vacation.

Speaking of services, it has been our plan this first year to use the schedule we found being followed. As we make plans for another fall, I hope that if there are any suggestions about the change of hours for services during the week, they will be given to me. Our wish is to have services at the hours when the most persons find them convenient. Attendance at weekday Masses has been excellent. Many more of you would find coming to a service during the week a great blessing. I especially urge coming and receiving Holy Communion on anniversaries of your Baptism and Confirmation, on your birthday and wedding anniversary, or on the day you wish to remember a departed loved one. If you will tell the celebrant he will include the Christian name of the one to be remembered in the Intention at the Mass. When you have a difficult problem to face and solve, when you have something for which you are deeply thankful, bring these to our Lord at His Service, and offer them to Him.

I hope that all churchmen understand that one can make his Communion at all Masses at St. Mark's. With ample opportunities to receive at earlier hours, few will want to receive at High Mass. There may be some older members who who would find it helpful to use this service, and we would be happy to administer Communion to them or any others who are prepared and fasting who notify the celebrant at least TEN MINUTES before the Mass begins. At 12.10 Masses during Lent and on days of obligation we will admininister the Sacrament after the blessing to those giving the pre-service notice. I hope you understand how necessary these arrangements about Communion at late Masses are in a city parish like St. Mark's and that you will explain our custom to visitors and newcomers.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

Father Kintzing's Message

The magnificent collect for Ascensiontide speaks eloquently of our three-fold approach to Our Triumphant Lord: by belief (which is a matter of love), by heart (which involves our will), and by mind (which is the intellectual side of the matter). You and I are so grandly surrounded in this parish by things which inspire our belief and stimulate the right-directing of our wills, that we have a very special obligation to keep our minds open and growing, our intelligences keen and sharp. Thus the religious education of each and everyone in the parish is a matter of great concern and importance to your priests. Worship is the Christian's primary obligation and joy, and intelligent understanding of the things of God is one of the greatest aids to perfect prayer.

Both Fr. Paige and I look forward to the day when the entire parish is a studying-learning community. Already the tiniest (but healthy looking) sprouts are appearing, chiefly in the education of our children. Next fall, with your help, we plan a graded Church School (this means teachers, and your bringing an unchurched child from your neighborhood) meeting at 8.45, and another full session during late mass. Our real hope is for a family eucharist (say at 9.15), followed by milk and cookies, followed by classes; with a class for parents as well as for the younger ones.

In the next age group (YPF and acolytes), there are plans for an educational program integrated into the year's work. There is a terrible urgency that we reach these young adults. Before we know it, they will be off to college, into the service, or into business (and their faiths must be strong and reasonable!), and they are the Church of a very proximate tomorrow. This is no small task to undertake, but for parents and other adults of the present parish it is imperative that you help us, speedily, joyfully, and with nothing of yourself held back.

Most importantly (and I know I have credited each of the above with this superlative, but I shall risk being ungrammatical in hopes of being understandable!) : the ongoing training of adult minds. Our faith is never a learned thing, it is a learning one. Fr. Paige and I both want to have afternoon and evening classes in the fall in which twenty or thirty or more could gather somewhat informally and study intensively a book of the Bible, the life of a saint, some articles of faith, or points in Christian living and morals. St. Paul happily called us followers of Christ "a peculiar people", and we ought to glory in our fuller, better, happier way of life (which is not to be equated with "a decent life", or a "good American life") . . . we were called to be saints, you know! To glory in it, we must understand it. Each member of the parish family thus has a two-fold obligation in this: (1) that you suggest to us matters most pertinent for immediate study; what would you appreciate most these study groups be concerned with next fall? (2) that you begin NOW to want such a series of classes, pray about them, be anxious for them (and willing to give up, say, ten successive Wednesday evenings or Thursday afternoons), and make a list of several people who also could contribute and learn. My thought on this is that the classes be not for potential Christians primarily (there is a class for such people), but for those already signed with the Sign.

These are a few "bees for Christian bonnets" with one purpose only: to stimulate some deep concerted thinking about something at the very heart of our faith. Please help us pray about this, and tell us or write us about what might seem good to you. Nothing is hard and fast settled yet. Your help, frankly, is greatly needed, that daily we may increase in His Holy Spirit more and more until we come unto His everlasting kingdom.

PAUL C. KINTZING, JR.

KALENDAR FOR THE WEEK

TODAY—Coffee Hour after 11 o'clock Mass. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew will be host. Come to the parish hall and meet friends old and new.

4 P. M.—Choir Concert—Third Annual Spring Concert by Men and Boys of St. Mark's Choir at close of Evensong. A special offering will be taken for the benefit of the Choir Boys' Camping Fund. Members of St. Mark's and their friends are cordially invited.

FRIDAY—Memorial Day—Requiem, 7.45.

NOTES

NEXT SUNDAY IS WHITSUNDAY. This great Festival of honoring God the Holy Spirit, commemorating Pentecost and the beginning of the Church's work in the world, is a great Festival for us. The Church asks every communicant to attend Mass and receive Holy Communion on this day. Following High Mass on Whitsunday we will have our final coffee hour until fall.

"INTERCOMMUNION is practiced widely among Protestant Churches today on a basis satisfactory to them but not to the Episcopal Church. To state that is the goal, accordingly, may give to Protestant negotiators the wholly erroneous idea that the Episcopal Church is receding from its insistance upon agreement in the Catholic Faith and Catholic Order and Sacramental life as a pre-condition of intercommunion. Where these things exist, intercommunion is possible, and it takes place without a great deal of argument and debate, as in the case of the Polish National Catholic Church, no matter what cultural, psychological, social, liturgical, linguistic, and historical barriers may remain to be removed before organic union can be achieved. Where agreement on Catholic fundamentals does not exist, intercommunion is far, far away. To ask men of vision and spiritual daring to inch along a low path on which progress can be measured only by centuries may seem like an intolerable request. But those who lead us in this matter must remember that they cannot lead faster than the rest of us will follow. It would be far better to achieve an inch of real progress than a mile down the wrong road."—(From Editorial, The Living Church, May 18.)

ST. THOMAS PARISH at 52nd and Parrish Sts. lost its Church by fire last December. The Bishop and a Committee of the Diocese is seeking the support of the parishes in aiding the rebuilding of the Church for this fine group of people. Opportunity to contribute towards the rebuilding of St. Thomas Church will be given to the people of the Diocese on Whitsunday. This morning you will find an envelope with a leaflet in the pews. Kindly take these and use them. Offerings made in these special envelopes can be placed on the plate next Sunday or sent to the office any time if that is more convenient. We of St. Mark's will want to do our part to help our sister parish rebuild and meet a challenging future among the Negro people in West Philadelphia.

DIOCESAN DINNER for all men and women Monday, May 26, 6.30 P. M., at the Broadwood Hotel, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary. Speaker, Dr. Theodore P. Ferris, Rector Trinity Church, Boston.

CONVOCATION OF S. PHILA. Spring Meeting, Tuesday, May 27, at 5 P.M. at St. John the Evangelist Church, 3rd and Reed Sts. The Rector will be glad to have any interested men attend this meeting with him.

DIOCESAN FESTIVAL OF CHOIRS will be held Wednesday, May 28, at 8 P. M., in the Church of Our Saviour, 38th and Chestnut Sts., under the direction of Mr. Ernest Willoughby. The people of the parish are invited to attend this fine musical service. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of this opportunity to support this Annual Festival conducted by the Diocesan Commission on Church Music.

The Rector's Message

Pentecost, commonly in the Anglican Communion called Whitsunday, is the Festival in honor of God the Holy Spirit. Just before our Lord Ascended into Heaven, He gave the Apostles their commision to go into the whole world to teach and to baptize. He directed them to carry on a Ministry of the Word (teaching) and Sacrament (Baptism). This work for God was to be their responsibility, but they could have no success of themselves. Power and direction must come from God. The work was to be God's work through men ministering for Him. The Word was His Word; the Sacraments were His means of grace.

So it was that Our Lord told them to wait awhile before beginning their corporate ministry. They were to spend time in prayer after which God would come and implement their commission with power. Men beginning a human ministry, founding a human institution, would have rushed forth self-sufficient in their new-found conviction and enthusiasm. But God's work was to be carried forth in His Church, founded by Christ, to be empowered by the Holy Spirit. The Apostles waited in Jerusalem. They obeyed their Lord's command.

On the Day of Pentecost, while they were together as an assembly of praying disciples of Christ, God the Holy Ghost came upon them, and they received power to proclaim the true Word and administer the Sacraments. St. Luke, in the Acts, describes their experience, saying it seemed as if tongues of fire sat on their heads—fire to purify and enliven the Church—fire to burn God's love in their hearts. This fire of the Holy Spirit is symbolized in the red vestments today, and even St. Mark's wonderful tower doors should mean that in this place God the Holy Spirit carries on His work, giving His power and strength to all who enter and pray.

In the sense that the Apostles went out on Pentecost only after they had been empowered by God, we may say that Whitsunday commemorates the Birthday of the Church. Pentecost was the birth of a spirit-filled fellowship of Christ's disciples who from that day until the end of time would go into the whole world bringing the Good News of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the wonderful sacramental means of grace unto Everlasting Life.

In the year that king Uzziah died, I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high, and lifted up, and his train filled the temple. Above it stood the seraphim: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly. And one cried unto another, and said: Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory. And the posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke. Then said I: Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of hosts. Then flew one of the seraphim, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar; and he laid it upon my mouth and said: Lo this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin is purged. Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying: Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I: Here am I, send me.

The Rector's Message

It has been said that Episcopal churches are the most unfriendly of all Christian congregations. Common in the past have been stories about visitors on a Sunday morning meeting cool stares upon arrival and leaving quite unmolested by any greeting. I'm sure that all this has been exaggerated. A sense of reverence and liturgical services make for a quiet worshipfulness which those used to "chatty meeting" would construe as coldness. When we enter God's House we are in His Presence, and we come to "worship and fall down, and kneel before the Lord our Maker."

Stressing an atmosphere of worship as we do need not result in unfriendliness before and after services, however. St. Mark's Church has something wonderful about it which makes one want to be silent as he enters. We do want to use all care when we are in the nave, the chancel or the chapel to avoid loud talking, and remember that someone may by praying nearby. On the other hand we of St. Mark's want to extend a friendly welcome to anyone who will come to worship with us, or enter the church for prayer or meditation. We should endeavor to convey to every stranger that new comers are wanted here, that the parish family is a truly catholic one, large enough to receive all who seek our Lord and His Holy Religion.

The porch of the church and the cloister are fitting places to share friendly greetings, and I hope that every member of the parish will make it his own job to greet new people. A visitor with you in the pew should feel he is welcome, and might appreciate sharing prayer books and hymnals. The coffee hours after High Mass were most helpful, and when we resume them in October I know they will continue to serve as one way to show the friendliness of the people of St. Mark's Church.

As you and I kneel in our beautiful parish church before Our Lord in His Sacramental Presence, we know what true friendliness can be. We know the warm assurance of Christ, and we want to bring others to love and worship the great Friend of us all.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

The Book of Common Prayer is a Catholic book of rites and ceremonies of the Church. The service of Holy Communion, "commonly called the Mass," is structurally and by intention the same service given to us by our Lord at the Last Supper and developed through 2000 years of use. The other six Sacraments are also included by rite or direction for use. The Prayer Book safeguards the intention of the Anglican Communion to have Catholic Sacraments celebrated by an historic Catholic Ministry regardless of the opinions of individual priests and laymen.

St. Mark's, in our worship and life, witnesses to the fact that the Prayer Book is Catholic in all essential things. Our High Mass, for example, is loyal to the Anglican Liturgy, following in form and content what every Episcopal Church does when the Eucharist is celebrated. When there are those who desire to receive Communion, the devotions preparatory to Communion are used; when no one notifies us of intention to receive, these devotions are omitted. The rubric says, "Then shall the Priest say to those who come to receive the Holy Communion," before the Invitation, and there are similiar rubrics before the General Confession and Prayer of Humble Access.

Some ask about parts spoken or sung which are not in the Prayer Book. This refers to the Introit, Gradual, Alleluia or Tract, the Agnus Dei, the Pax, the Communion verse, as well as metrical hymns before and after the Mass and a hymn or anthem at the Offertory. A rubric at the beginning of the Prayer Book says, "Hymns set forth and allowed by the Authority of this Church, and Anthems in the words of Holy Scripture or of the Book of Common Prayer, may be sung before and after any Office in this Book, and also before and after Sermons". Hymns are from the Church hymnals, the "special propers" are verses of psalms and scripture from the Bible, and anthems are from texts approved by the Church. The Introit is a psalm verse with an antiphon based on scriptural verses with the Gloria. The Gradual, Alleluia or Tract are from the Bible and are sung after the Epistle where the Prayer Book rubric says, "Here may be sung a Hymn or an anthem." It is right to call psalms hymns, as the Psalter was the Old Testament Hymnal. The Agnus Dei is an ancient anthem now authorized by the official Hymnal. The Pax ("The Peace of the Lord be always with you; And with thy spirit") is said after the Lord's Prayer as the priest fractures the Host, and is frankly an interpolation. It was a part of ancient liturgies, and comes naturally into use without violating the service.

The ceremonies connected with the Rite of High Mass are in no way foreign to the Prayer Book, but enhance the words by traditional actions long associated with the Eucharist. Vestments, three Sacred Ministers, incense and the Gospel Procession are all part of the heritage we receive from English Catholicism.

I have briefly tried to emphasize the fact that the services in this parish church are Prayer Book services, enriched with legitimate "propers" and traditional ceremonial, setting forth the intention of the compilers of the Prayer Book—that the services of the Church according to the Anglican Communion shall be the same services developed during 2000 years of Catholic life and worship, in the language of the people, and free from legendary and superstitious matter.

Episcopalians should be proud of the Prayer Book, and we of St. Mark's can rightly rejoice that we use this Book to worship in the beauty of holiness and with the holiness of beauty.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

One wonders if the Christians during the years of persecution under the Roman Empire were concerned about the survival of the Church. Attempts to snuff out the followers of Jesus Christ were made from time to time, but, as they had no buildings to be confiscated, no funds to be attached, no position in society to maintain and no institutions to lose, only men and women themselves were the targets of Roman fears. I suspect that those valiant Christians believed their Lord Who had said that the gates of hell would not prevail against the Church, even when one by one their loved ones and friends were murdered for their faith.

Today we hear that unless we are on our guard, the Church will not survive. The greatest danger, we are told, is from Communism, and the suppression of the Church and its activity in Communist countries seems a proof that Christianity can be stamped out if we aren't careful. All this would be true if Christianity depended on the institution of the Church as we know it today. If our religion depended on buildings, finances or positions of prominence all might be lost. But as fine as these material resources of Christianity may be, they are not the heart of the matter. The Holy Spirit works through the hearts and minds of men and women bringing them to Christ, and, as long as they can pray, find grace in Sacraments and in fellowship offer a holy worship, no one need fear the outcome of the conflict of Church versus hell. The Holy Spirit will stir men's souls as long as humanity walks upon this earth, and Christ's Church will live even in ways we cannot even imagine.

Our job in the world today is to be busy about our work as Christians in the Holy Fellowship without any concern for the survival of the Church. As long as we are privileged to use these external things, we should of course care for them as gifts from God. It is our duty to promote the Church's life, strengthen the institution of the Church, and witness to our Faith through the offering of material things. Our holy religion does not depend on the Episcopal Church, endowments, or parishes and their buildings, but as we have them we must treat them as holy things.

More serious than the threat of Communism to us, is the danger of indifference prevalent in America today. The Church as a side-dish of the American Way will not survive as an institution. Christianity will live a vital power for Christ in the "remnant", but its mission to make the kingdoms of this world the kingdom of Christ will be set back for ages.

On the parish level we wonder what will happen to churches which seem to be surviving only on a glorious past. In our cities, parish churches which once held large and prosperous congregations manage to exist on income from endowments, or fold up completely and sell out because there are no more Episcopalians in the area. When the "good", white, prosperous families move away from an Episcopal Church, and the area changes, there seems to be no more need for the Church. In some cases the few members left after an exodus would rather tear down the church building than have it used by those now living in the community.

Those of us who feel concern about the survival of such churches as St. Mark's are not worried about the survival of the Catholic Faith. We are wondering about our ability to fulfil the vocation to which God has called us in witnessing to that Faith in the center of a large city. Gone are the days when this was a fashionable parish, when income was of no concern and most members lived in the area of Rittenhouse Square. We must re-think our mission, dispelling any indifference to the problem, and face the future with the assurance that St. Mark's greatest years are yet to come. The fields about us are white with the harvest and the prospects are bright if we will be willing to face an old problem in a new way.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

The parish leaflet goes on vacation after today so this is the last message until September. Certain phases of our parish life cease during the summer, but the main function still goes on. Sundays and weekdays the Mass and offices are said, and your priests are available as usual to visit the sick, to administer the Sacraments, to give spiritual counsel, and to do parish calling. The members of the parish family, I know, will be found in their places at the offering of the Mass each Sunday wherever they are. The Church and the churchman never go on a vacation from worship and the Sacraments.

Almost a year has elapsed since I became rector of St. Mark's. I look back over the past months trying to evaluate our ministry here. It has been a wonderfully happy year for me. I have come to love St. Mark's, to feel that here is my home and that my parishioners are my friends. The time has not been without anxieties and problems. We have all made mistakes and experienced the usual misunderstandings common in a new relationship. Our goal this first year has been simply to unify and strengthen our parish fellowship by centering all we do and all we aim to be in a devotion to, and worship of, our Blessed Lord. All difficulties and divisions must dissolve in the pursuit of a common purpose. The privilege of being a priest in this great parish is best manifested in our Eucharistic fellowship and our pastoral ministry. Together, priests and people, we have come a long way in these few months. I look to our renewed full parish life this fall with confidence.

What I have been able to do as rector is small in comparison with the wonderful response and cooperation I find among those who also serve St. Mark's. Father Kintzing is the finest associate priest any rector could have. Our parish ministry has only been possible through his tireless effort and priestly devotion. I want to thank Sister Darthea and her assistants in the care of the altars and the many tasks related to the services. Mrs. McFaul and Mrs. Malone, on their part, have been of the greatest help to me in the office, and I appreciate their faithfulness. My thanks also to Mr. Marshall and the members of the choir for their part in making our worship a worthy offering. Mr. Reed has come to us as sexton and he with his assistant Mr. Trumpler are to be commended for their work and interest. As rector my gratefulness extends to many others, the acolytes, the members of the new ushers guild, those who served at the coffee hours, and many, many more. Lastly, I would express my appreciation for the members of the vestry who have patiently helped and supported me during this first year. They have given time and understanding to my proposals to improve the parish property, to assist St. Mary's Chapel in becoming an independent parish, and in every way to increase the effectiveness of our work at St. Mark's.

St. Mark's is a sacred trust given to us, priests and people, to administer. God has put the future of this parish in our hands, charging us to keep the Faith, extend the Fellowship, and live our religion. This we can do if we pray diligently, live close to our Lord in His Blessed Sacrament, and let love rule in our hearts.

May each of you have a wonderful summer.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

FATHER PAIGE will be in residence during July and Father Kintzing will be in charge of the parish during August.

WHILE AWAY ON VACATION you are asked to remember to attend the nearest Episcopal Church each Sunday, to pray daily for your parish, its priests and people, and faithfully continue your support during the summer when expenses go on as usual.

MISS CAROLINE B. COOKE, Choir Mother for 13 years, and assistant to her sister for many years previously, feels it necessary to be relieved of her duty as of July first. She has served our parish in this capacity with great consecration and faithfulness, and it will not be easy to fill her place. We are all appreciative of her long service, and we take this occasion of her final Sunday as Choir Mother to give recognition to this most worthy record.

THREE YOUNG MEN from out parish, Curven Gearhart, William MacLaren and Ward McMasters, attended the Valley Forge Conference at the Valley Forge Military Academy this past week. The Rector served on the Faculty for the ninth year. We are grateful for the scholarship assistance given by the members of the parish, enabling our young people to attend.

CHOIR CAMP FUND—The total received was $569.56. We are most grateful to all our members who contributed to this fund, making it possible for every choir boy to enjoy a week at camp.

ST. MARK'S CHAPTER of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew is sending 200 packs of cigarettes and 200 servings of ice cream for the Fourth of July parties at the Philadelphia General Hospital.

MISSIONARY EXPECTATION—The amount we are pledging for 1952 is $6,500. The amount received to date is $3,612.55. Let us not forget this most important part of our parish program.

The Rector's Message

The first signs of color on Vermont hillsides reminded me last week that summer was almost over. Autumn seemed to announce its arrival, with political campaigns taking over the press and radio, the baseball pennant races speaking promise of the World Series, and the General Convention opening its triennial activity at the Boston Garden.

These reminders were not necessary, however, to tell me that vacation-time was at an end. I found that I had a real desire to come home, to resume my life in the parish, and to be again a part of its great work. This made me certain that I had had a good vacation, and that it was now time to pack the car and head for Philadelphia. It really is good to go away, but it's better to come home. The memory of mountains and ocean, of seeing old friends and meeting new, will be treasured. The spiritual refreshment of undisturbed hours of quiet and the needed opportunity for reading, thinking and relaxing will reward the days ahead. But to come home means to be back where we belong, doing the things we like most to do, and fulfilling the purpose God has for us. Nothing in nature is as beautiful and refreshing as worshipping before our altar in our Lord's Own Eucharist. No friends old or new are more wonderful than our brothers and sisters in Christ's Holy Fellowship. Nothing is more restful than the quiet moments spent kneeling in the solemn splendor of our church—in the Lord's Own Presence. I am grateful for those weeks in New England. I am more grateful for the opportunity to come home to my life with my people.

It is a real pleasure to welcome Mr. Wesley A. Day, our new organist and choirmaster, to the parish family. Mr. Day has been at the Church of the Redeemer, Chicago, for a number of years, and has also been director of Church Music at Nashotah House, a Church seminary in Wisconsin. We hope that he will be happy with us, and that he will receive every assistance possible from us in building the choir and making the music at St. Mark's what it should be.

Our seminarian, Mr. Myron D. Herrick, Jr., has had his return delayed for a few weeks by illness. I ask your prayers for his speedy recovery. Our good wishes go out to him.

Our main task during my first year as your rector was to achieve a measure of unity and mutual understanding in our parish life. I'm confident that through the guidance of the Holy Spirit we did make progress in that direction. Our real work is something greater than this, and it comes as a positive challenge as we face our second year together. Our job is to go forward in the vocation for which this parish was founded—to live and to win others to the Catholic Faith and Way of Life as the Anglican branch of the Catholic Church has received the same, and as is clearly set forth in the Prayer Book. There are forces at work in the Episcopal Church that would change the Faith, alter the Ministry, and dump us all into one basket of Pan-Protestantism. We must really begin to practice our religion, to pray more earnestly, to be more loyal to the Church and each become an evangelist and missionary. St. Mark's should exist primarily for the fulfilling of this vocation.

For this reason let us be done with petty things and the troubles caused by petty people. They sap our energy and the spiritual vitality of the parish. Our true task is a wonderful, joyous Cause, and I look forward to a unified Family in Christ dedicated to do the work He has called us to do.

TODAY—8 A. M.—Brotherhood of St. Andrew—Corporate Communion followed by breakfast and meeting in the parish house.

7.00 P. M.—Young People's Fellowship Meeting.

WEDNESDAY—8 P. M.—Class for Adult Instruction (Inquirers' Class) in the Library. All persons interested in learning more about the Church and its faith are invited, and those who may be considering the Sacrament of Confirmation should make a point of attending. The Bishop will visit the parish for the Sacrament of Confirmation on Sunday, December 21.

NOTES

DAILY SERVICES—The fall schedule of daily services will begin this week, as noted on front page. A Mass at 7 o'clock each Monday morning has been added.

THIS MORNING we resumed the Sunday School and Nursery Classes. Our program of Christian education covers all ages, and children will find classes for them on Sunday mornings at 9.45. The Nursery School for small children meets in the library during the High Mass. We want your support of these classes, not only in sending your own children, but also in interesting those of your neighbors and friends. Be a parish missionary by bringing some one else to St. Mark's.

ADULT BIBLE CLASS—On Monday evening, September 29th, at 8 o'clock, in the library, Fr. Kintzing will give the first of twelve lectures on Holy Scriptures, the Church's Book. This course will be given in addition to the regular Wednesday night Inquirers' Class and should be of great interest to the many people who are anxious to know more about our Bible.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY—Thursday, October 2nd. Box luncheon at 12.30. Tea and coffee will be served. Fr. Paige will address the meeting. Communion with intention for the work of the Auxiliary may be made at any Mass on September 28.

GIFTS—During the summer two gifts have been presented to the Church. The parish chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew presented a sterling silver tray for use on the credence table in the Lady Chapel. A small silver Sacrament Bell was also given by Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hammer. These gifts are greatly appreciated and are fine additions to our parish treasures.

NEW PAINT AND POLISH in the priests' and acolytes' sacristies greeted the Rector upon returning from his vacation. This redecorating was done by a group of young men in the parish, and not only is a splendid improvement, but shows a fine spirit of devotion to the parish life.

✠

I never cease to be amazed at the fear many Episcopalians have of the Catholic Religion. The very word "Catholic" seems a source of embarrassment to some, and by them it is treated in the Creeds as a bit of mediaevalism to be explained away as meaning "universal" with a small "u." Other words such as "mass," "confession" and "priest" are used only in connection with Roman Catholicism by some of our fellow churchmen, and any liturgical use or vestment related to Catholic worship is the sole possession of our Roman brethren. Fear of something is in most instances based on ignorance. Fear of the Catholic Faith and Life in the Episcopal Church comes from lack of knowledge and understanding.

This is not to say that Episcopalians are an ignorant lot. They probably are as well educated a group of Americans as you will find. This is not to say that the bishop in a southern diocese who refused to allow a priest to minister to a group of Sisters is lacking in education or culture. Sisters in a religious order are a product of the Catholic Religion and the good bishop fears Catholicism. Fear drives a bishop to get rid of clergy in his diocese who teach and act like Catholics rather than like Presbyterians. Most vestries in the Episcopal Church have the same regard for a "high-church minister" that they do for a communist—both are dangerous.

It might just be possible that our fearful brethren—including bishops, priests and laymen—are so afraid that Catholics in the Episcopal Church might wake up and really start to act like Catholics, that they are doing all in their power to get help from the union with the first Protestant body that comes along. If those awful Anglican Catholics could once get over being self-conscious and always feeling they've got to defend something or someone, there's no telling how their "brand" of churchmanship might spread. The average Episcopalian may be ignorant, but he isn't dumb. He knows a good thing when he sees it. He actually feels uncomfortable about certain moves and trends to get reunion by illegal means. He is like the young man who suddenly discovers that his parents have picked a wife for him and even want to choose the day of the marriage.

It is indeed ironical that all our brethren's fears about Catholicism in the Episcopal Church are needless, not because the source of their anxiety does not exist, but because few Catholics seem to be sold on the Faith and Life they profess. Let these worriers look at Catholic parishes made up of self-satisfied people, some interested only in a ceremonial cult—others prizing their religion so much they hide it under a bushel. There is no need for Protestant-minded brethren in our Church to be unduly concerned about the Catholic movement when Catholics themselves lack evangelistic fire and have themselves an abysmal ignorance about the Catholic Faith. When Catholic parishes cease to be forts for defense and become power houses of action—then fearful bishops and their company will really have cause for concern.

Your parish priests love St. Mark's, its beauty, its history, its services. Yet all these become as nothing in comparison to our job to lead you in Catholic evangelism, to show forth Christ to all men and to bring them into His Church, the Holy Fellowship of Divine Grace. We are having many series of classes this year to dispel our own ignorance. Facts and information are helpful, but not primary. We must relate what we believe to life. If we can with understanding and conviction witness to the Faith, we put away our own fears that the Catholic character of the Church is being destroyed. We have a library of books, we have classes, and there are church papers. Use these, and then, grounded in knowledge, we can have the joy of living the Faith. No Episcopalian will ever fear the joy of the Catholic Religion.

A Message from Our Choirmaster

Ever since the appearance of the first Prayer Book in 1549, congregations have been able to participate actively and vocally in the corporate worship of the church. The choral parts of the Mass, insofar as a congregation is concerned, fall into three parts: the dialogues between priest and people, hymns and parts of the Mass to be sung by both congregation and choir, and more elaborate musical settings offered to God by the choir on behalf of the entire congregation.

The first two of these ought to be the special concern of the parishioners of St. Mark's. Sing the responses fervently, as well as the Creed and Gloria in excelsis. The music of the Creed and Gloria will be the same on most Sundays; as you become familiar with it you will find it easy to sing. The music of the responses never varies.

Hymns are our special heritage, acts of prayer and praise that need the combined efforts of all present in offering them to God. Our musical skill and beauty of voice, or lack of them, are not matters of moment here. These are gifts of the Creator, and the use of them in our worship is a part of the offering of "ourselves, our souls and bodies." Choir or organ descants to the hymn tunes will be provided from time to time to encourage vigorous hymn singing.

Those parts of the service sung by the choir on your behalf also need more than your attention. Just as we call upon the skilled services of the stonecutter, the stained glass artisan, and others, to enhance the offering of a beautiful place of worship to God, so we offer more beautiful music to God than we can sing ourselves through the choir. Offer it with them as they sing, pray that the offering may be acceptable to Him.

Common Prayer is the prayer of us all. "O Come, let us sing unto the Lord."

WESLEY A. DAY.

The Rector's Message

You and I are members of the Church, a divine institution, the Body of Christ. This membership, through Baptism, is a relationship very real in this world, yet extending to eternal life with God. We are also citizens of the worldly society of men called a nation. Right here is a problem which faces each Christian, a problem which under certain circumstances presents one with a question of divided loyalties. In Nazi Germany facism held that the Church was all right as long as it didn't interfere with the position of the state. The current totalitarianism, communism, has just about come to the same belief—the toleration of religion as long as it is only a comfort for the present and an insurance for afterlife. These systems make a life and death matter of their political doctrine that the state is supreme in this life, even to the extent of what one thinks and believes.

Although the Church should wisely bless no political system, it is evident that democracy gives the Christian the greatest opportunity to believe and live as he would, trying to realize our Lord's teaching that we are in the world, but not of the world. Heaven is our true home, and our days on earth are a pilgrimage to the real destination.

The gradual secularization of life influences more and more people to think of life as an end in itself. Even in democracies we find morality measured in terms of loyalty to the state. This can only end in a sense of utter futility. If man is not first a child of God, he cannot be thought of as more than a cog in the political wheel. Man is created a soul by God, and inherent in his birthright is a prime loyalty to his Maker. The Church is a spiritual fellowship of the children of God, and its impact on society must clearly be a living witness to God in Christ, even though such witness may counter the aim and philosophy of the state.

Each of us then faces a very hard job—living the Christian life in the Holy Fellowship, as well as fulfilling our duty and responsibility to the national society. Eternal truth being what it is, the Gospel is just as much Good News for America—for Russia and Germany too—as it is for the Church. In a sense nations sin, and likewise they need redemption. Christ declared that He had overcome the world. The Body of Christ, the Church, loyal to its vocation, is in the constant process of subduing the nations. With St. John the Divine we look for the day when "the kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of His Christ; and He shall reign forever and ever."

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

The House of God is the home of the members of Christ's Family here on earth. There are good manners appropriate to this Household, as there are in any home. Certain customs at corporate worship might be thought of as the good manners which churchmen should value. I would suggest some of these which are in the spirit of sound tradition.

Coming into the House we should greet the Head. Reverence to the Altar or to the Blessed Sacrament, if it is on the Altar, is a greeting to our Lord. If the Sacrament is reserved we genuflect—touching one knee to the floor. Altars without the Sacramental Presence still remind us of the central place of Christ in our lives, and a simple inclination or bow of the head is our greeting.

We should never be late for our "appointments" with God. On time for Chuch means being in our places at least five minutes before the service begins. The only discourtesy in unnecessary lateness is to our Lord.

When we come forward to receive Holy Communion, it would increase reverence if we would not stand in the aisles waiting for a place at the rail. Beginning at the front of the nave communicants should go promptly to the Altar and those further back can come forward at such intervals as to keep the rail full at all times. If possible, leave the communion rail by the doors at the side of the chancel.

To the women of the congregation, church manners suggest three things: (1) Lift your veil even if it is a very short one, before coming to the Altar. (2) Remove both gloves, and (3) Remove lip-stick. (The reason for this last should be obvious.)

At the rail place your right hand upon your left, palm open and fingers extended. Hands should be raised to almost shoulder height. It helps in communicating from the Chalice if you will guide the BASE of the Chalice with one hand. Stay at the rail until the third person to your left has received the Chalice.

Finally, we should not leave the Church until after the Blessing. Our Services are not very long, and we ought to be willing to give God that much time when we come to His Banquet.

I hope these suggested church manners will not seem like arbitrary rules but will be thought of as ways of reverence in perfecting our worship together,

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

Two parishioners of St. Mark's are looking over the Every Member Canvass material. One says that he is thinking over whether he should begin to pledge and to use the regular envelopes in 1953. The other observes (according to this parable) "I don't pledge, but I give regularly—every Sunday—well, alm ost every Sunday. I put a dollar on the plate, and feel I am doing my part, for I have been doing this now for over ten years. Of course, we all should have a share in support of the parish, but at St. Mark's we are fortunate that the parish can exist with its endowments even if people don't give very much." (End of conversation, with the first parishioner departing completely confused.)

Here is an interesting quiz question: Find three weak statements in the comment of the "other" parishioner. Difficult? Here is one set of answers. (1) Unwillingness to pledge is unwillingness to assume responsibility in a family of which you are a part, and through which you share many benefits. (2) The dollar that one put on the plate ten years ago is only worth about half a dollar now. Our giving should be over double what it was ten years ago if we are to remain "faithful". (3) St. Mark's would be like a horse trying to run a race with its legs tied if it tried to carry on with only its endowments. We are not a rich parish. We need every dollar asked for in the budget in order that your parish can do, not just a good job, but the right job for Christ and the Church.

I am happy to announce the appointment of Mr. Robert Hollett of the Philadelphia Divinity School as our Seminarian to succeed Mr. Myron Herrick who must be absent from his studies this year because of illness. Mr. Hollett is from the Diocese of Long Island and is now in his second year at the seminary. I know we all shall welcome him as he joins our staff, and also that we shall continue to remember Mr. Herrick in our prayers.

The Rector's Message

St. Mark's has one of the most attractive leaflets that I have ever seen containing the Service Music, the Kalendar of Services and notices. It has almost a tradition in the life of the parish. Some months ago I felt that space could be found for a weekly message and have tried to present to you from time to time matters close to our minds and hearts.

But with increased printing there comes increased cost, and I find that this attempt to make the leaflet more valuable has about doubled the printer's bill. At present we should not spend this much for printing.

In order that we may maintain a high standard, having our leaflet in color and chuck full of interesting things, would any person or persons be interested in subsidizing the Sunday leaflet in the amount of $500.00 a year? I should be glad to hear from any one as to their opinion in this matter, and receive any offerings for this purpose.

NOTES

EVERY MEMBER CANVASS—Have you canvassed yourself yet? Please return the Every Member Canvass questionnaire with your pledge this week.

WE WELCOME OUR GOOD FRIENDS from St. Mary's and St. Michael's with their priests, choir members and acolytes to the Annual United Service this afternoon. As the years go on and each of us has more and more our own work and parish life, we still have the privilege at this yearly Service of coming together as descendants of a common parish family ancestry.

ALL SOULS' DAY COMMEMORATION—All those who have died within the past year will be remembered at the Altar on All Souls' Day, along with the names of the Founders and Benefactors of this parish. Requests for the remembering of departed relatives and friends may be handed to the clergy today.

REMEMBER YOUR DATE this Thursday evening, to hear an address by Mrs. Karl Lutge, Chairman of the Woman's Division of the American Church Union. Dinner at the Woman's City Club at 6.30 P. M., $1.25. Men are invited to both dinner and meeting, which is being sponsored by the women of St. Mark's Church. Dinner reservations should be made through the Auxiliaries or the office. Come to the meeting even if you cannot attend the dinner.

THE NEW CURTAIN in back of St. John's Altar is the gift of Mrs. Charles J. Maurer as a memorial to her husband. Its installation was made possible by a contribution from the Evening Auxiliary and the work of a parishioner. An improvement such as this enriches our lovely Church and may suggest to us other replacements and restorations which could be done as memorials.

The Rector's Message

"If illness or infirmity keeps you from the Church, the Church can be brought to you." When we are sick we need all the strength, spiritual and physical, we can find. The Church, through the priest, offers us God's healing Grace in the Sacraments of Holy Communion, Penance and Unction, as well as through prayer and the laying on of hands. If you are ill, if you enter a period when you must be confined, if you face an operation, one of your priests should know about it immediately so that he can make available the desired ministrations. The Blessed Sacrament can be brought to the home or hospital at a convenient hour during the first part of the day. Before the priest arrives a small table should be placed beside the bed and covered with a white cloth. A crucifix and candle help devotionally, but at least there should be one candle(lighted before the priest arrives) and a bowl of water and a small napkin. As the priest brings the Blessed Sacrament with him, he should be admitted to the house or received in the hospital room quietly and with no unnecessary conversation. At the end of the service, which is very brief, the priest may slip away quietly to make further visits with the Blessed Sacrament.

The Prayer Book instructs us that a sick person should consider making a special confession of sin. If one is prepared and has made his self-examination, the priest will be glad to hear the confession before administering Communion.

St. James' admonition to one sick to "call for the elders of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the Name of the Lord," should be seriously considered. This is the Sacrament of Unction, anointing for spiritual healing. It should be administered at least once in every sickness, and might properly follow the particular confession of sin. Confession, Unction and Holy Communion—these are the ministries of the Church for the sick in body, mind or spirit. They are the means of God's Grace when we turn to Him for health, strength and comfort. One of the most important reasons why we have a priest in a parish is that he may be the Minister of these Sacraments in time of need. It is not only a priest's duty; it is his privilege and joy.

The Rector's Message

Adapting a parish to changing times and conditions may always present problems, but, at the same time, it's a worthy challenge. A parish over a century old has been influenced by many points of view. Methods effective in 1850 would hardly be adequate in 1952. So the way of doing things changes, but the purpose for which a parish exists, the Faith it teaches and the way of life it offers, remains the same. The Gospel of Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and tomorrow.

Interpreting Christian fellowship in the light of an increased appreciation of the Catholic Faith brings us to discard willingly an exclusiveness which was often found in many parishes of the Episcopal Church. Few congregations remain today which are made up of just one social or economic group. The memory of the spiritual barrenness of such churches in the past should remain as a warning to any parish striving to live as a Family of Christ.

The future of St. Mark's holds great promise as a strong center of Catholic Life and Worship for all people who believe in the Faith as the Anglican Communion has received it. It suggests a continued moving forward, an exploring of new ideas and methods, while at the same time keeping our clear focus on the Apostolic Faith. Changes are not helpful just for the sake of change, yet the willingness to change is necessary if a congregation is to serve its purpose in each generation.

For example, I think of the spirit of fellowship which manifests itself in a parish where all pews are free, and the members of the congregation give with a liberality which makes pew rent unnecessary. Only a few parishes in the Episcopal Church still retain the pew rent system. Members still sit in their accustomed places each Sunday, but with no sense of possession which might cause embarrassment to visitors or non-pewholders. We still have the remains of the rented pew system in St. Mark's. Only 29 pews were rented this year with about $2,000 received from this source of income. We should look for the day when all pewholders will give in pledged offerings what they now pay in "rent", and it can be said that every pew is a free pew in our church. This involves a change of method, but such a change has proved a blessing in every parish where it has been made. A friendly St. Mark's, welcoming all who come here to worship, will better express itself as a worshipping family when we are ready to move on to such a new idea.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

One of the difficult problems which a pastor faces with his parish family is best illustrated by an afternoon I recently spent making calls. I took the names of eight individuals and families in one area of the city and drove to the first address on the list. This person was someone I knew by name and had seen regularly at mass. Our visit gave me an opportunity to learn more about the family and their life in the parish, while on the other hand, I hope my parishioner felt she had come to know her rector a little better. My next call found the individual I sought occupied with duties and could not be disturbed. This was someone I believe attends church, but I cannot yet put name and face together. The next call was on a young man who, I discovered from his aunt, had entered the armed forces, was now married and had not been in Philadelphia for a long time. The one I had hoped to visit at the next address on my list had been married for some time to a Roman Catholic. The children "naturally" were Romans but, I was informed, "he had not turned". There was no way of reaching him that day. At the next place a friendly housewife told me that the people I was looking for had moved away over a year ago. On my way again I sought a number on East —— street when it should have been West. Eventually finding the right house I learned that my parishioner was not at home. I am happy to say that next Sunday she made herself known to me after mass. Now I have another new name and face which go together. My afternoon was at an end. It was after five o'clock and almost time for Evening Prayer. I had made six calls, found one in and still had four names on the communicant list which remain just names to me.

A priest wants to be a pastor to his people, and Fr. Kintzing and I have been trying, as time allows, to seek out those we have not come to know. Some live at great distances requiring over an hour to make one call. This is all part of a real problem and you can help us. Make yourselves known to us if you think there's a chance we don't yet know who you are. Come to Coffee Hour, or drop in at the Clergy House just to get acquainted.

Yes, getting to know everyone in a city parish, with members spread over the whole city and out in the suburbs, is not an easy task. We do the best we can in getting around to call, but whether we reach everyone or not depends on many factors. Our real hope as pastors, however, is to have the members of St. Mark's know that we are their friends aad desirous of being of service to our people at all times.

The Rector's Message

Our Every Member Canvass by mail produced very good results—everything being considered. It cannot be said to be complete as day by day a few more returns come to the office. 535 families and individuals were sent the attractive mailing piece, and we have heard from about 290 of these. You may think, as I first thought, that with no replies from 245 we had failed in our effort. A certain number of people are still unconvinced about the matter of making a pledge. I hope someday I can convert them. A few others live away and have never transferred to their new parish. This they should do, as inactive names become dead wood. The remaining persons for the most part show little interest in St. Mark's. They rarely, if ever, attend a service, they take no part in the parish life, and your clergy have had little success in calling on them. These inactive people are wanted in our parish, and I hope we may be able as time goes on to reach them. It is encouraging to know that their number is being filled by many people now attending St. Mark's who are not yet ready to transfer, but who attend services and give regularly.

So the result of the canvass is very good. The amount pledged will be over that of a year ago — a happy result in the light of our need to meet increased costs of operation. We did get information from many cooperative people. All in all we learned that St. Mark's has a substantial group of members who are devoted to its life, who attend church regularly, take responsibility and give liberally. My convictions about the future are in many ways confirmed by the knowledge we gained from this year's canvass.

All this added to the fact that St. Mark's ministers to a host of people outside of its own parish family should give us pause to be grateful for the opportunity before us. The voices of doom, the stirrings of unhelpful critics are heard less and less. There's a spirit among us revealed primarily in in our worship, but also reflected in the support your clergy are getting in instruction classes and our endeavors to restore and improve the church and other buildings.

This year's canvass may seem small in numbers, but it indicates that in another five years a greater story will be written.

The Rector's Message

Is everything ready for Christmas? Well, hardly. There's still so much to do. You know those last minute presents to buy and all the gifts to wrap. The tree must be set up and the house decorated. The details for the Christmas dinner are not yet complete. We're very busy and there are only four more days until Christmas. But we'll be ready by Chrismas Eve. Will we all really be ready by Christmas Eve? Will we be prepared for welcoming our Lord on His Birthday as we come to receive Him in Holy Communion? That's the most important question to ask ourselves.

Preparation for Communion means—are we right with God? We know we cannot be ready until we have gone over our lives, found out wherein we have sinned against God and our neighbors, and confessed these sins to God. This we do with honest sorrow for having failed God and with resolution to make good and do better where we can. The Church calls us to the Lord's Table, but on condition that we receive Christ's Body and Blood worthily. At the end of the Communion Office, in the second exhortation, the Church says to us, "repent you of your sins, or else come not to that holy Table." Many of us at St. Mark's would do well to heed the strong language of the Prayer Book.

This matter of repentance might seem too hard for us if God of His Goodness had not given us ways and means to deal with sin's malady. First, we know that God forgives sin. The Catholic Faith declares that every Christian can make a "new start" each time he makes a thorough and particular confession of sin. Sins forgiven are sins wiped away. Too few Churchmen realize the blessing that the Sacrament of Penance is in the whole problem of getting right with God. It is THE way provided by the historic Church. Many are prejudiced against "confession" because of alleged abuses. But disuse of one of the Church's sacraments can be worse than abuse. Many say they dislike the idea of confessing before a priest. I wonder if they don't, deep down, really dislike facing the reality of sin itself in their own lives. That's the hardest hurdle to make. Yet God reaches out to meet us as soon as we respond, like the young man who "when he came to himself" said with decision, "I will arise and go to my Father".

Christmas and the great days of the year suggest special preparation for Holy Communion. These are times to evaluate our use of the sacraments. Confession may be the one thing needful to give our lives richness and purpose.

May each of you make ready for Christmas with peace in your heart, a peace which comes from being right with God and your fellowmen.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

FROM FATHER PAIGE:

I deeply appreciate the many Christmas cards and remembrances which came to me this week. Greetings from members of the parish family have warmed my heart. I thank you all.

The evidences of a spiritual emphasis on Christmas are very real at St. Mark's this year. Christ seems to be more and more the Center of our life. It is gratifying to find an increasing number of people who think of St. Mark's as a House of Prayer, a place for devotion, rather than an organization of competing groups and interests. Those seeking grace in sacraments and spiritual fellowship will find strength and happiness at St. Mark's. Our parish greatness is in these terms and not in traditions, treasures or social prestige. Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament of His Body and Blood presides on our Altar. May He go forth with us as we leave His House and may He rule our hearts and minds in the daily round.

I pray that Christ of Christmas and of the Blessed Sacrament will be with each of you throughout the coming year.

FROM FATHER KINTZING:

It is with a heart full of appreciation and affection that I add here a double word of gratitude; to all our parish and to Our Newborn Lord. Perhaps things were all so new last year that I didn't notice, but this Christmastide so unmistakably I sense the warmth of the family ties that enfold us all as brothers and sisters. It is always so good to be remembered by messages and by gifts from those one loves, and this simple thank-you goes personally to everyone of the parish.

But such full, yet humble, gratitude goes from a priest's heart to Him Who is the Great Priest and Pastor, for all the happinesses and heartaches of our beloved St. Mark's. It seemed, as we placed the figures in the manger, that many more spirits were crowding to be closely there as well. So we placed each of you beside Him, too, just next to Our Lady; many different kinds of people who are so in love with Him that nothing else really matters greatly. It's such a happy thing to be a shepherd amongst such people. May God love you all.

LADY CHAPEL—Our beautiful Lady Chapel is again open for use after a great amount of work in cleaning and refinishing the appointments. Through the benefits of the Wanamaker Fund for the Care of the Lady Chapel, we have been enabled to clean the ceiling and walls, which restored the polychrome on the screen organ and around the niches.

The outstanding feature of the recent work is the cleaning and processing of the Silver Altar with long-life lacquer. This process also has been used on the four silver statues and the sanctuary lamp. The full glory and beauty of the Altar has been brought out in this work, and the whole Chapel now regains its original splendor. We are grateful to the many individuals in the parish who have given hours and hours of work.

We have resumed the regular schedule of daily services in the Lady Chapel and it will be open on Sundays in order that visitors may see the beauty and symbolism of its treasures.

MISSIONARY BIBLE CLASS—Sister Darthea will conduct a series of seven weekly sessions on "The Works of St. Paul" beginning Monday, January 5, at 2 P. M., in the Library. Women of the parish and all others interested to avail themselves of this opportunity are cordially invited.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY meeting on Thursday, January 8th. Box luncheon at 12.45 P. M. Tea and coffee will be served. Meeting at 2 P. M. with an address by Mrs. A. Disston Rile on "Missions in Hawaii." Communion with intention for the work of the Auxiliary may be made at any Mass on January 4th.

ENVELOPES FOR 1953 are in the back of the Church. If you have not yet taken yours will you please do so today. Those who have not pledged and would like envelopes to use may request them at the office.

The Rector's Message

From time to time some earnest soul sends me copies of two Roman Catholic weeklies. I thank my anoymous benefactor. I do enjoy reading about what goes on in sister communions, but I suspect that these occasional issues are really sent to enlighten me about the Anglican Communion. It might be interesting to know why the Rector of St. Mark's is honored with Roman propaganda. Certainly I've heard all their manipulation of history before. It's not new for me to be told that Anglicanism stems from Cramner, or that the Catholic Church is an organic unity of faithful people bound together by obedience to the See of Peter.

Could it be that Catholic-minded priests in the Episcopal Ckurch are thought to be so frustrated and so isolated that they are good material to be beckoned across the Tiber? That has happened we admit. Priests have submitted to Rome, and in so doing have denied that they had ever performed any priestly act as Anglicans. They have repudiated their baptism, confirmation and ordinations. When they went to Rome they "had" to admit that every Mass they had ever said in the Episcopal Church was an invalid Mass, and all the penitents they had shrived as Anglican priests were really not forgiven of their sins by God.

Many of us are disturbed at times by the disloyalty and hazy thinking of some Anglican bishops and priests, but the truth is never voided by individuals' opinions or actions, any more than it is voided by Roman propagandists. Rome makes the best case for herself by a remarkable show of surface uniformity in theological and disciplinary matters. Many Americans are also impressed by the weight of numbers and the apparent financial success of the Roman Communion.

I shall always be an Anglican, although probably an impatient one, but I could never be a thought-controlled Roman. My hopeful sender of Roman literature should realize that a priest in a parish such as St. Mark's is the least tempted of all to "submit". Not only do we believe the Catholic Faith and are a part of the Apostolic Church, just as all priests and people of the Episcopal Church, but here we have the privilege of the full expression of its life. I don't mean that we in Catholic parishes should be smug or self-satisfied, yet, if our Roman friends are anxious about the condition of our souls, we can but reply, "In spite of all you hear and read, things are pretty good around Anglicana these days. You may never understand our vagueness, our clumsiness and all the family feudin', but you should know that we haven't the slightest interest in exchanging Catholicism for Romanism."

Thanks again for the papers. I'm always intrigued by the latest party line in the crusade to save Anglicans.

THE FLOWERS ON THE HIGH ALTAR today are given in loving memory of R. Bruce Miller by Mr. and Mrs. William J. Stevens. "May his soul rest in peace in the paradise of God."

CHOIR AWARDS—Last Sunday, at the 11 o'clock Service, the Martha S. Christie Memorial Cross was awarded to Richard Stroud and the Elizabeth N. Cooke Memorial Cross to James Muhr. These crosses are awarded annually to the boys who excel in reverence, leadership, attendance, musicianship.

MISSIONARY OFFERING—Our parish giving for the National and Diocesan Missionary programs in 1952 amounted to $7,016.54. This is a splendid response and every member of the parish should be encouraged that we have exceeded our accepted amount by $516.00. It is also $880.00 more than the 1951 total. We are coming closer year by year to what is asked of us on the basis of apportionment and everything points to a willingness among us to assume our responsibility in the support of the work outside the Church.

THE CHRISTMAS OFFERING amounted $880.00, not quite up to the $1,275 we had hoped for. This offering is used to pay the pension premiums of St. Mark's clergy and knowing this there may be some who would still care to make such an offering.

WOMAN'S AID TO CONVOCATION OF S. PHILA. at St. Paul's Memorial Church, 15th and Porter Sts., Tuesday, January 27th. Lunch, 12.30, 50 cents (see parish delegate for tickets). Speaker, Mrs. Jacob S. Disston on Home Missions and Human Rights.

QUIET DAY for business and professional women at St. Margaret's House, Saturday, January 31, starting with Mass at 8.30 A. M. and closing at 3.15 P. M. Conductor: Rev. Charles E. Finch. Please register early.

ST. ANNA'S HOME for Aged Women, operated by the All Saints Sisters, and wholly dependent on gifts and donations from friends and associates, makes its yearly appeal. It is hoped that St. Mark's members will again contribute generously to this good work.

The Rector's Message

Today many churches begin a Week of Prayer for the Unity of All Christians. I hope that we of St. Mark's will join our brethren of other communions in this common spiritual endeavor. From January 18th through the 25th, the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul, we shall have an intention for Christian Unity at each of the daily Masses, as well as at noonday intercessions.

Many thoughtful Church leaders tell us that we must achieve a spiritual unity before any degree of reunion can be considered. Father Hebert in his book, "The Form of the Church" writes, "Unity is prior to reunion. 'We are not weak because we are divided; we are divided because we are weak.' Before there can be true reunion there must be a revival of koinonia (a spirit of the liturgy, the common life in the Body of Christ) within each of the churches which are to come together, and a fresh realization of those positive elements of its tradition which have provided some measure of justification for the separate existence of each denomination."

This may mean that the Anglican Communion, the Episcopal Church, and each parish in the Church, must first overcome a spiritual weakness which renders us so ineffective. In the parish we must learn what it means to be one in Christ. "Here," writes Fr. Hebert, "the forms of Christian unity are seen in operation, and since there is personal contact and love and fellowship existing between the members, the unity of Christians one with another can here become a living reality." The Eucharist is the Sacrament of Unity, and the "work" of the parish is to offer it in union with our Lord's Sacrifice on the Cross.

Unity in the Episcopal Church may be more difficult than the spiritual unity of a parish, but it must be realized in a real degree before schemes of reunion should even be considered. The Episcopal Church is far from being a Eucharistic Fellowship. Being a part of the same organization, having a common basic rite, and even being under the same bishop do not alone bring about a spiritual unity. As our Liturgy says, we should be inspired with "the spirit of truth, unity and concord" so that we confessing "thy holy Name may agree in the truth of thy holy Word, and live in unity and godly love."

The Rector's Message

It seems that we of St. Mark's are out of date. We don't have "open communion". We try to stick to the teaching and tradition of the historic Church on the matter and we take the definite words of the Prayer Book as meaning what they say. Now, suddenly, there's a fresh sweep of the wind of liberalism around us and, behold, intercommunion is to be achieved overnight. We are told that the Prayer Book rubrics (pages 281 and 299) only apply to Episcopalians. Holy Communion is no longer a mark of unity for those of a common faith or of a common life which asks responsibilities of those in the fellowship of the Altar as well as bestowing privileges. We also learn that Protestants are now considered to be confirmed too, although in a manner different than Episcopalians. Likewise it doesn't seem to matter that there be differences as to what we believe about the Eucharist and the Real Presence.

The Anglican Church is used to irregularities. They may be confusing to many of the faithful, but they cannot in themselves destroy the faith and character of the Church. One wonders, however, if the present epidemic of "open communions" can come under the term of a mere irregularity. It seems to be part of a concerted attempt to change the Church in the name of Christian charity and in the face of the communistic danger. "Christians must face communism united or perish divided." That gets us. Rome plays her own game, so it is up to the hundreds of other denominations to get together in some sort of Pan-Protestant union. Communion is to be an initial step, rather than the final event in the unity of a spiritual fellowship. All this broadening of view going on today may appeal to our sentiments, but it is, in the case at point, poor theology, and in the long run will cheapen appreciation of the Blessed Sacrament.

Some of us priests who believe in the Catholic way of life in the Episcopal Church are put to it to answer laymen who ask—"What about St. - - - 's Church? The priest there invites members of all churches to come to communion. Is he right, or are you priests at St. Mark's making up your own rules of the game?" Knowing the Prayer Book, and realizing how easy it is to be tagged a legalist, what would you answer?.

Those of us opposed to "open communion" want Christian unity just as much as the so-called liberals do, and we aren't devoted to canons and rubrics and traditions just as devises with which to knock others over the head. We want, rather, a unity based on truth, not sentiment, a unity which will achieve true intercommunion through an Eucharistic Fellowship.

The Rector's Message

One of our outstanding Catholic parishes in the Episcopal Church has recently restored the custom of communions during the Solemn Mass on Sunday morning. Years ago when certain parishes were trying to make the Eucharist the central service on the Lord's Day, it seemed wise to emphasize the ancient practice of fasting communions by urging people to receive at an early hour, and leave the late Mass as a great service of worship. This intention was laudable, but it neglected the Eucharistic principle that in the offering of the Holy Sacrifice we also receive our Lord in His Sacrament as sharers in the Sacred Meal.

The influence of the late Dom Gregory Dix has brought many of us to realize that although we must never weaken the standard required of those who come to the Altar, yet every Mass is a communicating Mass if it is to follow the ancient meaning of the Service.

We of St. Mark's believe that there should be communions at every Mass, and, as you know, there is always an opportunity to receive at the Solemn Mass on Sundays. It seems best to continue the custom of asking those who wish to receive at eleven o'clock to notify the clergy at least ten minutes before the service. I would expect that those who come to communion at this service are observing the Church's custom of fasting until after receiving, and have made the same preparations as one makes at another time. If these conditions are observed there is no reason why anyone cannot come to the Altar at Solemn Mass if notice is given.

There are many people who rise later on Sunday morning, and an opportunity should be given them to share in the full Eucharistic privilege. I hope that the members of the parish, and other confirmed persons attending St. Mark's, will take advantage of all our Masses to receive Holy Communion, helping us in every way to maintain the high standard of preparation as a worthy approach to the Altar.

Let me say in closing that we expect each person who communicates at St. Mark's to receive the Blessed Sacrament fasting unless health or age would justify dispensation. We shall continue to have the Communion devotions at Solemn Mass only on such Sundays as we have communicants give us notice of their intentions to receive.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

Lent should mean much to each of us in a personal way. How can we observe this holy season to the enrichment of our spiritual lives? Will these forty days bring us closer to God? The measurement of spiritual growth should not be a Christian preoccupation, yet one must be conscious of using God's Grace so that he may live as God wants him to, and fulfill his high calling. Lent itself becomes a means of grace. By self-denial and a return to self-discipline, we clear our lives of the obstacles to spiritual growth. We elect for ourselves during Lent a simple, yet meaningful, RULE based on prayer, fasting and the sacraments. I urge each churchman to prepare and offer his Lenten Rule to God on Ash Wednesday.

Lent should also mean much to us as a Parish Family. How can we as a spiritual fellowship observe this holy season to the enrichment of our parish life? Again, will these forty days bring St. Mark's closer to God? Last Lent, knowing our need for special grace and forgiveness of our common sins, I appealed to you in these words: "Every member of the parish can find this Lent to be of special significance by joining with me in a great offering of ourselves to God for the unity and spiritual growth of our parish fellowship. May we make the center of this endeavor our daily prayers, a weekly reception of Holy Communion, and finding ways to learn more of Him who loves us. . . . Lent is an opportunity. I pray that not one of us may miss it."

Christianity is a religion of expecting the very best. We should expect miracles to happen. We should believe with all our hearts that St. Mark's will become a fellowship of converted people. God's Grace is sufficient to bring this to pass, but its fulfillment depends on whether you and I will let God rule our lives. God has not promised to save parishes or churches. He has made good His promise to save souls.

At the end of our Lord's "Forty Days" He was tempted by the devil. He met the enemy and won the battle. Our Lent should make us fit contestants in our conflict with the evil one. We may learn for the first time that there is no victory for God personally or as a parish family without facing up squarely to Satan, and defeating him by the use of God's Grace in prayer and sacrament. Lent is for those who come to know the truth that there is no hope for man except in God and His Gifts of Grace.

The Rector's Message

Some one came into St. Mark's recently for a quiet moment of prayer, and paused to look over the tracts and pamphlets in the porch. Like most Episcopalians our friend thought he had a sufficient knowledge of the Church and its Faith given to him at the time of his Confirmation. He discovered that numerous tracts presented subjects which were out of his experience. Here was a writer saying things about the nature of the Church, about the place of the sacraments and especially about the whole matter of faith and practice which startled him. He was especially moved by the fact that the Episcopal Church offered the Sacrament of Penance. Somewhere along the line he had missed something. He had never really believed that God cared enough to forgive sins although he had said the Creed Sunday by Sunday. What a revelation to learn that in certain actions of the Church God had Himself initiated the ways and means of giving His Love to men and women. Our visitor realized for the first time that the Christian Religion is a life of faith and practice with ever increasing richness for one who will be a seeker for the truth.

The trouble is that most of us stop learning, stop searching, as soon as our perfunctory Confirmation training is over. Interest wanes, enthusiasm all but dies, and we take our place in the great company of indifferent people. The Church, our own Episcopal Church, is suffering from that indifference.

Lent can be a time of restoration for luke-warm Churchmen. Lent is offered especially for the spiritual awakening of the "gray sheep", as Father Kintzing put it on Ash Wednesday night. The opportunities presented to us by classes and reading will help to arouse us. We can keep learning until our dying day. The Gospels, the Creeds and the Prayer Book have new truth waiting to be found. The Church and her liturgy are ready reservoirs of grace for all who will pause and recognize spiritual needs.

Knowledge of Christ and His Church cannot be given to people as water is poured into a bottle. It can come to us only as we willingly open our hearts and minds. God grant that many this Holy Season will seek to strengthen the foundations of faith by studying to make our religion a reality.

12.10 MASS MONDAY THROUGH FRIDAY, with special preaching Wednesdays and Fridays following the Mass.

LENTEN STUDY CLASSES—Continuing the parish program of Christian Education for adults, we shall have two classes each week during Lent. On Monday evenings Fr. Paige will give five lectures on how God revealed Himself to His people through the Old Testament. On Wednesday evenings Fr. Kintzing will conduct classes on the topic "Studies in the Christian Life". Your rule for Lent should include some element of Bible reading and study. These courses are keyed to assist us to that end and should be helpful to members of the parish and their friends.

MISSIONARY OFFERING TODAY—All offerings at the Services today are designated toward the Missionary program of the Church. Offerings made in the regular envelopes and the loose offerings will go towards the 1953 parish quota of $7,000. A good beginning in missionary giving will enable us to equal, and perhaps surpass, the splendid response which we made in 1952.

FRIDAY ORGAN RECITALS—During Lent these increasingly popular twenty-minute recitals will be held each Friday at 5.05 P. M. instead of at noon. Recitalists are listed each week in this leaflet and the programs are posted on the porch bulletin board.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY meeting on Thursday, March 5th. Box luncheon at 12.45 P. M. Tea and coffee will be served. Meeting at 2 P. M. with a talk by Miss Fewsmith on her work with the blind. Communion with intention for the work of the Auxiliary may be made at any Mass on March 1st.

The Rector's Message

The use of incense in worship is not a prevalent custom in the Episcopal Church. Its use at St. Mark's and in other parishes where traditional ceremonial has been restored frequently leaves the visitor somewhat bewildered. Many people think of incense as something used by Roman Catholics which has been taken over by "high church" Episcopal parishes. We must admit that it is difficult for some churchmen to appreciate certain symbolic ceremonies in worship, and incense is one thing foreign to their experience. It is interesting to recall, however, that incense has been a part of worship in most religions until Protestant Christianity created non-liturgical worship in the 16th and 17th centuries. Incense was common to pagan worship and to the Hebrew worship in the Temple. We read that Zacharias, the father of St. John Baptist, was a priest whose office at the Temple in Jerusalem "was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord". We also know that early Christians were careful about the use of incense because it was used to honor the Roman Emperor as a deity, but when all danger of misunderstanding passed, it became, as in all religions, a symbolic ceremony.

The danger of thinking incense is a peculiarly Roman Catholic custom is still evident today. It might help to realize that in the Eastern Orthodox Communion the use of incense accompanies every offering of the Eucharist. One of the greatest factors of its discontinuance in the English Church was the destruction of thuribles (the vessels with chains in which incense is burned) by the Puritans at the same time they destroyed vestments, altars and pipe organs throughout England.

Incense in worship is a beautiful and symbolic ceremonial which deserves restoration to general use in the Church. It is associated especially with the idea of prayer. In Revelation 8: 4 we read, "And there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints. . . . And the smoke of the incense which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand". Incense expresses the visible ascent of prayer. The censing of the altar and sanctuary at the beginning of Mass creates an atmosphere of prayer. Incense is blessed and burned, the celebrant censes the altar, and the atmosphere of prayer at the offertory is extended to all worshippers. At Evensong we literally act out the psalm verse, "Let my prayer be set forth in Thy sight as the incense".

At one with Old Testament worship, with the traditional worship of the historic Church and with the perfect heavenly worship described in Revelation, we of St. Mark's offer incense at each Solemn Mass.

The Rector's Message

The Liturgy of Holy Week means much to us at St. Mark's. We enrich the Prayer Book services for that week with rites common to the historic Church for centuries. From now until Palm Sunday I would like to say something each week in the Message about Holy Week. Today we look ahead to the Palm Sunday Liturgy which takes place in all its fullness and beauty at eleven o'clock on March 29th.

The Mass of that day is preceded by the Blessing and Distribution of the Palms, followed by the Procession. This Liturgy of the Palms has a strong similarity to the form of the Eucharist—Collect, Lesson, Gospel, etc. As the Eucharist has its climax at the Consecration and Communion, so the Liturgy of the Palms climaxes with the Blessing and Distribution of Palms. This ancient palm service is a drama illustrating the events of that day given to us in the gospels, yet the drama is an act of our worship as Christ approaches His Victory of the Cross and Resurrection. The palms symbolize this victory as well as our offering of "good works" with which we go forth to meet Our Lord. Our "good works" are the fruits of God-directed lives. As the palms come to us from the Altar after being blessed, so the inspiration for what we offer in our lives comes from Christ.

In the Procession we carry palms to the doors of the Church, symbolically meeting Christ, just as the Hebrews carried palms to the gates of Jerusalem. At the "gates" of the Church we sing a hymn of greeting—"All glory, laud and honor". Then there is a moment of silence broken by three knocks on the door. The doors open and Christ symbolically enters as He did that morning in Jerusalem. We go before Him bearing the palms.

Returning to the Altar we begin the Mass, the theme of which is the Passion. From this point on the organ is used only to sustain singers until Easter Even, except at the Maundy Thursday Mass. After the Gradual the three Sacred Ministers sing the Passion according to St. Matthew assisted by members of the choir. Worshippers hold palms at this time and kneel for a moment at the words "yielded up the ghost". The verses following the Passion are sung in the same manner and place as the usual Sunday Gospel, and the Mass continues to its conclusion in the customary way. The spirit of our worship of the victorious Christ still remains with us as we carry home the blessed palms, but the Liturgy of the day asks of us to begin the week's meditation on His Passion as we end the Palm Sunday ceremonies quietly looking to the Cross.

ADULTS WHO LIKE TO SING will be interested in our plans for forming a mixed adult choir that will sing for special occasions at St. Mark's. A meeting of those who would like to sing with such a group will be held in the choir room next Tuesday night, March 10, at 8 P. M. Any one interested in music and able to "carry a tune" is eligible. A great voice or previous experience is not necessary. Aside from the chance to enjoy singing with a group, here is an opportunity to learn more about the beauties of liturgical music.

THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA is sponsoring two musical programs to be given at St. Mark's next Saturday, March 14. The first is an organ recital, at 2.30 P. M., by Ernest White, Organist of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin in New York, and one of the designers of our magnificent organ. The second is a program of choral music presented by the music department of the University at 8.30 P. M. There is no charge for either concert. You are invited to attend.

The Rector's Message

Last Sunday we gave thought to the great Service at the beginning of Holy Week. Branches of palms are carried in procession to honor the victorious Christ, but the Mass which follows takes us to His Cross and Passion.

Maundy Thursday, the day of Christ's giving the New Commandment that Christians love one another, is also the day of commemorating the Lord's Supper and the Institution of the Mass. Traditionally only one Mass is celebrated on this day with white used for altar and vestments in honor of Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament. This will be a beautiful Solemn Mass with full choir, at which there is to be a general Communion for the whole parish family.

At the Consecration a portion of the Sacrament is set aside in a special chalice, and at the end of the service it is carried in procession to an "Altar of Repose" in the Lady Chapel. A 24-hour Watch is kept by members of the parish until Good Friday morning. The Blessed Sacrament is then carried back to the High Altar and consumed in a ceremony known as the Mass of the Presanctified (Preconsecrated). This service is not really a Mass, but rather a completion of the liturgical cycle which began with the Mass on Maundy Thursday.

Symbolically, the procession to the Altar of Repose honors our Lord's Presence in the Sacrament. The Watch before the Sacrament represents the Watch in the Garden of Gethsemane with flowers filling the sanctuary of the chapel. On Good Friday the procession from the Altar of Repose to the High Altar vividly symbolizes the procession to Calvary. We re-present the Death of Christ on the Cross in the consummation of the Host in the Mass of the Presanctified. After this our Lord's Sacramental Presence is gone until the consecration of the first Mass of Easter. This is the only period throughout the year when the Sacrament is not reserved.

Beginning with Palm Sunday and continuing through Holy Week, we relive and re-enact the final events of our Lord's earthly life. We go into Jerusalem with Hosannas on Sunday, gather with Him in the Upper Room on Maundy Thursday, watch with Him in the Garden, follow Him to the judgment hall and to the Cross on Good Friday. Here in the ancient liturgies of Holy Week is presented the world's greatest drama; here is offered holy and beautiful worship.

ADULT MIXED CHOIR—An enthusiastic group of singers turned out last Tuesday night to discuss the possibility of forming an adult choir for special occasions at St. Mark's. Accordingly plans have been made for this group to sing for the first time at the Good Friday Liturgy. Rehearsals will be held on Tuesdays at 8 P. M. beginning March 17. More mature voices are especially needed in the tenor and bass sections. If you would like to sing with such a group, won't you speak to the Choirmaster? Additional information is posted on the porch bulletin board.

THE LITANY IN PROCESSION is a great corporate act of worship especially suited to the penitential seasons. Although the officiant and members of the choir take leadership in this Service, it is meant to be for the whole congregation. It is customary for every one to stand throughout the Litany, symbolic of participation in the procession. Members of the congregation will remain standing throughout the entire Litany.

The Rector's Message

The rites of Holy Saturday bring to a close the cycle of Holy Week ceremonies begun on Palm Sunday. Anciently these rites were celebrated late on Easter Even, leading up to the first Mass of Easter at midnight. The Liturgy as we shall observe it at St. Mark's on the Eve of Easter consists of five parts: the blessing of the New Fire; the blessing and lighting of the Paschal Candle; the blessing of the Font; the Litany and, lastly, Evensong.

At the beginning of the service, the Sacred Ministers go to the porch of the Church. There the New Fire is struck from flint and blessed as a "light to lighten our darkness." As the Procession enters the Church, the deacon carries three candles joined together at the base. At intervals in the Procession these candles are lighted one by one. The three-part candle represents the Holy Trinity, and the lighting of the three candles in the moving Procession symbolizes the Triune God revealed in time to mankind. The Oneness of God is declared as the deacon sings "the Light of Christ" at the lighting of each of the three candles.

The Procession arrives in the sanctuary and the deacon sings the magnificent chant "Exultet." In this the joy of Christ's Resurrection is expressed. Now the Paschal Candle is lighted, to be followed by the lighting of other candles from its flame. The Paschal Candle standing at the Gospel side of the Altar is made of the purest wax, decorated with symbols and marked on its side with a Cross of incense grains. This candle represents the Resurrected Christ, and is lighted at all services in Eastertide until extinguished during the Gospel on Ascension Day. The Light of Christ to the whole world is shed abroad as other candles receive their flame from the Paschal Candle.

Now the Sacred Ministers proceed to bless the Font, which is filled with water. This rite dramatically sets forth the teaching of Christian regeneration and birth found in the Prayer Book service of Holy Baptism. It is fitting that persons be baptized at this point in the rite. The Risen Christ has shed His Grace symbolically in these rites just as those washed in the water of the font truly receive His Grace in Holy Baptism.

The drama of Holy Week closes and the joys of the Resurrection morn are anticipated in the singing of Evensong. May our participation in the liturgical life of this wonderful week bring us new life in the Risen Christ.

The Rector's Message

A tearful little girl met her priest after Sunday School one Palm Sunday morning. Her teacher had told the class a story pointing to the crucifix on the wall. Patty was sad that they had killed Jesus, yet it was a shaken faith which brought her tears. "Father, is God dead?" The priest suddenly realized that one Christian child who had come to love Christ was sharing the experience of disciples long ago who had seen His Body put away in a tomb. A faith born of simple trust in One Who had become a Friend needed strength to meet the test in discovering what her world is really like. "God is not dead, my dear. Have no fear. Wait until next Sunday and you will hear the rest of the story. God did not leave Jesus lying in that tomb."

Many people much older than Patty come one day to see nothing but the Cross in this world of selfishness, injustice, war and death. For them every sign points to the hopeless conclusion that God must be dead, or He is sleeping, or He doesn't care. It seems as if there is little to give faith in a world where the best Man Who ever lived ends up by being executed. As a result men walk away from the Cross bitter and disappointed and live their lives as though God were dead.

We who celebrate the Resurrection of Christ must never forget that the tomb of death and despair is not the end of the story. We have waited for Easter and met the Risen Lord. He now is with us always. He comes to us in Holy Communion and we receive Him into our lives. This is the same Risen Christ, once crucified, but now alive forevermore. It is the Risen Lord that we must present to a world hungry for faith. It is the Risen Lord that we celebrate in our hearts and in our Eucharistic fellowship this Easter Day.

The Rector's Message

Those of us who had the privilege of sharing in the Holy Week and Easter services at St. Mark's were conscious of a deep sense of devotion in the beautiful and stirring ceremonies. We are all grateful to the many persons who made such a week possible. Beginning with the Palm Sunday Liturgy, marked by the contrast of a jubilant procession and holy silences, Mr. Day and our choir led us in the traditional liturgical music in a manner unexcelled. On Good Friday the volunteer choir of men and women of the parish sang for the first time and offered a service which warmed our hearts.

The ceremonies of Holy Week would not have been possible without the careful planning and thorough rehearsing by Mr. Boatrite and the members of St. Vincent's Guild of Acolytes. These men with our Sub-deacons, Messrs. Hollett and Gordy, practiced many hours to lead us in the wonderful rites of Holy Week.

I think also of the faithful work of Sister Darthea and the members of the Altar Society and Flower Committee. It takes many loving hands to offer the services such as we shared last week. We should be grateful also to the Ushers Guild under Mr. Yardley who, especially on Good Friday, cared for the large crowds at the services.

It was most heartening to have large congregations participate so worshipfully in the services, and respond so liberally to the work of our parish in the Easter offering. I think of these as signs of our growth as a parish family, while the quality of devotion certainly indicated that most of us are putting first things first. The unfortunate timing of our annual election and the undermining character of some of the electioneering were unhappy intrusions in our Holy Week. As your pastor I am happy to know that most of you were serving God on your knees before the altar the days of that week and Easter.

St. Mark's is a glorious parish with a sacred vocation. Your rector makes mistakes along with others, but in the larger issues, he needs as leaders and parishioners men and women who support him. I am sure after this Lent and Easter, and after our recent election, that there is no place here for trouble-makers. The real job is too important and the opportunities are too great to be lost in the smoke screen of a few divisive persons. I feel that I have been called to lead this part of Christ's Holy Fellowship as a worshipping family, and it is my solemn duty to meet, challenge and eliminate anything which threatens its unity.

May God help us to know His Will for St. Mark's and live as becomes a Family in Christ.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

CONTRIBUTIONS OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY for the missionary work of 1953 are being offered at 11 A. M. today.

COMMUNION IS AVAILABLE at every Mass at St. Mark's. It is to be regretted that some persons still have a misunderstanding about communions at the 11 o'clock Service. On Easter Day communion devotions were included and the celebrant was prepared to administer communion although none presented themselves at the Altar rail. On ordinary Sundays those wishing to receive at the Solemn Mass are asked to notify either an usher or one of the clergy ten minutes before the Service. Those wishing to receive should come to the Altar rail during the singing of the Agnus Dei. The clergy wish to assure members of the congregation that they approve of communions at this Service and only ask that individuals make their proper preparation and give the requested notice.

AT THE ANNUAL ELECTION for members of the Vestry, held on Easter Monday, the following gentlemen were elected to serve a term of four years:

James F. Gordy
Walter A. Hipple
A. M. Shumate

THE RECTOR was in Washington three days this past week attending a conference of clergy and choirmasters to consider the founding of a College for Church Musicians in connection with Washington Cathedral. This proposed project was enthusiastically endorsed by the twenty-six persons present and it promises to do much for the cause of music in the American Church.

FUND FOR THE EPISCOPATE—The Committee on the Fund for the Episcopate engaged Charles Laughton nearly one year ago so that you may enjoy "An Evening with Charles Laughton" at the Academy of Music, Friday, April 17th, at 8.30 P. M. Tickets at the Academy of Music Box Office.

The Rector's Message

Christ is the Good and faithful Shepherd. Men and women through the ages have been called by our Lord to become disciples and to follow Him. Our sinful natures however, our wilfulness and self-centeredness, have made us like sheep who stray from the fold. The Good Shepherd calls us back, reaches out to save us, and brings us into a oneness in Him. "The Good Shepherd giveth His Life for the sheep."

Christ is the true pastor, and He has given to the Church the ministry of calling to men, bringing them back and uniting them in the One Body. In this He indicates one primary function of the Church. The Church must first of all be concerned with souls. Sometimes even today it seems merely to be an institution striving to perfect and sustain an organization. We have undue concern with buildings, finances and numbers.

I think of the Apostolic Church, having no buildings, meeting week by week and day by day in humble homes, always under the threat of persecution. There they would gather and receive their Lord in the Eucharist, going out again to tell the Good News, to share the Christian Way. A simple organization to perform the Church's priestly, prophetic and pastoral ministry was found in men being set apart as bishops, priests and deacons.

Beautiful buildings and appointments can be to the glory of God, and money can be given and used sacramentally. Our main task, however, remains the same as it always has been—to meet our Lord and to receive Him into our lives, going out to win souls and to share with them the life of Grace. How can you and I carry out the Church's pastoral mission in downtown Philadelphia? We must, first of all, live around the Altar, in union with Christ and in union with each other. From that fellowship each one of us, not just the clergy, must reach out to others in our part of the city. We must be truly catholic in declaring the Gospel to others, bringing to our Lord and His Holy Fellowship anyone living in our community. We face our pastoral and teaching mission not with the motive of building a successful parish first in our minds, but with a love for souls, the same love shown forth by Christ, the Good Shepherd.

The Rector's Message

Some years ago I stood in Trinity Chapel, east of the high altar, in Canterbury Cathedral. It is now only a vast apse edged with the tombs of Archbishop Walter, the Black Prince and others of the past. We were told of the time when as a shrine of St. Thomas a Becket, it was enriched with gold, jewels and tapestries, and visited by hundreds of thousands of pilgrims. The sight-seer today captures the glory of Canterbury and is deeply moved as he stands on the ground where one of history's great dramas was enacted. There was the place right in Trinity Chapel where the great shrine stood, and before its empty space one saw the stones actually worn away by the knees of worshippers through the centuries before 1538. I had a feeling of sadness as I realized that the visitor's curiosity had taken the place of the pilgrim's devotion. With our guidebooks we were invading the privacy of a place made holy by prayer. The stones worn by pilgrim knees were speaking to us in a way no once-glorious shrine could ever have done.

When I have visited either of our beautiful cathedrals in New York or Washington, it has been easy to be merely a sight-seer thrilled by spaciousness, inspired by artistic detail and impressed by the scale of human endeavor. We easily forget that an altar is the Lord's Table, and that a carved saint in a niche may well be the figure of one who died for the Faith. As we look at a panel of the Annunciation we marvel at the artist's skill, forgetting the lovely Lady who is saying, "Be it unto me according to Thy Word." Secular influences about us seem to have extended to what we see with our eyes and think with our minds even in church.

The veneration of St. Thomas a Becket at Canterbury centuries ago may have been a deviation from the best of Catholic devotion, but it brought men and women to their knees in prayer, and stirred their hearts with devotion. Something more than cathedral splendor, something other than gold, silver and jewels worked into statue or vessel, makes a church a house of prayer. Go into a church where a warm light flickers before the altar bespeaking Our Lord's Sacramental Presence and quietly kneel. Something is different here. There is a sense of holiness such as Jacob knew at ancient Bethel when he said, "Surely the Lord is in this place . . . . this is the gate of heaven." The Blessed Sacrament reserved on the altar silently preaches Its own sermon whether it be in a St. Mark's with its treasured beauty or in a frame church adorned only with the prayers of humble worshippers.

A Message from Mr. Day

The tradition of prayerful and good music at St. Mark's is one of which we are all aware. It is a powerful stimulant to your choirmaster, a worthy incentive to the choir, and an assurance to all who worship here of our intent to "worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness."

We know that as worshippers we ought to participate as fully as possible in the Liturgy. So it is that while we wish to sing all the parts of a choral service we are perplexed, because we also want to offer the very best music to our Lord. This is not a problem peculiar to St. Mark's congregations; it existed almost from the earliest days of the Church's life. The solution is that of a divided responsibility. Music beyond the vocal or musical capacities of a congregation is delegated to be sung by a special group: the choir. This is still a part of the offering of the congregation, but an offering made through the choir, an offering of man's highest creative endeavors in music. This music is never offered for the diversion or plaudits of those who come to worship. The congregation, although not vocal at such times, should still offer with the choir the words and music being sung.

The remaining music is intentionally congregational, with choir and organ providing leadership. The various responses and the Lord's Prayer are sung to very simple melodies; the melodies used for the Creed and the Gloria in excelsis, a bit more elaborate, remain the same Sunday after Sunday so that they will become familiar to all and hence easy to sing. If responses, Creed, etc., are sung with conviction by everyone, a sense of our togetherness, of our corporateness, results. This is no time to be timid, or to sound as though we hardly believe the words we sing! So also with the hymns. Not many of the hymns we sing are of the familiar-since-childhood variety. But they are not difficult to sing, especially with choir and organ support. The possibility of a new religious experience, a new thought, a better expression of our ideals and aspirations lies in every hymn. The sincerity and conviction with which we sing them is much more important than how we sound when we sing, or whether we hit all the right notes. Occasional choir or organ counter-melodies, called descants, are especially designed to encourage and stimulate congregational singing. If you are not used to them they may be disconcerting at first, but eventually you will find them not only an appreciated part of your worship, but a worthy part of the continuing tradition of music at St. Mark's.

The Rector's Message

It is always encouraging for a pastor to know that most of his people are behind him in the essential work of the Church. The measurement of progress towards spiritual objectives must of necessity be in outward and visible terms. There is more than numbers implied in the largely attended services during Lent, Holy Week and Easter. There was shown a consistent response by many of our people. The daily masses have been and continue to be a spiritual witness to the life of St. Mark's. There is meaning in the fact that more and more people share in the regular devotional life. During the post-Easter "slump" we have an average of 18 or 20 worshippers on ordinary weekday mornings. The faithfulness of the men and boys who serve these masses is no small part of our spiritual growth.

I believe that giving is also a measure of spiritual objective. The amount is always secondary to the sacrificial character of our giving. It is true that we must materially cut our cloth to fit parish income, and we can only do the things we should do when we have the funds. For example, our buildings have worn-out heating plants. We should have automatic steam heat for church, parish house and clergy house. Yet I know we can meet this need when we, as a family, are ready to take the necessary steps. Real interest and cooperation have given us a fine new parish house kitchen. We envisage the rest of the parish house and offices brought into line with modern living.

We have a just sense of pride that our giving towards the missionary work of the Church at large and in the diocese has steadily increased. In 1951 we promised $6000 and gave $6844. In 1952 we accepted $6500 and gave $7016. Our proportionate share, however, was $7500. In the current year, your vestry has accepted $7000, hoping we can meet the $7500 asked. On the basis of our pledge we should have given $2333 by May 1st. Our actual giving to that date has been $2039. This is very good for the first four months, and I know we shall do our best to make up the slight deficiency in our regular giving and on the occasion of our missionary offerings on Whitsunday and in October.

A changing city parish must maintain its responsibilities to deepen spiritual life and support the great work of the Church. There is every sign that, by God's Grace, we are going ahead. I want each member who has shared in this to know how much I appreciate the response which has been made even during difficult days. We offer it all to the glory of God.

The Rector's Message

All healthy human beings are endowed with a social instinct. As boys it was second nature for us to form a club to meet our special needs. Later on some of us found better directed activities in the Scouts and other constructive organizations. In college the "boys' den" becomes the fraternity. In maturity, however, most people find the main satisfaction for the social instinct in the family they create, in citizenship and in the Church. These are all related and embrace the whole life of each man and woman. Belonging to other clubs, lodges and societies can be all right as long as the party doesn't become more important than civic and national life, or the lodge and club more satisfying than the home.

This human problem also extends to the Church. Those of us who hold a Catholic conception of the Family of Christ believe that the Church itself is the only religious society that matters in the end. The Church ministers to all sorts and conditions of men, and has the wisdom to reach out to its people in varied ways. Guilds of churchmen serving a special function such as the care of the Altar and assisting at the services have no purpose but to enrich the life of the Church. The Woman's Auxiliary carries on its program within the pattern of the spiritual Family.

We have a number of devotional guilds which band members together for a spiritual emphasis. The "Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament" welcomes into membership all who wish to honor Our Lord in His Sacramental Presence, offering intercession in union with the Eucharistic Sacrifice, and promoting the primitive practice of receiving Holy Communion fasting. The "Guild of All Souls" joins churchmen together in praying for the dying, for the repose of the souls of the departed, and for encouraging Christian burial customs such as the Requiem Mass. These guilds which have only devotional objectives may sometimes be small in membership, yet there may be many in St. Mark's who would care to join in this work of special prayer.

There may be those who find sufficient fellowship in the simple life of the Church, centered in worship and the sacraments. However societies aimed at deepening the devotional life and extending the missionary purpose of the Church can be an added help to Christian living. We all know the danger of any organization or society in the Church becoming more important to its members than the Church itself. The Catholic Church is God's Society. There are meetings which its members are expected to attend each week and on special days. God's Society also has a corporate communion every Sunday. The Family of Christ can supply all our religious and spiritual needs if we will allow the Church to be truly itself.

The Rector's Message

One morning last week a newspaper headline informed us that an "Episcopal Rector Becomes a Catholic". With all Episcopalians already Catholics by virtue of their Baptism and incorporation sacramentally into the Body of Christ, this caption displays the familiar misuse of a word. The story being told the world was that a priest of the Episcopal Church had renounced his priesthood and had submitted to the authority of the Pope by becoming a member of the Roman Catholic denomination.

It is always regrettable when a priest lets the irritations of being an Episcopalian so get him down that he leaps into the protective arms of Roman authoritarianiam. In doing this our discouraged friend declared that he had not really been a priest for 25 years, that he had never said a mass, and that in ignorance he had exercised an invalid ministry. Yet we should not accuse such a man of a lack of integrity. Nor can some of us fail to sympathize with his statement that there is "a lack of authority in the Episcopal Church" while there is "firmness and clarity in Roman Catholic teaching." A weakness of the Episcopal Church is the lack of conviction in the clear and definite faith found in the Prayer Book. Some brethren apologize for the Virgin Birth and offer poetic explanations of Our Lord's Resurrection. In matters of authority few bishops will meet issues of doctrine, discipline and worship with clearcut decisions—a right vested in them by virtue of their office as set forth in the canons and rubrics. I believe that our unwillingness to face up to matters which involve the right use of authority is so serious that the ultimate future of the Episcopal Church is endangered.

However, real as these problems are, and disturbing as the disloyal actions and utterances of some churchmen may be, there is no ground for jumping into a worse situation where the Catholic Faith becomes what papal authority makes it. Every Episcopalian should read, "Why I Am Not a Roman Catholic" by Father Ross of All Saints', Margaret Street, in London. He sums it up well when he says, "People in general become Roman Catholics because the shoe pinches in their own Church rather than by virtue of the inherent advantages of the Church of Rome. Some stupid utterance of an ecclesiastic comes as a last straw; or a violent change in the traditions of a parish serves, most illogically, to prove the truth of the papal claims . . . The Church of England has many defects, and her children admit them, perhaps too freely or complacently. But none of them belong to her essence, they are all accidental, and it is open to one and all to work to set them right."

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

THE FLOWERS on the Altar today are given by the Evening Auxiliary in memory of Father Vernon.

THE SECOND CHOIR CONCERT for the benefit of the Boy Choir Camp Fund will be given this afternoon as a part of the 4 o'clock Service. It costs $27 to send each choir boy to camp. We still lack $439.00 of the amount we shall need. If you have not yet contributed to this fund, won't you come this afternoon or send in your contribution to the office this coming week.

CORPUS CHRISTI FESTIVAL at St. Alban's Church, Olney, Thursday, June 4, at 8 o'clock. The preacher will be the Rev. Wm. J. Alberts, Christ Church, Media. Members of our congregation have been invited to this Service.

COMMUNIONS AT HIGH MASS—Our custom of offering Holy Communion at all services includes the privilege of receiving at the late Mass on Sundays and weekdays. As we wish to emphasize the importance of proper preparation and the making of a fasting communion, we ask that those who wish to receive at late Services get notice to the clergy at least 10 minutes before the Service. A mass with communion seems to many of us to be a more normal Service, and it is to be hoped that those who desire to receive at a late Service and are observing the ancient custom of fasting will avail themselves of this opportunity.

NEXT SUNDAY, at 4 o'clock — Provincial Service of the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament, with Solemn Evensong, Procession of the Blessed Sacrament with Benediction. The preacher will be the Rev. Frank Damrosch, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Doylestown, Provincial Superior of the C.B.S. Members of the congregation and friends are invited to this Service.

ON THURSDAY, JUNE 11, at 8 P. M., Service of Witness, sponsored by The American Church Union, Philadelphia area. The special preacher will be the Rev. Francis Dalby, Superior-General of the Society of St. John the Evangelist. Please put this date on your calendar.

CATHOLIC LAYMEN'S UNION dinner meeting Tuesday, June 2, at Christ Church, Media. Dinner at 6.30—$1.50. Make reservations direct to Christ Church. Ladies are invited.

"52 FOR 53"—The American Church Union is again asking us to join with five hundred other parishes throughout the country in giving $52.00 this year for the work of the Union. The A.C.U. was able to extend its influence by last year's offering, in which we shared. All of us interested in the Catholic faith and life, as set forth in the Episcopal Church, want to have our part in the positive program of the A.C.U. The Rector will be glad to receive contributions towards "52 for 53". He hopes that he will be able to complete this fund before summer.

CHOIR BOY CAMP FUND—$140.00 still needed to meet the expense of sending the boys to camp.

SHUT-INS DAY—Today is Shut-ins Day, a day set aside to encourage the remembrance of the sick and shut-ins. Please try to remember one or more of St. Mark's shut-ins. Names may be obtained at the office.

NATIONAL DIOCESAN CATHEDRAL FIELD DAY next Saturday, June 13th. The Bishop and Chapter cordially invite all to visit the Cathedral, picnic on the grounds, and gather in the Cathedral for a Service of Worship at 4 P. M.

TREES ON LOCUST STREET—The Emergency Aid is sponsoring a project for planting shade trees on Locust Street between 16th and 17th Streets, possibly as memorials. Anyone interested in planting a memorial tree is asked to communicate with Mrs. Hall Vetterlein. Cost of tree, planted, including perpetual care, is $33.00.

THE OFFERTORY MOTET of today's Solemn Mass is sung for the first time anywhere. The composer is a well known member of our parish in his capacity as Warden of the Acolytes Guild. We are pleased that in this way we are able to encourage contemporary composers to write for the Liturgy.

The Rector's Message

As we believe, so we, through God's Grace, should try to live. Most Christians show by their lives to what extent they accept the faith and practice of the denomination to which they belong. Where the Creed is held to be essential to Christianity, one expects the members of that group to have the integrity to believe the Articles of Faith. Where a communion sets forth a disciplined way of life, one would expect its adherents to accept such a corporate rule of life.

Through the years, the priests and teachers of St. Mark's and many other parishes of the Episcopal Church have presented the faith and practice of the Church as set forth in the Prayer Book and interpreted according to the Catholic tradition of 2,000 years. For example, the Prayer Book indicates a devotional practice or discipline. Just what does it mean? For the answer we look to what the Catholic Church has always meant rather than to the opinion of one priest or even a misinformed General Convention. We differ from our Roman brethren in a number of aspects, but especially in how matters of faith and practice are enforced. Anglican discipline is clear without being legalistic, but its enforcement depends for the most part on moral appeal.

Somehow one would expect the men and women trained in parishes like St. Mark's to reflect the Catholic Way of Life. One could not worship in a "Catholic" parish year after year just because the services are beautiful. A purely aesthetic experience which does not relate to life is not valid religion. All that we do here is the expression of a Faith. That Faith must show forth in the lives of the members of the parish family as well as be expressed in the ceremonial of the services. Fussy services in themselves may just simply be "high church", but only a disciplined life of prayer and sacrament as a foundation for liturgical enrichment can be called Catholic.

Healthy self-criticism should make us willing to look at ourselves as products of the life and teaching of our parish. Do we find St. Mark's people attending mass every Sunday, winter and summer, even when they move from the parish? Has this parish produced churchmen who make their confessions and communions according to a rule of life? Are too many Catholics more interested in ceremonial detail than in the tough business of making a confession, or going to communion before breakfast each Sunday morning?

We have a long way to go. There is much that each one of us must do to make our Faith a living reality. Any criticism of the doctrinal vagueness and irregularities of other Episcopalians might well wait on the day when Catholic life measures up with Catholic expression in our own parish family.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

Not long ago a well-meaning layman remarked that it seemed as if the clergy were always asking for something. What he says is quite true. We are always asking for more Christians, for more consecrated churchmen, for more of our people at services, for more communions and confessions, and for more people who will share parochial responsibilities. Frankly, I believe our friendly critic really meant that we are always asking money for this and that purpose. This to a degree is also true. By letter or in the parish leaflet we bring before our people opportunities to share in the meeting of certain needs, but we keep such requests out of the pulpit.

The people of St. Mark's respond most generously to the calls we place before them. I am especially appreciative of the fund totaling over $550 which we have received for the choir boys' summer camp, and also for the aid we have had towards Valley Forge Conference scholarships. You have given liberally in the offering for theological education and to the other special requests made during the past year. I thank you for the support you have shown in all these projects.

We have, however, two major financial responsibilities as members of St. Mark's Church. These are the support of the Church's missionary work in the diocese as well as in the world, and our personal share in the cost of maintaining the parish. As to the first, I ask each member to help us do as fine a job with missionary giving as we did last year. To date we have contributed $3,271.63 towards our 1953 pledge of $7,000. By July first I hope we shall have the needed $228.37 to meet the half-way mark.

When I say that more and more of us should assume larger responsibility in support of parish expenses I do not mean to imply that we are doing poorly this year. There has been a steady increase in the number of contributors in recent years. Still we should remind ourselves that St. Mark's is not a parish of wealthy people. The legend that we do not need many regular weekly contributors because we are so well off is quite false. Our future growth depends on the devel. opment of a large congregation of men and women who will give sacrificially week after week to support the parish. Right now we depend on YOUR offering EVERY Sunday. It is good to know that with careful planning we have cut our total expenses in the past year, and the faithful offerings of our members have increased our total income. About $4,000 additional yearly income through offerings would fill a gap made by the general increase in prices and costs.

To enable your parish to do its job I ask two things of each of you—first, to increase as you are able your weekly giving for the support of the parish, and secondly, to keep your pledges paid up to date these summer months.

All members of the family should know about the household financial matters, so before the Sunday leaflet goes on vacation, I want to share these practical thoughts with you.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

✠

This morning the Sunday leaflet with its music lists, parish notes and Rector's Message goes on vacation until September. There are a few changes in services which you will note on the summer schedule, made necessary by clergy vacations. We of St. Mark's endeavor to keep the same quality of corporate worship throughout the whole year. During July our fine mixed choir will sing at High Mass. Each weekday there will be the complete cycle of Prayer Book services—Matins, Mass, and Evening Prayer, with Angelus and Prayers at noon. I know I can count on the faithfulness of St. Mark's people and that they will be present at the Lord's Service each Sunday whether they are in town or on holiday.

We of the parish family extend our good wishes to Father Kintzing and Miss Troit as their marriage is solemnized before the Altar tomorrow morning. As many of us as possible will want to be with them as they exchange their vows, as the Eucharist is offered and as they receive God's Grace in the Church's Blessing. May the joy and blessing of the day be theirs always.

Looking back on this second year as your Rector, I find much for which I am grateful. The increase in interest and church attendance seems indicative of real spiritual growth. St. Mark's is on the way to the fulfillment of its mission in this city. Great changes have taken place in our community and in the parish life even within the past twenty-five years. Yet we have the same mission to our present community as the founders of the parish intended for those who lived in this area a hundred years ago. Conditions change, points of view change, faces change, yet St. Mark's has the same Catholic Faith to teach and Life to offer.

As a church in the center of a large city, we should expand our work among those who live or work here. Beginning in October we plan to have noonday services on four days of each week. Following the Angelus and Intercessions at 12 noon, on Tuesdays we shall have a Mass, on Wednesdays a special preacher, on Thursdays an organ recital, and on Friday again a Mass. These will conclude at 12.30 allowing lunch time to those returning to their offices. We hope that members of the parish and people in the neighborhood will find these services helpful as well. In the autumn we shall begin our courses and classes for adults. The plan calls for two each week during most of the year.

Although this has been a successful year, it has also been a hard year, with a number of trying situations testing our parish family life. I believe that many of you have found the Divine Grace needed to look beyond these problems to the things of the Spirit which really matter. May it be said to us that in these days we have been tried and not found wanting.

My wishes go out to each member of the parish for a restful, happy summer. May our prayers for the parish and for each other continue day by day.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

THIS IS THE FINAL WEEKLY LEAFLET UNTIL SEPTEMBER

The Rector's Message

Among my books for vacation reading was a copy of the report from the Church's Commission on Liturgics, No. 4 in Prayer Book Studies, "The Eucharistic Liturgy." This book first presents a clear history of the development of the Liturgy from its Institution by our Lord, with its Jewish background, through the reformed English liturgies, down to our own day. The second half of the book gives the findings of the Commission on needed liturgical revision and enrichment, concluding with a proposed Liturgy for the American Church. Priests and people in parishes like St. Mark's, which have always put the Eucharist first in worship and have also restored traditional ceremonial and music to its proper place, should be grateful for this report. There are a few points in the suggested ritual which could profitably be reconsidered, but in the days ahead, before any actual revision of the Mass is attempted, the Church can give thoughtful study to these points and all other matters in this basically superb rite.

The whole tenor of the report emphasizes the fact that from the beginning the Eucharist has been the Church's central Service because it is the Lord's Service. Protestant influences at the Reformation may have had good intentions when they set about to "purify" the Mass of Roman accretions. Unfortunately, the result was a marked distortion of Apostolic Faith, the minimizing of the element of Sacrifice, and the attempt to make the Service merely a Communion office. So it was that the Liturgy came to the American Church burdened with the scars of battle, depleted, but, thank God, not heretical. The Episcopal Church inherited a sound though simple rite, but, on the debit side, it inherited a tradition of weakened Faith—a Faith which had cast out the Lord's Service for the Lord's Day, and had put a non-sacramental office in its place. The recent Commission report reveals the error of this change. One can see in all this why Anglicanism has bcome weak. It has been spiritually starved. I believe that the replacing of the Eucharist by Morning Prayer in the majority of parishes for hundreds of years has brought about the present spiritual condition of the Episcopal Church. We are paying for our sins of omission.

It is not always easy to get to Mass while one is on vacation. Almost every parish caters to the Episcopal "trade" with Morning Prayer as the main service. We are grateful for an "early service." How typical of the Episcopal Church is my recent experience of driving 35 miles to a prosperous small city parish for the "early," achieving entrance through a side door and finding myself one of 15 people at the only Lord's Service for that day. Perhaps all those in the vicinity are Congregationalists or Romans—no, the hills were full of Episcopalians—including vestrymen of prominent parishes and even clergy on holiday. In all fairness some may have come later to "the" service of Morning Prayer (when the front doors would be opened), honestly believing that they are being loyal to the worship of the church.

With this loss of Eucharistic emphasis one may well ask if there is much hope for the Episcopal Church. The answer is not clear, but if one will only read "The Eucharistic Liturgy," a product of this same Episcopal Church, he will have a firmer resolve to be more faithful himself to the trust of Faith committed to us, and to work and pray with new hope for the day when all the Lord's People will gather at His Table every Lord's Day.

NOTES

DAILY SERVICES—The fall schedule of daily services will begin this week, as noted on the front page.

THE PARISH SUNDAY SCHOOL opens for registration today for all age groups. One of the most vital concerns of St. Mark's, the school meets in two sessions: at 9.45 classes for young people and for upper grades of public school; at 11.00 nursery and primary classes. We trust that all parents and relatives of children in the parish will see to it that their children are faithfully present for the well-rounded classes planned for this year.

THE YOUNG PEOPLES' FELLOWSHIP will hold its initial meeting in the parish hall this evening at 7.30. Plans for the coming year will be outlined, and all teen-agers are welcomed and needed.

NOON DAY SERVICES begin October 6th. We are beginning a new venture in year round services from 12.10 to 12.30 each week from October through May. There will be a mass each Tuesday and Friday at 12.10. On Wednesdays there will be a guest preacher. The Rev. Wilfred F. Penny, Rector of St. Ignatius' Church, New York City, will be the preacher for the Wednesdays in October. We hope the members of the congregation will find it possible to attend these services and that they will tell their friends who work or visit in the city about them. On Thursdays there will be an organ recital with the schedule of guest recitalists. Your help is needed to get our noon day program under way and especially to make a good beginning in October.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY—The first fall meeting of the Afternoon Auxiliary will be on Thursday, October 1st, at 2 P. M., in the parish library. Father Paige will address the meeting. Communion with intention for the work of the Auxiliary may be made at any Mass on September 27th.

CATHOLIC LAYMEN'S UNION meeting: Tuesday, September 29, at St. Timothy's Church, Roxborough. Address by the Rev. Philip T. Fifer, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Phoenixville.

The Rector's Message

The American Church Union stands for those things which are close to the people of St. Mark's. It is a union of parishes and individuals existing for the sole purpose of forwarding the work of evangelism and defending the Catholic Faith in the Episcopal Church. Too few people in the parish are members of the ACU, and on the occasion of a "Double the Membership" Drive this October I want to urge the members of the congregation to consider the importance of ACU membership. Are there not 25 persons who will join now? Membership blanks are found at the porch, and I shall be glad to see that the blanks and dues reach the ACU office in New York. Please act upon this today and help St. Mark's to share in the support of this work.

Our parish also has pledged $52 for the ACU for 1953. As of the moment only $16 has been contributed towards this. I should like to complete our pledge in the near future.

On Thursday St. Mark's observes the American Church Union Cycle of Prayer. At both masses that day the intention will be for the Conversion of America to Christ, the Holy Catholic Church, the Unity of the Church, and the work of the ACU. At services and in your private prayers, will you join with us in these "Station Day" devotions?

In liturgical worship the participation of the members of the congregation is of the utmost importance. In reply to requests about various parts of the service, the following points may assist us in our corporate worship.

When the Creed, Lord's Prayer and Gloria in Excelsis are said, it is customary for the celebrant to say the opening words as he does in a sung Mass.

Both the Benedictus and the Agnus Dei are said in full with the celebrant.

At a said mass the congregation stands until the bread and wine have been presented, kneeling as the priest begins the lavabo.

In communicating from the Chalice, communicants are asked to guide its base with one hand. For the sake of reverence it is necessary that this matter be stressed.

At the 8 o'clock mass on Sundays it would be more appropriate if communicants did not form long waiting lines to approach the altar.

At Solemn Mass on Sundays, and at 12.10 weekdays, communion is available to those prepared and fasting, and who have given due notice to the celebrant.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

THE FLOWERS on the Altar today are given in loving memory of Mrs. Jane G. Randolph-White by her sister, Mrs. Kenneth M. Blakiston.

THE COFFEE HOUR, following Solemn Mass today, is a good opportunity to meet friends old and new. New members of the congregation and visitors are urged to join us to meet the clergy and to get acquainted.

EVENSONG AND DEVOTIONS are resumed at 4 o'clock this afternoon. St. Mark's is almost alone in offering this Prayer Book Service with choir and traditional ceremonial. Although there was a marked increase in attendance during the past year, there may be others who may care to share in this great act of worship.

NOON DAY SERVICES BEGIN THIS WEEK: Following Angelus and Intercessions at 12 noon a twenty minute Service will be held beginning at 12.10, according to the following schedule:

Tuesday—Mass.
Wednesday—Guest Preacher. Rev. Wilfred F. Penny, Rector of St. Ignatius' Church, New York City.
Thursday—Organ Recital. Mr. Charles Romero.
Friday—Mass.

It would mean much to the success of our venture if the members of the congregation would especially assume responsibility of attending the preaching service this Wednesday and bring others with them. A good beginning will mean much to the future of this part of our parish program.

THE DIOCESAN ALTAR GUILD — Annual Evening of Prayer and Meditation, Wednesday, October 7th, at St. Clement's Church, 20th and Cherry Sts. Our Rector, Father Paige, will give the meditations. First meditation at 5.30. Box supper. Second Meditation at 7.15 and third Meditation at 8.30. Send acceptance to Mrs. Katherine King, 202 W. Rittenhouse Square by October 5. It is hoped all members of St. Mark's Altar Guild and other interested members will attend.

THE USHERS' GUILD is carrying on its work during the coming year with Mr. Anthony W. Ridgway as Chairman. At its meeting last Sunday the schedule and plans for the coming year were prepared.

FALL CLASS FOR ADULTS—Monday Evenings, beginning October 12th. "Christian Doctrine"—Fr. Kintzing.

Wednesday Evenings, Beginning October 14th. Inquirers' Class. "Learning About the Faith" Fr. Paige.

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL CHOIR OF LONDON will be presented at the Academy of Music at 8.30 P. M. Wednesday, October 7th. Many members of the congregation will wish to take advantage of this opportunity to hear one of the great choirs of the Anglican Communion. Tickets, from $1.00 to $4.00, are available at the Academy of Music box office.

The Fellowship of Prayer

One of the most worthwhile things that we do as a corporate family is our continual intercession and thanksgiving before Christ's Altar Throne. In recent years, the work of our parochial prayer group has been carried on by a faithful few, but at a recent meeting it was enthusiastically decided that the work is so vital and so rewarding that everyone who believes in the power of prayer ought to share in it. It was also decided to make several changes in the way we carry out this holy trust, and those are listed here with the sincere hope that many other souls will assist in the task.

First, meetings of the Fellowship will be held only once a month, on the third Thursday, at 8.00 P. M. in the library. Part of the meeting will be given over to instruction in prayer and to revision of intercession lists. Most of the meeting will be devoted to corporate prayer "around the table". The meeting will be limited to one hour's duration.

Secondly, the intercession list will be kept permanently on the litany desk at the head of the nave of the church, and will be kept daily up to date by the chaplain. Members may revise their lists frequently from this.

Thirdly, a member of the Fellowship will be at mass each day, and will pray for all those in need. Thus our prayer will be continual before the Throne of Grace.

Fourthly, the corrected list will be mimeographed and sent to all members each month by a committee of the Fellowship. Annual dues to help defray expenses are one dollar. Additional lists will be kept for distribution to others who care to aid through their prayers.

Fifthly, a permanent chairman of the Fellowship is needed, to preside at meetings, to coordinate the work, to assist the chaplain. Mr. James Gordy, a member of the parish vestry, has accepted this responsibity.

This coming Thursday evening will be the first meeting, and the Fellowship hopes that many parishioners will be present. So much genuine good comes from corporate prayer, so much enrichment of our private devotion, and so great a deepening of our religious experience as a parish family that no one ought lightly to pass by this invitation. Some one beloved to you may stand in need of your intercession this very day . . . or, what is even better, someone you perhaps will never know. We belong to Him to share with Him the redemption of all creation. His great Task is ours, and ours is His. And great is the happiness thereof.

PAUL C. KINTZING, JR.

N. B.—For those who find it more convenient to stay in town until the meeting, a roast beef supper will be served in the parish hall at 6.15. Cost $1.25. Reservations by card or telephone to parish office before Tuesday night, please.

The Rector's Message

It is always a joy to have friends of the parish and visitors at our services. We extend a welcome to all who would join with us as we lift our prayers and praises to Almighty God day by day. We hope that those visiting us for a Sunday or two will come to the Coffee Hour after the 11 o'clock mass, and will worship with us whenever they come to Philadelphia.

I am especially interested in those who are frequently in the congregation and are not yet members of this parish. If they are making their homes in Philadelphia or vicinity, and if they would like to share more closely in the life of the parish, it would be appropriate to transfer their communicant membership from a former parish to St. Mark's. Each of us should take his responsibility in Church life, and this can always be done best by being an active member wherever you attend church at the time. Keeping ones name on a parish list where you no longer live for sentimental reasons serves no constructive purpose. I urge all members of our congregation who are happy in our life here and who have never transferred to St. Mark's to make arrangements with me to do so. We need your presence, your prayers and your support.

Some in our congregation have never been confirmed and are not communicants of the Episcopal Church. We are always happy to have you with us at any services. Your interest in the Church and the life of St. Mark's may grow, and you will find the clergy anxious to assist you in your consideration of full membership in the Church. A class for "inquirers" is being held on Wednesday evenings at which interested people would find great help. We want you to know, however, that if you are unable to attend such classes, personal conferences with Father Kintzing or myself can be arranged.

Centered as we are in the midst of a large city with a shifting population, the congregation of St. Mark's will always have a changing membership. The stability of our parish membership is found in a common love of our Lord and the sacramental life. A parish is really a worshipping fellowship and not a list of names in a book. We must, however, give our loyalty and devotion to one parish so that we can assume proper responsibility as practicing Churchmen. For that reason I am concerned about developing a parish communicant membership of all those who find a real spiritual home at St. Mark's. Taking your full share in our parish family will strengthen Christ's work here on Locust Street and will also help you fulfil your own vocation as a Christian and a Churchman.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

Regardless of unfounded rumors about St. Mark's wealth, we have need of many things essential to the effective running of the parish—and there are no funds to pay for them. Some day we must meet such larger needs as a proper heating plant, $4500 for necessary work on the string section of the organ given by Rodman Wanamaker in 1922, and the renovation of the parish house. There are, however, smaller needs for which I must appeal. For the work of the parish we must find funds to carry on the Coffee Hour, equip the kitchen, and make the parish house presentable. The following needs merit your immediate response:

To carry on the Sunday Coffee Hour until June 1st $150.00

To supply essential kitchen equipment 200.00
(We have 50 cups to serve 100 people at Coffee Hour.)

To replace the present parish house curtains—now hanging in dismal ribbons 75 00

We could have "money-making projects" to earn this. I have a feeling that St. Mark's people would rather meet these needs in another way.

The congregation of our parish is made up of people with modest incomes, and, without the resources of wealthy persons to rely upon, we must each of us share in the responsibility of adequately maintaining this great parish.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

"When do the members of St. Mark's receive Holy Communion?" asked one of the friends of our parish who frequently attends the Solemn Mass on Sundays at eleven. Acquainted with the present prevailing custom in many Episcopal churches where everyone receives at the late service on the first Sunday of the month, our friend thought that with only three or four persons going to the altar rail here, the people of St. Mark's had reverted to the mediaeval practice of infrequent communions. The question was partially answered by my telling him that an average of 100 persons make their communions each Sunday morning at either eight or nine o'clock, and that about 90 communions are made at the masses between Sundays. As to the small number coming to receive at the eleven o'clock Solemn Mass, I explained that we held a sound tradition in regard to what is required of those who come to receive the Blessed Sacrament. First, in good Anglican tradition, one must be confirmed and a communicant in good standing in the Church. Secondly, a communicant should be prepared, having examined himself and confessed his sins to God. And thirdly, one receives the Holy Communion as the first food of the day. This is a devotional fast, a long standing Christian practice, and one appreciated more and more by those who come to know the Real Presence of our Lord in the Eucharist. Communicants at the late masses have presumably fulfilled these requirements and have so informed the celebrant who gladly administers the Sacrament to them during the singing of the Agnus Dei.

I must admit that there are a number of our members who do not come to communion with any frequency or regularity. As one who looks forward each day to the Gift which our Lord has waiting for us at His Table, I find it difficult to appreciate the failure of some churchmen to accept that Gift at least monthly. But there is one point on which I feel certain. One cannot be begged to come—nor should he be. Only as the individual member of the Church comes to know the love and grace of our Lord Jesus Christ in His Eucharistic Presence will he be desirous and ready to receive Him at the altar.

Many communicants may find it helpful to receive Holy Communion at the late masses in the days to come, upholding the standard which was mentioned above. Each mass is a communion service as well as an offering of the Holy Sacrifice.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

✠

The Noon Day Preacher for December will be the Rev. Charles E. Finch, Instructor in New Testament and Theology at the Philadelphia Divinity School. In the observance of Advent the members of the congregation and friends of the parish will find the noon day services, and especially the Advent preaching by Fr. Finch, most helpful. We ask your prayers and assistance in building up the noon day program.

Christmas Plans—We will inaugurate a new schedule of Christmas Services this year. Considering the requests of many of our people, we shall for the first time have a Solemn Mass with communions on Christmas Eve, at midnight. We are able to do this as we now have the fine services of the Canterbury Choir.

On Christmas Day at 11.00 A. M. the Service will be as in former years, Solemn Mass, procession and sermon, with music by the Choir of Men and Boys.

The Cub Pack, sponsored by the Center City Residents Assn. needs a cub master. There may be some man in the parish who is interested in boys who could give five evenings a month to this community project. The Rector would be glad to hear from any man who feels he could assume this responsibility.

Every Member Canvass—Have you returned your 1954 pledge? If not will you please do so this week.

Advent Quiet Day, Tuesday, December 15th, at St. Margaret's House, starting at 8.30 A. M. and closing at 3.15 P. M. Conductor: Rev. K. Anthony.

Quiet Evening in Preparation for Christmas, Saturday, December 19th, at St. Margaret's House, from 4.30 to 9.30 P. M. Conductor: Rev. Walter E. Frieman.

A Word about Missions

The response which the people of St. Mark's have made to missionary giving these past two years has been heartening. Through the "red" side of the envelope, yearly pledges for missions and the three missionary Sundays, we have met the amounts which we accepted in our budget. Our accepted quota for 1953 is $7,000 and to date we have paid $6,201.50. The balance of $798.50 must be secured during December. I hope those who give through envelopes will complete their pledge by the end of the month, and that others who have not given to the missionary work of the Church will find it possible to make an offering.

The Catholic conception of the Church sets forth the belief that Christ and His Church are for all men everywhere. The Gospel must be preached and the Ministry of Grace made available to people in our city, in the diocese, throughout America and in all the world. A Catholic Anglican is always interested in missions. Parishes like St. Mark's should be in the forefront of every evangelistic effort. In planning your Christian giving for 1954, make certain that there is a pledge for missions as well as the usual support of the parish work. In so doing you fulfil one important part of your loyalty to the Divine Commission to "Go—teach—and baptize."

Rector's Message

The Christmas Communion is a joyous event for every Churchman. A reminder that Christmas is a day of obligation is not necessary for those who look forward with anticipation to the receiving of our Blessed Lord in the Holy Eucharist on the great festivals of the Christian Year. We must not forget our preparation for our communions, nor must we put off until the last moment the examination of our lives and confession of sins. Many of us already know the blessings of the Sacrament of Penance and the grace of Absolution. There are other communicants who have not yet accepted the Church's help in Sacramental Confession. They would find the simplicity and directness of the confessional of tremendous value in fulfilling the duty of preparation for Holy Communion. Please note the added hours when your clergy will be in the church. We would be glad to hear confessions by appointment for those for whom these hours are not convenient.

I arranged the Christmas Midnight Mass only after careful consideration of the problems of communicants observing a proper fast. It is our only wish that this service be a normal Eucharist with communions. There will be no attempt to make it a special service with elaborate music, or other devises, to attract a large crowd. We expect that all those who make their communions at this mass will keep the pre-communion fast from the evening meal, and will observe the hours until midnight free from parties and distracting activities. I know that I shall have the cooperation of all the members and friends of the parish in this first Midnight Mass in our parish.

There is no better intention at the offering of the Christmas Eucharist than peace. We must again and again bring our troubled and divided world before God. Only as we bring all men and women to oneness in Christ will there be peace among peoples and nations. Praying for peace is really praying for the extension of Christ's Kingdom. Praying for missions is praying for peace. In our Eucharistic intention for peace there should also be our prayer for peace in the parish family. Here again there can only be true peace as we are one in our Lord. The proud pursuer of selfish ends in the Christian Fellowship is an enemy of peace. Lastly, we can offer our Christmas Eucharist for peace within our own selves. True contrition and freedom from sins helps to establish the conditions for peace within the soul. Each one of us can find peace if we are one with Christ.

In Holy Communion, our Blessed Lord dwells in us and we in Him. In this Holy Sacrament, after careful preparation and with a directed prayer of intention, we receive the power for peace within ourselves, in the Christian Family, and in our world. May your Christmas Communions bring you such peace — and hence such joy.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

Christmas, 1953 — The Rector, for himself and for the members of the parish, wishes to thank all those who made it possible for us to have such a wonderful Christmas at St. Mark's. We are especially grateful to Mr. Day, the Choirmaster, and the members of his two choirs; to Sister Darthea and all those who assisted her in the preparation of the vestments, the Altar and the flowers, and the Warden and members of the Acolytes who made it possible to have three services of great liturgical beauty. Our thanks also to the many persons who supplied the flowers for the Christmas Altars.

Our Midnight Mass more than fulfilled our expectations. There was a large congregation which reflected our devotional intention for this service, and the clergy wish to express their appreciation to those attending who made this possible.

The Clergy and Staff of St. Mark's extend to all members and friends of the parish their wishes for a Happy New Year.

Epiphany—Our special Epiphany observance will follow the recently inaugurated custom of a Solemn Mass at 7 o'clock, with our fine Canterbury Choir. Members of the congregation, the choir and acolytes, are all urged to share in the buffet breakfast in the parish hall right after the service.

Our January Noon Day Preacher will be the Rev. Dr. E. Frank Salmon, our friend and former neighbor. We are grateful that Dr. Salmon has consented to be with us these four Wednesdays and I am sure that the members of the congregation and many people of our community will take advantage of this privilege.

Annual Awards are made today at 11 A. M. to the members of the Boy Choir as follows:

Christie Memorial Cross—William Gearhart
Elizabeth Nixon Cooke Cross—Richard Orr
Caroline B. Cooke Cross—Frank Roach

Sister Darthea, S. S. M. will conduct a course of six lessons, "Studies in the Life of our Lord" beginning on Monday, January 11, at 2 P. M. in the parish parlor. Sister will be glad to welcome you and your friends.

Rummage Sale in February—Please give us your rummage, old or new. Please bring to the parish house or call PE 5-1416, or Miss Virginia Cramp, LO 7-4894, and we will pick it up.

Catholic Laymen's Union Meeting at St. Clement's Church, Tuesday, January 5, 8 P. M. Speaker: Rev. William H. Dunphy, Rector of Christ Church, Ridley Park.

NOTES

The Flowers on the Altar today are given in loving memory of Louis L. and Arlene Gregg by their son Richard T. Gregg.

The Plan of the Winter and Spring Schedule of classes is now complete.

January & February—Mondays at 2 P. M.—"Life of Our Lord"—Sr. Darthea
Wednesdays at 8 P. M.—Inquirers' Class—Fr. Paige
Lent—Wed'days at 8 P. M.—The Prayer Book—Fr. Kintzing
Mondays at 8 P. M.—Studies in the Old Testament —Fr. Paige
Post Easter—Mondays at 8 P. M.—Christian Symbolism—Sr. Darthea
(The showing of St. Mark's treasures and vestments to illustrate)
Wednesdays at 8 P. M.—Special Spring Confirmation Class for adults—Fr. Kintzing.

Warning—Last Sunday someone came to a service to steal rather than worship. It seems best to remind people that in a city parish women particularly should not leave their handbags while they go to the Altar rail. If every one would be responsible for his or her own possessions, I think we might solve this unpleasant problem.

Sunday Morning Bible Class—Beginning next Sunday, January 17th, at 9.45, an informal and informative class will be meeting in the Parish Library. Over coffee and doughnuts a thorough and unhurried study will be begun of St. Luke's Gospel. Go to the 9 o'clock Mass, bring your Bible, and plan to join in the discussion, led by Fr. Kintzing. Wanted: men, women, boys and girls!

Our Christmas Offering, which is used to pay the Pension Premium of the clergy, was $1,028.80. We are grateful for this splendid increase.

✠

Tomorrow we begin the Annual Week of Prayer for the unity of all Christians. The following intentions at the daily masses could also serve as subjects for your prayers during this Octave.

January 18—The Unity of the Holy Catholic Church: Penitence for our divisions.
January 19—The sanctification of Roman Catholics.
January 20—The sanctification of the Protestants.
January 21—Guidance upon World Councils and Conferences for Christian Unity.
January 22—The sanctification of the Eastern Orthodox.
January 23—The sanctification of the Jews.
January 24—Unity in our own parish: Sanctification of Christian laity.
January 25—The sanctification and unity of all mankind in the love and truth of God.

Sunday Morning Bible Class—Beginning this morning at 9.45, an informal and informative class will be meeting in the Parish Library. Over coffee and doughnuts a thorough and unhurried study will be begun of St. Luke's Gospel. Come to the 9 o'clock Mass, bring your Bible, and plan to join in the discussion, led by Fr. Kintzing. Wanted: men, women, boys and girls!

Holy Communion Is Available at 11 o'clock on Sunday and 12.10 weekdays. We only ask that those who come to receive be confirmed members of the Church, prepared by self-examination, confession of sins, and fasting. It will be a great help if requests to receive at these services be made to the clergy or one of the ushers at least five minutes before the service. A mass with communions is always the normal Service, and it is hoped that this ideal may be restored in our parish while still maintaining the traditional standard of preparation on the part of communicants.

Theological Education Sunday will be observed throughout the Church next Sunday, January 24. An opportunity to make an offering for the support of the Philadelphia Divinity School and the General Theological Seminary will be given at that time. Special envelopes will be found in the boxes and in the pews next week.

Quiet Day for Business and Professional Women at St. Margaret's House, Saturday, January 30, starting at 8 30 and closing at 3.15 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Charles E. Finch. Please register early.

Rummage Sale in February—Please give us your rummage, old or new. Please bring to the parish house or call PE 5-1416, or Miss Virginia Cramp, LO 7-4894, and we will pick it up.

✠

Theological Education Sunday is being observed throughout the Church today. The members of the Church are given an opportunity to make an offering for the support of the Philadelphia Divinity School and the General Theological Seminary. We should also include in our prayers the men in Church Seminaries who are preparing for the priesthood. We of St. Mark's remember particularly Mr. Robert Hollett and Mr. Donald Shields, who serve on the staff. Envelopes and interesting literature about the Seminaries will be found in the pews and at the entrance of the Church.

The Candlemas Ceremonies this year, the traditional blessing of candles and procession, will precede the mass on the Feast of the Purification itself. We ask you to plan for this Service on Tuesday, February 2, at 7 A. M. The Canterbury Choir will sing at this Solemn Service and the congregation is invited to the usual buffet breakfast following the mass.

Woman's Auxiliary Meeting Thursday, February 4, at 2 P. M., in the library. The Speaker will be Miss Blanche Nicola, on the work of St. Martha's Settlement House. Communion with intention for the work of the Auxiliary may be made at any Mass on Sunday, January 31st.

Two Baritones or Basses are needed for the Canterbury Choir, which is now rehearsing music for the Feast of the Purification, for Tenebrae in Holy Week, for the Mass of the Pre-Sanctified, and for the Easter Vigil Liturgy. If you would like to sing with this volunteer adult choir, please speak to Mr. Day. Other singers are always welcome, of course, but more basses are especially needed.

Catholic Laymen's Union Meeting here at St. Mark's Tuesday, February 2, at 8 P. M. Speaker: Rev. Charles E. Finch. Subject: What is the Bible. The men of St. Mark's are hosts on this occasion and should be well represented at this meeting.

Woman's Aid to Convocation of S. Phila. Tuesday, January 26, at Church of St. Luke & Epiphany, starting 10.45 A. M. Box lunch. Study of "That the World May Know" presented by Mrs. Haushalter.

Rummage Sale—There will be a Committee Meeting on Wednesday, January 27, at 8 P. M., in the parish house, to make final plans for the rummage sale. The sale will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, February 24th and 25th.

Quiet Day for Business and Professional Women at St. Margaret's House, Saturday, January 30, starting at 8.30 and closing at 3.15 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Charles E. Finch.

The Rector's Message

One of the signs of spiritual growth in the Church is the increasing understanding of Christianity as something more than a Sunday religion. We are Christians seven days a week, and twenty-four hours each day. This concerns the way we live at home, with others and the ethics of our business and place in the community. Accepting this truth, we should remind ourselves that man has no power of himself to help himself. He cannot live his religion as he should in the daily round without grace. God knows our needs, and He gives us means of grace in prayer and sacrament.

Since we need grace day by day to live as members of Christ, we must rely on daily prayer and the frequent use of the sacraments. It is for this reason that the means of grace are available at your parish church, in the Eucharist celebrated daily, and through the readiness of your priests to administer Unction and the Sacrament of Penance upon call.

The daily Masses and the Prayer Book offices twice each day are the breath of life in the parish family. These are offered because we believe they are the functions of normal parish life, but also in a real sense they are to meet the needs of the people. They are your services. The Masses, of which there are two or three each day, are opportunities for you to bring your prayers and intentions, your intercessions and commemorations for yourselves and your loved ones before God. They are for the receiving of the Bread of Life, for strength and direction as you face the day or meet some new problem.

The Sunday-at-eleven churchman shares in a beautiful service offered to Almighty God, but unless he uses the sacraments, he will find himself drying up spiritually from the lack of grace. Those who follow a simple rule of life, especially in regard to daily prayer and weekly communion, with confession at intervals, are not only accepting the Church's way to God, but are finding the grace to do one's job, raise a family and live as becomes a child of God.

I urge each one of you to make full use of the daily services. Select for yourself a regular morning and come to share in offering the Holy Sacrifice and to receive Holy Communion. The services and the sacraments are God's Gift to you and me. The daily masses may be beyond the Christian's minimum obligation, but they are the appointed ways of our living the Christian Life to a fuller measure.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

Septuagesima, Sexagesima and Quinquagesima are the three Sundays that—

> . . . . will prepare
> For the time of fast and prayer,
> That with hearts made penitent,
> We may keep a faithful Lent.

In the liturgy the Church appropriately emphasizes this change of tune by omitting the Gloria in Excelsis on Sundays until Easter, with the exception of Maundy Thursday and certain Saints' Days during the week. Also in Morning Prayer the Te Deum is replaced by another Canticle. In the Propers a Tract replaces the Alleluia between the Epistle and Gospel. Purple becomes the Sunday color, except for the traditional use of rose on the Fourth Sunday in Lent. The deacon and sub deacon are vested in dalmatic and tunicle for the pre-Lent Sundays, but wear only albs during Lent.

Annual Institute of Department of Christian Social Relations will be held at the Youth Study Center, 20th and Parkway, Tuesday, February 16. 4 P. M.—Opening of Meeting. 6 P. M.—Dinner. 7.15 P. M.—Evening Meeting. Topic—Juvenile Delinquency. The Rector will be pleased to hear of any one attending these important meetings.

Rummage Sale—February 24 and 25. Bring your rummage to the parish house or some one will collect it if you call Miss Virginia Cramp, Lo 7-4894 or the office, Pe 5-1416. Although the women of the parish sponsor this project, it actually involves all interested people in the parish. The proceeds of the sale in 1952 enabled us to refinish all the pews in the Church. Last year's sale made it possible for us to place book racks on the pews and acquire some tables and chairs for the parish house. It is our hope with the proceeds of the coming sale to equip the Church with new kneelers, which all agree are sorely needed. This is an expensive project. We could concentrate on the center section if our funds limit us to that number, but we prefer to equip the entire Church at one time. We ask your interest. We need your help.

There will be a meeting to discuss final plans on Wednesday, February 17th, at 8 o'clock, in the parish house.

The Rector's Message

The other day one of the bishops of our Church described himself as a middle-of-the-road churchman. This is not a new term. Anglicans have been lauding the middle of the road as the safest place for over 300 years. In the horse and buggy days the middle of the road might not have been a dangerous place, but today our new infernal machine, the automobile, makes it imperative that we keep entirely off the road. Actually any churchman, even a bishop, should think twice before he stands still in the middle of the road. Better to get into a trustworthy vehicle, keep to the right side, maintain a sane pace, and proceed purposefully to the destination.

I suspect that any episcopal middle-of-the-roader would clarify his analogy by saying that he really wants to touch both sides. This position can only be described as a straddle. Have you ever tried to straddle a fence, a ravine or a path —to say nothing about a road? It's uncomfortable, and certainly gets you nowhere. Eventually you either collapse or turn to one side or the other.

One is certain to be reminded that the Episcopal Church is a "bridge" Church. But most bridges that I know are means of getting from one place to another. A bridge may be in the unenviable position of straddling something all its life, but all people, except those who pause to view the scenery, or seek to end it all, are traveling to reach the other end.

All these bridge and middle-of-the-road theories are sincere, periodic attempts to prove that the Episcopal Church is both Catholic and Protestant. If it were merely a matter of words, it could be said that Protestant merely means "non-Roman". Yet it is hardly correct to use the word in its 16th century context today. In most instances a Protestant is one who does not believe in the Catholic doctrine of the Ministry; who seldom holds that there is spiritual regeneration in Holy Baptism, and rarely follows the Catholic doctrine of the Eucharist found in the Prayer Book. Protestants dislike Apostolic Succession and repudiate any sacerdotal function in the priesthood. This is not intended as any disparagement of Protestants for their beliefs. It is simply to say that today the Catholic and Protestant expressions of Christianity are still far apart. The Catholic Faith of the Prayer Book just does not mix with most of the beliefs which have now come to be called Protestant.

Frankly it must be a difficult straddle for Anglicans, with one foot on the Doctrine of the Apostolic Ministry in the Preface to the Ordinal, and the other on belief in Joint Ordinations; with one on the Sacramental Life found in historic continuity in the Prayer Book, and the other on the acceptance of the sacraments, of all bodies as valid in the same way.

The Episcopalian straddle has prompted many a seeker to observe—"I know what your Church teaches officially because I can read the Prayer Book, but just what does it really believe?"

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

Woman's Auxiliary Meeting Thursday, March 4th, at 2 P. M., in the library. The Speaker will be Miss Eleanor Deane, on the work among the foreign born. Communion with intention for the work of the Auxiliary may be made at any Mass on Sunday, February 28th.

The Boy Choir of St. Mark's has accepted an invitation to sing in the Grand Court of Wanamaker's on Wednesday, March 17th, at 8.45 P. M. Our parishioners will not only be pleased with the news of this honor, but aware that this will be another way in which our church may bear witness. Providing music for church services is only a part of a choir's work. It represents you wherever and whenever it appears. Your help is needed in maintaining personnel, especially in recruiting new boys. Any boy between the ages of 8 and 11 is eligible. If, even indirectly, you might interest more boys in our choir, please speak to Mr. Day. He will be happy to give you more details about membership.

Lenten Mite Boxes are being distributed to all young people in the parish, and as many members of the congregation have used these in years past, a supply has been placed at the door of the Church. These boxes are returned at the end of Lent, and will be presented at the Altar on Easter Day. Enrich your own Lent by making a bit more possible the evangelization of the whole world.

Rummage Sale—Wednesday and Thursday of this week, February 24 and 25, from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M., at the northwest corner of Juniper and Walnut Streets (Witherspoon Building). The proceeds of the sale will be used to equip the Church with new kneelers. Please give this project your support by bringing everything suitable for such a sale to the Parish House and attending the sale.

The Rector's Message

The chief work of the pastor is to bring the knowledge and grace of God to his people, and, in turn, to lead them to life with God here and in eternity. There are not many ways by which he can measure his success. Spiritual growth cannot be measured by statistics, and there are few things as deceptive as size, numbers and material assets. As it is God Who gives us grace, and God Who calls men to Himself, so the secrets of men's souls are His to know as well.

One of the pastor's duties is to be a watchman on the housetop, reminding those under his care of the signs of the times, of threatening dangers and the need to put on the whole armour of God. The Church knows human nature and its weaknesses better than we sometimes imagine, and so her spokesmen are charged with the responsibility of recalling her members to a period of personal evaluation of eternal things. An inventory takes time; a personal stock-taking requires a period of willing and intensive God-centered living.

The pastor sends forth the call for Christian folk to set apart a few weeks devoted especially to prayer, sacrament, fasting and selfless living. In the course of our lives we let things get out of balance. We get careless. We are sloppy about our prayers. We become satisfied with doing just the minimum requirements of the Christian life. "Come now, you children of God — members of Christ; you can do better than this. Lukewarm devotion and lip-service prayers can hardly be the measure of spiritual growth for those signed with the Cross. How about forty days of personal reconsecration? How about thawing out these hearts of yours, stirring up careless wills and redirecting those wandering affections? How about making God and your life with Him in eternity the first order of business for just a few days? How about looking at God? How about looking at yourself?"

So we come to the forty days of personal reconsecration in the fellowship of Christ. The Church calls this Lent. The Church knows our needs—that we are spiritually hungry and have grown spiritually cold.

The pastor-watchman sounds the call to his people, and knowing his own need, joins with them in the age-old period of spiritual discipline. The faithful will heed the call, make a plan (Rule) for Lenten self-discipline, and enter with spiritual purpose into the glory of these forty days.

May God find you, and may you respond to Him this Holy Lent.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

St. Mark's Annual Rummage Sale was a great success and the Committee wishes to thank those whose hard work contributed so greatly to this effort. Almost every organization had its quota of workers assisting: the Acolytes and Young People collected the rummage; the Women's Auxiliaries sold it; the House Committee solicited articles; the Ushers assisted with the selling; The Vestry sent articles and donations. The entire parish gave many, many boxes of rummage and new articles. Altogether this united effort was well worthwhile. Next week the Committee will report on the financial situation but at this time contributions are still coming in.

The Rector's Message

The late Bishop Booth of Vermont, who ordained me, often expressed his deep concern over the lack of standards among members of our Communion as to the Sacramental Life. For statistical purposes he said it was advisable to hold that a communicant in good standing is one who has received Holy Communion at least once a year. There is ancient precedent for this "Easter duty." But Bishop Booth wondered how much of a means of grace this sacrament could actually be for the yearly or casual communicant. Any worthy standard as to the use of Holy Communion should be based on devotion to our Lord, obedience to His command to "Do this" and the belief that we need the spiritual strength bestowed in the Eucharist.

During Lent sincere churchmen give thought to the practice of their religion, especially as to the use they make of the sacraments. Guided by spiritual leaders and our Prayer Book, we come to the fresh realization that Holy Communion should be received frequently and with regularity, after careful preparation and confession of sins, and with thankfulness and resolution. How often is frequently? The answer must be made by the communicant himself, based on his own spiritual needs. Common experience points to once a month as a minimum. Few souls can receive this sacramental grace less than this and still remain spiritually healthy. Any one who has come to know our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament of the Altar will never be satisfied with the barren fare of mere nominal churchmanship.

The early Christian received his Lord in the Eucharist each Sunday. He knew much better than we seem to that Heaven is our eternal Home, and that Holy Communion is the Christian's Heavenly Food.

If we will but heed the Lenten Call to prayer, fasting and almsgiving we will have a renewed understanding of the need for grace. We will then set forth for ourselves a rule of life which will bring us the full blessings of the grace which Christ has given for our use in these sacraments.

The Rector's Message

An interesting article on the Church in Philadelphia appeared in a recent issue of the Episcopal Churchnews. We were pleased that a picture of the interior of St. Mark's appeared with the article. The writer gave prominent space to the center city churches, especially those with an historic background. He surveyed the problems they face with many parishioners living in the suburbs, and went on to assign to a number of the parishes the things for which they are the best known. St. Mark's was said to be "famed for its fortune in vestments and solid silver lady altar", and to be one of two parishes holding out "as the citadels of high church".

Those of us who minister and worship at St. Mark's are not unmindful of the privilege of using beautiful vestments and sacred vessels. We are able to offer the Liturgy to Almighty God in a setting of great beauty. We appreciate the holiness of beauty. We like the Lady Chapel altar, but think of it, first of all, as the Lord's Holy Table at which, day by day, His Service is offered. Being silver and a fine work of art, adds to the beauty of our worship, but these are secondary to its sublime use.

Knowing the faithful devotion of the members of St. Mark's and of the hundreds of others who come here to pray and receive the sacraments, seeing the numbers who attend daily masses and the astonishing increase at the noon day services, and convinced that countless persons use the church throughout the day as a House of Prayer, I feel that the writer in the Churchnews has missed the real treasure on Locust Street. He should join the 125 people receiving Holy Communion at "early" Sunday services. It would give him a real feeling of the parish to share the deep sense of spiritual fellowship at one of our Solemn Masses. One is not conscious of vestments or treasures in these expressions of our liturgical life.

It is hardly correct to say that we hold out as a citadel of high church. I trust that we are not high church. We aim to be Catholic, living a life of prayer, worship and sacrament in its fullest expression, drawing on the rich heritage of 20 centuries, while at the same time following Anglican tradition and practice. Nor is your parish merely holding out. St. Mark's is not worried about holding its own. We are encouraged by every sign of going forward in the way and with the purpose for which this parish was founded.

I would rewrite the caption in the recent Churchnews as follows: "St. Mark's —well known today as a House of Prayer for countless people in the center of Philadelphia, where a rich liturgical life and deep spirit of devotion crown over a hundred years of full Prayer Book Catholic churchmanship".

A Liturgical Holy Week—1

If we understand the Liturgy of Holy Week our participation will be much more meaningful. The Prayer Book services are enriched with rites and ceremonies common to all parts of the historic Church. First, let us look at the Palm Sunday Liturgy as it will be done in all its fullness and beauty on April 11th.

The Mass of that day is preceded by the Blessing and Distribution of the Palms, followed by the Procession. This Liturgy of the Palms has a strong similarity to the form of the Eucharist—Collect, Lesson, Gospel, etc. As the Eucharist has its climax at the Consecration and Communion, so the Liturgy of the Palms is climaxed with the Blessing and Distribution of Palms. This ancient palm service is a sacred drama illustrating the events of that day given to us in the gospels, yet the drama is an act of our worship as Christ approaches His Victory of the Cross and Resurrection. The palms symbolize this victory as well as our offering of "good works" with which we go forth to meet Our Lord. Our "good works" are the fruits of God-directed lives. As the palms come to us from the Altar after being blessed, so the inspiration for what we offer in our lives comes from Christ.

In the Procession we carry palms to the doors of the Church to meet our Lord, just as the Hebrews carried palms to the gates of Jerusalem. At the "gates" of the Church we sing a hymn of greeting—"All glory, laud and honor." Then there is a moment of silence broken by three knocks on the door. The doors open and Christ symbolically enters as He did that morning in Jerusalem. We go before Him bearing palms.

Returning to the Altar we begin the Mass, the theme of which is the Passion. From this point on the organ is used only to sustain singers until Easter, except at the Maundy Thursday Mass. After the Gradual the three Sacred Ministers sing the Passion according to St. Matthew assisted by members of the choir. Worshippers hold palms at this time and kneel for a moment at the words "yielded up the ghost." The verses following the Passion are sung in the same manner and place as the usual Sunday Gospel, and the Mass continues to its conclusion in the customary way. The spirit of our worship of the victorious Christ still remains with us as we carry home the blessed palms, but the Liturgy of the day asks of us to begin the week's meditation on His Passion as we end the Palm Sunday ceremonies quietly looking to the Cross.

A Liturgical Holy Week—2

Last Sunday we thought of the great service at the beginning of Holy Week. Branches of palms are carried in procession to honor Christ the King, while the Mass which follows takes us to His Cross and Passion. On Wednesday evening in the service of Tenebrae we are brought to the tragic realization of the full meaning of the Betrayal of Christ.

Maundy Thursday, the day of Christ's giving the New Commandment that Christians love one another, is also the day of commemorating the Lord's Supper and the Institution of the Mass. Traditionally only one Mass is celebrated on this day with white used for altar and vestments in honor of Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament. This will be a beautiful Solemn Mass with choir, at which there is to be a general Communion for the whole parish family.

At the Consecration a portion of the Sacrament is set aside in a special chalice, and at the end of the service it is carried in procession to an "Altar of Repose" in the Lady Chapel. A 24-hour Watch is kept by members of the parish until Good Friday morning. The Blessed Sacrament is then carried back to the High Altar and consumed in a ceremony known as the Mass of the Presanctified (Preconsecrated). This service is not really a Mass, but rather a completion of the liturgical cycle which began with the Mass on Maundy Thursday.

Symbolically, the procession to the Altar of Repose honors our Lord's Presence in the Sacrament. The Watch before the Sacrament represents the Watch in the Garden of Gethsemane with flowers filling the sanctuary of the chapel. On Good Friday the procession from the Altar of Repose to the High Altar vividly symbolizes the procession to Calvary. We re-present the Death of Christ on the Cross in the consummation of the Host in the Mass of the Presanctified. After this our Lord's Sacramental Presence is gone until the consecration of the first Mass of Easter. This is the only period throughout the year when the Sacrament is not reserved in the Church.

Beginning with Palm Sunday and continuing through Holy Week, we relive and re-enact the final events of our Lord's earthly life. We go into Jerusalem with Hosannas on Sunday, gather with Him in the Upper Room on Maundy Thursday, watch with Him in the Garden, follow Him to the judgment hall and to the Cross on Good Friday. Here in the ancient liturgies of Holy Week is presented the world's greatest drama; here is offered holy and beautiful worship.

A Liturgical Holy Week—3

The rites of Holy Saturday, or Easter Even, bring to a close the liturgical cycle of Holy Week begun on Palm Sunday. As in ancient times these rites will be celebrated late in the Eve of Easter, leading up to the first Mass of Easter Day at midnight. The liturgy consists of four parts: the Blessing of the New Fire with the Blessing and Lighting of the Paschal Candle; the Blessing of the Baptismal Water and Renewal of Baptismal Vows; the Litany and, finally, the first Mass of Easter with Holy Communion for all communicants who are prepared.

At the beginning of the service, the Ministers go to the west door of the Church. There the New Fire is struck from the flint and blessed as a "light to lighten our darkness". The Paschal Candle is blessed after the officient has marked a cross, the letters Alpha and Omega and the date on the candle. Five grains of incense are fixed in the candle, and, lighted from the New Fire, it is carried by the deacon in procession to the choir. He sings "the light of Christ" three times. Gradually all in the procession receive a light for their candles and a light is given to each member of the congregation. The Light of Christ to the whole world is shed abroad as each candle receives its flame from the Paschal Candle. The Paschal Candle represents the Resurrected Christ, and will be lighted at all services in Eastertide until it is extinguished during the Gospel on Ascension Day.

When the procession has arrived at the choir, the deacon sings the magnificent chant "Exultet", after which four Old Testament Lessons are sung. The first half of the Litany precedes the Blessing of the Baptismal Water. Into this water the Paschal Candle is lowered and the holy oils poured. Baptism is frequently administered at this point. The members of the congregation here renew their Baptismal Vows together. This part of the rite dramatically sets forth the teaching of Christian rebirth. We have been buried with Christ in Baptism, and as Christ was raised up from the dead, so we are raised to walk in newness of life. The second part of the Litany concludes the Vigil ceremonies as the Kyrie of the Litany becomes the Kyrie of the Mass.

The drama of Holy Week closes and the joys of the Resurrection morn are proclaimed in the Eucharist. The Altar has been changed from purple to white, lights and flowers deck the Lord's Table, and the faithful proceed to a brief but beautiful Mass which culminates in the Easter Communion.

May we share the privileges of this liturgical Holy Week joining in each rite as we can. May we find new meaning and new life in our worship of the Risen Lord.

NOTES

We Welcome the Rev. Francis W. Voelcker as our guest preacher this morning. Fr. Voelcker was formerly on the staff at St. Mark's and is now an editor in the Department of Christian Education of the National Council.

From Passion Sunday to Good Friday the Crosses in the Church are veiled in purple. The Cross casts a shadow of the great redemptive act of Christ during these two weeks of Passiontide.

12.10 Mass Monday Through Friday, with special preaching Wednesdays and Fridays following the Mass.

The Liturgy of Palm Sunday will be celebrated in its entirety at 11 o'clock next Sunday. The members of the congregation and their friends are urged to be in their places before the beginning of this Service. Because of the great teaching of the Liturgy itself the sermon will be omitted. Palms will be blessed and distributed at all Services.

The Watch on Maundy Thursday will begin at the end of the Mass and continue through the night until 9 o'clock Good Friday morning. We enlist participation from all members of the parish in this Watch. It is suggested that the Watch during the night hours be kept by the men and boys of the parish. Please sign your name as soon as possible on the schedule in the porch for the period you will take.

Flowers for Maundy Thursday—Offerings of white flowers for use at the Altar of Repose in the Lady Chapel on Maundy Thursday are welcome. Some may wish to make such an offering in memoriam. Send contributions to the office by April 13th, and flowers to the Church by 2 P. M. Wednesday, April 14th.

NOTES

Lenten Mite Boxes will be presented today during the Offertory at the 11 o'clock Mass. Children, young people and adults who have been using these self-denial boxes should have them ready to offer at that time.

Coffee Hour—Visitors and friends, as well as members of the parish, are always invited to the Coffee Hour each Sunday. Why not share your Easter greeting this morning in the parish hall following the 11 o'clock mass.

Attention of Parishioners is called to the Annual Election of Vestrymen (three to be elected) to be held on Easter Monday between the hours of 5 and 6 P. M. in the library. It is the duty of every parishioner to vote at that time.

Noon Day Service—The regular noon day service schedule resumes this week. Following the Angelus and Intercessions there will be a mass on Tuesdays and Fridays at 12.10. On Wednesdays there will be a twenty minute sermon at the same hour. This week Fr. Kintzing will be the preacher. Thursday organ recitals will be resumed April 29th.

Spring Study Classes—Monday evenings in May, at 8 o'clock, Sister Darthea will conduct a class in Christian Symbolism, using vestments and appointments. A new Inquirers' Class will begin the first Wednesday in May at 8 o'clock.

Bishop Hart will visit the parish next Sunday at 11 o'clock. He will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation and preach. Members of the congregation will want to greet the Bishop on this occasion and also welcome the newly confirmed.

Diocesan Altar Guild Spring Meeting on Wednesday, April 28 at 8 P. M. in St. Thomas' Church, 52nd and Parrish Sts. Address by the Rev. Jesse F. Anderson. All the women of the parish are invited to join in this service and meet for a social hour in the parish house. Send acceptance to Mrs. Katherine King, 202 W. Rittenhouse Square, 3, by April 24.

The Holy Week and Easter Services remind us that behind these glorious acts of worship are many hours of faithful labor on the part of a great many of our people. Members of the parish are grateful to those who prepare and care for the Altar and the flowers; to those who serve at the Altar; to those who give us the finest expression of liturgical music, and to the many who helped with making programs, ringing the bells and doing the miscellaneous odd jobs that are so numerous and important. A rector could not have a better "working" parish. He, too, is grateful to them and to all the members of the congregation who manifest the spirit of worship and devotion in all we do at St. Mark's.

NOTES

AT THE ANNUAL ELECTION FOR THE MEMBERS OF THE VESTRY held on Easter Monday, the following gentlemen were elected to serve for four years:

S. David Hart
Warren W. Klosterman
George Wharton Pepper

Mr. Ernest Scott, whose term expired this year, requested that his name be omitted from the ballot. The parish is most appreciative of his twenty-three years of service as a Vestryman.

THE REV. ROBERT T. HOLLETT was ordained a deacon on April 24th in the Cathedral of the Incarnation, Garden City, L. I. He will remain on the staff of the parish until June 1st.

SUNDAY SCHOOL growth has been steady over this past year and a new class has been recently added, meeting at 11 A. M., during Solemn Mass. This means that we are now prepared to instruct children from the age of three through ten at this hour. The 9.45 session also has three classes, ranging in age from six to fifteen. With consecrated teachers and first-rate materials, every child in the parish may now have graded and systematic religious instruction. Parents and sponsors are urged to avail themselves of this school in order to fulfill their solemn obligations to their children.

NOON DAY SERVICES will continue through the month of May. Members of the parish and others who worship at St. Mark's are reminded of the Masses on Tuesdays and Fridays at 12.10 P. M. and preaching each Wednesday at the same hour. The Rector will preach this week. On May 5, and the three following Wednesdays, the special preacher will be the Rev. Arthur M. Sherman, Jr., Rector of the Church of the Mediator, Allentown, Pa.

PARISH GIVING FOR MISSIONS in the first quarter of 1954 was $1,686.23, just $63.77 short of the amount accepted for that period.

THROUGH THE BUILDERS FOR CHRIST CAMPAIGN, which has a $4,150,000.00 goal for capital building funds, you can help strenghthen our Church's ministry not only overseas, but here in the United States also. Domestic missionary work goes on every day among many of this country's minority or underprivileged groups, such as migrant workers, Indians and Negroes, and also among people living in rural or sparsely settled areas. $300,000 has been set aside out of the BUILDERS FOR CHRIST Campaign goal to provide most urgently needed church buildings in this country. Your generous and sacrificial contribution to the BUILDERS FOR CHRIST Campaign is extremely important for the strengthening of the Church's work in our seminaries, overseas and at home.

THE WILLIAMSON LIBRARY

Not everyone who comes to St. Mark's to worship or to seek to worship knows that we have a library next door, in the Parish House, that in a modest way may help to enrich that worship. The Williamson Library is a modest collection of religious books. Some people may be scared off when they hear that, having mental images of "correct" but dry tomes on metaphysics, eschatology, and similar hard names for things hard to digest. Actually, many of the books in the Williamson Library are very readable, and we plan more and more to offer books that have a real relation to living this religious life of ours.

We have books that will enrich our knowledge: books on the history of our church; books on its teachings; books on the Bible and the Book of Common Prayer; books on the life of our Lord; books on the lives of humble men who have tried to follow in His steps. One of these was St. Paul; one was St. Francis; some are humble parish priests, like Fr. Wainwright. We have books of devotion, books that may help us to pray. We have books that will tell us why we do things the way we do at St. Mark's. We have books that discuss the relation of our Christian religion to the problems of life.

Any of these books may be borrowed at any time by anyone. Every Sunday at the Coffee Hour a library assistant is in attendance with a selection of books. But a book may be borrowed at any time through our simple self-service system. There are no fees; no overdue charges. We only ask that borrowers be considerate and return books with reasonable promptness—in three or four weeks.

All of us are busy and have to choose carefully which things we will allow to consume our time. Reading a good book takes a little time. It may also let in a little new light on our tired and well-worn ideas. Finally, it is fun. If you don't know our library, won't you get acquainted, and tell others, that they too may become acquainted.

The Rector's Message

I feel certain that every member of the congregation is happy over the prospects of a new heating plant. The Church furnaces after many years of service were about worn out, and your vestry was faced with an important decision. After long and careful consideration, and with the advice of a heating engineer, it was decided to equip the entire plant with steam heat. A system with automatic controls has been designed, and it will be supplied with steam from the Philadelphia Electric Company, making it unnecessary to have boilers and fuel in our own buildings.

The cost of a new heating system may seem high, but we shall be supplied with a modern and efficient plant which should serve our parish buildings for many years to come. St. Mark's will have a great future and what we can do to supply the needs for our growth as well as our comfort will show our confidence in the House of Prayer on Locust Street.

It seemed logical to the vestry that we combine our improvements for the future of St. Mark's with the Church-wide program of "Builders for Christ". Supplying heat for St. Mark's is a missionary endeavor. Equipping our seminaries and providing buildings in the mission field offer the same challenge. The opportunity now given to the people of St. Mark's is a chance to invest in the future of the Church at home and in the larger field of the work of the Episcopal Church.

The support of every member of the parish is needed in this worthy project and I know the people of St. Mark's will respond with their usual generosity. I am sure that we shall consider this need seriously and that those who love the Church will put it first in matters of personal concern.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

Any Churchman trying to work at his religion soon finds out that there is a lot more to it than going to Church at eleven o'clock on a Sunday morning. The Lord's Day, to be sure, is set apart as the weekly holy day for corporate worship, but the religion we profess on that day is a seven-days-a-week affair. The Catholic Life embraces all that we do every day.

The devotional life of our parish is directed toward that end. Our aim is to make it possible for the members of our congregation to join with the Psalmist in saying, "every day will I give thanks unto thee, and praise thy Name for ever and ever." We desire to make real the words of the Te Deum "Day by day we magnify thee, and we worship thy Name, ever world without end."

About 105 years ago the daily recitation of the office of Morning and Evening Prayer was begun in this parish and has continued without interruption. Seventy years ago Dr. Nicholson, later Bishop of Milwaukee, instituted the daily mass. Morning after morning since that day the Holy Sacrifice has been offered in St. Mark's Church. As he began this ancient custom of daily Communion, Bishop Nicholson said, "Give us this day our daily bread for which Our Lord has taught His Church ever to pray—has now its deepest and best fulfillment in our midst. May that daily offering never cease henceforth 'till time shall be no more'."

Many people are told that St. Mark's is a different kind of Episcopal Church, and, after attending an eleven o'clock Solemn Mass, they may believe they have found the reason why. We count it a privilege to share in the offering of a service of such dignity and traditional ceremonial, and we are glad when friends and visitors join with us. This service, however, is not the reason why St. Mark's really is a different kind of parish. It might be said to reflect the reason. One must experience our daily devotional life to find the true answer.

Your priests take every member of the congregation with them to the Altar each morning. With them in the congregation may be one who has come to ask our prayers for a loved one who is very ill. Another may kneel in the chapel early in the morning to pray for a loved one now departed this life, to remember a birthday or some other anniversary. Still another has come to offer to God a problem or difficult decision, and in turn receive strength and direction in the Bread of Life.

A wonderful devotional life goes quietly on in your parish day by day as we offer the daily Sacrifice, read the Prayer Book Offices morning and evening, and make public intercession at noon. Those new to the life of the parish, those newly come into the life of the Church, and even those who have been Sunday members of St. Mark's for years, would find great blessing and joy in sharing in the daily services of our parish church.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

A recent "inquirer" about the Church and Confirmation was somewhat taken back when he learned that in this parish we ordinarily require six months of preparation before a candidate is presented to the bishop. I assured him that such a long period might not be necessary merely for the acquiring of simple yet essential facts about the Church and its Faith. Six months, however, is little enough time to become integrated into the Christian Fellowship. It takes time for one to get the feeling of the Church, to learn its habit patterns of thought and worship, and to acquire a sense of responsibility towards the Christian Way and its practical application in the family life of a parish. Most people need some time to get to feel at home in "our parish," to share in the sacramental life and the devotions of worship without self-consciousness and to accept personal responsibility for one's own part in the corporate Spiritual life, Christian evangelism and the giving of time and money.

Too many Episcopalians have been confirmed but never converted. The Church through its priests has the responsibility as to the right use of the sacraments. It would be expected, for instance, that the child to be baptized and admitted in the Fellowship of Christ's Church, would have the home or other influences to nurture the grace given in this sacrament. To aid responsible parents, the Church asks that sponsors assist in this great task. Such sponsors or godparents must of necessity be not only Episcopalians but Churchmen who believe in and practice their religion.

Holy Confirmation also is no magic rite which "works" in spite of the spiritual response of the individual. The grace of this sacrament can only come to one who has been prepared in every way, especially as to a spiritual preparation which involves confession of former sins and a desire to embrace the Way of Jesus Christ as a true disciple. The bishops of the Church are rightly disturbed by the fact that such a high percentage of those confirmed drop away. In spite of everything we do some will fail, but the number would be less startling if each candidate has time not only to know the Faith but to grow into the fellowship of the parish family.

I believe that one important mark of a good family is the responsibility assumed by every member of the family. The child and the youth should each have his part to play in the family life. All this is equally true in the parish. Each sincere member will do the very best he can. He is one in a fellowship of those charged with duties of discipleship, worship, prayer, service and giving.

You and I with every member of the parish have the Lord's business as one of the foremost responsibilities of our lives. We must remind ourselves from time to time just what that means in the worship, life and maintenance of St. Mark's Church.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

It is with deep regret that I announce the resignation of Father Kintzing as my assistant. He has accepted the call to be Episcopal Student Pastor at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois. This is an unusual opportunity at one of the most influential college posts in the country. We shall all miss Father Kintzing, yet, at the same time, we are happy that such an honor has been bestowed upon one who has shared the life and ministry of St. Mark's. Our prayers and wishes will go with him. Through three difficult years he has worked with me to make St. Mark's truly a family in Christ. I am grateful for his untiring and generous assistance in every phase of our priestly and pastoral ministry.

Father Kintzing will leave for his vacation tomorrow and return in August to be with us through Sunday, September 5th. He begins his new work in the Diocese of Chicago on September 15th.

Our Sunday leaflet goes on vacation after today. The men and boys of the choir also begin their summer holiday after Solemn Mass this morning, and will be back with us for the third Sunday in September. We are grateful for their loyal service this past year, and hope to see them all in the choir stalls in the fall.

St. Mark's does not go on vacation, however. Each Sunday we shall have Solemn Mass and the usual standard of music sung by our Canterbury Choir. Although we shall endeavor to keep the summer Solemn Masses within an hour, we shall offer the service with its usual beauty and reverence.

One thought comes to me as I write this final message until fall. I wonder how well we have fulfilled God's Will for this parish these past three years. How well have we done the Lord's Business on Locust Street? There is a measure of assurance in a number of things: The services express the best in Christian liturgy; increase in attendance has been marked; our noon day program is making this urban sanctuary truly a house of prayer; St. Mark's people have been most generous in financial support. Yet a visitor at our coffee hour some weeks ago said something which should make each member of our congregation humbly proud. Coming to our services for two Sundays during her first vacation in Philadelphia, this southern guest said very sincerely that St. Mark's was the friendliest parish she had ever attended. Should this be only partially true, I am grateful, for it shows that we are beginning to witness the real meaning of Catholic fellowship.

May the good Lord continue to make us mindful of our mission to show forth Christ, the Friend of all men, in the center of this great city.

Father Paige will be in residence during JULY and Father Kintzing will be in charge of the parish during AUGUST. Father Rementer will be in residence at the Clergy House both months.

The Summer Schedule of Services is somewhat different from other years due to the necessity of having the Church available for the installation of the new heating system. The workmen will begin on June 28 and expect to have the work completed by September 1st. It will be noted also that today is the final 9 o'clock Mass until fall.

While Away on Vacation you are asked to remember to attend the nearest Episcopal Church each Sunday, to pray daily for your parish, its priests and people, and faithfully continue your support during the summer when expenses go on as usual.

Our Canterbury Choir will sing at the Solemn Mass each Sunday during the summer beginning next week. With two clergy on the staff during the summer we shall be able to maintain the Solemn Mass with our usual liturgical norm.

Annual Offering for the Work of the Altar Guild today. There is a special envelope for this offering in the regular box and there will be additional envelopes in the pews for your use. We welcome financial support at any time during the year. Members of the parish are also invited to share in the work of the Altar Guild. The Rector and Sister Darthea will be glad to know of any women in the parish who would like to serve in the care of the Altar.

The Fellowship of Prayer will continue to hold its regular meetings the third Thursday of the month during the summer at 7.30 P. M. in the parish library, for the purpose of revision of intercessions lists and corporate prayer. Requests for intercessions should be given at any time to the clergy or some member of the Fellowship.

Marguerite Downs and Robert Gearhart attended the Valley Forge Conference this past week.

An Informal Reception will be held on Monday at 8.00 P. M. in the Library for those organists who played recitals for the weekday series of programs given in the season just past. You are invited to meet these musicians at that time, and to join in expressing our appreciation of their music.

The Rector's Message

I hope that each member of the congregation had a pleasant summer. Some of us were able to enjoy the relaxation and change of a vacation away from Philadelphia. My feeling is the same as a number of you have expressed to me—it is good to get back home—we missed St. Mark's and are grateful for our parish and its family.

I had the privilege of saying mass in my first parish in Vermont, and again saying mass and preaching in one of our small missions in Stowe, Vermont. The other Sundays I assisted at mass as a member of the congregations of two other New England parishes. The small, but devout, number of people who choose the Lord's Eucharist on His Day gives one the hope that Catholic Life among Episcopalians is a stronger force than all the recent attempts to merge our beloved Communion into a Pan-Protestant vacuum. More than ever, I believe that the laymen of our Church want a Faith that is truly Apostolic, and Sacraments that are sources of grace and virtue.

It is gratifying that we have maintained our regular norm of services during the summer. We thank Dr. Ricketts and the members of the Canterbury Choir for their devoted services. We are grateful to Miss Barton and the other altar workers for their faithfulness, and to Messrs. Boatrite and Wood who made Solemn Mass each Sunday possible.

We begin another fall with renewed conviction that St. Mark's has an unique opportunity to teach and witness to Christ's Holy Religion in the heart of Philadelphia. We welcome Father McCoy into our parish family and hope he will be happy here in his new work as assistant. Father McCoy, Father Rementer and I will endeavor to work as a team, ministering, teaching wherever and to whomever opportunity comes. We are at your service 24 hours each day. With three clergy on the staff you should always reach one of us when you telephone or come to the clergy house.

We look for each one of you at one of the masses every Sunday, and hope to see you frequently on weekdays.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

The Fall Schedule of services will begin this week, as noted on the front page.

Next Sunday at 12.15, following the Solemn Mass, we shall resume the Coffee Hour. At this time the members of the congregation are especially invited to come to the parish hall to meet Fr. McCoy and Fr. Rementer, both of whom have recently begun their work as members of the parish staff. Fr. McCoy will be the preacher at Solemn Mass next Sunday.

Beginning Today there will be an opportunity for confession each Sunday at 10.15. Ordinarily the Rector will keep this appointment and it is hoped that it will be helpful to members of the congregation.

Communions will be administered on Sundays at the 11 o'clock Mass, and those who intend to receive need no longer give notice. During these three years we have tried to restore the more ancient Catholic custom of communion at all masses. We, nevertheless, uphold the ancient discipline of Fasting Communion, and follow the Prayer Book, in administering the Blessed Sacrament to all Confirmed persons who are Prepared. At the 12.10 weekday masses we still ask notice of intention to receive.

The Psalms in Matins and Evensong, around which the daily offices developed centuries ago, should be regarded as corporate meditations rather than as ascriptions of praise. "Anglican Services" puts it this way: "The verses expressing a desire for vengeance on one's foes will be taken, not as a prayer for revenge on one's own behalf, but as an expression of God's hatred of sin, not as a desire for the sinner's eternal damnation, but as a warning of the consequences of sin." Regarded in this light, it was always considered more proper to sit for the psalms, after the first half verse of the first psalm of the office has been read or intoned. We shall follow that custom at St. Mark's, suggesting that the head be bowed as the first half of the Gloria Patri is said. The meditative character of the psalms will be better expressed if we will all make a slight pause in the middle of each psalm verse, marked with asterisk.

Noon Day Services from 12.10 to 12.30, following Intercessions, will begin Tuesday, October 5th. The schedule will be the same as last year: Tuesday and Friday, Mass. Wednesday, Guest Preacher. Thursday, Organ Recital. The Preacher for October will be the Rev. Alfred H. Whisler, Rector of the Church of the Good Samaritan, Paoli. Will you attend these Services whenever possible and invite and encourage others as well.

Dedication of Diocesan Conference Center this afternoon at 4 P. M. The new center is on Gulph Road, Radnor, Pa. Bishop Hart will conduct the service and Mr. R. T. McCracken, Chancellor of the Diocese, will give a short address. Grounds will be open from 3 to 6 P. M.

Saint of the Week.—On Monday the Church sets before us for our example St. Francis of Assisi, founder of a great religious order. St. Francis' sainthood had its basis in two things—his spirit of poverty and his simple, childlike love of God and of all God's creatures. The more he found that material things did not bring lasting happiness and peace, the more he turned his heart to loving his Lord and his brothers. He remained in deacon's orders until his death, feeling unworthy of the Priesthood. In 1226, bearing the stigmata (marks of the cross) in his body, the Poor Man of Assisi obtained eternal riches in death.

NOTES

HOLY BAPTISM, whenever possible, is administered immediately following the Solemn Mass on Sunday morning. This enables members of the congregation to join in the receiving of a new member of the Church. A baptism is always a public service and should find many members of the congregation present when a child is received "into the congregation of Christ's flock." Holy baptism will be administered this morning.

COFFEE HOUR, after the Solemn Mass, has begun again. We especially urge friends and visitors at our services to come to the parish hall so that the clergy and members of the parish will have a chance to greet them.

THE RECTOR is receiving Annual contributions towards the expense of the coffee hour and the parish house needs.

THE NOON DAY SERVICES are the Churchman's opportunity and should find a place in your weekly schedule. Many of your friends will be grateful if you will remind them from time to time of the Wednesday preaching, of the fine organ recitals and the opportunity for Eucharistic worship at midday.

TWO ORIENTAL RUGS have been given by a member of the parish, one for use at St. John's Altar and the other for the sanctuary. We are most appreciative of this beautiful gift.

THE AMERICAN CHURCH UNION has recently organized a regional branch in our area. Its purpose is to bring into fellowship those who wish to support and extend our faith as set forth in the Prayer Book. Members of the congregation are especially invited to a meeting at the new Diocesan Center in Radnor, Monday Evening, October 4, at 8 P. M. It is suggested if you go by train that you leave Suburban Station at 7.15 P. M. and go to Radnor, where you will be transported to the Center.

Friday of this week is St. Mark's Day for the A.C.U. Cycle of Prayer. The work of the Union and the stengthening of the Church's faith and life will be the intention at all Masses.

COME TO LUNCH ON WEDNESDAY following the Noon Day Service—the usual delicious food.

PRE-CONFIRMATION INSTRUCTION for children will be given each Saturday morning at 10 A. M. beginning Saturday, October 16th. Names of children desiring to be registered for this course should be 'phoned to the parish office as soon as possible.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED in recruiting new boys for the Choir. Mr. Day is now auditioning boys between the ages of 8 and 11. We pay carfare for the boys, since so many of them come from great distances, and also provide a small salary. If you know of any boys who might be interested, please speak to the Choirmaster.

DIOCESAN ALTAR GUILD—Annual Evening of Prayer and Meditation, Wednesday, October 13, at St. Clement's Church. Fr. Joiner will give the meditations. Meditations—5.30, 7.15 and 8.30. SAINT OF THE WEEK

October 18th.—Feast of St. Luke. A devotion to and love of St. Mary seems to be a characteristic of St. Luke, the beloved Physician. He was a convert of St. Paul and one of his close companions. As a physician he was able to carry the Faith into the homes of those he attended in his wide travels. He never lost an opportunity to bring the healing love and knowledge of our Lord into lives where there was doubt and darkness. His crucifixion at Elaea in Peloponnesus bore final witness to his zeal for the Church. "St. Luke, pray for us and for all those whose lives are dedicated to the healing of mankind!"

NOTES

The New Inquirer's Class on Wednesday Evening is an opportunity for anyone interested in learning about the Church and its worship. Be a missionary—bring some one on Wednesday evening.

A New Green Frontal for the High Altar, using the original embroidered figures, has been given by Mrs. Norton in memory of Homer H. Norton. The parish is grateful for this gift, which adds to the enrichment of God's house.

Birthday Greetings as well as a Birthday Offering Envelope will be sent to the children and young people of the parish, starting with those whose birthdays fall in the month of October. St. Vincent's School in Haiti, a work of the Sisters of St. Margaret, will receive the offering. Other members of the congregation are welcome to share in this offering. The older you are the more pennies will go for this good work.

Our Tower Bells are rung before Solemn Mass and Evensong each Sunday. The bellringers who provide this music are in need of reinforcements. Any men who are interested will be most welcome. A knowledge of music is not necessary, since a simple numbering system is used to pull the bell ropes. Please speak to Mr. Day if you would like to help in this worthy addition to our Sunday worship.

Confirmation Instruction for children on Saturdays at 10 A. M. has started. Names of those planning to attend should be sent to the parish office.

Saturday Quiet Evening, November 5th, at St. Margaret's House from 4.30 to 9 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Robert P. Sullivan, Jr. Please register early.

Monday Morning around the parish office and clergy house is a busy time with the schedule as it is arranged this year. Members of the congregation will help us a great deal if all business matters, calls and visits that are not urgent be made another time. Your clergy have a devotional hour, a conference, and the full staff a meeting, between the hours of 9 and 12. Information about the sick and other important matters should, however, have our immediate attention regardless of this schedule.

Red Feather Campaign—The 1955 campaign for $9,100,000 in support of 150 member agencies, started Nov. 12. This will mark the 34th year of an organized effort to raise funds in support of the voluntary health and welfare agencies that serve more than a million people annually in our community.

The Rector's Message

Some months ago the publisher's column in a Philadelphia Jewish religious publication began this way: "At noon time the other day I was walking down Locust street, and as I was passing St. Mark's Episcopal Church I noticed a number of men and women who were walking into the church for noonday services. Now you must remember that this was not a holiday nor a holy day. Men and women were taking a few minutes out of their busy lives to spend them in silent devotion and worship. I learned later that a very short service is held and that the beautiful organ music served as a background for these few moments of prayer." She goes on to say that Jewish places of worship should arrange for mid-day devotions.

I want to thank our Hebrew brethren for these kind words about our continuing effort to make St. Mark's in the center of the city a "house of prayer for all people." The purpose of these few moments each day is, as the above writer puts it, for silent devotion and worship. More important than our feeble prayers and intercessions, or the music of our fine organ, is the Presence of Christ. The very Lord of Heaven dwells among us in His Sacramental Presence, and in prayer and meditation before Him, at a service or as we come alone into the church, we find the closeness to God which all men seek in their hearts.

After God spoke to Jacob in the quiet of a desert-place, he said, "How awesome is this place. This is none other than the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven." St. Mark's is such a place as we enter to speak with God.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

SAINT OF THE WEEK

Monday—SS. Crispin and Crispinian, Martyrs.—You do not have to be a priest or a nun to take Christian perfection seriously. For instance, St. Crispin and his brother Crispinian were shoemakers who came to know and love our Lord so much that they felt that they had to tell others about Him. While doing every day's common jobs, they sowed the seed of the Gospel. In 285 under a pagan governor, they were put to death by the sword. Nothing could take them from the tremendous love of Christ and His Church. May they pray for us!

NOTES

NEXT SUNDAY will be the final Mission Sunday of the year. The offerings at all Services, including the envelopes for the day, go toward our parish quota of $7,000 for 1954. The members of the congregation are asked to make a generous offering for the work of the Diocesan and National Church.

We also ask for the names of departed relatives and friends that you may wish to have included in this annual commemoration of the departed. Blanks are provided for this purpose and will be found at the door of the Church and should be put in the offering plate, the intercession box or sent to the Church office. Kindly designate at which Service, 6, 7, 9.30 or 12.10 you wish the names remembered. The listing of the hour is a promise to be present at the particular mass.

MASS INTENTION CARDS have been placed in the back of the church for those desiring the Holy Sacrifice offered for their special intentions or departed friends and relatives. It is also a commendable custom to have a Mass of Thanksgiving offered on special anniversaries of marriage, birthdays, etc. When filled out, these cards should be returned to the parish office or the clergy.

SAINT OF THE WEEK

NOVEMBER 1—ALL SAINTS—To be "fellow citizens with the saints" we have to know more about them than that their names are on the Kalendar. The saints whose feasts we keep, whose intercession we beg, were once people like us. None of them are so far away and long ago as to be unreal today. As we pass along the streets we brush sleeves with many a saint whose lives touched with the divine fire make them welcome members of God's household. After All Saints', we keep All Souls' Day, remembering our beloved dead, who, helped by our prayers and through the mercy of God, are on their way to the kingdom of the saints.

St. Mark's Organ

The heart of the catholic faith and practice of our parish is its worship. A great effort is made by everyone to make our liturgy the finest possible that we can offer to God. We are blessed with fine equipment with which to worship. The organ is an important part of that equipment. A modern miracle of organ building, most of it was designed in 1937 to incorporate the best available examples of organ tone. It is justly famous.

Few people, however, realize that the organ also includes two older divisions of great interest. The "Screen" organ, between the Chancel and the Lady Chapel, was provided in 1912. Last year this was renovated and restored to use and the case was carefully cleaned.

The other section, a "String" organ of great tonal beauty, made in the Wanamaker Organ Shop, was presented to the Church in 1923 and placed above the chancel ceiling. Since then it has proved to be a lovely and essential addition to the quieter musical portions of our services. The tone of the pipes has mellowed through the years, although time has not been as kind to the mechanism needed to make the pipes speak. Gradually the thousands of tiny leather parts have deteriorated, making this division less and less useful. Last summer it was necessary to disconnect it from the main organ until funds could be found to restore it. The cost will be almost $5000.00, including repairs to the organ chimes which are housed with this division.

The Catherwood Fund, which provides for normal upkeep and a few other incidental repairs to the organ, is quite inadequate to meet this present pressing problem. Thus far, our efforts to secure help from those who might have been interested have met with but very limited success. So the problem remains.

This is not an appeal for funds. It is a request for your prayers that we may once again enrich our worship with another of the means so generously provided by others for us.

SAINT OF THE WEEK

NOVEMBER 11—ST. MARTIN, BISHOP AND CONFESSOR. Martin entered the Roman army at the age of 15. While stationed at Amiens, he cut his cloak in half giving one portion to clothe a beggar, and in the night he dreamed that he saw our Lord in glory, with half his cloak over his shoulders. In A. D. 371, he was consecrated Bishop of Tours. His boundless charity to the poor, the zeal and success of his pastoral ministry was crowned by an ardent and vehement love for the Catholic Faith.

NOTES

Pontifical Mass of Requiem, with the Rt. Rev. Reginald Mallett, D.D., as Celebrant and the Rev. Franklin Joiner, D. D., preacher, will be celebrated on Armistice Day, Thursday of this week, at 11 o'clock. This Service is under the auspices of the Guild of All Souls and the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament, but all members of the congregation are invited to attend. The ancient ceremonies will be observed, with the Absolution of the Dead at the conclusion of the Mass. St. Mark's Canterbury Choir will sing. Following Mass there will be a meeting of all persons interested in the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament in the parish library.

The Fellowship of Prayer will have its monthly meeting this Thursday. The change of date has been made due to the Diocesan In gathering Service of the United Thank Offering on November 18th, at St. Mark's, which will be of interest to many members of our congregation. Supper will be served at 6.00 P. M. and a Quiet Evening will be conducted in the Lady Chapel from 7.00 until 8.30 P. M. There will be two brief meditations. This may be of interest to some who do not regularly attend the Fellowship and is open to all wishing to attend.

The Descant melody sung to "For all the saints" this morning was written especially for the Boy Choir by Mr. Frank V. Burton.

Quiet Day Tuesday, the 16th, at St. Margaret's House, from 8.30 to 3.15 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Joseph H. Hall, 3rd.

The Rector's Message

This morning, after Solemn Mass, the members of the parish and congregation are invited to visit the rededicated and redecorated Chapel of the Blessed Sacrament on the fourth floor of the Clergy House. The door leading from the second floor of the parish house into the Clergy House will be open during Coffee Hour, and those interested are urged to enter that way and ascend the stairs to the chapel. I ask you to kneel a moment before Our Lord in His Sacrament and pray for your clergy and their ministry in this parish.

In 1893, shortly after the Clergy House was built, this small chapel was set apart by the Bishop of the Diocese, and here was reserved the Blessed Sacrament for the first time in St. Mark's, as well as being one of the first places in Philadelphia. Because of this, in our rededication, we have called it the Chapel of the Blessed Sacrament. It has daily use for prayer and meditation, and a Mass was said in it for the first time in many years on All Souls' Day. On the door are the words of Martha—"The Master is come, and calleth for thee."

Three beautiful altar panels, the tabernacle door, and the polychroming have been done as an offering by Russell Fitzgerald. On the altar from left to right the panels show the Nativity—the Body given by Mary to the world; the Last Supper—"This is my Body"; and the Descent from the Cross—the Body broken. Mr. Fitzgerald, in the medium of modern art, has set forth the Real Presence—the Sacrifice offered and the Body given to the faithful. We in the House are grateful for his fine work. Sister Darthea has been of great help in preparing the altar, linens and sacred vessels for our chapel, and we appreciate her devoted interest.

Although the chapel is of historic value and now has been restored to a simple beauty, its real importance is in the use your clergy make of it and the most wonderful fact of all—the Master truly has come, and presides in the house of His priests and pastors.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

SAINT OF THE WEEK

ST. ELIZABETH, Queen of Hungary, even on the throne, lived a life of humility, self-denial and devotion to her husband and family. Well might all wives in our parish listen to the words of the Mass for this feast—"Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life." When the duties of housekeeping and family life seem to be a hindrance to sanctity, invoke St. Elizabeth that she may obtain for you grace to follow in her steps of love for God and family.

NOTES

Special Concert at St. Mark's—A unique program of baroque music for flute and organ will be presented tomorrow evening, November 15, at 8.30 P. M., by Wilson Townsend, Organist, and Philip Buehler, flutist.

The Rector's Message

On Saturday morning, December 4th, the Rev. Edward P. Rementer, one of our parish clergy, will be ordained to the Sacred Order of Priests in St. Mark's Church by our diocesan, Bishop Hart. All members of the parish and congregation are invited to this service at 10.30 o'clock on that morning. Both of our choirs will sing at this service.

The first rubric in the Ordination service states that a sermon is to be preached, and the preacher is to declare "how necessary that Order (Priesthood) is in the Church of Christ, and also, how the People ought to esteem them in their Office." This service will be not only the ordaining of priests in the Catholic Church, but a rededication of the members of the Church to a Faith and Life of which the Sacred Ministry is both a means and a symbol.

It is a distinct privilege for a parish to have an ordination. It is an honor for Wardens and Vestrymen to give testimony and approval of a young man to be ordained, and for a parish priest to present a Deacon to the Bishop for elevation to this high office. A successor of the Apostles will lay his hands upon the head of one who has served faithfully in the office of Deacon, and impart by the imposition of hands the grace of orders, the character of priesthood. We honor the office of priest regardless of who the man in that office may be, but we also pray that the one receiving this grace and order may so live as becomes a Minister in the Holy Catholic Church. As priest, he is "to minister to the people committed to his care; to preach the Word of God; to baptize; to celebrate the Holy Communion; to pronounce Absolution and Blessing in God's Name." In other words he is to be a pastor, a sacrificing priest, a teacher, an evangelist, and a Minister of forgiveness in the confessional.

Your prayers and presence are requested on December 4th as Father Rementer receives this great office in the Church of God.

A BLESSED NEW YEAR!

THE CHURCH YEAR begins today, the First Sunday in Advent, or the Sunday nearest the Feast of St. Andrew. In the Liturgy of the Catholic Church, Advent (coming) is the season of expectancy and preparation for Our Lord's birthday. During Advent (except on Saints' days), the Gloria is not said at Mass; the colour of the vestments is violet; at Solemn Mass the Deacon and subdeacon do not wear their usual dalmatics and tunics which are signs of joy, but they vest only in albs, maniples, and the deacon adds his stole. In making your preparations for Christmas-giving don't forget the Child Jesus —after all, it's His birthday. Why not get ready during Advent for laying many spiritual gifts before the Holy Child in His Crib.

✠

Throughout the history of the Church the inspiration for liturgical reform has always come from those who have seen the need of making the Liturgy a living reality, related to and vital in the lives of the Christians who use it. From the simple rite of the Eucharist in the days following its Institution, the Liturgy has developed and been enriched because it is a living thing. Whenever this process of growth has ceased the result has been periods of deadened zeal for Christ and indifference to Catholic evangelism. Father Penny, in a recent paper for the Philadelphia Catholic Club, referred to this as putting the Liturgy in deep freeze.

In certain parts of Europe today where the Roman Church has suffered both from the ravages of war and the persecution of Communism, there is a great desire to take the Liturgy out of the present Roman deep freeze. They want to have Christian folk hear and understand the reading of the Word, and in the fullest sense assist in offering the Holy Sacrifice. With churches destroyed or damaged, with treasures gone, and the comfortable security of other days now a thing of the past, they feel themselves at one with the company of Christians in the first three centuries. It is Christ that matters; it is the Bread of Life they seek; it is the Gospel and the dangerous Catholic Life they must proclaim. Enshrined in the Eucharistic Liturgy is truth, hope, salvation and the means of grace unto Eternal Life.

The Anglican Church took the Liturgy out of the deep freeze in the 16th century, and, although a little too much was thawed away, the Mass was returned to the people with apostolic simplicity in a language understood by all. Yet as the Church entered years of lethargy, the rite was put back into the deep freeze. Not only was the Liturgy frozen, but so were the devotion and zeal of churchmen. The Catholic Revival in the 1830's gave an incentive for liturgical reform.

We are again in a period of liturgical experimentation, but the dangers of such a time are really outweighed by the freedom given the Holy Spirit to guide those who worship the Eucharistic Lord to find Him and show Him forth more gloriously than ever in a truly Catholic Liturgy for our times.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

SAINT OF THE WEEK

WEDNESDAY is the Feast of the Conception of St. Mary. This refers to her conception and not to the Virgin Birth. Contrary to the teaching of the Catholic Church, the Roman Church holds that Mary, unlike the rest of mankind, was conceived without the stain of original sin. This has no basis whatsoever in Scriptures or the Fathers, in fact St. Augustine refused to discuss the question. The Immaculate Conception was the probable opinion of the Franciscan Dun Scotus, but was refuted by St. Bernard and St. Thomas Aquinas. The Church honours the Mother of God, remembering that "She is more blessed in that she bore Christ in her heart by faith, than in that she conceived him in her womb according to the flesh."

THIS WEEK . . . The Embertide

THE EMBER DAYS (From the Latin Quatuor Tempora) are the Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays of four weeks taken one in each of the four seasons of the year, and are set apart by the Prayer Book as days of Fasting and Abstinence. At the time of the Emperor Constantine, they were days of prayer for God's blessing on the produce of the earth, but later were chosen as the usual times for ordinations. Now it is for those to be ordained to Holy Orders that the faithful are specially asked to pray and fast at Embertide. How much attention do you pay to the Church's laws of fasting? (P. B. page 11). Lest we forget—fasting helps bring about self-control!

NOTES

THE CHRISTMAS SERVICES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

December 24—3.30 P. M.—Blessing of the creche and devotions, especially for children and young people.

Midnight—Solemn Mass with communions.

December 25—8.00 and 9.00 A. M.—Mass

11.00 A. M.—Procession, Solemn Mass with communions and Sermon.

FLOWERS FOR CHRISTMAS—People wishing to send white memorial flowers for the Altar on Christmas Day will please have them at the Church by noon on Friday, the 24th. It will help us greatly if you will notify Sister Darthea at the office of your intention to send such flowers.

THE FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER will not have its usual meeting and supper this month. Instead, it will have a Vigil of Prayer throughout the day Friday, December 31st, closing with a Quiet Hour and Devotions from 8.00 P. M. to 9.00 P. M. The theme of the Quiet Hour will be: "God and Myself." To insure that someone will be in the church throughout the day, you are asked to volunteer for a half hour period of private prayer before the Blessed Sacrament. Please fill your name in on the chart posted in the Church Porch.

CHRISTMAS APPEAL—There has been a good response to this appeal. Those who have not yet contributed may care to send in a contribution this week.

SATURDAY QUIET EVENING in preparation for Christmas, December 18th, at St. Margaret's House, from 4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Edward C. McCoy. Please register early.

CHURCHMAN'S ORDO KALENDAR on sale by Evening Auxiliary and at the office. Price 50 cents.

THE EVENING BRANCH of the Women's Auxiliary wishes to thank the parish for so generously contributing to the success of the Card Party on December 2nd and especially those who helped with the refreshments and other details. About 75 people gathered together for a very pleasant evening and we raised approximately $450.

HOLY SILENCE should be the watchwords for all who enter St. Mark's Church. Except for prayer, praise and instruction, especially in corporate worship, talking and visiting in the sanctuary or nave seems out of place. The Blessed Sacrament is reserved on the High Altar—the Lord truly is in His Holy Temple, and we should keep silence before Him. We have the tower porch as well as the parish house for the friendly chat, and our coffee hour is the ideal time to share greetings. The bedlam following a recent diocesan service sounded just like a crowd leaving an Academy concert. May we all help to keep St. Mark's at all times truly a House of Prayer for all people.

MEMBERS OF THE BOY CHOIR sang a program of Christmas Carols and were guests with the Rector and Mr. Day, of our neighbors, the Women's City Club, last Thursday evening.

CHURCHMAN'S ORDO KALENDAR on sale by Evening Auxiliary and at the office. Price 50 cents.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY—Meeting of the Afternoon Branch on Thursday, January 6, at 2 P. M. in the parish library. The Speaker will be the Rev. Kennéth A. B. Hinds on "The Church's Mission in the Barbadoes". Communion with intention for the work of the Auxiliary may be made at any Mass on Sunday, January 2nd.

OUR PLANS for a truly Christian Christmas include the receiving of Holy Communion and making a special preparation for this great occasion by self-examination and confession. Along with the pleasure of securing and distributing gifts for our friends and loved ones is the added pleasure of making our gift to our Lord and His Church in a special Christmas Offering. We shall again this year have the Christmas Midnight Mass and it is our wish that this Service be a normal Eucharist with communions. No attempt will be made to make it a special service with elaborate music to attract a large crowd. We expect that all those who make their communions at this Mass will keep the pre-communion fast from the evening meal and will observe the hours until midnight free from parties and distracting activities. Last year members of the congregation showed splendid co-operation in making the first Midnight Mass a real spiritual experience. This can be so again if the true spirit of worshipping our Lord and receiving Him in His Blessed Sacrament prevails.

Of the Father's love begotten, Ere the worlds began to be,
He is Alpha and Omega, He the source, the ending He,
Of the things that are, that have been, And that future years shall see,
Evermore and evermore!

O that birth forever blessed, When the Virgin, full of grace,
By the Holy Ghost conceiving, Bare the Saviour of our race;
And the Babe, the world's Redeemer, First revealed his sacred face,
Evermore and evermore!

Thee let old men, thee let young men, Thee let boys in chorus sing;
Matrons, virgins, little maidens, With glad voices answering:
Let their guileless songs re-echo, And the heart its music bring,
Evermore and evermore!

V. Tomorrow the iniquity of the earth shall be blotted out.
R. And the Saviour of the world shall reign over us.

Antiphon: When the sun hath risen in the heavens, ye shall see the King of Kings proceding from the Father, as a bridegroom out of his chamber.

THE EPIPHANY . . . a showing forth

THIS FEAST, the original Christmas Festival of the Eastern Church, commemorates the three miracles by which Our Lord's Divinity was manifested; the mysterious star guiding the Wise Men to Bethlehem; the Holy Ghost resting in the form of a dove on Our Lord at His Baptism; and the changing of the water into wine at the wedding feast of Cana. Could not we add a fourth? The change He has wrought in our lives!

NOTES

The Flowers on the Altar Today are in memory of Mrs. Anna Granahan, given by her son, James Granahan.

The Service of the Nine Lessons this afternoon carries on an English tradition of great beauty and interest. Nine lessons are read from the Old and New Testament, setting forth the significance of the Incarnation of our Lord. Each is read by one of the members of the parish family—a choirboy, an acolyte, the choirmaster, a vestryman, the seminarian, a deacon, a priest, the Rector, etc. The lessons alternate with music expressing the thought of each reading. The service reaches a climax with a solemn Procession to the Creche, the last such procession of the season. All choirs will participate.

The First Meeting of a Class By Sister Darthea on "The Life of Our Lord" will be held this Wednesday at 2 P. M. in the parish library. Many women, both in the parish and outside, have found Sister's Classes of the greatest help, and interested people should be informed of this series during Epiphany.

Our Parish Missionary Giving for 1954 for the work of the Church in the Diocese and in the field amounted to $7,011.40. The members of the congregation are to be commended for more than fulfilling the responsibility for the $7,000.00 which we accepted. The generous response to the Christmas offering assists us greatly in meeting our obligations. This is especially helpful at a time when we are endeavoring to reduce the large outstanding loan for the heating system.

The Rector's Message

A few years back—when the automobile, movies and television were not Sunday afternoon attractions—the evening service found a real place in the lives of church people. Evensong was dear to the hearts of those of us who were choir boys 35 years ago, and the singing of the daily evening office can never be forgotten by priests who have attended the seminary.

Today Evensong is almost a thing of the past. Many parishes have given up afternoon and evening services, while a few try to attract people by special musical services. Actually we cannot compete with amusements and sports, and anything we try as a substitute for worship is unworthy of the Church.

We have been giving prayerful consideration of our problem in regard to Evensong in our own parish. There is no thought of discontinuing it, but it could be set for a different hour. It also, from time to time, might serve as a medium for Christian evangelism.

With this in mind it is our plan to change the hour of Evensong on Sundays to 5.30 o'clock beginning the first Sunday in February. For the three Pre-Lent Sundays we shall have a "Revival" following Evensong—a good hymn-sing, evangelistic preaching, closing with Devotions of the Blessed Sacrament. The theme will be spiritual preparation for Lent, the recalling and reevaluating the "first things" in our Holy Religion.

It is hoped that this new hour will be helpful to our friends and neighbors of the community as well as the congregation.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

THE SAINTS

This week two 13 year old girls who attained martyrdom are honoured in the Liturgy. On Tuesday, St. Prisca, who is said to have been baptized by St. Peter, and on Friday, St. Agnes, who was beheaded in 304 A. D. Both these young people felt that to betray their Lord by sin and disloyalty to His Church were things worse than the death of their bodies. And so they resisted, and God gave them eternal youth in His Kingdom.

NOTES

The Validity of Anglican Orders is the current topic at the discussion group held each Sunday morning at 9.45 in the library. All are welcome.

Adult Confirmation Instruction will be given each Wednesday evening at 8 P. M. in the library, beginning Wednesday, February 2.

Our Special Preacher next Sunday morning will be the Rev. E. Frank Salmon, D. D. It is indeed a privilege to have Dr. Salmon come to us with an Epiphany message.

Annual Theological Educational Offering for the support of the Philadelphia Divinity School and the General Theological Seminary may be made next Sunday. Special envelopes will be found in the regular boxes as well as in the pews.

Our Next Evening Recital will take place on Wednesday, January 26, at 8.30 P. M. Robert Elmore, concert organist, will present a program for strings, voice and organ.

Recruiting New Members for our Boy Choir is an ever present problem. It becomes increasingly difficult with the changing times. Few children of choir age live near St. Mark's. Many more competing activities are offered children than at any time past. Now more than ever ALL of us need concern ourselves with finding more boys to perpetuate Philadelphia's oldest vested Boy Choir. Neighbors, friends, and acquaintances at offices and clubs may know of prospective members between 8 and 11 years of age. We pay carfare and a salary to each boy. The Choirmaster will be happy to learn of anyone who may be interested in singing in our choir, Quiet Day for Business and Professional Women Saturday, January 29th, at St. Margaret's House. Mass at 8.30 A. M. Closing at 3.15 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Walter E. Frieman. Please register early.

The Rector's Message

In recent years more and more churchmen are sharing in the support of our theological seminaries. The yearly opportunity to make an offering for these institutions has aroused the interest of thoughtful people. Laymen are now conscious that the Church needs an ample supply of priests, and that these priests should be given the very best theological training, and that this training can best be given at a seminary.

It is natural that we have a special interest in the Philadelphia Divinity School. We feel close to this seminary for many reasons. Members of the faculty are with us for services from time to time; we always have a student as seminarian on our staff, and, of course, Father Rementer is a recent graduate. P.D.S. holds a sound standard of churchmanship—a daily Mass, the daily offices, and a proper emphasis on the full sacramental life of the Catholic Church. It is important that future priests live in such an environment, and the Church should supply adequate facilities so that our seminaries are "laboratories" of the priestly and spiritual life. Beside your offering for the support of seminaries, I urge you to have them in your prayers, and to remember before God the men preparing for so great an office. Visit our Philadelphia seminary, attend Evening Prayer some day at 5 P. M.—at least spend a few moments in the magnificent chapel.

It should also be our prayer that young men from St. Mark's will be called by God to the priesthood. Catholic parish life should produce priests. I am grateful that we now have one postulant for Holy Orders, with two men seriously considering that step in the near future. There also should be men and women who find here the call to the religious life. The monastic life could be the answer for many who would serve God in a special way.

If you can make an offering for support of theological education this year, do it with a prayer and the deep interest of one who would strengthen the Ministry of Christ's Holy Church.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

A MESSAGE FROM ST. PAUL on the Feast of His Conversion, January 25th.

NOTES

We are happy to welcome the Rev. E. Frank Salmon, D. D. as our preacher this morning. Dr. Salmon has consented to come to us again on a Sunday morning during Lent.

Special Envelopes for the support of theological education will be found in the regular boxes as well as in the pews. This offering is being made today throughout the American Church. The St. Mark's offering is divided equally between the Phila. Divinity School and the General Theological Seminary.

Confirmation Instruction for Adults will begin on Wednesday Evening, February 2nd, at 8 P. M., in the library.

At the Recent Meeting of St. Mark's Vestry the resignation of Mr. S. David Hart was regretfully accepted and Mr. William J. Stevens was elected to fill the unexpired term. Mr. James F. Gordy was elected Secretary of the Vestry to succeed Mr. Hart.

St. Mark's Branch of the Church Periodical Club had the loyal services of Miss Mabel D. Cherry as Secretary-Treasurer for many years. She carried on an extensive work in the name of the parish. We are fortunate to have secured Mrs. Thomas Dillon to succeed Miss Cherry as Secretary-Treasurer. The interest and cooperation of the members of the parish are asked as Mrs. Dillon begins her work in this office.

The Woman's Auxiliary, afternoon branch, will meet on Thursday, February 3, at 2 P. M., in the parish library. The Speaker will be announced later. Communion with intention for the work of the Auxiliary may be made at any Mass on Sunday, Jan. 30.

THE PURIFICATION OF OUR LADY

THE OLD LAW commanded that after childbirth the mother should, forty days later, go to the temple and make an offering of a lamb and turtle dove or of two turtle doves, to which law our Lady was obedient. It is also the day for the annual blessing of the candles, Candle-mass day, from Simeon declaring our Lord to be "a light to lighten the Gentiles."

NOTES

The New Hour For Evensong on Sundays, beginning a week from today, will be 5.30 P. M. It is hoped that many will find this a more convenient hour and that friends in our neighborhood will also find this helpful. The Service next Sunday at 5.30 will be the first of three Pre-Lenten Revival Services. This is an old fashioned term, somewhat unique in our parish life. The intention is to remind us of the first principles of our faith and to prepare us to make a better use of the great season of Lent.

Traditional Candlemas Ceremonies will be observed on Wednesday at 7 A. M., preceding the Solemn Mass, on the Purification of St. Mary the Virgin. This beautiful service will include the blessing of candles, their distribution to members of the congregation, and procession. The Canterbury Choir will sing at this service and all the members of the congregation are invited to a buffet breakfast in the parish hall immediately following. It is hoped that many members of the congregation and their friends will be present to participate in these ceremonies.

February Noon Day Preacher—The Rev. Edward C. McCoy will be the preacher at 12.10 for the first three Wednesdays in February, beginning this week. The members of the congregation are urged to support these services themselves and bring others with them.

It May Be Helpful to Know that ordinarily Father Paige hears confessions from 12 to 1 and 7.30 to 8 on Saturdays and Father McCoy from 4 to 5 P. M.

The Parish Housekeeping Problem would be much easier if all smokers would be particularly careful to use the ash trays. Our real problem is at coffee hour where the floor easily becomes the handiest target.

The Speaker at theWoman's Auxiliary Meeting on Thursday, February 3rd will be the Rev. Ninan A. Kallumpurath, a priest of the Mar Thoma Syrian Church. As the Mission Study Topic for the year is India, it is most appropriate that we should hear from a priest who has ministered to a congregation in India. Father Kallumpurath is taking graduate work at the Philadelphia Divinity School.

The Sacrament of Confirmation was received by—
John Herbert Norton—January 24, 1955.

Burial—Julia P. Ash—January 26, 1955.

THE BURIAL OF ALLELUIA

LAST NIGHT, at the First Evensong of Pre-Lent, "Alleluia" (the song of the Lord) was put away, not to be heard in the Mass and Offices until it announces the Resurrection. Except for the greater Feasts, the Gloria and Te Deum are omitted, and the Altar and its Sacred Ministers are vested in penitential violet. All these remind us that the sacred time approaches, the time of Holy Warfare—Lent.

NOTES

The Flowers on the Altar today are given by Mrs. Eleanor Nesbitt and Harry Nesbitt in loving memory of Ruth.

Pre-Lenten Revival—Today we shall have the first of our Sunday afternoon services at the new hour of 5.30. It is the first of three special services to emphasize the great need of being stirred to a deeper faith and a fuller Christian life so that we may make the best use of the great Season of Lent. Not only should every member of the parish try to attend these Services, but it would be most appropriate to bring your friends and to tell others about the Revival.

"The Marriage Laws of the Church" will be the new topic at the Discussion Group during the Sundays of February, at 9.45 A. M. Everyone is welcome.

"Our Anglican Heritage," a film produced in connection with last year's Catholic Congress, will be shown in the Parish Hall this Wednesday evening following Confirmation Instruction. The film should begin at about 8.45. This will be of interest to the entire parish family. No admission charge.

Retreat for Men at the Diocesan Center in Radnor February 11 and 12. The Retreat begins at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon and continues through breakfast on Sunday morning. The Rev. Philip T. Fifer will be the Conductor. Cost $9 00. We hope there will be a number of men in the parish interested in attending this Retreat, and especially in supporting the Retreat Movement in the Diocese. Notice of intention to attend should be given to the office before February 9th.

The 1955 Institute of Christian Social Relations will be held at Christ Church Neighborhood House, 20 N. American St., on Tuesday, February 15, from 5.30 to 9 P. M. There should be representatives from St. Mark's who will attend this important session dealing with refugees and new citizens. Registration for the dinner ($1.65) must be made through the parish office not later than February 8th. The Department of Christian Social Relations hopes that a number of men will attend, especially a representative from the Vestry.

Dr. William E. Danforth will be ordained to the perpetual diaconate on Saturday, February 12th at 10 A. M. in Trinity Church, Swarthmore. Dr. Danforth's many friends in St. Mark's Parish will have him in their prayers and extend to him their congratulations and good wishes.

The Rector's Message

The constant movement of people in a city, and especially in a city parish, is well illustrated by the fact that 35% of those on our communicant list have come into the parish since I became rector three and a half years ago. Young folks move to the suburbs, new work requires a person to go to another city, while new people come into the neighborhood for study, temporary work or perhaps (we hope) to settle down in a new home or apartment. Obviously, this makes it difficult to develop within the city parish a real sense of fellowship. The "family" idea depends on worshippers being drawn together in a unity of purpose, a common Faith and practice of religion, as well as loyalty to the Church through a particular parish.

In spite of these serious odds, I believe we have achieved a marked success in stabilizing our congregation. With many devoted members coming many miles week by week, we have also begun to restore St. Mark's as a neighborhood parish. It is true that in past years there was an exodus of loyal parishioners from the parish to the suburbs. That does not mean, however, that there are no people left in the center city area. Actually there are more living in our midst than ever before. What were private homes are now apartments where a larger number of persons live. The parish, true to its mission, must reach out to the unchurched around us, proclaim the Gospel, and welcome them to our services, classes and other gatherings. We have no desire to "raid" other parishes. That is just lost motion. Our efforts should be directed towards those who are spiritually hungry and have no Father's House to call their own.

Our Pre-Lenten preparation might well include a renewed resolution to bring others to the Church during Lent. Our desire is not to invite them, as we would to the theatre or dinner party, but honestly lay before them the Lord of Life, His Way, His Holy Fellowship and His Sacraments. Here is a treasure we have to share. Here is the pearl of great price. This missionary endeavor is not only a privilege; it is also an obligation by virtue of our Baptism.

The laity are the most effective missionaries in any parish. The clergy are "professionals", limited in what they can do, and needing the work, prayers and offerings of each churchman for the spread of Christ's Kingdom.

DIET . . . . the gates of heaven are narrow

The Prayer Book (page li) lists the following table of Fasts. Ash Wednesday and Good Friday are days of serious fasting. Among the other days of fasting on which the Church requires such a measure of abstinence as is more especially suited to extraordinary acts and exercise of devotion are the weekdays of Lent. The discipline of fasting during Lent is obligatory for all who are physically able to do so.

NOTES

Lent Begins on Wednesday. Are you ready? What kind of a preparation have you made for these forty days? We have two days before we begin the holy fast with the cross of ashes on our foreheads. There is still time to be released from the burden of sins that hold back your progress in the spiritual life. There is time to set down a definite Lenten Rule based on prayer, fasting and almsgiving. "The glory of these forty days" can be yours if you will return once again to the life and discipline to which the Church calls her children. E. P. P.

Lenten Noon Day Services Begin This Week on Ash Wednesday. Each week day, except Saturday, there will be a Mass at 12.10. These Services mean much to churchmen working in the center city and their friends. Those desiring to receive Holy Communion at a noon day mass are asked to so notify the clergy or some one at the door.

Each Wednesday and Friday there will be a twenty-minute sermon beginning at 12.30. The preachers will be clergy from the Diocese who will bring us appropriate Lenten messages. Will each one make it his or her responsibility to attend one midday preaching service each week and bring some one with you.

This Afternoon at 5.30 P. M. final Pre Lenten Revival Service. Your last opportunity to be part of a great parish spiritual endeavor.

Next Sunday the first special missionary offering for 1955 will be made. Envelopes for this purpose will be found in your box of regular Sunday envelopes. The plate offerings for this day are also designated for missions and go towards our 1955 Acceptance.

Our Special Preacher next Sunday morning will be the Rev. E. Frank Salmon, D. D.

Lunch Will Be Served each Thursday noon, in the parish hall, immediately following the 12.10 Mass. Price 75 cents. A delicious lunch for you and your friends.

Lenten Mite Boxes for all who will share in self denial for missionary work will be found at the door of the Church.

Two Lenten Courses Begin This Week. Ash Wednesday night, following Stations of the Cross, Fr. Paige will give the first in a series on Christian Prayer, and on Saturday at 3 o'clock Fr. McCoy will begin his stories on the Bible, following the Service of Stations of the Cross especially for children.

The Woman's Auxiliary afternoon branch, will meet on Thursday, March 3rd, at 2 P. M., in the parish library. The Speaker will be Miss Amy Clapp on "Studies in the Prayer Book." Communion with intention for the work of the Auxiliary may be made at any Mass on Sunday, February 27th.

NOTES

Sunday Evensong at the New Hour of 5.30 is proving to be very successful. The attendance has more than doubled and the response of the people to the hymn sing, which will continue through Lent, is heartening. Organ music is played for twenty minutes before the Service begins.

Noon Day Services continue each day, except Saturday, through Lent. On Wednesdays and Fridays, when there are guest preachers, communions will be omitted so that the mass can conclude exactly at 12.30 and the preaching end at 12.50. Please help to make these Services of greater influence by bringing some one with you, especially to hear the preaching.

Lenten Study Classes:

Monday at 8.00 P. M.—Great Men in the Bible. Fr. Rementer.
Wednesday at 8.15 P. M.—Christian Prayer. Fr. Paige.
Saturday at 3.00 P. M.—Bible Stories for Children following Stations of the Cross. Fr. McCoy.
Sunday at 5.30 P. M.—Lenten Sermons following Evensong. Fr. McCoy.

Lenten Lunches on Thursday at 12.30, following noon day Mass, are served in the parish hall. You are invited. (75 cents.)

The Lenten Reading Shelf has a book waiting for you to read.

The Annual Rummage Sale of St. Mark's will be held on April 20th and 21st of this year. We hope that the parish will help us again by collecting all their rummage and bringing it to the parish house. If you want someone to call for it, please let the office know and someone will call.

Today Is Mid-Lent or Laetare (Rejoicing) Sunday, on which the Church in some measure relaxes the liturgical austerity proper to this season of penance. The violet vestments are put aside for the more cheerful rose-colored ones. The Deacon and Subdeacon wear their usual vestments, symbolic of holy gladness. The Introit bids the faithful, in the midst of Lent's spiritual warfare, to rejoice and be filled with new strength and consolation. An ancient custom of the day was the distribution of bread to the poor, which explains the choice of the Gospel lection and also the popular designation "Refreshment Sunday." The Epistle in speaking about our true native land and mother, the heavenly Jerusalem, is responsible for another popular name, "Mothering Sunday." Today in the English Church the custom still remains of visiting the mother church of the diocese with special offerings. Also in English households, the children make a simnel or "Mothering" cake and present it to their mothers. SIMNEL CAKE will be served today at Coffee Hour.

NOTES

Catholic Laymen's Union Meeting on Tuesday, March 22, at 8 P. M., at St. Andrew's Chapel, Philadelphia Divinity School. The Speaker will be the Rev. Charles K. C. Lawrence. Topic: The Catholicity of the Church and the Vocation of Anglicanism. The men of the parish are specially urged to attend this meeting and have the opportunity of worshipping at our Divinity School.

Our Library still has many good books for your Lenten reading. They can be procured at coffee hour or by the "Self-service" system in the library. Books should be returned or renewed at the end of a month. We are asked not to take books from the library without filling in the proper card.

American Church Union Pledge for '55. Knowing that St. Mark's would want to support the A. C. U. in every aspect, we have again made a pledge of $52.00 for this year. Let's try to pay this as soon as possible. Are there 52 people who will send to the office $1.00 each? This is separate from your own annual dues of the A.C.U. Miss Margaret Evans, 450 Childs Ave., Drexel Hill, Pa., will be happy to receive new memberships at any time.

PASSION SUNDAY

THIS, the fifth Sunday in Lent, takes its name from its being the day on which the Church begins her solemn and mournful commemoration of our Lord's Passion. Henceforth, in the Daily Offices, hymns in honor of Christ's suffering, take the place of those proper to Lent; the Preface of the Holy Cross is said daily at Mass; the Gloria Patri is omitted as in Masses for the Dead; and the portions of the Gospels appointed to be read are those referring to the plotting of the Jews against Christ, and to the incidents of the last days of his ministry upon earth. In allusion to the words "Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple" read in today's Gospel, the images of our Lord are veiled until the Holy Saturday.

NOTES

The Liturgy of Palm Sunday will be celebrated in its entirety at 11 o'clock next Sunday. The members of the congregation and their friends are asked to be in their places before the beginning of this Service. Because of the great teaching of the Liturgy itself the sermon will be omitted. Palms will be blessed and distributed at all Services.

The Watch on Maundy Thursday will begin at the end of the Mass and continue through the night until 9 o'clock Good Friday morning. We enlist participation from all members of the parish in this Watch. It is suggested that the Watch during the night hours be kept by the men and boys of the parish. Please sign your name as soon as possible on the schedule in the porch for the period you will take.

Flowers for Maundy Thursday—Offerings of white flowers for use at the Altar of Repose in the Lady Chapel on Maundy Thursday are welcome. Some may wish to make such an offering in memoriam. Send contributions to the office by April 5th, and flowers to the Church before noon April 6th.

The Spring In-Gathering of the United Thank Offering will be held in May. Contributions are now in order. "Blue boxes" for your use are available in the back of the Church, or contributions may be sent direct to Miss E. M. Fryer, Treasurer, 1906 Sansom Street.

Our Pastoral Work at Graduate Hospital

As a midcity Catholic parish, it is St. Mark's obligation and privilege to be "all things to all men." One of the very fine phases of our ministry is that of being chaplain to the Episcopal patients at the University of Pennsylvania Graduate Hospital, 19th and Lombard Streets. Through the Episcopal City Mission and by appointment of the Bishop we minister to the spirtual needs of Churchmen, who while exposed to the healing of medicine and science in the Graduate Hospital, need something yet greater—the healing gifts of a Healing Saviour.

Each day a priest of this parish makes "the rounds" of Graduate Hospital visiting and strengthening Episcopalians, not only from all parts of the state and nation, but from all parts of the world. Holy Unction is always given, after proper instruction; each patient is helped to inner peace with God; and the Bread of Life, the Great Physician Himself, comes to them from the Tabernacle of St. Mark's. There are at least a dozen patients visited each day and sometimes as many as twenty-five—all standing in need of God,—God, Who in prayer and sacrament is brought to them by this parish.

The old "bug" of Churchmanship is never raised, titles are never insisted upon, our one concern—SOULS committed temporarily to our charge. Often we are hindered by poorly instructed and indifferent priests, who—even against the wishes of their people—try to deny them the Sacraments of the Church. Since our job is not to undo the false and sometimes warped notions which people might receive from their home clergy, we do our best to serve them in deference to their own rectors or vicars.

Many times in the course of a week we are called upon to pray with Protestants and sometimes Roman Churchmen who have been overlooked by their ministers and priests. Last week for several days, we strengthened as far as possible a young Buddhist quite ill, and there are always devout Jews who ask a blessing or a prayer.

We receive splendid cooperation from the well trained clerical and nursing staff of the Hospital, and because of our daily, and sometimes twice daily, visits they have come to rely on us to help those suffering and dying alone without any spiritual help.

Here, in a way far lovlier than many can imagine, is the hand of God stretching out from HIS St. Mark's to bless and to heal, to forgive and to feed, and even to unlock the gates of eternity. Could anything be more typical of our parish than this?

EDWARD C. McCOY.

THE FEAST OF DEDICATION

In accordance with the Prayer Book (page 259), next Saturday will be observed as the annual Feast of Dedication or Consecration of this parish church. The church was consecrated on May 21st, 1850, by the Right Rev. Alonzo Potter, Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, assisted by sixty-one priests of the Diocese. We who have found God here on Locust Street join with gratitude in the words of the Office Hymn for the Feast—

"Hallowed this dwelling where the Lord abideth,
This is none other than the gate of heaven;
Strangers and pilgrims, seeking homes eternal,
Pass through its portals."

"Many American Episcopalians, including some very prominent lay-people, seem to be quite unaware that they are members of this great [Anglican] Communion; they think of themselves as members of one of the Protestant Churches in this country, and they think of their Episcopal Church as merely one of the Protestant Churches. This general ignorance is clearly the fault of our clergy, and especially of our bishops, and it calls for prompt measures.

"We need to realize the treasure we have in this great Anglican Church of ours; international and interracial; liturgical; and sacramental; authoritative without being authoritarian; and united without uniformity. This gives our Communion a certain uniqueness not possessed by any other Church in Christendom. Because this is so, we have certain unique responsibilities as a Christian Communion: we must not throw away our heritage and we need not feel it necessary to commit ecclesiastical suicide in the interests of ecumenity . . .

"Our duty is clear: to keep and practice our faith completely and entirely, and to 'build and strengthen our own worldwide fellowship within our Communion.'"

From a sermon preached by the Rt. Rev. John Higgins, Bishop of Rhode Island, at the Synod of the First Province.

THE ASCENSION OF OUR LORD

On Ascension Day, after the singing of the Gospel at the principal Mass, the Paschal Candle was extinguished, symbolic of the climax of Our Lord's earthly sojourn. The fire, however, lighted on Easter must continue to burn on in our hearts and the power of the Risen and Ascended Christ must lead all Catholics to the practice of their religion which is—the FULL CHRISTIAN GOSPEL.

Our new Lion of St. Mark in the door of the Tower porch has drawn much favorable comment. The current Art Alliance Bulletin gives this bit of news . . . . "Duncan Niles Terry's carved glass panel, Lion of St. Mark, is included in the exhibition of contemporary American glass, which the State Deparment will send on a South American tour. Terry's sculptured glass was featured in a recent issue of World Science Review, British publication."

The fine cut of the new Lion on the Sunday leaflet is the gift of Mr. Albert Greenwood, who has taken care of St. Mark's printing for many years. We appreciate his generosity.

PENTECOST

If St. Paul should step into our midst and ask us, as he asked the Ephesians, whether or not we had received the Holy Ghost, we could not answer as they did, "We have not even heard that there is a Holy Spirit." Yet there are many Catholics who know so little about the Holy Ghost that it is almost certain that they cannot love Him deeply, for one does not love a total stranger. It would be a good spiritual exercise during the Octave to study the Holy Ghost in the Scriptures and Traditions of the Church, and to understand how important He is to us in our quest for Eternal Happiness. A suggested reading list has been posted on the Bulletin Board.

The Rector's Message

Will Rogers used to say, "All that I know is what I read in the papers." I hope that this saying does not apply to what people of Philadelphia know about the Episcopal Church. The Saturday ecclesiastical comics may often give us a chuckle, but once in a while just plain run-of-the-mill Episcopalians get a jolt. Last Saturday we looked to see how other parish families of "this Holy Fellowship" were honoring God the Holy Spirit on the Church's great festival of Whitsunday. Lo, and behold, it seemed in many instances that some had "not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Spirit."

To let a secular observance take precedence over the day when it is the Christian's joyous privilege to give thanks to God the Holy Spirit for His empowering the Church is a sad witness before the world. Morning prayer as a setting for a patriotic service and massing of colors is no substitute for what the Church and Prayer Book intend for this festival honoring the Church. If this is how some of our brethren regard the Church and its life as expressed in calendar and liturgy, it is little wonder they so easily sell out to the churchless church ideas of current Pan-Protestant movements.

Loyal Episcopalians certainly have their work cut out for them in the days ahead. I am confident, however, that the great majority of the laymen of our Communion, when given a chance to know the Church, love it and are proud of it. They are devoted to the Book of Common Prayer and they reverence the Sacraments. The few recent examples of degrading Whitsunday just are not representative of our Church, thank God.

What a glorious day these few parishes missed. Recall that for the Epistle we read, "When the day of Pentecost had come, they were all together in one place." At the recent service of dedication at St. Augustine's Church of the Covenant, Bishop Hart spoke so effectively of how we only find true unity in the Church through the Gift of the Holy Spirit.

Each Whitsunday is a reminder of that first Christian Pentecost; each Whitsunday can be an occasion of stirring up the Gifts of the Spirit in Christ's Body the Church, and a new empowering for the conversion of the world.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

(Feast of the Body of Christ)

Because Christ continues to be present, the Blessed Sacrament holds a unique place among the sacraments, in that it is a permanent sacrament. Our Lord is really and truly present, not just at the moment of Holy Communion in a transitory way, but permanently, when and wherever the consecrated species remain. The Mass is a living Sacrifice, the Eucharist is THE LIVING CHRIST.

The Rector's Message

Few of us, either priests or people, come anywhere near living the Catholic Life the way it should be lived. This life, a life of Prayer and sacrament in a spiritual fellowship, has been the Christian ideal for 1900 years. Through blindness, indifference and self-centeredness we fail to use our holy religion in order that God's Grace may abound. This is an old story. This has been the way of sinful man through the centuries. We, however, who have embraced the Catholic Faith have been given an advantage, and this makes our failures doubly serious. "Everyone to whom much is given, of him much will be required."

The Book of Common Prayer, its services, prayers and rubrics, can only be understood in the light of what has always been the standard of life and worship of the Catholic Church in its long history. How grateful we should be that the Prayer Book sets forth this standard in a way unsurpassed by any other branch of Christendom. The Prayer Book, seen primarily as containing a static Liturgy and sets of rules to be obeyed, does not impress many Episcopalians in this generation, at least. When, on the other hand, it is understood as a way of life according to the ideal and standard of Christ's Catholic Church, it becomes alive as a spiritual beacon and guide.

In our parish the Prayer Book, understood in the light of the full tradition of 1900 years, is the standard for the Catholic Way of Life. We expect those who are drawn to Christ through St. Mark's to embrace its full Faith and practice. It would not be honest to expect less. For some, this is a large order. Those primarily attracted by Catholic externals while refusing the disciplines of the Catholic Life will find it difficult to appreciate the obligations of membership in this parish. Rich ceremonial, incense, beautiful vestments and appointments are quite normal for those who work hard at prayer, who follow a rule of life regarding worship and the sacraments (both Holy Communion and Penance), and who pledge and give sacrificially. Externals are emotional playthings for those who will not accept and work at the Catholic Life.

We who do accept this Life and are glad to be followers of this ancient standard must be the first to admit our failures. We often prove to be poor examples of the Catholic Way, but, at least, we try. Better in this world to face failures trying for an ideal, than never to try at all. We fail because we are sinners, yet Christ founded the Church and instituted the sacraments that sinners might grow into saints. Through God's means of Grace we advance along the way, knowing that we were baptized and are fed unto Eternal Life.

The Catholic Way of Life is not a solitary adventure. It is lived with others in the Church. A parish has little meaning as a collection of individualists or special groups. The "standard" of St. Mark's implies spiritual unity. It means that responsibility for the parish life should be given only to those who believe in what St. Mark's stands for. Let me give you one example of the sort of thing I mean. Only those who live by a rule of prayer, Mass each Lord's Day, and sacramental confession can serve at the Altar. With a privilege goes responsibility. This principle should apply in other phases of our parish life.

We invite and welcome others to share this Life which has been given to us. We want our parish family to grow with those who love the Catholic Way in the Episcopal Church, and follow it in the spirit of the Prayer Book. As our Blessed Lord will be found in His Church, so life in Him will be found in this wonderful Way.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

COOPERATION AND APPLICATION

The time after Trinity is the third and last part of the Easter season and the final part of the Temporal Cycle of the Liturgical Year. It pays special attention to the reign of the Holy Spirit in the Catholic Church, or we might say, it represents Christ and the Church bringing the graces of Redemption to humanity by means of the sacraments. The spirit and purpose of this period is cooperation with the Holy Ghost in order to apply the lessons which Christ has taught us in the preceding parts of the year. The most important of these is generous service to God, rooted in unshakable faith, hope and love. The liturgical color is green, symbolizing peace and growth.

Teaching the Faith at St. Mark's

Being all things to all men was St. Paul's concept of the mission of the Catholic Church. This is also our ideal of the vocation of St. Mark's. Towards the fulfillment of this vocation, it is important that we lay a firm foundation of faith with the children and young people of our parish—the St. Mark's of the future. Then too, to the eager and searching hearts and minds of the young adults who look upon St. Mark's as a refuge of strength and a guiding light, we must give God's way of life as that which they want and need most.

The Youth Advisory Committee of the parish is hard at work planning an expanded and more effective program of Christian Education to begin in the fall, one which will meet the needs of all levels from infants to College students and young married couples.

Plans are being put into action for work to begin on October 9th that will meet the needs and hold the interest of College and University students to whom St. Mark's has much to offer and who look to us as their parish family away from home.

The teen-agers will be more solidly united by the common bond of fellowship and the sacraments in a Christ-centered program.

Special efforts are being made to minister more effectively to our service men and women. Further details about these varied projects will follow in September.

The SUNDAY SCHOOL is our primary concern at the present. As a result of prayer and study, a new "set-up" will be adopted beginning on September 18th. No longer will there be two Sunday Schools. At 9:45 A.M. a class on Catholic Doctrine will be held for Choir Boys only. Also at that time the adult discussion group will convene and young people over the age of 16 will be asked to attend. At 10:45 A.M., the Sunday School will convene. Closely graded classes for ages 5 to 16 years will be conducted by a paid faculty skilled in the field of education. These teachers will be first and foremost practicing Catholics. After the sermon of the Solemn Mass (approximately at 11:45) the students will be brought into the church for the Mass of the Faithful, having had the equivalent of the Mass of the Catechumens in their classes. To coordinate the child's parish-life and family-life, bi-monthly parent-teacher meetings will be held.

A well equipped nursery under the care of a registered nurse will also be provided each Sunday from 10:45 until after Solemn Mass for babies and young children up to the age of 5, thus enabling parents to attend Mass together.

While the eternal truth of Christ's teaching never changes, the exponents of that teaching must follow the example of Christ in adopting the presentation of truth to the capacity of their hearers. With this in mind, we shall use as our Church School curriculum the "Episcopal Church Fellowship Series" published by the Morehouse-Gorham Company. We feel that this series is not only attractive, but is best suited to teach the whole of Christ's revealed religion as set forth by the Book of Common Prayer and the Creeds of Catholic christendom.

St. Augustine was once asked how to teach religion. He wrote a book answering the question. In it he made two suggestions. The first was that the teacher should tell the story of God's love for man as revealed in the Church. The second was to strive to lead those being instructed from faith, to hope, to love. So in our parish program we shall strive to attain these three main objectives:

from FAITH, to know the story of God's immense love for us and to believe all that it contains in order

TO HOPE, to inspire us to place our entire confidence in Him and His Church and

TO LOVE, to lead us to love Him and His Church so deeply that we will do everything for His glory and form those habits of virtue which will transform us into the image of His Incarnate Son.

The Women of St. Mark's

Women of St. Marks: We are called to work together as a unit, to worship our Lord, to study about Him in His Church, to serve Him, to bring Him gifts, and to love and enjoy one another in Him. We shall meet at least once a month to discuss needs, assign tasks, pool our ideas, study, pray and give. Our interests begin here in our parish, spread to the diocese and out into the world. Women of St. Mark's sing in the Canterbury Choir, work in the Altar Guild preparing and caring for the altars, sacred vessels and vestments, serve as choir mothers, librarians, housekeepers in the parish house, teachers in the Sunday School, hostesses at the Coffee Hour, and do whatever they are asked to do in serving God here at home.

Some of us go to the Church House for diocesan meetings, to listen and talk about the Episcopal Church in its work here in the diocese, overseas, in rural isolated areas, with Indians and Negroes, and many other important matters included in the departments of Social Relations and Christian Education. In Japan a priest receives copies of a magazine regularly from one of our members. The parish branch of the Church Periodical Club sends out much more to other missionaries. This is just one ripple on the wide sea of God's love that starts right here in our parish home.

Women of St. Mark's: Here is the list of our committees. Look at it and decide on which one or more you would like to serve:

Hospitality Parish House Library Visiting
Diocesan Missions Domestic Missions Overseas Missions
Christian Social Relations
Prayer and Worship Committee of the Diocese

Many women may find their place in the Altar Guild, the Canterbury Choir, the Fellowship of Prayer, and our parish program of Christian Education. There is room for everyone's interests.

Come to our fall meeting on Thursday, October 6th, at 6 P. M. At that time you will hear our plans for the year and a more detailed explanation of the work of the various committees. We shall organize committees, choose leaders and proceed with the plans of each committee. By the way, our theme for the year is "Women in the Catholic Life of the Parish." We know you want to be a part with us in this program in the coming year.

The Rector's Message

With the end of June our thoughts turn toward the summer and vacation time. The members of the staff will be having their vacations as well as members of the parish. Our summer schedule, beginning tomorrow, may list fewer services, but the daily life of the parish will go on as usual. Each of us has his Sunday duties throughout these next few weeks, with regular attendance at Mass and reception of Holy Communion, and faithfulness in prayers and intercessions. Of course this is the duty of every Episcopalian, but it is a special responsibility of the members of St. Mark's as they witness to the Catholic way of life.

The past year has been one of great blessing for us in our parish family. There are many evidences of a deepening in spiritual understanding, one fruit of which is the growing unity in our corporate life. Such real unity has made it possible for us to meet difficult problems these past four years, and to see them through together. We now see that some roughness on the surface does not mean that the ship is about to sink. It can be said with confidence that St. Mark's is seaworthy. Through it all God has been good to us, and we are thankful that He has so graciously guided this small portion of His great Family here on earth.

I could not come to this part of our parish year without expressing my appreciation to all who have worked with me these past months. Few rectors have such a wonderful staff, and such consecrated parishioners who serve in so many phases of the parish life. Our services are more worthy offerings to God because of men and women who care for the altars and vestments, who serve at the altar day by day, and who sing His praises in our choirs. Our parish life shows an increased vitality in the hearty response of men in the Vestry, the Ushers' Guild and in other departments. This kind of participation is common in a healthy village or suburban parish, but often distinctive in a mid-city parish. It only proves that Christians are the same the world over if they love our Lord, love His Church, and find the grace for unselfish lives in its fellowship.

The future opens new opportunities to serve more fully together. The bringing of the Women of St. Mark's into one organization promises to do a great deal for the whole parish. The new program of Christian Education for both children and young people is a sign of growth in the right direction. A continuing emphasis on the spiritual life, with a School of Prayer and a Parish Quiet Day, will strengthen the foundation of the Faith by which we live. An Altar-centered parish is also a Christ-centered parish, and the life and work in a Christ-centered parish has only the glory of God as its chief end.

Every year has its disappointments, its heartaches and its failures, and the past year is no exception. This is true in any family. Yet, the family united by faith, and the parish made one in the Faith, has the grace and the will to rise above them.

Summer in many ways is a quiet time in our parish life. Quiet and relaxed, resting and vacationing, we can find the blessed opportunity to meditate on the deeper values in life. It is also a time when we can pray for our parish, for those near to us and for the Lord's peace in the world and in our hearts.

May God bless you all and be with you at home or in journey these summer months.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

FEASTS OF SS. PETER AND PAUL

As we celebrate the solemn feasts of the Holy Apostles SS. Peter and Paul, it is well for us to renew the belief of the Catholic Church, that universal jurisdiction over the Church was never given by Our Lord to any one Apostle and his successors. The sacred responsibility and obligation of feeding and governing the flock of Christ was given to the entire Apostolic college and therefore rests in the whole body of the Bishops of Apostolic Succession. May the Eternal Shepherd strengthen and provide for our Bishops. May the Blessed Apostles pray for them.

NOTES

Father Paige will be in residence during JULY and Father McCoy will be in charge of the parish during AUGUST.

The Summer Schedule of Services will be found on the front page of today's leaflet. The hour for the daily Mass is varied to meet the needs of all members of the congregation. It will be noted that today is the final 9 o'clock mass until September 18th.

While Away on Vacation you will remember to attend the nearest Episcopal Church each Sunday, to pray daily for your parish, its priests and people, and faithfully to continue your support during the summer when expenses go on as usual.

Our Canterbury Choir will sing at the Sung Mass each Sunday during the summer beginning next week. The congregation is privileged to have the high standard of music maintained while the choir of men and boys is on vacation.

Many Thanks to all those who contributed to the Summer Outing for the Choir Boys. The boys had a wonderful day at Hershey yesterday. They had a wonderful picnic at the park with entertainment and refreshments and had the opportunity of visiting some of the Hershey plant.

The Valley Forge Conference, held this past week, was attended by the following young people from our parish: Marianne de Sabato, Marquerite Downs, Paul and Ronald Joseph, and Michael Montgomery.

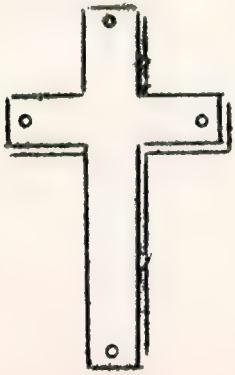
Father Paige will be in residence during July. Father McCoy will be in charge of the parish during August.

With only one priest on duty during the summer months, you are asked to be patient if there is no immediate answer to the door bell or telephone. We shall do our best to keep up our usual practice of having a priest available twenty-four hours a day. However, sick calls, meal time, might occasionally cause a slight delay.



The Parish Office will be open from 9:30 to 1:30 on Monday through Friday, beginning July 5th until after Labor Day.

Holy Communion is administered at all Masses to confirmed members of the Episcopal Church, or to those in Communion with her. It is expected that all who present themselves at the Altar Rail are spiritually prepared and come fasting.

The Liturgical Kalendar for the Mass and Daily Office for the summer months is posted in the church porch. Requiem Masses are also listed.

Sister Darthea will return to the parish on September 11th.

The 9 o'clock Mass, Sunday School and Solemn Mass will be resumed as the regular Sunday Schedule on September 18th. Evensong and Devotions will be resumed October 2nd.

The Rector's Message

"Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America." What a name and what a mouthful. Apparently we are stuck with it for awhile longer. Oh well — Christ's Holy Catholic Church has had greater burdens than this to bear throughout the ages, so I guess we shall survive. We were not baptized or confirmed in the PECUSA, nor were the clergy ordained priests or bishops in it. At Baptism we became members of the Holy Catholic Church, and your clergy were ordained priests or bishops in the Church of God.

General Convention, according to reports, was swayed by Mr. Charles Taft's appeal to our place in the Protestant community in a country steeped in the Protestant heritage. We would all agree if Mr. Taft and his majority used the word Protestant to mean non-Roman as the folks who compiled the first American Prayer Book thought of it. But Protestant today in America is almost universally accepted as the opposite of Catholic, a different religion with a theology and a ministry of its own.

Just as the branch of the Anglican Church in America flubbed the opportunity to sweep this land with the pure Apostolic Faith 150 years ago, so today, our church refuses to accept its mission to convert America to the pure Catholic Faith without Roman perversions or Protestant denials. This name business is only important in that it is symbolic of the blindness we show in the fulfilment of our vocation. America (and the world) does not need another Protestant denomination. It needs the full Apostolic Faith of the Creeds so richly set forth in the Prayer Book and its way of life.

The word Protestant in our clumsy title does in no way void the Catholicity of the Church. In the Creeds we profess we are part of the Holy Catholic Church. About all our official church name does is to confuse the public and serve as a crutch for those members of the Church who would rather be like our Protestant brethren than accept and live the FULL implication of the Book of Common Prayer.

So, our part of the Catholic Church is still the "Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America." I hope newspapers and numerous parishes will not use the illegal title: "Protestant Episcopal Church." Give us our COMPLETE name, and perhaps after three more years of use, trouble with this tongue-twister will bring the usual convention majority to accept the common-sense name, "The Episcopal Church."

The Rector's Message

The Society of the Sisters of St. Margaret is this year celebrating the founding of its Order one hundred years ago. The founder was the Reverend John Mason Neale, a great and good priest of the Church of England. During the summer the centennial was observed at the Mother House in East Grinstead, Sussex, England, and our own Sister, Sister Darthea, was privileged to join with Superiors and Sisters from all the Houses affiliated in the Order throughout the Anglican Communion for this great occasion. Last Sunday the American celebration was held at the Church of St. John the Evangelist in Boston, and a number of associates from St. Mark's were able to attend.

The Mother House of the American branch is situated on Louisburg Square in Boston where the Sisters were established in 1873. Its houses and work now extend to many parts of the Church. They have charge of St. Margaret's House in Montreal, conduct St. Monica's Home near Boston, and maintain four houses for parish assistance and retreats in Philadelphia, New Hartford, N. Y., New York City and Newark, N. J. Their work also is extended to Haiti where there is a convent and two schools. In South Duxbury, Massachusetts, there is a Guest House and a summer camp for girls.

The Society began its long association with St. Mark's Parish in 1889, and through the years it has served faithfully at the parish church and chapels. From locations in the center city, in 1939 the Sisters moved to St. Margaret's House at St. Luke's Church, Germantown, from which they go to St. Mark's, St. Mary's Chapel and St. Luke's. The House itself is a center for retreats for women in the Philadelphia area. Sister Darthea and Sister Felicitas at St. Mary's Chapel are both of great influence in the parish life, and they perpetuate the long tradition of devotion and service.

We of St. Mark's join with our Sisters and the Associates of the Society of St. Margaret in giving thanks to Almighty God for these hundred years. We are especially grateful for its 82 years in America and for 66 years in this parish. May their service to Christ and His Church continue with the generous support of churchmen, and may there be many young women who will hear God's call to serve in the Religious Life.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

A Good Beginning marked the opening of the Religious Education program last Sunday. There was an attendance of 52 in the Church School and Nursery and 14 at the 9.30 discussion class. Our expanded program gives promise of growth and greater effectiveness. Infants in even their earliest days will be expertly cared for during Solemn Mass by our registered nurse. Our equipment covers every need—cribs, play pens, bottle-warmer, etc.

A Weenie Roast will be held this afternoon and early evening for the High School teen agers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shumate, Newtown Square. Transportation and hot dogs will be provided. Cars will leave the church at 3.30 P. M.

The Coffee Hour will be resumed next Sunday following Solemn Mass. We look forward to again greeting parishioners, visitors and friends at this weekly social hour.

The Women of St. Mark's will have their first dinner meeting on Thursday, October 6th, at 6 P. M., in the Parish Hall. Father Paige will be the Speaker.

The First Fall Meeting of the Catholic Laymen's Union will be held at the Church of the Advent, 18th and Diamond Streets, on Tuesday evening, September 27th, at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. Chauncey E. Snowden, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Overbrook, will give an address on "The Bible is the Revealing Word of God." Men of St. Mark's Church should make every effort to attend this and the following monthly meetings of the Laymen's Union.

The First Meeting of the Women of St. Mark's will be on Thursday, October 6th, at 7.15 P. M., in the Parish House, preceded by supper at 6.00. Cost, $1.00. Reservations should be in before September 29. Fr. Paige will speak on the theme for the year: "Catholic Life in the Parish." This is the meeting at which we will organize and plan activities for the coming year. We need the interest and participation of every woman in the parish. Please make a special effort to attend.

College Students who make St. Mark's their parish family away from home and their friends from the Canterbury Clubs of Philadelphia colleges and universities are invited to a snack-supper and discussion group at 4.00 P. M. next Sunday, October 9th. The Rev. Dr. Harry Longley, Rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity and delegate to Honolulu, will give a report on GENERAL CONVENTION. Activities will close in time for Evensong.

A Specially Designed High Fidelity Phonograph for use in the choir room has been made possible by a gift of Mrs. Charles J. Maurer. A fine library of recordings has been given by an anonymous donor. Since the phonograph can also be used to play the tape recordings made of our services, it will be helpful in choir work, in addition to the other pleasures it will provide.

Diocesan Altar Guild—Annual Quiet Evening on Wednesday, October 12th, at St. Clement's Church. Rev. Theron A. Vallee, Vicar of St. Elisabeth's Church, will give the meditations. Meditations—5.30, 7.30 and 8.30 P. M. Box supper. Send acceptance to Mrs. K. M. King, 202 W. Rittenhouse Sq. by Oct. 10.

NOTES

OUR STEWARDSHIP CANVASS

The Vestry has retained the services of the Wells Organization, Church Fund Raising Specialists, to guide us in development of our program in Stewardship Education. Our canvass director, Mr. Henry Calvert, has arrived and is already working with our leadership to organize our program of visitation. Mr. Calvert's office is in the Parish House, second floor. The members of our congregation will want to know more about this program and to cooperate with our canvass leaders in making this venture in faith effective.

Liturgical Note—Tuesday is the Feast of St. Luke, the beloved Physician. It is an excellent time to seek the blessing of God through the intercession of this Evangelist upon the sick of our parish, those of our family engaged in the medical and nursing professions, and our chaplaincy work at Graduate Hospital. St. Luke, pray for us!

Children's Confirmation Instruction will begin this Saturday after the 9.30 Mass. Parents of children desiring to receive this Sacrament should consult beforehand with the Clergy and obtain an application blank for admission into the class.

The Canterbury Choir, which is our adult volunteer chorus that provides the music for many of our special Masses, is now rehearsing on Tuesday nights at 7.30. This is not primarily a group of skilled or professional singers. If you enjoy singing and would like to become a member of this choir, please speak to the Choirmaster.

The Fall In-gathering of the United Thank Offering comes early in November. Your offering should be in before November 1st. Please send offerings to Miss E. M. Fryer, 1906 Sansom Street. Checks should be drawn to St. Mark's Branch, U.T.O.

Quiet Day for Women, Saturday, October 29th, at St. Margaret's House, starting at 8.30 and closing at 3.15. Conductor: Rev. Vincent F. Pottle, S.T.D. Please register early.

NOTES

Parish Loyalty Dinner—A dinner for the members of the parish and congregation will be held at the Broadwood Hotel, Broad and Wood Streets, on Tuesday evening at 6.30 o'clock. It is hoped the dinner will be over by 8.45. Each one of St. Mark's parish family will make every effort to join in this evening of fellowship.

A Bowling Party will be held for the Senior High School students of the parish this evening. The young people will attend Evensong and afterwards, under the supervision of their advisors, go bowling until 9.30 P. M.

Parents Are Again Reminded of the Children's Confirmation Class held each Saturday after the 9.30 Mass. Holy Confirmation is a Sacrament and a serious obligation. It is not merely "the proper thing to do" when a child reaches a certain age. Delay or mistaken notions may bring spiritual harm to the souls of your children.

The Anglican Club for College and University Students will meet next Sunday afternoon, October 30, at 3.30 P.M. The program will consist of a Liturgical Forum and Demonstration.

The Women of St. Mark's will hold their monthly dinner meeting on Thursday, November 3, at 6.15 P. M., in the Parish Hall. On this occasion all men are invited. Rev. C. Edward Hopkin, Th. D., Professor of Systematic Theology and Ethics, Philadelphia Divinity School, will speak on "Catholic Life in the Parish." Dinner, $1.25. Reservations should be sent to Church office by October 28th.

A Series of Organ Recitals, Preceding Sunday Evensong, begins on November 6th at 5 o'clock. The program will be presented by Mr. J. Earl Ness, A.A.G.O., Organist and Choirmaster of the First Baptist Church of Philadelphia. Please tell others about this series, and plan to attend yourself whenever possible.

All Souls' Day Commemoration. It is our custom to remember at the Altar on this day all those of our parishioners and loved ones who have died within the past year. We also ask for the names of departed relatives and friends that you may wish to have included in this annual commemoration of the departed. Forms are provided for this purpose and will be found at the door of the Church and should be put in the offering plate, the intercession box or sent to the Church Office. Kindly designate at which Service (7, 8, 9.30 or 12.10) you wish names to be remembered. The listing of the hour is a promise to be present at the particular Mass.

The Fall In-gathering of the United Thank Offering comes early in November. Your offering should be in before November 1st. Please send offerings to Miss E. M. Fryer, 1906 Sansom Street. Checks should be drawn to St. Mark's Branch, U.T.O.

Who hast anointed thine only-begotten Son Jesus Christ with the oil of gladness, to be a Priest forever and King of all: so that by offering himself upon the altar of the Cross, a pure and atoning Victim, he might accomplish the mystery of mankind's redemption; and, subduing under his rule the whole creation; might render to thine eternal Majesty a kingdom endless and universal: a kingdom of truth and life; a kingdom of grace and holiness; a kingdom of peace, of love, and of righteousness. From a Recent Issue of the English Church Times:—The most famous "agony column" in journalism contained, on Wednesday, an announcement which should give members of the Church furiously to think. Under the heading "Loneliness" an anonymous lady who has returned to London after some years abroad appealed for suggestions for "widening present complete isolation." She stated, among other things, that she was "C. of E." We do not know if this unhappy advertiser is practising her religion. If she is, and yet feels herself to be in "complete isolation," it is a strange commentary on the coldness of at least one congregation of the faithful. It is worth the while of the congregation in every parish in the land to ask itself, from time to time, whether it is really extending the true warmth of Christian welcome to strangers. Absolute loneliness should be an absolute impossibility in the fellowship of the Holy Ghost.

Next Sunday, at 11 A. M., the Rev. E. Frank Salmon, D. D., will return as our special preacher. Members of the congregation and friends of Dr. Salmon will be happy to know of this.

Members of the Fellowship of Prayer are asked to meet for a time of Intercession in the Church on Thursday, at 7.00 P. M.

On Thanksgiving Day we shall have a Solemn Mass at 9.30. All of our choirs will be combined for this special service, singing Vaughan Williams' Mass for Two Choirs. There will be no sermon; the service will last forty-five minutes. Matins will be read at 7.30, followed by the usual Mass at 7.45.

Holy Cross Monastery at West Park is beginning a project to redecorate and furnish the guest cells at the Mother House. The members of St. Mark's are asked if they will contribute to a memorial of $200.00 to meet the cost of one cell. Our parish has been closely associated with the Order of the Holy Cross since its founding and many of the Fathers have served the parish from time to time. Already a few people have contributed to this project and there are others who may wish to take this opportunity to support Holy Cross. The Rector will be pleased to receive such offerings, which may be mailed to the office or given directly to him.

Christ Church Hospital invites the members of the congregation to attend a tea on Founders' Day, Thursday, November 17, between 2 and 5 P. M. Donations for the work at this Home may be made at this time or sent directly to the Treasurer at 49th and Monument Road, Philadelphia 31.

LITURGICAL NOTE

With the beginning of Advent next Saturday at Evensong, we start afresh the Church's Year. By molding ourselves like to Christ as revealed in His mysteries, we also become by Him, with Him and through Him children of God. He is our model, for He alone is holy. That was why the Church conceived under the direction of the Holy Spirit, the Liturgical Year. For the Church Year is the manifestation of the Christ of prophecy, history, mystery and majesty in the Church and in the souls of the faithful.

NOTES

The Rev. E. Frank Salmon, D. D., returns to us this morning as our preacher. The members of the congregation will be grateful to know that he will be with us on two more occasions this year. It is always good to welcome Dr. Salmon into the parish family.

The Male Choir of St. Timothy's Church, Roxborough, will assist at Evensong today at 5.30 P. M. We welcome this splendid group under the direction of Mr. T. Norman Collins, Organist and Choirmaster.

The Thanksgiving Day Solemn Mass at 9.30 has been a wonderful experience the past two years and this Service may be an opportunity for you to bring your friends. As usual there will be communions at both Masses on Thanksgiving Day.

On the Feast of St. Clement, Wednesday of this week, we remember in our prayers the new Rector, the priests and people of St. Clement's Church, our Sister Parish in center city.

The Advent Corporate Communion of men and boys is held throughout the Episcopal Church on the First Sunday in Advent each year. Our parish corporate communion will be at 8 o'clock next Sunday.

On the Four Sundays in Advent, beginning next Sunday, Father McCoy and Mr. Hill, one of our staff seminarians, will give a series of dialogue instructions at the 9.45 discussion class. Following are the topics:

"How can my life have purpose?"
"What is a vocation and how can I tell if I have one?"
"What is the Christian view of sex?"
"How can I be the person God wants me to be?"

These sessions are open to everyone. A light breakfast is provided for those who are breaking their fast after Holy Communion.

School of Prayer—On Saturday, December 3, we are having an Advent School of Prayer for the members of St. Mark's Parish and any other interested persons. The Rev. Father Packard, of the Order of the Holy Cross, will be the Conductor. The day will begin at 9.30 A. M. with Mass and close at 3 o'clock. Saturday was selected for this occasion because it makes it possible for more people to attend. There will be opportunity to register for this School in the near future.

Christmas in the Tennessee Mountains: The Sisters of St. Mary distribute gifts, new clothing, rehabilitated clothing to the needy people who live near their Convent at Sewanee. Toys, layettes, clothing are requested. On Thursday, December 1, the Women of St. Mark's are going to pack a box (we hope a huge box) of gifts you will donate for this good work. Leave your gifts at the Parish House any day before December 1. Mark them "Sewanee".

The Spirit of Christmas will pervade the December 1st meeting of the Women of St. Mark's. We will devote the evening to the work of the Handcraft Committee and it is hoped that our efforts will result in a large donation to St. Mary's Mission, Sewanee, Tennessee, Harrison House at the Episcopal Hospital and the House of Rest for the Aged. Supper will be at 6.15 in the parish hall, at $1.25.

A Flash for the Kids ! Chief Halftown of WFIL-TV will be the guest and main attraction at this year's Christmas Party on December 28th. More details will be given later. ♯ A bubble-gum-blowing contest will be part of this program.

The United Thank Offering from St. Mark's for the Fall-Ingathering was $320.70.

". . . now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed . . . . The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light . . . . put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof."

LITURGICAL NOTE

Thursday is the Feast of Our Lady's Conception, a day long celebrated in our mother Church of England and throughout our Communion. It is a time fitted to render to St. Mary her due veneration as the Theokotos, the Mother of God, and also to decry any attempts to incorporate her into the Divinity. She is the daughter of the Eternal Father, Mother of the Incarnate Son, and Spouse of the Holy Spirit. She is the most blessed among women, but ever remains, the humble "slave-girl" (handmaid) of the Lord.

NOTES

The Flowers on the Altar today are given by Mr. George Crouse in loving memory of his mother, Jane M. Crouse.

Envelopes for Those Who Pledged during the recent Stewardship Canvass have been assigned to those who have indicated their schedule of giving. The plan of the canvass was for the new pledging to begin on the first Sunday of December. New envelopes replace the remaining December, 1955, envelopes, which should be destroyed.

A New Altar Frontal has been given in loving memory of Mabel Dickson Cherry and was blessed at the early mass last Sunday. The parish will also be grateful to learn that the Church has received a legacy from the Estate of Miss Cherry for the Endowment Fund in the amount of $15,400.00.

An Advent Program in preparation for Christmas will be held on Sunday, December 18th, by the High School students, beginning with supper at 6.30 P. M. Included in the evening will be a service of special Advent interest, in the Lady Chapel.

Lest We Forget? Children's Christmas Party at 1.30 P. M. on Holy Innocents' Day, December 28th. The annual Blessing of Children will take place before the party. Christmas gifts to our children will be distributed on Christmas Day in connection with the 9.00 o'clock Children's Mass.

Our Chapter of St. Vincent's Guild of Acolytes is always happy to receive new men and older boys who would like to serve our Lord at the Altar. Serving at the Masses and following a rule of life, this is an office of high honor for a layman. The rector, who is chaplain of the Guild, will be pleased to learn of any who are interested.

CHRISTIAN VOCATIONS

An all-day Diocesan Conference on Christian Vocations will be held at St. Mark's on the Feast of St. John the Evangelist, Tuesday, December 27th. This project is part of the splendid job being done in the Diocese by the Committee on Christian Vocations under the direction of The Rev. William J. Alberts. The conference is being made possible by the generosity of a friend of St. Mark's who is vitally interested in this work. Young people of senior high school and college age from the entire diocese will attend with their parish clergy.

The day will begin at 10.30 with the Holy Eucharist. Bishop Hart will be the celebrant and a simple breakfast will be served following the service for those who wish to make their Communions.

The various opportunities for service in the Church will be presented in the morning. The parochial ministry will be presented by Fr. Alberts. Opportunities for social service will be set forth by Miss D. Milo Upjohn of the City Mission. Miss Edith Daly, Director of Religious Education, St. Thomas Church, Whitemarsh, will talk about service in that field. Fr. Sidney Atkinson, O H. C., will present the religious life for men. Rev. Mother Virginia of the All Saints Sisters of the Poor will set forth the work of religious vocations for women.

At the luncheon which will be served at 1.00 P. M., Bishop Hart will make the keynote address "The Church's Concern for Christian Motivation in the Choice of a Vocation." The afternoon will be devoted to seminars on subjects of particular interest to the young people present and the day will end at 3.30 P. M.

If you plan to attend and will be our guest for lunch, please make your reservation as soon as possible with the office. Your non-Church friends are also invited to come with you. Here is a cause of great interest to Christ and His Church and to YOU.

EDWARD C. McCOY.

CHILDREN'S SERMON

PROCESSION to the CRECHE

::During the singing of the following hymn, the congregation will follow the crucifer to the Creche. Children having "gift-kalendars" for the Holy Child may place them in the alms basin provided for them.

O come, all ye faithful, Joyful and triumphant,
O come ye, O come ye to Bethlehem;
Come and behold him, born the King of angels;

Refrain
O come, let us adore him,
O come, let us adore him,
O come, let us adore him, Christ the Lord.

Sing, choirs of angels, sing in exultation,
Sing, all ye citizens of heaven above;
Glory to God..in..the..highest;
Refrain.

See how the shepherds, summoned to the cradle,
Leaving their flocks, draw nigh to gaze;
We too will thither bend our joyful footsteps;
Refrain.

Child, for us sinners poor and in the manger,
We would embrace thee, with love and awe;
Who would not love thee, loving us so dearly?
Refrain.

Yea, Lord, we greet thee, born this happy morning;
Jesus, to thee be glory giv'n;
Word of the Father, now in flesh appearing;
Refrain.

V. Our help is in the name of the Lord.
R. Who hath made heaven and earth.

V. The Lord be with you.
R. And with thy spirit.

COLLECT and BLESSING of the CRECHE

::Then shall the congregation, following the crucifer, return to the nave of the church for the conclusion of the service.

EUCHARISTIC DEVOTIONS

. . . Emmanuel, God with us in the Holy Sacrament

Hymn

Therefore we, before him bending,
This great Sacrament revere;
Types and shadows have their ending,
For the newer rite is here;
Faith our outward sense befriending,
Makes our inward vision clear.

Glory let us give and blessing
To the Father and the Son,
Honor, thanks, and praise addressing,
While eternal ages run;
Ever too his love confessing
Who from both with both is one. Amen.

V. Thou gavest them bread from heaven.
R. Containing in itself all sweetness.

Collect and Divine Praises

Hymn

God of God, Light of Light,
Lo! he abhors not the Virgin's womb:
Very God, Begotten, not created;
O come, let us adore him,
O come, let us adore him,
O come, let us adore him, Christ the Lord. Amen.

NOTES

The Flowers on the Altar Today are in memory of Mrs. Anna Granahan, given by her son, James Granahan.

The Service of Nine Lessons this afternoon carries on an English tradition of great beauty and interest. Nine lessons are read from the Old and New Testament, setting forth the significance of the Incarnation of our Lord. Each is read by one of the members of the parish family — a choirboy, an acolyte, the choirmaster, a vestryman, the seminarian, a deacon, a priest, the Rector, etc. The lessons alternate with music expressing the thought of each reading. The service closes with Eucharistic devotions. All choirs will participate.

The Fellowship of Prayer will have its monthly meeting on Thursday, January 19th. Supper reservations should be made as soon as possible. Intentions for the prayer list may be mailed before the meeting.

The Staff of the Sunday School will meet at 8.15 P. M., Thursday, January 19th, in the library.

Christmas Altar Flowers were given as memorials by Miss Nancy McKean, Rev. and Mrs. Harold M. Lufkin, Dr. and Mrs. Russell U. Klees, the Haas Family and Mrs. Ruth O'Neill.

The Rector's Message

A former worshipper at St. Mark's recently returned to Philadelphia and was seemingly displeased to find that we had become so "low church". I presume that most people using the terms "high" and "low" refer to externals. However, the whole matter is relative. Churchmen from some parishes think we are little different than Rome; a few find us "lower" than other Catholic parishes. This interesting but unimportant subject gives us an opportunity to consider the ideal toward which we strive in the liturgical life of St. Mark's.

The Altar and the Eucharistic Sacrifice are the center of our corporate life, which is our worship. Blessed with a House of God which speaks of heavenly things, using appointments of great beauty which have been given for the glory of God, we share together in the offering of a liturgical action marked by simplicity. That is the virtue of the Prayer Book rite. We only enrich that rite by using hymns and portions of Holy Scriptures at points where the Prayer Book permits. It is not uncommon for strangers, unaccustomed to much ceremonial, to remark that they are amazed how easy it was to follow our Service in the Prayer Book.

I suspect that some churchmen think that the privilege of receiving Holy Communion at all Masses is "low church." They agree that in theory this should be true, but their training brings them to believe that it is more Catholic to receive at an early hour. Nothing could be further from the truth. If one is prepared by careful self-examination and confession of sin, and comes to Mass fasting, he is ready for the Blessed Sacrament at any hour. If we worry about persons coming to Communion at Solemn Mass unprepared and after a breakfast, how are we sure that some do not come to earlier Masses in the same way?

Our Solemn Mass, rich as it is in its setting, simple as it is in its Prayer Book rite, is a glorious experience of holy worship. Our congregation really takes its part, singing portions of the Mass, while those communicants desiring to receive the Bread of Life make our Eucharistic Offering complete as both Sacrifice and Communion.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

Lent will bring us many spiritual blessings if each of us will plan and follow a simple, but clear, Lenten Rule. We turn to our Lord for the three underlying parts of a good rule: Prayer, Giving, and Fasting. Here is the outline of a way to God taught by Christ, tried and tested for 2000 years, and as true as ever in 1956. Prayer should include the corporate prayer of the Eucharist as well as a daily time of quiet for meditation. Your parish church has two or three Masses each day to help you in your Lenten "Way". Giving means sacrificial response to the Giver of all good things. Lent is a good time to learn that we NEED to give. Fasting disciplines us in our bodily needs and desires so that the Spirit may rule our whole lives. Lent is not merely for the clergy and a few pious souls; it is for you—"average Christian"—who needs this yearly season to put your spiritual house in order.

The Rector's Message

The House of God is the home of the members of Christ's Family here on earth. There are good manners appropriate to this Household, as there are in any home. Certain customs at corporate worship might be thought of as the good manners which churchmen should value. I would suggest some of these which are in the spirit of sound tradition.

Coming into the House we should greet the Head. Reverence to the Altar or to the Blessed Sacrament, if it is on the Altar, is a greeting to our Lord. If the Sacrament is reserved we genuflect — touching one knee to the floor. Altars without the Sacramental Presence still remind us of the central place of Christ in our lives, and a simple inclination or bow of the head is our greeting.

We should never be late for our "appointments" with God. On time for Church means being in our places at least five minutes before the service begins. The only discourtesy in unnecessary lateness is to our Lord.

When we come forward to receive Holy Communion, it would increase reverence if we would not stand in the aisles waiting for a place at the rail. Beginning at the front of the nave communicants should go promptly to the Altar and those further back can come forward at such intervals as to keep the rail full at all times. If possible, leave the communion rail by the doors at the side of the chancel.

To the women of the congregation, church manners suggest three things: (1) Lift your veil even if it is a very short one, before coming to the Altar. (2) Remove both gloves, and (3) Remove lip-stick. (The reason for this last should be obvious.)

At the rail place your right hand upon your left, palm open and fingers extended. Hands should be raised to almost shoulder height. It helps in communicating from the Chalice if you will guide the BASE of the Chalice with one hand. Stay at the rail until the third person at your left has received the Chalice.

Finally, we should not leave the Church until after the Blessing. Our Services are not very long, and we ought to be willing to give God that much time when we come to His Banquet.

I hope these suggested church manners will not seem like arbitrary rules but will be thought of as ways of reverence in perfecting our worship together.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

"If illness or infirmity keeps you from the Church, the Church can be brought to you." When we are sick we need all the strength, spiritual and physical, we can find. The Church, through the priest, offers us God's healing Grace in the Sacraments of Holy Communion, Penance and Unction, as well as through prayer and the laying on of hands. If you are ill, if you enter a period when you must be confined, if you face an operation, one of your priests should know about it immediately so that he can make available the desired ministrations. The Blessed Sacrament can be brought to the home or hospital at a convenient hour during the first part of the day. Before the priest arrives a small table should be placed beside the bed and covered with a white cloth. A crucifix and candle help devotionally, but at least there should be one candle (lighted before the priest arrives) and a bowl of water and a small napkin. As the priest brings the Blessed Sacrament with him, he should be admitted to the house or received in the hospital room quietly and with no unnecessary conversation. At the end of the service, which is very brief, the priest may slip away quietly to make further visits with the Blessed Sacrament.

The Prayer Book instructs us that a sick person should consider making a special confession of sin. If one is prepared and has made his self-examination, the priest will be glad to hear the confession before administering Communion.

St. James' admonition to one sick to "call for the elders of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the Name of the Lord," should be seriously considered. This is the Sacrament of Unction, anointing for spiritual healing. It should be administered at least once in every sickness, and might properly follow the particular confession of sin. Confession, Unction and Holy Communion—these are the ministries of the Church for the sick in body, mind or spirit. They are the means of God's Grace when we turn to Him for health, strength and comfort. One of the most important reasons why we have a priest in a parish is that he may be the Minister of these Sacraments in time of need. It is not only a priest's duty; it is his privilege and joy.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

THE HALFWAY MARK

Today Is Mid-Lent or Laetare (Rejoicing) Sunday, on which the Church in some measure relaxes the liturgical austerity proper to this season of penance. The violet vestments are put aside for the more cheerful rose-colored ones. The Deacon and Subdeacon wear their usual vestments, symbolic of holy gladness. The Introit bids the faithful, in the midst of Lent's spiritual warfare, to rejoice and be filled with new strength and consolation. An ancient custom of the day was the distribution of bread to the poor, which explains the choice of the Gospel lection and also the popular designation "Refreshment Sunday." The Epistle in speaking about our true native land and mother, the heavenly Jerusalem, is responsible for another popular name, "Mothering Sunday." Today in the English Church the custom still remains of visiting the mother church of the diocese with special offerings.

Departed This Life on Friday, March 2nd: Gertrude Middleton.
"Rest eternal grant unto her, O Lord."

Lenten Quiet Evening, at St. Margaret's House, Saturday, March 24 from 4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Robert E. Sullivan, Jr. Please register early.

The Rector's Message

On Passion Sunday we enter upon the most solemn days of the Church Year. Veiled crosses and subdued music without organ bring a sobering note to our worship. The Liturgy prepares us for the stirring events we commemorate in Holy Week, recalling the Passion of our Blessed Lord.

In Holy Week, as followers of our Lord on His way to the Cross, we again relive these mighty acts with Him. Next Sunday we follow Him into the Holy City, hailing Him as King with branches of palms. During the week the wonderful story is told and retold in the Passion narratives from the Evangelists. A note of joy enters on Maundy Thursday when we commemorate the Institution of the Lord's Supper and the gift of the Eucharist. One Mass, with a general parish communion, is followed by the Watch at the Altar of Repose. It is an honor to share in this Watch. "Could ye not watch with me one brief hour?"

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings the service of Tenebrae is sung. Good Friday begins with the singing of the Passion according to St. John, as the simple Mass of the Pre-Sanctified marks Christ's Death upon the Cross.

The Vigil on Easter Even is a service of beautiful symbolism. The Light of Christ spreads from the Paschal candle to each worshipper. The Blessing of the water recalls our Christian Birth at the Font, and we renew our Baptismal vows together. Finally the Mass at midnight celebrates Christ's victory over death, and the faithful come to receive their Easter communions.

May I urge each of you to give as much of Holy Week as you can to following of our Lord. If we will follow the Church's Liturgy day by day, we can experience a closeness with Him not otherwise possible. It is a rare privilege to live the devotions, meditations and ceremonies of Passiontide in the Fellowship of the Church.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

Our Lord speaks of Himself as the Good Shepherd. Through Him we know the Love of God, that God cares for every soul that He has created, and that He has brought redemption to all mankind. Christ is the Good Shepherd and His Mystical Body, the Church, is made up of those who have received the loving embrace of the one divine Pastor. Because of His Love, gifts are given to men. Of these gifts the sacraments are the most blessed, for they bring us covenanted Grace.

In the fellowship of those called and received by the Good Shepherd, love is the greatest of all virtues. "The greatest of these is love." Sin, and especially the sin of fear, brings hostility into the Christian fellowship. In the individual, this hostility is a serious spiritual sickness. In the life of the Church it has deadly effects. We know how even the common cold can spread by infection. In the same way fear and hostility can infect those about us.

As sheep under the Good Shepherd, we have the knowledge that there is no fear in love. Perfect love casts out fear. We know that our love is far from perfect; that we are sinners who need to ask forgiveness of a loving Father. Yet the rule of love must be the basic ethic of the Church, and every part of it. The insidious sickness of hostility can only be cured by the love we have through Christ.

Hostility is considered "natural" in the world. It is "human", the world says, to carry resentments, to get even, and to refuse to forgive. But the Good Shepherd has led us out of the world. We have a new commandment—that we love one another. Only through Christ is this possible. But we ARE Christ's, and the law of love is binding for us.

Hostility is the devil's weapon to slay the sheep. But the Good Shepherd is always near to save us from the Enemy. Our Blessed Lord said, "I am the Good Shepherd". And it is our faith that in bringing God's love to us, He gave His life for His sheep.

NOTES

Altar Flowers today have been given by Charles and Thomas Saltzgueber in loving memory of their grandfather, Charles Saltzgueber.

St. Mark's Day. Wednesday is the Feast of our Patron, St. Mark, Evangelist. Solemn Mass will be celebrated at 7 o'clock. All are invited to a buffet breakfast in the parish hall after the Mass.

The Award for our second annual Composer's Contest went to Frederick C. Schreiber of New York for his setting of the text of the Proper Offertory for the Feast of St. Mark, "The Righteous Shall Rejoice." This will be sung for the first time at our patronal festival at the Solemn Mass, and will be repeated next Sunday at the Solemn Mass. The Hannah's Mass, which won the award last year, will be sung at both services. The manuscripts will be on display in the parish hall after each service.

St. Mark, Our Patron Saint, was one of the first converts made by the Apostles after the Lord's Resurrection. He attached himself in a very special way to the service of St. Peter and was known as his "Interpreter." Later St. Mark was consecrated Bishop of Alexandria, Egypt, where, after about twenty years of Episcopacy, he was martyred, about the year 68.

Father Hawkins, of the Order of the Holy Cross, is assisting in the parish the last two weeks in April. We are grateful for the privilege of having Fr. Gill with us these past weeks. The splendid work of the Holy Cross Liberian Mission seems much closer to us now and many of us will be moved to support this work by our prayers and offerings.

The Sacrament of Confirmation will be administered by Bishop Armstrong next Sunday at 5.30 P. M. Members of the congregation will want to make every effort to be present on this occasion to greet the Bishop and those confirmed.

Men and Women of St. Mark's save Thursday Evening, May 3, to come together with our parish family at a dinner, sponsored by the Women of St. Mark's. Mr. Spencer Irvin will be our special guest. Our theme is "The Catholic in Action". To further our sense of family closeness and joy, we are also asking you to participate in a hobby show during the evening. Do you have a hobby to show and talk about? Share it with us that night. Call Mrs. Lufkin, BA 2-2334 and tell her you want to join in the fun. (Margaret Evans.)

Spring Meeting of Diocesan Altar Guild on Wednesday, May 2nd, at 8 P. M. in St. John's Church, Bala-Cynwyd. Address by the Rector, the Rev. Melville B. Gurley, followed by meeting and social hour in the parish house.

Catholic Laymen's Union Meeting on Tuesday, April 24th, at St. Augustine's Church of the Covenant, 27th and Girard Avenue. Address on "The Bible and the Dogma and Theology of the Church," by the Rev. Charles K. C. Lawrence, Christian Association, University of Pennsylvania.

The Rector's Message

The newspapers recently made headlines out of a speech by one of our bishops at the Methodist General Conference. The impression was given that intercommunion was right around the corner, and it was only a short jump to organic union. We learned an odd bit of history, too. We were told that the Episcopal and Methodist Churches stemmed from the same Mother Church of England, and, by virtue of that, were already closely related. This fiction would make the bishops of both churches practically the same, and we could easily blend the two strains by having Methodists assisting at Episcopal consecrations, and vice versa.

A few days later the Methodists gave final approval to women as full ministers in their church. The advocates of reunion on sentimental principles may or may not have considered the problems of a Ministry in the "uniting churches". Women in priesthood is not an unknown thing, but they were priestesses of pagan cults. Priesthood as founded by our Lord has always been an order for men. A man ordained to the priesthood shares simply in our Lord's Priesthood. His is a sacramental office ministering only what Christ Himself gives us and is doing for us. It is significant that our Methodist friends and others working for equal rights for women in the Ministry have no time for or interest in religious orders for women. The Catholic Church has always offered a high place of service to Christ for women who will embrace vows of poverty, chastity and obedience. Sisters in Religion have a ministry more vital, and more demanding, than women preachers could ever have. Here is something to suggest to our separated brethren the next time a commission on approaches to unity meets.

Somewhere I read that even some Methodists are concerned about the prospects of women bishops. I chuckle to think of the quiet concern there would be over the styles of mitres which these prelatesses would wear.

Lest we get too concerned about news accounts of the personal opinions of individual churchmen, or even the speculations of a commission of General Convention, we should remember that Christian history is full of oddities which never destroyed the essential Catholic character of the Church as Christ founded it. Somehow, God the Holy Spirit still works within Christ's Mystical Body. Beyond all this, we must still pray and work for real unity—not something called organic unity. Unity within the Episcopal Church and the Anglican Communion must be our first objective. As a true spiritual fellowship, firm in the Catholic Faith, loyal to the Catholic Way of Life, we can then honestly someday play a real part in fulfilling our Lord's prayer, "that they all may be one".

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

Father Paige is preaching the sermon at St. Clement's Church this morning at Solemn Mass, commemorating the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Laying of the Cornerstone. One Hundred years ago this morning the Rev. Joseph P. B. Wilmer, D. D., the first Rector of St. Mark's, preached the sermon at the Service when the cornerstone of St. Clement's was laid. We are happy to have Fr. Bicknell, O.H.C., who is assisting the parish during May, as our preacher this morning.

Next Sunday is Whitsunday, the Church's glorious festival in honor of God the Holy Spirit. On this day, or during the Octave, every communicant should receive Holy Communion. It is also an appropriate time for every one to make their confession. A procession will precede next Sunday's Solemn Mass.

Fellowship of Prayer—The final Spring Meeting of the Fellowship of Prayer will be held on Thursday evening, May 24th, at 7.30 o'clock, in the Lady Chapel. Father Bicknell, O.H.C., will give the Meditation. This is a postponement of the earlier date of May 17th.

Department of Christian Relations Institute — Monday, May 14th, at Christ Church, starting at 4.00 P. M. The subject of the Institute will be "The Drinking Problem and the Problem Drinker."

Week End Retreat for Men—May 18, 19, 20, at the Diocesan Conference Center. This is an opportunity for the men of St. Mark's to grow spirtually by learning more of the love of God in the life of prayer.

OUR SUNDAY SCHOOL closed last Sunday after a very successful season. In the name of the parish I want to thank those who taught and assisted with the school this past year. Miss Mary Evans has been Chairman of the Committee to assist the Sunday School with Mrs. Charles Miller as our faithful secretary. We are most grateful for the assistance of Mr. Robert Hill, Mr. Donald Shields and Mr. John Bartholomew of the Philadelphia Divinity School. Miss Clara Haas, Miss Ellen Connolly, Miss Margaret Evans and Sister Darthea have been regular teachers, and they have been from time to time assisted by Mrs. Edna Schreiner and Mrs. Ralph Pitman. Our registered nurse, Mrs. Bernadette Webster, has done a splendid job in caring for the babies and very young children. We plan to resume this important part of our program as soon as the parish house is completed. All these good people have done a wonderful job for St. Mark's. I hope that all parents will make it possible for their children to worship God every Sunday during the summer. Plans for the re-opening of the Sunday School will be announced in September.

THE SUNDAY COFFEE HOUR has become a real institution in our parish life. This would not be possible but for the faithful hostesses who prepare and serve at coffee hour, and those who care for the many little details involved. I join the parish in expressing appreciation to them.

EMMETT P. PAIGE, Rector.

TODAY'S FINALS—

Coffee Hour—These pleasant gatherings after Solemn Mass will be resumed in the fall.

Sung Evensong—Evening Prayer will be said each Sunday at 3.00 P. M. until the first Sunday in October, when the Choral Service will be resumed.

Nursery—The care of babies and small children in the nursery, under a registered nurse, will be available today for the last time until such time in the fall when our new facilities are completed. We hope that parents who have used these facilities will be able to make other baby-sitting arrangements so that they will be able to attend services regularly.

The Rev. Michael R. Becker will this week come to St. Mark's as Assistant to the Rector. The members of the parish and congregation will be privileged to meet Father Becker after Solemn Mass next Sunday.

Mr. Donald M. Shields will leave the parish staff after Solemn Mass today. He will return to the Diocese of Chicago where he will be ordained to the diaconate on June 18th. He has been appointed Assistant on the staff of St. James Cathedral, Chicago.

Mr. Robert Keel, of the Philadelphia Divinity School, will succeed Mr. Shields as seminarian on the parish staff.

The Choir Outing, which the members of the parish give to the boys of the Choir at the close of each season, is scheduled for the near future. As is our plan this year, no special appeal is made for this project, but there may be members of the parish and congregation who care to support this outing by sending an offering to the Church Office.

The Fernanda Wanamaker Memorial String Division

of our famous organ will be heard again next Sunday after a silence of almost two years. Installed in 1922, it had gradually fallen into a state of disrepair that made it necessary to disconnect it from the main organ until funds could be found for its restoration. A generous gift from JOHN WANAMAKER, PHILADELPHIA, made this possible. All of the pipes have been removed for careful cleaning and such minor repairs as were necessary, then replaced on their chests, regulated and retuned. Many hundreds of worn leather parts were replaced, and new mechanical action for the chimes was installed.

These pipes, beautiful to see as well as to hear, are placed on the highest level of the organ, speaking into the chancel through grills in the ceiling. The tone produced by this division somewhat resembles the string section of an orchestra hence its name. Most organs have but one or two stops of this variety; very few contain an entire division of such loveliness as we possess. Our String Organ is especially appropriate for the many quiet parts of our services where soft organ music can be used with fine effect. During the mass next Sunday only the string division will be used at such places: a thanksgiving in action, as it were, to be a part of the whole of our oblation.

The remainder of the organ has been receiving very special attention during the past year. The Vestry voted funds for its complete overhaul. It has been thoroughly cleaned and adjusted and is now undergoing its final re-tunings. Another generous gift, made up of contributions from interested parishioners and non-parishioners, enabled us to revoice several reed stops in the "Bombarde" section for more effective use. The screen organ which separates the chancel from the Lady Chapel was restored two summers ago.

Next Sunday, following the Solemn Mass, a short tour of the organ will be conducted for those who are interested in seeing some of it in detail. The Pedal division is on the first floor level and can be seen without climbing the steps to the console loft, although anyone who wishes to view the console will be welcome to do that also. Additional pipework may be seen on that level too. The meeting place for the tour will be announced in next Sunday's leaflet.

The Flowers on the Altar Today are in memory of Gertrude Middleton, given by her former associates of the Pennsylvania Compensation Rating Bureau.

We Welcome The Rev. Michael R. Becker to our parish family. Father Becker arrived in the parish this past week and is now in residence at his apartment in the rectory. We are grateful for his coming to be a priest on our staff. The members of the parish and congregation will be privileged to meet Father Becker after Solemn Mass today.

At the Eleven o'Clock Mass, if there are more communicants than can conveniently kneel at the rail, will additional communicants please wait at the chancel gate, leaving the space between the choir stalls free.

By Action of the Vestry the annual election for three vestrymen will take place on Wednesday, June 6th. The polls will be open between 5.00 and 6.00 P. M., either in the parish library or some other room which may need to be designated at the time, due to moving or demolition for parish house improvements. As usual, anyone who prefers to mail to the Judges of Election a note, casting a ballot for three nominees, may validly vote in that way.

Office Arrangements and Hours for the Staff:

The Parish Office—During the re-building of the parish house, the parish office will be in the front room of the rectory. The telephone numbers will be the same and the hours as usual until July 1st. During the summer the parish office will be open from 9.30 A. M. to 1.30 P.M. Monday through Friday.

Mr. Day.—The office of the choirmaster has been temporarily moved to 1731 Pine Street. Telephone KI 5-3037. If no answer, call PE 5-5195.

Sister Darthea—During the month of June Sister Darthea will be in the sacristy from 10 A. M. to 12 noon. Other appointments can be made thru the church office PE 5-1416. This arrangement will be resumed upon her return after Labor Day until the completion of the parish house.

Sexton—All deliveries should be made to the office in the rectory. The sexton may also be contacted through the temporary church office.

At the Spring Ingathering of the United Thank Offering the amount received from St. Mark's was $305.00. Not only is this amount greater than for the same period last year, but also indicated a very gratifying increase in the number of contributors.

Family Sunday at St. Mary's Chapel will be held on Sunday, June 10. On that day all communicants who have been confirmed for fifty years or more will be honored. A dinner will be held at 3.30 P.M. ($3.50) followed by Evensong and Benediction. Friends of St. Mary's may obtain tickets at Chapel office, 1831 Bainbridge St.

Quiet Evening for women-members of the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament in the Octave of Corpus Christi, Wednesday, June 6th, from 5.15 to 9 P. M., at St. Margaret's House. Conductor: The Rev. Kenneth A. B. Hinds.

Today Is Shut-Ins Day—Set aside to encourage the remembering of the sick and shut-ins. Our St. Mark's shut-ins would enjoy being visited and remembered by members of the parish. Those interested in this project can secure names at the Church office.

KALENDAR FOR THE WEEK

MONDAY—St. Barnabas, Ap. M.
WEDNESDAY—St. Anthony of Padua, C. D.
THURSDAY—St. Basil the Great, B. C. D.
FRIDAY—7.45 A. M.—Parish Requiem,
NEXT SUNDAY—Young People's Picnic—Montgomery Park.

Annual Offering for the Work of the Altar Society Next Sunday. Opportunity to give for this important work is offered by using the special envelopes found in the pews. Members of the parish can in this way share in the replacement of vestments and linens when needed and for the care of the sacred vessels and other appointments. The Rector and Sister Darthea would also like to know of any women in the parish interested in doing Altar work in the fall.

At the Annual Parish Election held last Wednesday, the following gentlemen were elected to serve on the Vestry of St. Mark's for a term of four years:

Dr. Burton Chance
N. C. McElroy
Clayton McElroy

The Vestry meets on Tuesday to organize for the coming year.

A Short Tour of the Organ and Console will be conducted today after the Solemn Mass. Anyone who is interested should meet Mr. Day in the cloister by the entrance to St. John's Altar. Some of the organ is on the chancel floor level and may be seen without climbing stairs to the left.

Catholic Laymen's Union—Picnic, Saturday, June 16th, at Judge Van Roden's Farm. Box supper—or old fashioned country supper available, by reservation, $1.50. Iced tea and lemonade furnished. Members and families invited.

The Rector's Message

Planning for improvements is always lots of fun. It is necessary to have patience once the work begins. The various stages in getting ready for the renovation of our parish house have been most interesting, although often very time-consuming. Many hours were given by members of the parish in planning for and carrying out our Canvass last fall. Success in that project was essential if we were to think about going ahead with the parish house. We had splendid results, as you know, and with confidence that our people will follow through in the three years of pledging, we are proceeding with the work on the parish house.

Last week we moved out of the parish house, and turned the building over to the architect and contractor. The parish office is temporarily located in the first floor front of the rectory. The choirmaster has taken his office with him to Pine street, while choir rehearsals are held across the street through the kindness of the Women's City Club. The Emergency Aid Society has let us store a piano. The rest of the equipment is now in the basement of the church.

At last the work is under way, and we shall realize our dream of a modern, functional parish house within the walls of the present building. There will be three floors in our new plan, the adding of a ground floor to include the offices and a couple of classrooms. The first floor will have our large meeting room which can be divided by moveable partitions into five study units. The room will seat or feed about 150. There will also be a kitchen which is being planned by a committee of the Women of St. Mark's. The parish library will be a part of the large room. The second floor will have the choir room, choir vestment room, and vesting room for the Canterbury Choir. The choirmaster's office will be on this floor. A sizeable Lounge Room will provide a place for smaller gatherings, young people's activities, and choir boys' relaxation. On each floor there will be proper rooms for both men and women.

The plan requires some changes in the lawn near the parish house, and a slight relocation of the walk. The city building code also insists on two outside entrances to each of the three floors.

I am grateful to the many men and women who have helped in this project and many of whom will have numerous duties during the next few months as the construction proceeds. It will be a happy day for all of us when we gather to rededicate this parish building, and begin again our Sunday School, Coffee Hour and meetings in new and pleasant surroundings. I know then that we shall be glad that we worked so hard and are giving so liberally to make it all possible.

The Rector's Message

The Book of Common Prayer is a Catholic book of rites and ceremonies of the Church. The service of Holy Communion, "commonly called the Mass", is theologically, structurally and by intention the same service given to us by our Lord at the Last Supper, and developed through 2000 years of use. The other six sacraments are also included by rite or direction for use. The Prayer Book safeguards the intention of the Anglican Communion and the Episcopal Church to have Catholic Sacraments celebrated by an historic Catholic Ministry regardless of the whims and opinions of individual priests and laymen. In our worship and life, St. Mark's witnesses to this fact that the Prayer Book is Catholic in all essential things.

Our Solemn Mass, for example, is loyal to the Anglican Liturgy, following in form and content what every Episcopal Church is directed to do when the Eucharist is celebrated. One may well ask about parts spoken or sung which are not specifically in the Prayer Book. Particular reference is made to the Introit, Gradual, Alleluia or Tract, the Agnus Dei, the Pax, the Communion Verse, the use of the Salutation, as well as metrical or plainsong hymns during the Mass, and a Motet at the Offertory. There is a rubric at the beginning of the Prayer Book which reads, "Hymns set forth and allowed by the Authority of this Church, and Anthems in the words of Holy Scripture or of the Book of Common Prayer, may be sung before and after any Office in this Book, and also before and after Sermons." Our hymns are from the authorized Church Hymnal, while the variable "Propers" are verses of psalms and from the Bible. Anthems and motets are from texts approved by the Church. The Introit, sung at the beginning of the Mass, is a psalm verse with an antiphon based on scriptural verses with the Gloria Patri. The Gradual and Alleluia, or Tract in Lent, are from the Bible, and are sung after the Epistle or Lesson where the rubric says, "Here may be sung a Hymn or an anthem." Psalms may properly be called hymns, as the Psalter was the hymnal of the Hebrews. The Agnus Dei is an ancient anthem now authorized in our hymnal. The Pax ("The Peace of the Lord be always with you; And with thy spirit") is said or sung after the Lord's Prayer as the priest fractures the Host. This is frankly an interpolation, but it is recommended by the Liturgical Commission. It was part of ancient liturgies, and will be a part of any revised Liturgy of the Episcopal Church.

The ceremonies connected with the Rite of Solemn Mass are in no way foreign to the Prayer Book, but enhance the words by traditional actions long associated with the Eucharist. Vestments, three Sacred Ministers, incense, and the Gospel Procession are all part of the heritage we receive from English Catholicism.

I have tried to emphasize the fact that even though the services in this parish church seem different than the average Episcopal Church, they are Prayer Book services. They are different because they are enriched with legitimate propers and traditional ceremonial, setting forth the intention of the compilers of the Prayer Book—that the services of the Church according to the Anglican Communion shall be the same services developed during 2000 years of Catholic worship and life, in the language of the people, and free from legendary and superstitious matter.

Episcopalians should be proud of their Prayer Book. We of St. Mark's can rightly rejoice that we use this Book to worship in the beauty of holiness and with the holiness of beauty.

The Rector's Message

This morning, the last Sunday in June, our Sunday leaflet with its service lists, weekly calendar and notes, and an occasional Message, is suspended until the middle of September. The leaflet goes by post each week to parishioners and friends who are unable to be with us on Sundays. St. Mark's family reaches far and wide—to those in the armed forces, former members and a host of friends who continue a spiritual relationship with the parish, and keep us in their prayers. May all of you, near and far, have a restful, happy and blessed summer.

I am especially grateful for the many blessings which have come to us this past year. Urban parishes have problems which offer many challenges and difficulties in these days of finding new objectives and even new methods. The things God asks of us are not easy, but, by His Grace, we have come a long way in the past five years. Someone has well said that the devil always works hardest where the stakes are highest. Your prayers and your faithfulness to our Holy Religion will make this parish a worthy portion of Christ's Catholic Church.

It is a real cause for thanksgiving that St. Mark's has a new Candidate for the Sacred Ministry studying at the Philadelphia Divinity School, and that Sister Mary Joseph, formerly Miss Marion Ayres, has been professed in the Order of St. Helena, while another young woman of our parish left last week to try her vocation in the Society of St. Margaret. We shall keep them in our prayers, and pray that others may be called from this parish family to serve God in the Priesthood and in the Religious Life.

The growth of our vestry as a part of the parish life has marked the past five years. These twelve men of our parish serve us well because first of all they are close to the spiritual life of the Church. The six auxiliary vestrymen also take their share of responsibility, and widen the effectiveness of the vestry system. I know you join with me in expressing appreciation to Mr. N. Crenshaw McElroy for his years of service as Accounting Warden. Mr. McElroy has consented to continue on the vestry as a member, however, even though he has asked to be relieved from the duties of parish financial officer.

The renovation of the parish house is foremost in our minds this summer. This endeavor, coming two years after the installation of our new heating system, is a venture of faith. Each of us has his share in the project. We are all working at this as a family. We shall need to meet a heavy schedule of payments this summer and fall, and every pledge and every offering is important as we proceed with this worthwhile job.

It is gratifying to have Father Becker with me to share the priestly, pastoral and teaching ministry in this parish. He will be in charge of the parish while I am back in New England for a few weeks. Our splendid group of acolytes and Mr. Day's Canterbury Choir will make it possible to continue the usual fine standard of services during the vacation months. For this we are all thankful.

When I took my first parish in 1932, the late Bishop Booth of Vermont told me that it takes five years for a priest and his people to begin to know each other. His words proved to be true at that time, and have come back to me as I reach the end of five years at St. Mark's this summer. Those who have carried on faithfully during this time have been most patient and kind. Together we see more clearly what our task must be in the coming years. This gives me the faith that God's Grace has not been given to you and me of St. Mark's in vain.

Father Becker will be in charge of the parish from July 16th through Labor Day.

With only one priest on duty during the summer months, you are asked to be patient if there is no immediate answer to the door bell or telephone. We shall do our best to keep up our usual practice of having a priest available twenty-four hours a day.

The Parish Office, temporarily in the rectory, will be open from 9:30 to 1:30 daily, Monday through Friday, beginning July 2nd until after Labor Day.

Holy Communion is administered at all Masses to confirmed members of the Episcopal Church, or to those in Communion with her. It is expected that all who present themselves at the Altar Rail are spiritually prepared and come fasting.

Sister Darthea will return to the parish on September 9th.

The 9 o'clock Mass, and Solemn Mass at 11 o'clock will be resumed as the regular Sunday Schedule on September 16th. Evensong and Devotions will be resumed October 7th.

The Rector's Message

I hope that every member of our congregation had a wonderful summer. Each of us needs some vacation, not only getting away from the routine, but a chance to visit new places or return to family and old friends. During the summer, life went on as usual at St. Mark's. Faithful acolytes, Canterbury Choir members and altar workers made it possible for us to have fine services. Beginning today we return to the fall schedule with Solemn Mass, the additional Mass at 9.00 o'clock on Sundays, and the choir of men and boys. Evensong and Devotions will be resumed on the first Sunday in October.

There will be many handicaps in our fall schedule until the parish house is completed. The renovation seems to proceed slowly only because the work is more extensive than we originally planned. We shall be richly rewarded, however, when the building is completed, and the people of St. Mark's can be justly proud of our common effort. Patience, flexibility and cooperation should be the watchwords for the next few months.

The Sunday School is the most seriously affected by our temporary lack of facilities. Father Becker has worked out a plan which gives every child some place at St. Mark's each Sunday. The help of the parents is needed to make this work. We want a strong nucleus of children ready to use our new classrooms when the parish house is completed.

Through the kindness of the pastor and people of the First Baptist Church our choir will have its rehearsals in their choir room until ours is ready. The Coffee Hour must be suspended for the time being, but I hope that we shall continue to welcome visitors and friends after the services.

The program of instruction and classes for adults has been planned as usual. Beginning the first Wednesday in October, the Inquirers' Class will be held in the front room of the rectory (temporarily the parish office). Will you acquaint friends and interested persons of this class which serves as a refresher course for those already confirmed, and pre-Confirmation instruction for those seeking the fuller life of the Church? A Confirmation class for children will also be arranged in the near future.

It is our privilege to welcome to the parish family the many students who find a church home with us. Seminarians from the Philadelphia Divinity School, those attending the universities, the medical colleges, schools for nursing and the music schools will find much in the truth and beauty of the Catholic Religion to draw them to St. Mark's. Father Becker and I are desirous of reaching these young people, and the friendly fellowship of the parish is always theirs to share.

As the life of the Church centers in the offering of the Eucharistic Sacrifice, so the life of the individual Christian must be centered in prayer and the sacramental means of grace. The main business of a parish is before the Altar, and for each member, it is on his knees. The full schedule of daily services is arranged simply for this end, that we may continue with Christians of over nineteen centuries to offer our highest service in worship. May we see clearly our mission as a parish to preserve Christ's Eucharistic Fellowship and bring others to share the things which are eternal.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

The Fall Schedule of services begins this week, as noted on the front page. Evensong and devotions will be resumed on Sunday, October 7th.

The Schedule for Confessions each Saturday is as follows: Fr. Paige at 12 to 1 and 7.30 to 8 P. M.: Fr. Becker from 4 to 5 P. M. When these hours are not convenient for penitents the clergy will be happy to make appointments at other times.

Sunday School—Until the Parish Hall is completed, the plan for our Sunday School will be this: Children will receive credit for attendance either by (1) coming with their parents to any of the Sunday masses, or (2) coming to a class session in the church proper at 9.40 to 10.15. Each child will have an attendance card on file at the church door, and it will be punched at whatever time the child appears. Special awards will be issued at Christmas time for perfect attendance on Sundays between now and that date. Since we cannot have our "Coffee Hour" either, it is assumed that most of our children will be coming to services with their parents. The plans for the 11 A. M. Nursery will be announced as soon as possible. The choir boys' class will meet at 9.30 A. M. in the Parish Office in the Rectory.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of This Week are the autumnal Ember Days, at which time the Church is asked to pray for the Sacred Ministry. These are days of fasting and abstinence.

The Fellowship of Prayer will hold its first meeting on Thursday, September 20th, at 7.30 P. M., in the Lady Chapel.

The Rector's Message

Throughout its history St. Mark's has maintained a high standard in Church Music. A pioneer in choirs of men and boys, our parish has been blessed with outstanding choirmasters who have brought to the services the very best in liturgical music. The Catholic Revival in the Anglican Communion did much for the cause of Church Music. It brought back the emphasis on Eucharistic worship and the choral service, especially the music of the Mass.

After many years of separation from the main stream of traditional liturgy and music, our communion did not immediately, however, find the best in ceremonial and music. The music of a century ago may have been good, but good music is not always good CHURCH music.

Much has been done in recent years in raising Anglican standards of music for the Mass and Offices to the equal of any age. Not so fortunate has been the standard of music for the occasional services, especially for weddings and funerals. It may be thought that the prevalence of these services apart from the Mass may have had a profound effect on them. Our Roman brethren, however, who have a more common use of the Mass at weddings and funerals, have not succeeded in achieving a very high standard in music for these services.

The Joint Commission on Church Music, appointed by General Convention of the Episcopal Church, has, in recent years, given serious thought to the matter of good music at weddings and funerals. Two booklets have been issued by the commission which set forth a worthy standard, and give many helpful suggestions to both priests and organists. These pamphlets provide profitable reading for the layman as well.

The greatest difficulty at the moment is with music at weddings. Because the Church had no standard of her own in this matter, music of a purely secular nature was imported into the service, and, perhaps with the help of Hollywood, it became "traditional". The average bride today walks to the altar to a tune by Wagner from a scene in an opera which depicts a marriage of persons with an unworthy motive. The wedding in "Lohengrin" has nothing to do with Christian marriage, and, by association, its music seems degrading to the Church's service. Even the granddaughter of Richard Wagner said, "I would be superstitious to get married to the 'Bridal Chorus'." . . . "The marriage of Lohengrin and Elsa did not last long." The Mendelssohn recessional has no better claim to a place in the Church.

Our worthy standard as a parish should hold for music at weddings as well as for the regular services. We should take seriously the recommendation of the Music Commission in this regard and find more suitable music in Bach, Purcell, Handel and many other composers who wrote for the Church. Mr. Day joins me in the decision that the music from operas by Wagner and Mendelssohn is not to be used at services in St. Mark's. We believe that such a course is consistent with our worthy past, and in line with the cause of good Church music today. Above all, it emphasizes the fact that a wedding is a service for the administration of a Christian sacrament, and not a social event dominated by current secular tastes.

Perhaps when members of the Church return to the ancient custom of the Nuptial Mass, there will be a greater concern for spiritual matters, the sacredness of the vows and the grace of Holy Communion and Blessing.

I could not conclude these thoughts on Church Music without expressing appreciation to our Choirmaster and the members of the choirs for leading us in God's praises with music in line with the best that St. Mark's has known, and a liturgical standard excelled by none.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

The Christian doctrines of Man and Eternal Life should establish for churchmen their views on death and the burial of the dead. While understanding the emotions aroused by the deep sense of loss when a loved one dies, the Church calls the faithful to dispel all hopeless sentiment in the belief that Christ overcomes death for those who have been made one with Him.

Our Lord's office in making possible "the Resurrection of the dead, and the Life of the world to come" gives meaning to the long-established custom of offering the Holy Sacrifice for the departed, especially at the time of the burial. Although this laudable practice was almost abandoned in the Anglican Communion due to the reaction against mediaeval corruption of Catholic doctrine, the Catholic Revival of 125 years ago restored the ancient truths both to the Prayer Book, and the Church's life. Organizations such as the Guild of All Souls have had a profound influence on the thinking of the Anglican Church.

Today in our own parish, as well as in an increasing number of congregations across the country, the Requiem Mass following the Burial Office is the normal funeral for churchmen. Quite in line with tradition, we omit flowers from the church, and cover the coffin with a pall as a symbol of the true equality of all God's children.

It is natural for loved ones and friends to desire to express their love and respect for the departed in some tangible way. What can they do now that flowers are becoming less and less associated with funerals? The suggestion has been made that loved ones and friends leave a memorial in the form of a fund, or some positive expression which can be used by the Church. I believe this would mean much to the members of St. Mark's, and I wish to offer to members of the congregation the opportunity to contribute to a MEMORIAL FUND which will be used for vestments or appointments needed in our worship, or to give a tangible memorial from the offerings at a particular funeral.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

The Inquirers' Class will have its first fall meeting on Wednesday Evening of this week at 8 o'clock, in the rectory common room. These informal classes are for those who wish to learn more about the Church and her Faith. Adults interested in confirmation should attend. Those who might wish to refresh their knowledge of the Faith and Practice of the Church are also invited.

The Weekly Noon Day Mass has been changed from Tuesday to Friday in the present schedule. We hope this will prove helpful to many of our friends in center city. Holy Communion is administered at this Mass as at all Masses at St. Mark's. We expect that all communicants will be confirmed, spiritually prepared and observing adequate fasting. We are grateful that the Rev. C. Edward Hopkin, Ph. D., has consented to be celebrant each Friday. It will also be noted that the 7.45 Mass on Monday has been omitted from the schedule.

The Congregation Sitting in the Front Part of the Nave, we imagine, is the hope of all clergy who officiate at Services. It would be helpful at noon day Intercessions if people would sit in the front part of the Church. Also for the time being the three rear pews of the Nave will not be used at the 11 o'clock Mass.

The Women of St. Mark's invite the Men of St. Mark's to join them at their first meeting on Thursday, October 4th. A dinner will be served at a reasonable price at 6.00 P. M. in the basement of Holy Trinity Parish House. There will be panel discussion on the topic suggested by the General Convention: "Social Drinking." We are planning to include in the panel a psychiatrist, an A. A. consultant and a social worker engaged in that type of work. There will be general discussion. Join our Parish Family for our first get-together.

The Boy Choir has reached its full strength of 17 boys. However, we do have a waiting list and will be happy to add to it the name of any boy between the ages of 8 and 11 who may be interested and can qualify.

The American Church Union should have the support of the people of St. Mark's Church in its program to extend and define the Catholic faith. As a parish we have made no contribution during 1956. The Rector wishes to make a $52.00 pledge from this parish and would appreciate receiving offerings for the A.C.U. within the next two weeks.

The House of Rest for the Aged, 5919 Wayne Avenue, Germantown, invites the members of the congregation to be present at Donation Day, Monday, October 8th. Tea will be served from 2 to 5 P. M.

Most Women of the Parish who understand the problem and are sensitive to the situation have learned to refrain from using lipstick before receiving the Chalice in Holy Communion. Some perhaps have not given thought to our concern for reverence to the Chalice and regard for our fellow communicants. Speaking practically—the women who do the Altar work would be greatly assisted, as it is almost impossible to remove lipstick stains from purificators. We hope we can count on the co-operation of all women in this matter.

NOTES

Evensong on Sunday is resumed this afternoon. The singing of the Evening Office, followed by devotions to our Blessed Lord, means a great deal to those who are able to attend. We are having this Service again at 5.30 o'clock, believing that it is the most convenient hour for the congregation and the men of our choir.

The Hour of Evening Prayer on weekdays, beginning tomorrow, October 8th, will be changed to 5.15 P. M. It has been suggested that we advance the hour of this service fifteen minutes in the hope that we may not only reach more members of the parish, but some of the large group of people who leave their place of business at 5 o'clock.

The American Church Union Cycle of Prayer will be observed in our parish tomorrow. The intention of the Mass at 7 o'clock will be for its work. Those unable to attend the Service or get to Church during the day are asked to pray particularly for the missionary objective of the Church Union in the extension of the Catholic faith. This would be a good time to assist in our annual parish pledge of $52.00 to the A.C.U., which should be made within the next two weeks.

Confirmation Preparation for Children begins on Saturday morning of this week. The class will meet in the Church at 10 o'clock.

The Thank Offering made by members of the confirmation class of 1956 was used to purchase two leather bound chancel prayer books, which have been placed in the clergy stalls.

A Quiet Day for business and professional women and others will be given at St. Margaret's House on Saturday, October 27th, starting at 8.30 A. M. Conductor: The Rev. W. E. Frieman. Please register early.

It will be an unusual privilege to hear an Address by the Rt. Rev. W. James Hughes, Bishop of Matabeleland, S. Rhodesia, Africa. Bishop Hughes is an outstanding Christian leader with first hand information of pressing problems of racial tension and communism in Africa. His topic will be "Time is not on our side." We urge you to make a special effort to attend, and both tell your friends about it and bring them with you. An informal coffee hour will follow the service.

Holy Communion is administered at all Masses at St. Mark's. Those who desire to receive should be members of the Episcopal Church and have been confirmed, or be members of a Church in communion with Anglican churches. As our Prayer Book requires, we should have made a spiritual preparation. This parish also upholds the ancient custom of the fast before communion, that the Blessed Sacrament may be received as the first food of the day. At the Solemn Mass, communicants should come to the rail during the singing of the Agnus Dei. At other Masses, a signal is given with the Sanctus bell.

WE ARE BUILDING

To build well takes time and patience.

We are building a stronger parish—whose members love St. Mark's because they first have an humble faith in God and are loyal to the Catholic Life in His Church.

We are building, or rebuilding, our parish house.

Those who love St. Mark's are having great joy in doing their utmost to share in this venture of faith.

Growth, and not decay; to build, not to tear down—each has a privilege to be a part of building for the glory of God and the future of His work in center-city Philadelphia.

✠

The Rev. E. Frank Salmon, D. D. returns to us this morning as our preacher. It is always good to welcome Dr. Salmon to the parish.

On Thanksgiving Day we shall have a Solemn Mass at 9.30. Our choirs will be combined for this special service, singing R. Vaughan Williams' Mass for Two Choirs and setting of Old Hundredth which he composed for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth. A trumpet will combine with organ and choir for this and will also be used for the prelude and postlude. There will be no sermon; the service will last forty-five minutes.

On the Feast of St. Clement, Friday of this week, we remember in our prayers the Rector, the priests and people of St. Clement's Church, our Sister Parish in center city.

The Advent Course for Adults will be given three Monday evenings starting December 3rd, in the Lady Chapel, 7.30 to 8.30 P. M. Fr. Becker has chosen the topic "What is Christianity?" for this series.

At the Annual Meeting of the Altar Society held last Monday evening, the Rector appointed Mrs. Homer H. Norton as directress. After many years of faithful service Mrs. Levis Lloyd Mann will be honorary directress, continuing her vital interest in the society and its work. Mrs. Charles J. Maurer was elected Secretary-Treasurer. The Society hopes that many women of the congregation will be interested in a class on Altar work, to be conducted by Sister Darthea on Saturday afternoons in the near future. Kindly indicate such interest to Sister Darthea or to the office.

School of Prayer—On Saturday, December 8, we are having an Advent School of Prayer for the members of St. Mark's Parish and any other interested persons. The Rev. Father Turkington, of the Order of the Holy Cross, will be the Conductor. The day will begin at 9.30 A. M. with Holy Communion, closing at 3 o'clock. There will be opportunity to register for this School in the near future.

The United Thank Offering from St. Mark's parish at the Autumn Ingathering amounted to $330.50 and was the offering of 42 women. Miss Eugenie M. Fryer, parish custodian of the U.T.O., wishes to express her appreciation for the fine response and the continued interest and cooperation of the members of the parish.

The Rector's Message

The Christmas Communion is a joyous event for every Churchman. A reminder that Christmas is a day of obligation is not necessary for those who look forward with anticipation to the receiving of our Blessed Lord in the Holy Eucharist on the great festivals of the Christian Year. We must not forget our preparation for our communions, nor must we put off until the last moment the examination of our lives and confession of sins. Many of us already know the blessings of the Sacrament of Penance and the grace of Absolution. There are other communicants who have not yet accepted the Church's help in Sacramental Confession. They would find the simplicity and directness of the confessional of tremendous value in fulfilling the duty of preparation for Holy Communion. Please note the added hours when your clergy will be in the church. We would be glad to hear confessions by appointment for those for whom these hours are not convenient.

There is no better intention at the offering of the Christmas Eucharist than peace. We must again and again bring our troubled and divided world before God. Only as we bring all men and women to oneness in Christ will there be peace among peoples and nations. Praying for peace is really praying for the extension of Christ's Kingdom. Praying for missions is praying for peace. In our Eucharistic intention for peace there should also be our prayer for the parish family. Here again there can only be true peace as we are one in our Lord. Lastly, we can offer our Christmas Eucharist for peace within our own selves. True contrition and freedom from sins helps to establish the conditions for peace within the soul. Each one of us can find peace if we are one with Christ.

In Holy Communion, our Blessed Lord dwells in us and we in Him. In this Holy Sacrament, after careful preparation and with a directed prayer of intention, we receive the power for peace within ourselves, in the Christian Family, and in our world. May your Christmas Communions bring you such peace—and hence such joy.

NOTES

The Flowers on the Altar today are given by Mrs. Dwier in memory of her husband, W. Kirkland Dwier.

A New Schedule of Christmas Services has been arranged this year. The Midnight Solemn Mass has come to mean much to members of the parish. Although this Mass is primarily one for communions our Canterbury Choir will lead us in the singing, but there will be no procession or special music. Our great Solemn Mass with procession and choir of men and boys has been scheduled for 9.30 instead of the former hour of 11 o'clock. We hope that this will enable all the members of each family to come together to worship, to receive Holy Communion and to participate in this glorious Christmas Eucharist.

Christmas Fund—It is not too late for some who may still wish to contribute to the Christmas Fund for parish activities.

Churchman's Ordo Calendars may be obtained from the Women of the Church and at the office. Price 50 cents.

Christmas Celebration in Rittenhouse Square today following our Evensong. A hearty welcome is extended by the City Center Residents Association to all members of our community.

NOTES

Next Sunday, January 6, is the Feast of the Epiphany. There will be a Procession before Solemn Mass at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon the special Epiphany Service, "The Festival of Nine Lessons," will take place at 5.30. Members of the congregation and their friends should plan to attend this unusual service.

The Clergy and Staff wish to say "thank you" to all the members of the congregation for the many cards and remembrances sent them at Christmas. They extend to each and every one good wishes for the New Year.

Women of St. Mark's will meet on Thursday, January 3, in Holy Trinity Parish House. Supper will be served at 6.30, and the meeting will begin at about 7.15 P. M. This meeting is partly to catch up on our business, partly to look ahead into 1957, and chiefly to enjoy one another. Let us warm ourselves at the fires of our Christmas friendship in St. Mark's, even if we do have to travel two squares further to meet. Donations or contributions will be accepted at this time for the work of the Women of St. Mark's and the Woman's Auxiliary to the National Council.

The Following Letter has gone out to the Church from our Presiding Bishop:

"Dear Friends:—We are all deeply moved by the tragic plight of the refugees from Hungary and we must not forget this similar situation of millions of displaced people of other nationalities. Many wish to know how they can help. I ask our Church people to give through their parishes to the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief which contributes through the World Council of Churches and Church World Service to this critical need. I urge our clergy to encourage and facilitate this support. Checks payable to H. M. Addinsell, Treasurer, should be sent to me.

"Our Church's share for Hungarian Relief is $80,000. I trust that we shall receive very much more, for the entire refugee program is vitally important. What better Christmas gift could be made?"

Faithfully yours,
HENRY K. SHERRILL.

NOTES

Young Peoples' Fellowship will be resumed next Sunday after Evensong.

The Festival of Nine Lessons this afternoon carries on an English tradition of great beauty and interest. Nine lessons are read from the Old and New Testament, setting forth the significance of the Incarnation of our Lord. Each is read by one of the members of the parish family—a choirboy, a chorister, the choirmaster, a layman, a vestryman, the seminarian, a subdeacon, a deacon and a priest.

New Kneelers for the communion rail and servers have been made for the Lady Chapel. The beautiful needlepoint tapestry was done by Mrs. Henry Nitze, a member of our parish, and Mrs. Morris Baird of Germantown. The parish is very grateful to those who shared in this splendid project.

Miss Nancy McKean has accepted election as St. Mark's representative on the Board of Trustees of the House of Rest, Germantown.

Regular Office Hours for the clergy have been suspended until the new offices are completed about March 1st. It is suggested that appointments with the clergy be made at times when our limited office facilities are available.

Christmas Altar Flowers were given by Mr. Will Beck in memory of his wife Edna: the Haas family in memory of Albert Charles Haas, Clara Roberts Haas and Victor Russell Fritz: Rev. and Mrs. Harold Lufkin in memory of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lufkin: Mr. A. Lynwood Haller in memory of his mother, Mary R. Lore and Miss Cynthia Dietz in memory of Frederick Gilbert and by Miss Nancy McKean.

✠

The Flowers on the Altar on Epiphany were given by Mrs. Charles J. Maurer in loving memory of her husband.

Annual Awards were made at the Solemn Mass last Sunday to the following choirboys: Samuel Brown, the Christie Memorial Cross: to Henry Reed, the Elizabeth Cooke Nixon Cross.

The Memorial Fund—Some weeks ago a fund was established to enable members of the parish and friends to give a memorial for departed loved ones. It was felt that this would be a more Christian expression than sending flowers, which, by custom at St, Mark's, are not brought into the Church. This Memorial Fund will be used for vestments or appointments needed in our worship. Such offerings are a tangible and continuing memorial. The Women of St. Mark's have recently lost three members through death—Miss Caroline B. Cooke, Miss Clara R. Haas, Mrs. Levis Lloyd Mann. In their memory the Women of St. Mark's have made the initial gift to this Fund.

The Rev. Paul C. Kintzing, Jr., was instituted Rector of St. John's Church, Cynwyd, on Wednesday Evening last. We congratulate Father Kintzing, a former member of the staff of our parish, on the beginning of his work, in this fine parish. Father Paige assisted in the Service of Institution, and a number of his friends at St. Mark's were present.

The American Church Union, Philadelphia Chapter, will hold an important meeting for all interested persons in this area in St. Mark's Church on Wednesday, January 30th, at 8 P. M. Please put this on your calendar and make every effort to be present.

NOTES

Today throughout the Church Theological Education Sunday is being observed. Our prayers are asked for the seminaries of our Church, the members of the faculties and all those preparing for Holy Orders. Members of the congregation, desiring to make a special offering for Theological Education, may use the envelopes found in the pews. Our offering is divided among the Philadelphia Divinity School, the General Theological Seminary and Nashotah House.

Candlemas—The Feast of the Purification of St. Mary the Virgin falls on Saturday this year. This enables us to have the Solemn Mass with Candlemas Ceremonies and Procession at 9.30 A. M. Both the choir of men and boys and the Canterbury Choir will sing. This is one of the most beautiful and meaningful services of the year and members of the congregation should particularly invite their friends to come with them at this time.

The American Church Union will hold a meeting in St. Mark's Church on Wednesday evening of this week at 8 o'clock. Members of the Philadelphia Chapter of the A. C. U., their friends and all interested persons are invited. The Rev. Albert J. DuBois, Executive Director, will preside. The members of our congregation should make every effort to be present as hosts and to support this vital cause.

The Women of St. Mark's invite to their meeting on Thursday, February 7, at 7.15 P. M., at Holy Trinity Parish House, all people interested in the pertinent subject of "The Church of South India." Are we concerned enough about the reunion of Christendom? Do we think that the current unity movements will lead to the fulfilment of our Lord's Will that the Church should be One? Come to this meeting and share in the discussion of this important subject. Several of our members will present the topic prior to the discussion. Supper is at 6.30 and the cost is $1.50.

St. Mark's Chapter of the Order of St. Vincent is holding its Annual meeting today, the Sunday in the Octave of St. Vincent's Day. Our parish Chapter has 16 members who have been admitted to the Order, of which 5 are now in the Armed Forces. There are also 4 probationers. Men and older boys who feel they have a vocation for serving are always welcome in the Guild and should speak to Father Paige, who acts as Warden of our Chapter. He is assisted in the direction of the Guild and in the program of instruction by the following Masters of Ceremonies: Messrs. William A. Hammer, George Hotton, John Rowan, Jr., Francis Williams and Jesse E. Wood.

Pre-Lenten Quiet Day at St. Margaret's House, Tuesday, February 19: Mass at 8 30—closing at 3.15. Conductor: The Rev. S. Atmore Caine. Please register early.

✠

The congregation of St. Mark's is much larger than the actual number of persons listed in the Communicants' Register. Some of those who worship with us regularly are here for only a short time; some are students who retain memberships in their home parishes. Many others should consider the privilege of entering the communicant membership of this parish either by transferring from another parish of the Episcopal Church, by receiving the Sacrament of Holy Confirmation, if they are not confirmed, or being received officially from another Catholic Communion.

Membership in a particular parish commits one to certain responsibilities. First there are the spiritual responsibilities of faithfulness at the Sunday Eucharists, sharing in the prayer life of the parish, and holding the Faith and its practice which the the parish maintains. For example a member of St. Mark's could hardly be indifferent to the Sacrament of Penance (confession). There are also responsibilities connected with the parish as a family or congregation. A member will want to pledge and give sacrificially. We make pledges when we are baptized, confirmed and married, and it is no more than what is expected of a churchman that he pledge his best to support the work of the Church in the parish and outside.

Confirmed Episcopalians, not yet members of St. Mark's, should speak to me if they are interested in transferring to this parish. Those not yet confirmed or received should indicate their interest at any time. Preparation for Confirmation ordinarily covers a period of six months, but adults are always presented to the Bishop for Confirmation and admitted to Holy Communion when they are sufficiently instructed.

NOTES

Hours of Confessions are scheduled for the convenience of those who avail themselves of the Sacrament of Penance. Effective next Saturday Fr. Paige will hear confessions from 12 to 1, and Fr. Becker from 7.30 to 8.30 in the evening. The afternoon hour has been omitted from the regular schedule, although the clergy will be glad to hear confessions by appointment in the afternoon if the regular hours are inconvenient. On Shrove Tuesday and before the great days, special hours will be announced for the increased number who come at these times.

Parish Quiet Day—Saturday, March 2nd. The Rev. Father Smith of the Society of the Sacred Mission, Kelham, England, will be our conductor. Further notice and registration cards will be sent out in the near future. Please save this date and tell your friends.

The Fellowship of Prayer—We have in St. Mark's a group of men and women who belong to what is called "The Fellowship of Prayer." The particular pupose of the group is to do regularly the work of praying for the needs of others. There is a meeting once each month (on the third Thursday) at which time there is an instruction and devotions. The meeting never lasts more than one hour, and begins at 7.30 P. M.

Once each month an Intercession List is compiled and sent out to the members of the Fellowship. This is the same list of names used at the daily noon-day intercessions in the church. Very soon it is hoped that we can set up some kind of a system whereby all the members can be notified quickly of special requests for emergency prayers in cases of extreme illness or distress.

From time to time the Fellowship of Prayer sponsors a Quiet Day or a School of Prayer for the benefit of the entire parish and invites any and all interested persons to attend. There is so much nonsense being taught today about the nature of Prayer, e. g. it is a kind of "magic wonder-worker" or that it is meant only for the spiritually adept, that the Fellowship hopes to instruct others in the right understanding of the Work of Prayer, and to interest them in helping by praying regularly so that the Fellowship might be a real source of power within our parish family.

If you are interested, and wish to assume the responsibility of sharing this vital work with others, will you please speak to Father Becker who is the director of the Fellowship of Prayer.

The Rector's Message

Last Sunday I suggested that we of St. Mark's have as our special Lenten endeavor the strengthening of our parish through a renewed understanding of the Church as the Body of Christ. Our Lord's purpose at all times is to redeem His World, this present world with all its sinful, unattractive unloving people.

If this is Christ's Work, what is ours, as a family in His Body? Could we not, this coming holy season, clear our sights as to what our job as a parish should be at the present time? As a family, let us pray together that we may, by the grace of the Holy Spirit—

Sanctify our fellowship in Christ.

Enliven our sense of mission.

Open our hearts and arms to those who, like us, need God's love.

And lastly, enlarge our family with new members.

Through such a Lenten endeavor, God would arouse us to the loving task of working to make this parish alive and vital, eager to press on in the joyous adventure of being a family of the Body of Christ, the Church on earth.

On Wednesday Evenings, starting Ash Wednesday, Father Paige will conduct an informal course on "Our Anglican Heritage," in the Church, immediately following Stations of the Cross. Our Lenten instruction this year will consist of these two courses in connection with the Wednesday services. Members and friends of the parish will note this variant in our Lenten schedule this year.

Lenten Mite Boxes for all who will share in self denial for missionary work will be found at the door of the Church.

Piano—The meeting room on the main floor of our new parish house will need a good piano. It should be a small grand or spinet type. This is an opportunity for some one to supply a real need by giving to the parish a piano not presently being used.

Women of St. Mark's—Men, especially young men, are invited to join us on Thursday, March 7th, in the Parish House (not Centennial Room) of Holy Trinity Church, at 7.15 P. M. Topic: The Education of a Priest. The Rev. C. Edward Hopkin, D. D. will discuss with us the making of a good priest, and the Rev. Vincent F. Pottle, D. Pottle are both on the staff of our Philadelphia Divinity School and both have been closely associated with St. Mark's in the past. Supper will be at 6.30. If you would like to join us for this please notify the Church Office (PE 5-1416) by Tuesday, March 5.

Women of the Parish may wish to observe the World Day of Prayer on Friday, March 8th, by attending one of the services in our own parish, as well as other meetings throughout the city.

✠

The place of Lent, and its meaning for the faithful Christian is described very clearly by Father Maryon-Wilson, an English priest.

"Most of the great feasts of the Church are preceded by vigils, days of preparation. But Christmas and Easter have come to have whole seasons of preparation; Christmas the four weeks of Advent; Easter, the forty days of Lent, to which have been added the three preceding weeks beginning with the Sunday called Septuagesima.

"The first cycle of the Christian year, Christmastide, ends on the feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary on February 2nd. The second cycle from Septuagesima to Easter is a time of penance. From now until Easter, except on feast days of the saints, the color is purple (technically a red-violet); the Gloria in excelsis is omitted from the Mass; and the joyful Alleluia between the Epistle and the Gospel is replaced by the Tract.

"Septuagesima, Sexagesima, Quinquagesima. On Ash Wednesday Lent begins, and ashes, made by burning the palms of the previous Palm Sunday, are blessed before the Mass and imposed on the forehead with the words, "Remember, O man, that thou art dust, and unto dust shalt thou return." Each day throughout Lent has its special Mass, and the Lenten preface used at these Masses explains the purpose of fasting; by it God overcomes vice, raises the mind, and bestows on us virtue and heavenly rewards.

"So Lent passes on its way, relieved with a burst of color and music on mid-Lent Sunday (known as Laetare—"rejoice"— from the opening word of the Introit of the Mass) when the color may be rose. On Passion Sunday the sense of mourning is intensified by the veiling of all crucifixes, devotional statues, and pictures—the Church is hiding her glory as she mourns the price of our salvation. The Stations of the Cross, however, remain uncovered; and well so, for throughout Lent, but more so as the Passion approached, they are one of the chief forms of devotion both for corporate and for individual acts of worship."

As the Liturgy is the heartbeat of the life of a parish, so especially the Liturgy of Lent, Passiontide and Holy Week is the very heart of our common worship. The privilege of being close to the altar these forty days, hearing the wonderful lections, frequently receiving the Blessed Sacrament, is the most sublime way to enter into the spirit of this Holy Season. Daily Mass might be possible for more churchmen than would think it so, but certainly once or twice a week a joining in the Liturgy of Lent would be an especial means of grace. As individuals we have our own Lenten rules, but as a parish family we share together the sublime liturgical life of these Forty Days.

✠

The members of the congregation of St. Mark's Church are happy to extend their congratulations and good wishes to the Honorable George Wharton Pepper on the occasion of his ninetieth birthday yesterday, March 16th.

Mr. Pepper was baptized in this church, confirmed here and began his communicant life at its Altar. He has served us faithfully for many years as Warden and Vestryman, and is now our Warden Emeritus.

The following words in a testimonial sent to Mr. Pepper by the Clergy and Vestrymen aptly express the thoughts of the whole parish family:—

"His steadfast faith, his untiring devotion, his unfailing willingness to work and serve in the cause of Church and Parish, his great courage, his complete humility, his unshakeable patience, his penetrating understanding, and his unbounded generosity, have long stood, and still stand, as an inspiration to all of us and to the congregation of St. Mark's."

NOTES

The Following Proper Preface is frequently used on the first four Sundays in Lent:—

"- - Who by bodily fasting dost curb our sinfulness, uplift our hearts, and bestow both virtue and its reward upon us, through Jesus Christ Our Lord - -"

Daily at Noon we remember those persons for whom prayers are requested. When making such requests kindly give one or both of the Christian names, as it is not our custom to pray for initials.

Volunteers, Both Men and Women, are needed for the Canterbury Choir. Music for Tenebrae and other Holy Week services, and music for St. Mark's Day is now in preparation. The choir rehearses on Tuesday night at 7.30.

Red Cross Sunday—For more than three-quarters of a century in this country, the American Red Cross has rendered service to mankind without regard to race or creed. The cry of its founder, Henri Dunant, "All men are brothers," echoed around the world. The congregation of St. Mark's will as always make a generous response to the annual appeal for this great work.

Corporate Communion for the Women of the Diocese on the Feast of the Annunciation, Monday, March 25th, at 8 A. M., at Holy Trinity Church. Celebrant—The Rt. Rev. William P. Roberts: Breakfast Speaker—The Rev. Paul C. Kintzing, Jr.

Lenten Quiet Evening, Saturday, April 6th, at St. Margaret's House, from 4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. E. Burke Inlow, Ph. D. Please register early.

The Rector's Message

Word through the grapevine has it that we shall have our first Coffee Hour in the new parish house after Solemn Mass on Palm Sunday, April 14th. The choirs are already using the top floor where the new lounge and choir room are located. Mr. Day is in his office, the Canterbury Choir has its new vesting room, and the choir vestment supply room and two other sizeable closets are being settled. A few fixtures remain to be installed, but for all practical purposes this floor is completed. On the ground floor, Sister Darthea is settling her new office, and during the week we should be moving into our new business office. On this floor there is also an office for the rector, a beautiful room for the nursery and kindergarten with a Pullman kitchen unit (when we can afford it), and the sexton's office. The main floor is one large room with a well-planned kitchen and storage closets for tables and chairs. Folding partitions make it possible to divide it into five classrooms. The Williamson Library will be housed in three units of shelves on the west wall of the meeting room. The use of this floor must wait on the completion of the main entrance and stairways. The kitchen equipment, with a new stove and steam table, is now being installed, and the "kitchen committee" soon will be unpacking boxes of dishes. Fr. Becker plans to begin the Nursery as soon as possible, and a nurse is being obtained to continue the program we followed last year. On each of the three floors there are lavatories for both men and women.

An impressive plan has been worked out for the churchyard, but our present funds will enable us to lay only the new walks, and properly grade around the new entrance and the ground floor wall.

This pre-vue of coming attractions is a brief report of progress. I know that each member of the congregation will continue to give his understanding cooperation and will be faithful in our Stewardship Program so that we can readily meet the responsibilities we have assumed. EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

BISHOP HART will make his Visitation to our parish next Sunday at 11 A. M. A class of children will be confirmed and the Bishop will preach. The members of the congregation will want to make a special effort to be present to greet our Bishop and the newly confirmed.

WOMEN OF ST. MARK'S—On Thursday, April 4, at 7.15 P. M., there will be a "demonstrated Eucharist" in the Church. An Altar will be set up at the cross aisles and the Priest will stand facing the congregation so that all may see what he does during a celebration of the Holy Eucharist. Afterward there will be time for questions and discussion. All interested members are invited to attend.

Dinner and short business meeting at Quaker Lady Restaurant 6.15 P. M. ($1.50). If you expect to attend notify Office (PE 5-1416) by Thursday, March 28. If you agree to attend and find you cannot, please send money to Mrs. Harold Lufkin, 4506 Regent St., 43, as dinner must be paid for whether you come or not.

We are Happy to Welcome Bishop Hart This Morning on the occasion of his Visitation to the parish. Bishop Hart will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation and be our preacher. We congratulate the newly confirmed and those being received, and wish them every blessing as they begin their communicant life in the Church.

Today Is Mid-Lent or Laetare (Refreshment) Sunday, on which the Church in some measure relaxes the liturgical austerity proper to this season of penance. The violet vestments are put aside for the more cheerful rose-colored ones. The Deacon and Sub-deacon wear their usual vestments. The Introit bids the faithful, in the midst of Lent's spiritual discipline, to rejoice and be filled with new strength and consolation.

A "Demonstrated Eucharist" will be the special program sponsored by the Women of St. Mark's on Thursday Evening at 8 o'clock in the Church. A temporary altar will be set up in the crossing of the Church, and the "celebrant" will stand behind it facing the people so that everyone will have a clear view of the actions at the altar. The various ceremonial acts, vestments, prayer, etc.,will all be explained, and there will be a question-answer period after the demonstration. An invitation is extended to all interested persons, both men and women, to participate in this program.

Kirwin Stief and John Valente, acolytes in our parish, were recently admitted to the Order of St. Vincent.

Lenten Quiet Evening, Saturday, April 6, at St. Margaret's House—4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Rev. E. Burke Inlow, Ph. D.

Miss Ruth Braselman, a member of our parish, was clothed as a Novice in the Society of St. Margaret last Saturday. Miss Braselman will now be known in Religion as Sister Fidelia Margaret.

Clyde Gordon Cooper	Florence Mae Lohbrandt
Alan Somers Evans, Jr.	Anna Narbur Miller
Michael Anson McLean	Mary Alma Wayne

The following were received from the Roman Communion:

Nursery Resumes This Morning—We are happy to announce that a registered nurse will begin her duties with the babies up to and including two years of age. The Nursery is located in the rear portion of the ground floor of our parish house. Until the main entrance is completed access to the building will be through the entrance next to the rectory. The parents are asked to bring their babies between 10.45 and 11.00 o'clock.

The First Coffee Hour in our new parish house will be held Palm Sunday, following Solemn Mass. This will be a happy occasion for us all. This regular weekly get-together will continue each Sunday until further notice. Members of the congregation and their friends will enjoy browsing around from top to bottom in our new building.

The Liturgy of Palm Sunday will be celebrated in its entirety at 11 o'clock next Sunday. The members of the congregation and their friends are asked to be in their places for the beginning of the Service. Because of the great teaching of the Liturgy itself, the sermon will be omitted. Palms will be distributed at all Services.

The Watch on Maundy Thursday will begin at the end of the Mass and continue through the night until 9 o'clock Good Friday morning. We enlist participation from all members of the parish in this Watch. It is suggested that the Watch during the night hours be kept by the men and boys of the parish. Please sign your name as soon as possible on the schedule in the porch for the period you will take.

Flowers for Maundy Thursday—Offerings of white flowers for use at the Altar of Repose in the Lady Chapel on Maundy Thursday are welcome. Some may wish to make such an offering in memoriam. Send contributions to the office by April 16th and flowers to the Church before noon April 17th.

The Rector's Message

There are times when the looks on our faces give the world an entirely wrong understanding about Christianity. Long, sad faces suggest unhappy people whose religion must be a joyless affair. The truth of the matter is quite the opposite. Our religion is one of great joy, and those who find this in the Catholic Faith are truly happy people. This does not mean that we take sin lightly, or ignore the pains and sorrows of life. Rather, it means that we can do something about sin, and we can accept whatever life brings us and use it, offering it to God.

Lent is a serious period in the Christian's religious experience, and Holy Week brings us close to the awfulness of sin, and the heart of suffering and death. These penitential times are not joyless weeks, because we live them knowing that Christ rose from the dead. Christians even call the day of our Lord's death—Good Friday—when good came to mankind through the last act in the sacrificial life of Jesus Christ.

Easter sets the tone of the whole Christian life. The joy of each day is real because of the good news of Easter. Each Eucharistic Offering is an Easter, each communion a joyous union with the Risen Lord. There is joy in receiving forgiveness of sins, because we have a new start in a new life in Christ. Nothing is more beautiful than the faces of Christians when they kneel at the Communion rail with hands outstretched to receive the precious Body and Blood, if they have found the happiness of forgiveness, and eagerly seek to be joined in oneness with the Risen Lord.

May each member of our congregation, and all who find here a meeting-place with God, have an Easter with a joy that will shine forth in their lives. May it be a continuing Easter, in every prayer, in each communion and confession. May Easter find us happy Christians. EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

COFFEE HOUR last Sunday in the new parish house was attended by a large number of the congregation. Every one seemed happy to see our new building and have the opportunity of meeting new and old friends. We will look for you today and each Sunday, following the 11 o'clock mass.

THE COST OF OUR COFFEE HOUR averages $30.00 a month. As we find this event of our parish life increasingly important, some may wish to contribute to this expense. Contributions should be marked for this purpose and sent to the parish office.

SUNDAY SCHOOL—Starting next Sunday and continuing through June 16, Sunday School and nursery will be at 10.45 A. M., in the parish house.

TO THE CONGREGATION—The Women of St. Mark's invite you to our first family dinner in our new parish house on Thursday, May 2, at 6.30 P. M. The cost will be $1.75. The subject of our Speaker will be "The Effect of the Liturgy on Church Architecture." Interesting as this promises to be, it cannot compare with the friendship we will have, together with our Lord, in sitting down to a family dinner with one another. Do come, All of you. Send reservations before April 24th.

FROM EASTER TO TRINITY SUNDAY the Regina Coeli is said daily at noon instead of the Angelus. Copies of this prayer will be found in the tract rack.

MEMBERS OF THE YOUNG PEOPLES' FELLOWSHIP are invited to the Philadelphia Divinity School for Evensong and reception next Sunday. Meet at the parish house at 5.00 P. M.

SPRING MEETING OF THE DIOCESAN ALTAR GUILD at St. Peter's Church, Germantown, Wednesday, May 1, at 8.00 P. M. Members of our Altar Society who can attend should notify our office before April 26th.

NOTES

The Rev. E. Frank Salmon, D. D., is our guest preacher this morning. It is always a pleasure to have our good friend and distinguished churchman with us.

The Sunday School is meeting in the parish hall at 10.45 each Sunday. Last week our number grew to 50, which is most encouraging in a center city parish. Our nursery, in the care of our nurse, Mrs. Alma Wooley, is a pleasant and lively place each Sunday during the Solemn Mass.

The Executive Board of the Women of St. Mark's will meet after Solemn Mass this morning in the lounge room of the parish house.

Ascension Day falls on Thursday, May 30, which is Memorial Day this year. Our usual schedule for this great Feast will be varied because of the holiday. Matins will be said at 7.30 A. M., followed by Mass at 7.45 A. M. The Solemn Mass on that day will be celebrated at 9.30 o'clock. At this time there will be a Procession and our choir of men and boys will sing. Members of the parish and our friends will be glad to know of this special Ascension Day Service.

Canterbury Choir volunteers enable us to maintain a fully choral service during the summer months while the Boy Choir is on vacation. Extra help is needed during that period to keep the numbers as high as possible because individual members take their vacations during this time also. This is not a choir of highly skilled singers; the sole qualification for an applicant is that he or she like to sing. We welcome non members of the parish as well as parishioners. Can you, will you help?

United Thank Offering: Spring Presentation—Monday, May 20, 10.30 A. M., in St. Peter's Church, Glenside. Miss Nellie McKim, daughter of the late Rt. Rev. John McKim, Bishop of Tokyo, will be the Speaker. Send offerings NOW to Miss E. M. Fryer, Parish Custodian, 1906 Sansom Street. Make reservations now for luncheon ($2.00) through Women's Auxiliary Office.

1957 Dues for the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament are now due. Please send to Miss E. M. Fryer, 1906 Sansom Street.

A Couple of Tea Pots and Water Pitchers are needed for the coffee hour. If any one cares to supply these needs please speak to Miss Margaret Evans.

St. Margaret's House—Eastertide Quiet Day, Tuesday, May 21, 8.30 A.M. to 3.15 P.M. Conductor: Rev. C. Edward Hopkin, Ph.D.

Eastertide Quiet Evening, Saturday, May 25: 4.30 to 9 P.M. Conductor: Rev. Richard C. Chapin. Please register early.

Copies of the By-Laws, as revised January 1957, have just been distributed to the Vestrymen. Any interested parishioner may have a copy by applying to the office.

Funerals at St. Mark's

After much experience and thought, the clergy of St. Mark's have come to certain decisions regarding the conduct of funerals. Most members of the parish will want the Office for the Burial of the Dead, followed by a Requiem Mass and the Absolution of the Body in the Church. As the Prayer Book directs, the officiant will meet the body at the door of the Church, and later accompany the body to the cemetery (if it is in the Philadelphia area) where the concluding part of the Office is said.

Because so many secular funeral customs are opposed to the Christian teaching about death, we believe that we must make certain regulations concerning our participation in other types of funerals.

1. The day and hour for funeral services in the Church must not be arranged without first consulting one of the clergy.

2. The clergy of St. Mark's will not hold services in funeral homes, or go to gatherings at funeral homes the night before.

3. The officiant should not be asked to ride to the cemetery in the same car with the family of the deceased. The reasons should be obvious.

Our decision regarding services in funeral homes follows the spirit of the Prayer Book where the first rubric in the Office for the Burial of the Dead directs—"The Minister, meeting the Body, and going before it, either into the Church or towards the Grave....." If a Church service is not wanted, the proper procedure is to have the Burial Office at the graveside. However, the Church is the proper place for the burial service of all baptized Christians. The funeral director serves an important function at the time of death, but the funeral parlor is not the place for a Christian burial service.

It is imperative that those parishes professing the historic faith and practice of the Church take a firm stand in setting forth the clear teaching concerning death and the life hereafter, which nowadays is so often set aside by secular convention and modern funeral customs.

✠

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week are Rogation Days—days of prayer and supplication at seed time for a fruitful season. On each of these days the Litany will be said at 12 noon.

The Feast of the Ascension is one of the great Feasts of the Church Year. Churchmen are expected to attend Mass and receive Holy Communion if at all possible on this day. You will note the special holiday schedule with two Masses, the first at 7.45 A. M. and the Solemn Mass with Procession and full Choir at 9.30 A. M.

Scholarship Assistance for the Valley Forge Conference will make it possible for a greater number of our young people to attend this year.

Catholic Laymen's Union—Tuesday, May 28th, St. Peter's Church, Phoenixville, 8.00 P. M. Topic: "The Catholic Faith and the Atomic Age." It is hoped that as many men as possible from St. Mark's will attend this meeting.

Holy Smoke

The use of incense with rich aroma from smoking thuribles is not very prevalent in the Episcopal Church. Its use at St. Mark's and in other parishes where traditional ceremonial has been restored frequently leaves our friends and visitors somewhat bewildered. Is not this just one of those Roman Catholic customs taken over by "high church" Episcopalians? We must admit that it is difficult for many people to appreciate ceremonies of a symbolic character, and incense is one thing foreign to their experience. It is interesting to recall that incense has always been a part of worship in most religions, including Christianity. In the 16th and 17th centuries Protestantism developed a non-liturgical worship which eliminated incense and other symbolic ceremonial. Incense was common to pagan worship and was a part of the Hebrew worship in the Temple at Jerusalem. We read that Zacharias, the father of St. John Baptist, was a priest whose office at the Temple "was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord." We also are aware that early Christians had to be careful about using incense because it had become associated to the honoring of the Roman Emperor as a deity. When all this danger of misunderstanding had passed, it became as in all religions, a normal symbolic ceremonial in Christian worship.

In spite of popular opinion, the use of incense is far from being an exclusive usage of Roman Catholics. In the Eastern Orthodox Communion, incense accompanies every offering of the Divine Liturgy, the Eucharist. In the English Church, the Puritans had a great influence in abolishing this ceremony by destroying all thuribles (the vessels with chains in which incense is burned) at the same time they destroyed Mass vestments, copes, altars and pipe organs throughout England.

Incense in worship is a beautiful and symbolic ceremonial which deserves restoration to general use in the Anglican Communion. Its association is primarily with prayer. In Revelation 8:4 we read, "And there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of the saints .... And the smoke of the incense which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand." Incense expresses the visible ascent of prayer. The censing of the altar and sanctuary at the beginning of Mass helps to create an atmosphere of prayer. At the offertory, incense is blessed and burned, the oblation and altar are censed by the celebrant, and from the celebrant, through the members of the sanctuary and the choir, down to each member of the congregation, all are brought together in heavenly worship by a symbolic censing. At Evensong we almost literally show forth the psalm verse, "Let my prayer be set forth in thy sight as the incense."

At one with Old Testament worship, with the traditional worship of the historic Church, and with the perfect heavenly worship described in Revelation, we of St. Mark's offer incense as a part of our worship at each Solemn Mass and Evensong.

On the day or during the Octave, every communicant should receive Holy Communion. We should also be reminded that it is an appropriate season in which to make our confession. A solemn procession will precede the Mass at 11 o'clock next Sunday in observance of this Feast.

The Annual Election of three vestrymen to serve four years will take place on Monday, June 3, in the parish house. The polls will be open from 5.00 to 6.00 P. M. The nominees are—Messrs. Charles J. Miller, Anthony W. Ridgway and A. M. Shumate.

At the Spring In-gathering of the United Thank Offering held on May 20th, the total received from St. Mark's was $280.00.

The Annual Choir Outing given by the parish to the boys of the choir at the close of each season will be held in the near future. No special appeal is made for this project but there will be members of the parish and congregation who may care to contribute for this outing by sending an offering to the Church office.

✠

Father Becker was ordained a Priest 15 years ago today. The members of our parish family and congregation extend to him our congratulations on this anniversary and our affectionate wishes for many blessed years in the Sacred Ministry of the Church.

At the Coffee Hour this morning each of us will have an opportuity to greet Father Becker on his fifteenth anniversary.

Sister Darthea celebrated the 25th anniversary of her profession in the Religious Life on Ascension Day. St. Mark's parish family gives grateful expression of our devotion to our Sister, and our wishes for many years of service to our Lord in the Society of St. Margaret.

Annual Offering for the Work of the Altar Society Next Sunday. Opportunity to give for this important work is offered by using the special envelopes found in the pews. Members of the parish can in this way share in the replacement of vestments and linens when needed and for the care of the sacred vessels and other appointments. The Rector and Sister Darthea would also like to know of any women in the parish interested in doing Altar work in the fall.

SUNDAY SCHOOL, ETCETERA

As a Church we are at last waking up to the fact that Religious Education is an experience instead of a set of facts to be poured into little heads. Somehow the perfect memorization of all of the books of the Bible seems to have very little to do with life as it has to be lived. It is regrettable that in our efforts we have now become obsessed with teaching "methods" rather than with "what" we teach, but at least we are beginning to lean in the right direction. Thanks be to God.

In a Catholic parish a child has much more chance to experience his religion: he does not merely hear about it. This is why we have the children in for the Mass each Sunday—in order to experience the corporateness of worship as a part of the Parish Family and not outside it in some sort of peculiar "children's service." It is no wonder that we have lost so many young people after Confirmation, for we have expected them to "graduate" into an experience they have never known for the past eight or more years. The greater portion of their religious education must take place in the home. It is only partly the parish church's task, or that of the clergy. So often parents pass the buck to the Sunday School.

In our own parish Sunday School we want our children to experience their faith AS CHILDREN. Young people are not a special kind of Christian—they are just regular Christians who happen to be younger than the rest of us. And we are not much interested in the multitudinous "cute" activities which so often wear the clothes of Religious Education and are really nothing of the sort. They exist mostly to satisfy the parents, and almost never satisfy the children.

This is the last day of our Sunday School classes for the summer. All children are, of course, expected to attend church during the summer months, and attendance cards will be punched at the door at either service. The child must experience the fact that we do not take a vacation from God, and it is also an excellent opportunity to come to church as a family unit. There will be a Nursery for the infants (up to 3 years), and a "sitter service" for the 4 and 5 year olds. Others will come to church with parents. Children away from the city for the week-end will be expected to attend an Episcopal church and to have their cards marked there for them.

Next fall we shall begin a new Sunday School system in a brand new parish house. With what we have learned these past months both in and out of it, we look forward to a wonderful year ahead.

Father Becker will be in charge of the parish from July 19th through Labor Day.

With only one priest on duty during the summer months, you are asked to be patient if there is no immediate answer to the door bell or telephone. We shall do our best to keep up our usual practice of having a priest available twenty-four hours a day.

The Parish Office will be open from 9:30 to 1:30 daily, Monday through Friday, beginning July 1, until after Labor Day.

Holy Communion is administered at all Masses to confirmed members of the Episcopal Church, or to those in Communion with her. It is expected that all who present themselves at the Altar Rail are spiritually prepared and come fasting.

A Nursery will be provided from 10:45 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. on Sundays for infants up to three years of age.

Coffee Hour will continue during the summer. (Also something cool.)

Rowland Ricketts, M.D. will be in charge of the music during Mr. Day's vacation, July 14 through August 18.

The 9 o'clock Mass, and Solemn Mass at 11 o'clock will be resumed as the regular Sunday Schedule on September 15th. Evensong and Devotions will be resumed October 6th.

The Rector's Message

A year ago we returned from our vacations to find the churchyard full of steel girders, mounds of earth and only a shell of stone for a parish house. With splendid patience and cooperation on the part of the members of the parish and the staff, we had a good year in spite of cramped quarters and a limited program. We return this fall to our completed parish house and the prospects of a happy year of worship and work ahead. Your committee which planned and carried forward our parish house project will make a full report to the parish within a few days. It shows what a tremendous job has been done—and a part of which still must be completed. Fifteen months remain in our three-years Stewardship Program during which time we shall discharge the debt which remains for the new building. The concern and support of each member of the congregation in faithful giving should complete the matter within another year.

Today we resume with the fall schedule, except for Evensong on Sundays. Many will be glad to have the nine o'clock Mass again on Sundays, and the added Masses on weekdays. The Friday Noonday Mass also beginning this week is helpful to many people both in the parish and in our community of workers about us. Holy Commnnion is administered at all Masses at St. Mark's, but we do urge that the Church's fine standard and tradition be maintained—those coming to Holy Communion must be confirmed by a bishop in the Holy Catholic Church, be spiritually prepared by self-examination and confession of sin to Almighty God, and, finally, come after a proper period of fasting, in honor of Our Lord who feeds us with the Food that does not perish.

We are now adequately equipped to have a good Sunday School. Parents, even of babies, may now attend the Solemn Mass on Sundays while their children are instructed and cared for in the parish house. We want to reach out to all in our community who do not attend any Christian instruction. Each member of the parish can help by finding children for the Sunday School, and telling them about St. Mark's. Children and young people will mean much for the future of our parish. More than that, we will be bringing them to Christ, to the knowledge and experience of God's Love. The real job of filling the Church and increasing the Sunday School belongs to the members of the parish. Each member of St. Mark's shares in this responsibility.

We welcome to the life and fellowship of St. Mark's all who are with us for the first time this fall. Students at the schools and colleges, nurses and seminarians are invited to share in every part of the parish life while they are in Philadelphia. We get to meet one another at the Coffee Hour held each Sunday after Solemn Mass. Courses and classes of instruction, as they are held during the year, are for all. The clergy are always available for whatever way they can help.

A fine spirit of unity prevails among us as we begin our fall program, and I ask for your prayers each day that St. Mark's may fulfill her mission in ministering to all who come to us to share in the life of the Mystical Body of Christ.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

The Fall Schedule of services resumes this week, as noted on the front page. Evensong and devotions will be resumed on Sunday, October 6th.

The Sunday School will have its first fall classes this morning. With our new parish house, teaching facilities are greatly improved. We ask each member of the parish to seek out children in our community who are not receiving Christian instruction and invite them to St. Mark's. It may also be helpful to remind our friends and neighbors that babies are cared for in our nursery each Sunday during the 11 o'clock service and that our nurse, Miss Sutherland, is well qualified to care for these children too young for Sunday School.

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of This Week are the autumnal Ember Days, at which time the Church prays for our Bishops, Priests, Deacons and those who are to be ordained to any Office in the Church. These are days of fasting and abstinence.

Men of St. Mark's Dinner—On Wednesday Evening, September 25th, at 6.30 P. M., it is our hope that the men of the parish and their interested friends will come together for a dinner, to enjoy the evening together and to hear Bishop Hart, who will be our guest of honor. Kindly make reservations at the parish office as soon as possible.

The Rev. Harold M. Lufkin, Ph.D., has kindly consented to assume the duties of parish librarian. The library is in our meeting room on the main floor of the parish house and is available for use by all interested persons. The "self service" system for removal of books still prevails. Fr. Lufkin, in addition to making a thorough review of the books at present in our library, will from time to time secure new and current books which will be of interest to our readers. We are grateful that he has accepted this important work in our parish.

Advance Notice: Inquirers' Class for Adults begins Wednesday Evening, October 2nd, at 7.30 P. M. The children's confirmation class will also begin early in October.

The Rector's Message

Certain words in our ecclesiastical vocabulary seem to have outgrown their usefulness. "High-Church" and "Low-Church", for instance, have so many connotations that they always confuse rather than help the situation. Originally having nothing to do with ceremonial, these words now are associated primarily with externals of worship. In this regard "High-Church" generally applies to what one does not understand, while others use "Low-Church" to designate anything or person they do not like in their own Church. So confused about this is the non-Episcopalian that he believes that there are really two Churches, or branches of the Church, neither of which has anything in common with the other. It would be much better to inform all who ask that we are one Church, all using the same Prayer Book and Liturgy, all receiving the sacraments according to the same rites, and all being ministered to by clergy ordained to the same Orders. The "minister" who celebrates in surplice and stole is just as much a priest as the "father-rector" who stands before the altar in a chasuble.

The term "Anglican" is another word which is being batted around in various ways these days. For some strange reason certain folk who desire to emphasize the Catholic character of the Church use "Anglican" and "Catholic" as interchangeable words. We hear—"there was no Anglican Church in town, just a Protestant Episcopal Church", really meaning that there was no parish which stressed the Catholic character of our Church. Of course the Anglican Communion is Catholic, but the word "Anglican" includes ALL members of the various provinces of the Church in communion with Canterbury. Each member of the Episcopal Church is an Anglican. The name Anglican is a splendid term of unity which brings millions of non-Roman Catholics together in a world-wide fellowship.

It may be that the misuse of "Anglican" stems from the oft used term "Anglo-Catholic" for many years dear to those of our communion who are Catholic at heart. It seemed very logical that if the followers of the Bishop of Rome were called Roman Catholics, it was only right that those in communion with Canterbury who were firm in the Catholic Faith should call themselves "Anglo-Catholics". Perhaps this term has now outgrown its usefulness. Somehow it seems to conjure up in the minds of many churchmen spikey Episcopalians with a yen for Romanism. Their point is made stronger by many A.C.'s who think Rome can do no wrong. The Vatican changes rules about the communion fast and immediately they adjust so as to adhere to the Roman line. At one time evening Communions, especially on Maundy Thursday, were shamefully irregular; now they are fine at any old hour. Rome has spoken. Such A.C. zealots will tell you that they attend a Roman Mass in preference to a "surplice and stole" Communion service when they cannot find a parish where "things are done right."

The first duty of the Episcopalian (Anglican) is to be faithful to his own Church—not meaning any individual cleric who delights in vagueness or heresy. It is "un-Catholic" to be disloyal to the Church by word or deed. Our rich ceremonial heritage is a blessed aid to holy worship, but it is not the heart of the matter. The Catholic Creeds and doctrines of the Church are, however. On these grounds we must find our own Anglican unity. In the Prayer Book are Catholic doctrines full and intact. There, also, are the rites for the sacraments, valid means of grace, just as the historic Church has always intended. We Catholics have a "cause"; there is something for which to work and fight—but we must be certain that it is a "Catholic" cause in the fullest and truest sense of that word.

The Rector's Message

The first day of the week replaced the Sabbath as the Lord's Day very early in the history of the Church. From a somber Jewish Sabbath, regulated by restrictive laws, the Christian Sunday became a festival of joy and happiness. The Lord was raised from the dead on the first day of the week, and thereafter Sunday was to be a commemoration of the Resurrection. Each Sunday is a little Easter. From the early days, Christians, following the Lord's command, found the reminder of Easter joy in the Eucharist. Assisting at the Eucharist each Sunday was the primary Christian activity on the Lord's Day. In union with the Ascended Lord and in union with one another in the Holy Fellowship, the Eucharist was offered, and Holy Communion was received by all who were in the state of grace. Christians of the early centuries would feel confused and let down if they would suddenly come into a 20th century Episcopal Church and find the "main service" to be other than the Eucharist.

Sunday may be the Lord's Day, but every day of the week should be given to God. Christianity is not a Sunday religion. Worship is not only for the first day of the week. That is why daily services became a part of the normal life of the Church. As the Christian's daily prayers include the full round of Adoration, Thanksgiving, Confession, Intercession and Petition, so both personal and corporate needs and expressions of gratitude are to be brought to be offered at the weekday Masses. An anniversary, a birthday, a commemoration of the death of a loved one, find normal Christian expression at a Mass on the particular morning. A thanksgiving is best said at the altar, and the strength and direction to meet the difficult problems of daily life comes from the grace of Holy Communion.

The daily offices, Morning and Evening Prayer—said at St. Mark's without a break for over a hundred years—are the Church's continuing offering of praise (psalter), prayer (collects), and the reading of God's Word (lessons). Carrying on the tradition of the pre-Christian Synagogue, and the later monastic offices, our Prayer Book offices give to the people an opportunity for a rich spiritual exercise.

The daily services of Morning Prayer, Mass and Evening Prayer, as well as the brief period of intercession each noon (the Litany is said each Wednesday) are the heartbeat of St. Mark's. Although these services do not depend on numbers, I do wish more Churchmen would realize the blessings which come from their use. Attendance at the daily services is not a cult, or are they only for use by persons who seem to be "more spiritual" than most of us. They are for each of us as we try to live our lives in union with our Lord, knowing that we need Him in the business of our offices, in our homes and schools, and in the difficult task of human relations.

The daily services given to us by the Catholic Church and enshrined for use in the Prayer Book are for YOU and YOUR NEEDS. There is a blessing waiting for you from our Lord as you begin your day with Him at His altar.

NOTES

Evensong Resumed Today at 5.30. Each Sunday evening at 5.30, from the first Sunday in October through Trinity Sunday, the traditional Anglican Service of Evensong is sung at St. Mark's. This is not now the popular service it was some years ago before the automobile, Sunday movies and television. It still is a wonderful offering of worship which a small number of the congregation and friends of the parish find helpful. The eight men of our choir furnish the music and are not excelled in their devotional singing of the psalms, office hymn and canticles. Congregational participation is perhaps not as full as we might wish at this service, but all can join with the choir in the liturgical responses, the Creed and Lord's Prayer, the hymn after the third collect and the two hymns at Devotions following Evensong. It is the Churchman's first duty and privilege to assist at one of the Masses on Sunday morning. This has a priority over any other service. Evensong is an added opportunity to make Sunday the Lord's Day, and it is hoped that an increasing number of people will join with us in offering the evening office as a fitting close to the First Day of the Week.

The Hour of the Monday Mass has been changed from 7 to 7.45 A. M. Morning Prayer is read at 7.30 as usual.

St. Mark's Station Day in the Cycle of Prayer sponsored by the American Church Union will be observed on Tuesday of this week. Our intention at the Offering of the Holy Sacrifice will be for the A.C.U. in its great work of teaching and extending the Catholic Faith. Members of our parish should join in prayer with our brethren who seek to bring the full richness of our Catholic heritage to all the members of our beloved Church. This would be an appropriate time to join the A.C.U. It merits our support. Membership $3.00. Offerings may also be sent to the Rector to complete our pledge to the A.C.U. of $52.00 for 1957.

The Diocesan Altar Guild invites all the women of the Diocese to its Annual Quiet Evening Wednesday, October 16, at St. Clement's Church, from 5.30 to 9 P.M. The Rev. Paul C. Kintzing, Jr., will be the Conductor. Each person is to bring a box supper and coffee will be served by the host parish.

Notes on Receiving Holy Communion.—Receiving the Chalice is made easier if the communicant will take the base of the chalice LIGHTLY with the right hand to guide it. We urge that the communicant does not GRASP the base or try to direct it FORCIBLY.

The Prayer Book directs that the Priest shall deliver the Host "to the people, also in order, INTO THEIR HANDS." It should be remembered that this is the normal use for Episcopalians. It should also be emphasized that the Host should be received from the PALM of the right hand, and not taken into the fingers. Of course, we shall continue to administer the Sacrament on the tongue to those who desire to follow the Roman custom.

House of Rest for the Aged, 5919 Germantown Avenue. Donation Day, Wednesday, October 9, 2 to 5 P. M. Donations to Mrs. George Higginson, 901 Magee Ave., Philadelphia 11.

Sooner or later the Episcopal Church will have to face squarely its inner schism about the liturgy. We must either accept the Prayer Book or reject it. And if we accept it, we must obey it, not because conformity is an end in itself, but because it is the only means to corporate unity. This means, if nothing else, that we must rid ourselves of the false anti-thesis of Morning Prayer versus Holy Communion. On Sundays and holydays, it is not an alternative "either-or" but a comprehensive "both-and". And no amount of subtle ingenuity can get around the explicit intention of our liturgy, backed up by the whole history of the universal Catholic Church, that the morning Office precedes the Eucharist, and that the Eucharist is the climax of the Church's corporate worship on the first day of the week. Sunday is the memorial of Easter. The Eucharist is not a permissive alternative on Easter, nor an extra service provided for those few who wish it. There is is nothing in the Prayer Book that faintly suggests that all Sundays are any different from Easter in this respect."—(Excerpt from the article The Family Service by Rev. Massey H. Shepherd, Jr.)

The Psalms

If we were to remove from our worship everything Jewish, we would be left with very little. One of the great treasures we have inherited from the Jews is the collection of Psalms unique among all of the religious poetry of the world. The Jews' particular religious genius is so clearly expressed in them. Odd as it seems to some, our Church is one of the most "Bible" churches, for our liturgy makes such frequent and generous use of the Psalms and of Holy Scripture. Even our sermons tend to be Biblical rather than topical. Our Prayer Book provides a daily selection of Psalms according to the days of the month so that if the plan is followed, as it is here at St. Mark's, the whole Psalter will be read through once each month. On greater feast days or special occasions special Psalms are used. The "Propers" (Introit, Gradual, Offertory, Communion) are taken mostly from the Psalms.

The poetry of the Psalms is constructed in an unique way. Rather than a rhyme scheme, there is what is called "parallelism". The second half of each line repeats the sense of the first half using slightly different words. That is why it is customary to make a definite pause at the asterisk half-way through the verse rather than according to the punctuation marks. Then too, it helps keep us together for we all tend to take breaths at different places.

Some of the Psalms were written for special occasions in the ceremonial of the Temple. Some of them have a litany-like quality with a repeated response, "for his mercy endureth forever," etc. Some of them have directions for the musicians, "Selah", etc. Nobody knows who wrote all of them. Some of them were undoubtedly written by King David. Many of them were written during the exile in Babylonia and Assyria. All of them express an unfailing trust and faith in God the Father, which is the great contribution of Jewish devotion. These were the hymns of the Jewish people. The word "Psalm" means "praise". Our Lord quoted them frequently, and every Jew knew them all by heart.

Holy Communion is administered at all Masses at St. Mark's, but we do urge that the Church's discipline and tradition be maintained: Those coming to Holy Communion must be confirmed by a bishop in the Holy Catholic Church, be spiritually prepared by self-examination and confession of sin to Almighty God, and, finally, come after a proper period of fasting, in honor of Our Lord who feeds us with the Food that does not perish.

St. Monica's Guild

God seeks to work through people, and one of the ways we co operate with Him is by praying. St. Monica's Guild is a group of people who undertake the work of praying for others. The names of the sick and shut-in, those in our armed forces, those in need of guidance and help, are kept on a special list which is used each day in St. Mark's at the noon-day prayers, and is sent to each member of St. Monica's Guild for their own prayers. Names are normally kept on for one month's time. Although this work of intercession for the needs of others is a very humble sort of work, it is perhaps, the most important one we can do. At least anyone at all can do such work, sick or well, old or young. As new names are added to the list, a system is set up by which members phone one another, and so get names and information to everyone in the Guild quickly.

There are cards at the back of the church for request for prayers. We need as many people as possible to carry on this work of prayer. The next meeting of St. Monica's Guild will be the 21st of this month, Thursday evening, at 7.30 P.M. It lasts only half an hour. If you are interested in helping in this way, please do come to the meeting.

THE "20-30 CLUB"

This is a group of young adults, ages 20 to 30, single or married, who meet every other week in the Parish House Lounge for coffee and conversation and to get to know each other. There is no "organization" as such, and no formal program. It is a kind of "open house" for anyone who fits into this age bracket, give or take a few years one way or the other. Those who do come regularly would like very much to meet and know those of you who do not come.

The Rector's Message

Confession of sin is a normal part of the Christian Life. The Church requires us to make a confession of sin before we come to Holy Communion. The Prayer Book puts it—"It is required of those who come to the Lord's Supper to examine themselves, whether they repent them truly of their former sins."

Confession of sin before a priest, called the Sacrament of Penance, is also a normal part of the Christian Life at regular intervals or on special occasions. For Anglicans no rules are set forth to force them to use this sacrament of God's loving forgiveness. Its use, however, has greatly increased in our communion in recent years, and in certain parishes Sacramental Confession is the expected norm for its members. This has been true of St. Mark's parish for a long time. Almost every person confirmed or received in our parish has made his confession. Those who transfer from other parishes are also told of the important emphasis we place upon this sacrament.

Confession is one of those things it is easy to forget about, especially if it is as hard a job as most of us find it to be. We easily put out of mind things which are unpleasant, as if they would disappear if we did not think about them. But sin just does not evaporate. It must be confessed with true contrition, and forgiven.

Sacramental Confession is part of our way of life at St. Mark's, and I urge all those who have lapsed from this practice to return to it as we begin a new Christian Year on December 1st. I also ask those who have never experienced the grace of Absolution in this way to consider it for their own lives. Catholic custom is—to go to whatever parish and to whatever priest one likes for periodic confession of sin—but go. At least once a year has always been the minimum.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

India is a large and important nation halfway around the world. With only two per cent. of its population professing Christianity, it is far from being a Christian nation. Ten years ago a new Church was formed which took the name of the Church of South India. A few Anglican dioceses from the southern part of India united with Presbyterians, Methodists and Congregationalists of that section to constitute this Church. Bishops of former Anglican dioceses left the Anglican Communion, and supplied the Episcopate to this new Church. This Order of the Ministry was received by the new Church of South India without requiring acceptance of a defined theory of episcopacy. Lutherans and Roman Catholics are not a part of the new Church, so only a portion of Christians in the south of India belong to it.

Some Anglicans, including members of our own Episcopal Church, are impatient to get this new Church "accepted" by the provinces of the Anglican Communion. Schemes are being promoted with great zeal to achieve intercommunion right away. These schemes seem to find most of their supporters among Anglicans who would minimize the Catholic character of our Church.

The current passion for haste in unity proposals is not accompanied by the wisdom of either sound theology or churchmanship. The appeal is more to our sentiments than to our minds. Impatient churchmen seem willing to sacrifice the basic unity among Episcopalians, and endanger our unofficial intercommunion with Eastern Orthodoxy, in order to gain unity and intercommunion with a small group of Christians in South India who are not yet certain whether they will embrace full Catholic Faith and Order.

There are Anglicans who believe what the Prayer Book says and are convinced that the Preface to the Ordinal is a clear statement regarding the ministry of the Catholic Church. They oppose the present haste for this scheme until we learn if the Church of India will regard the Apostolic Ministry as it has always been held by the Catholic Church. The history of the past 400 years bears witness to the frequent struggle of men of conviction to preserve the Apostolic Ministry and Succession in Anglicanism. The Church is grateful to those who stood up to the Puritans, for those who fought for and won the Apostolic Ministry for the Episcopal Church in this country. We still need champions for this cause—men and women who will work and pray that the foundations of our branch of the Catholic Church will not be weakened by those who regard lightly the matters of the Episcopate and the Intention in Sacrament of Holy Orders.

The situation today regarding the very important matter of Christian reunion leads me to wish that all SCHEMES for reuion would be put in cold storage for the next 25 years, and that we would be allowed to pray and live together —first as Anglicans, learning to know and love one another—yet always in friendship with our separated brethren in Christ.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

Preparation for Communion means—are we right with God? We know we cannot be ready until we have gone over our lives, found out wherein we have sinned against God and our neighbors, and confessed these sins to God. This we do with honest sorrow for having failed God and with resolution to make good and do better where we can. The Church calls us to the Lord's Table, but on condition that we receive Christ's Body and Blood worthily. At the end of the Communion Office, in the second exhortation, the Church says to us, "repent you of your sins, or else come not to that holy Table." Many of us at St. Mark's would do well to heed the strong language of the Prayer Book.

This matter of repentance might seem too hard for us if God of His Goodness had not given us ways and means to deal with sin's malady. First, we know that God forgives sin. The Catholic Faith declares that every Christian can make a "new start" each time he makes a thorough and particular confession of sin. Sins forgiven are sins wiped away. Too few Churchmen realize the blessing that the Sacrament of Penance is in the whole problem of getting right with God. It is THE way provided by the historic Church. Many are prejudiced against "confession" because of alleged abuses. But disuse of one of the Church's sacraments can be worse than abuse. Many say they dislike the idea of confessing before a priest. I wonder if they do not, deep down, really dislike facing the reality of sin itself in their own lives. That's the hardest hurdle to make. Yet God reaches out to meet us as soon as we respond, like the young man who "when he came to himself" said with decision, "I will arise and go to my Father."

Christmas and the great days of the year suggest special preparation for Holy Communion. These are times to evaluate our use of the sacraments. Confession may be the one thing needful to give our lives richness and purpose.

The Rector's Message

Christians must constantly assert the true meaning of Christmas. We must tell the world that we celebrate the Incarnation, the entering of God the Son into human life—Jesus Christ, "Who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven, and was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, and was made man." We celebrate the truth that God intervened to save us. The meaning of Christmas is beautifully stated in one of the Christmas antiphons taken from the Book of Wisdom: "When all things were in quiet silence and night was in the midst of her swift course, thine almighty Word, O Lord, leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne."

God's Gift of Christ and salvation for Eternal Life through Him is the important gift at Christmas. May our Christmas giving be cleansed from all selfishness and become like Christ's Gift when He "came to visit us in great humility."

Why not reclaim Christmas from the cheapness of sentimental good fellowship which lasts about as long as the tasteless decorations of secular commercialism.

The world needs Christ; all mankind needs salvation. What better gift can we give than the Good News of the Incarnation.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

"DAILY INCREASE IN THY HOLY SPIRIT MORE AND MORE"—Confirmation was administered by Bishop Roberts last Tuesday afternoon in the Lady Chapel to the following:

Beverly Lorraine Bouvier
Olivia Jean Geyer
Arthur Dewey Maxwell
Joseph E. McQueen
Henrietta Morton
Robert W. Preucel, M. D.
Sally Rentschler

Mildred Rose Myers was received from the Roman Communion.

We welcome them into the fuller life of the Church as they received their first communion this morning.

THE SCHEDULE OF CHRISTMAS SERVICES emphasizes the family character of our observances. The Solemn Mass at Midnight has come to mean much to members of the parish and our friends. This Mass is primarily one for communions. Although the Canterbury Choir will lead us in the singing of carols and the Propers of the Mass, a second Solemn Mass with procession and music by the choir of men and boys is scheduled for 9.30. We hope this will enable all the members of each family to come together to worship, to receive Holy Communion and to put Christ first in Christmas.

ON DECEMBER 29th there will be a Nursery but NO Sunday School.

GETTING READY FOR CHRISTMAS and preparing gifts should include the Christmas custom of giving a present for the Lord's work. Some of our congregation may be moved to make a special gift toward the outstanding note which we incurred for our new parish house.

CHRISTMAS FUND—It is not too late for some who may still wish to contribute to the Christmas Fund for parish activities.

CHURCHMAN'S ORDO KALENDARS may be obtained from the Women of the Church and at the office. Price 50 cents.

FLOWERS FOR CHRISTMAS—People wishing to send white memorial flowers for the Altar on Christmas Day will please have them at the Church by noon on Tuesday, December 24. It will help us greatly if you will notify Sister Darthea or the office of your intention to send such flowers and indicate the name or names if they are memorials.

The Rector's Message

When we were in the seminary we used to refer to the Monday morning newspaper reports of Sunday's sermons as the "Monday morning comics". Last Monday the N. Y. Times reported a sermon-conversation between the ministers of the Community Church of New York which might come under a new classification of "tragics." "Three Protestant clergymen agreed yesterday", says the Times, "that Jesus was PERHAPS the greatest man who ever lived." (Italics mine.) To the question—"Was Jesus the Jewish Messiah?", one of the ministers said "Jesus was not the Jewish Messiah, but perhaps a Messiah in an entirely different sense of the word." "God did not intervene and redeem Israel and mankind from disharmony through His anointed Son." Asked if Jesus was God, another member of the panel replied, "When one reviews and compares the record of the four Gospels, he can safely conclude that Jesus was not God."

If nothing else, the views of these clergymen point to the bankruptcy of Protestant Liberal theology. More than that it should make us realize that some who call themselves Christians are trying to knock out the center beam of the Christian Faith. It is not new to hear these attacks on the Incarnation. Yet coming at Christmas when we celebrate God's Intervention and the fact that Jesus is God the Son—the Word made flesh—this challenge to our Faith is much more pronounced. We should be moved to do at least two things: reaffirm our Faith and increase our devotion to our Incarnate Lord; and stir ourselves with renewed evangelical zeal to make Christ known as God's Messiah, our only Saviour and say with Thomas, "My Lord and my God."

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

Fasting Communions

Unless we keep in mind the purpose behind the Church's rules and customs about fasting and abstinence, we will misunderstand the whole matter of self-denial and discipline which plays a part in our religion. All of it is done for a positive reason; never as an end in itself. There is no virtue in self-denial as such. It is only when we willingly deny ourselves what is in itself good, that there is any virtue involved. We cannot claim virtue for avoiding what is evil, for we are bound by God's command to do that. To be virtuous self-denial must be voluntary, something we want to do and not just something we must do.

The Church's custom has always been to abstain from food before making one's Communion. Because it is better to do these things voluntarily, there is no rule in the Anglican Church that demands it. However, this does not excuse us from making proper preparation. The Church does require of us self-examination and penitence (see Prayer Book, page 75, and the last two General Rubrics at bottom of page 84). Here we are not given a choice. We do not HAVE to fast before Communions, but that is just the point. We should WANT to. Those who profess to being Catholic Churchmen should want to follow the historical practice of giving first place to the Body and Blood of Christ as our heavenly food. This is the traditional way just because it is the way the most Christians in all places have considered to be the best way for nearly two thousand years. It goes without saying, of course, that it is our own custom here at St. Mark's, and that it is required of our own parishioners that they come to the Altar prepared and fasting.

The Anglican Communion requires a measure of abstinence on all Fridays of the year except Christmas Day, the Epiphany and any Fridays between those two feasts (see P. B. on page li), the Forty Days of Lent, and the Ember Days. Traditionally, this means not eating meat, but in any case, something is to be done on these days by way of self-denial. We are enjoined by the Church to fast (i. e. not to eat food) on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday. Historically, this has meant only one full meal on these days.

Self-denial in some form is good for us now and then as a balance. It teaches that the body is meant to be the servant and not the master. But most of all, self-denial is meant to be an offering presented to God the Father in union with the Self-offering of our Lord Himself upon the Cross. Look at it always in that light.

Theological Education Sunday is being observed throughout the Church today. First, our prayers are asked for the seminaries of our Church, the members of the faculties and those preparing for Holy Orders. Members of the congregation, desiring to make a special offering for Theological Education, may use the envelopes found in the pews. Undesignated offerings are divided among the Philadelphia Divinity School, the General Theological Seminary and Nashotah House.

This Year we have an opportunity to make a special offering toward the program of extension at the General Theological Seminary, which is described in the literature you have received. Offerings toward this campaign should be so indicated.

Today—Sister Mary Elizabeth, Community of the Epiphany, England, will show slides in connection with the work of the Community in Japan among the lepers, at 12.30 P. M. (during coffee hour) in the parish house lounge. ALL members of the congregation are invited.

Candlemas Ceremonies, the Feast of the Purification of St. Mary the Virgin, falls on Sunday this year and the Mass for the day is transferred to Monday, February 3rd. When this occurs in our Kalendar, it is always the custom that the blessing of the candles and the procession precede the regular Mass of the Sunday, which this year is Septuagesima. It will be an unusual opportunity to have a larger number of persons participate in these ancient ceremonies next Sunday at 11 o'clock. On MONDAY, February 3rd, the Purification Masses will be at 7.45 and 9.30.

Please Note Saturday, February 15th, on your kalendar. On that day the Very Rev. C. Patrick Hankey, Dean of Ely Cathedral, England, will conduct a parish Quiet Day from 9.30 to 3 .00 o'clock. A general invitation is extended to all interested persons in the Diocese to join with us.

Candlemas Ceremonies—The Candlemas Ceremonies (blessing of candles with procession) precedes Solemn Mass today. Although the Feast of the Purification itself is transferred to tomorrow, the traditional candle ceremonies take place on this Sunday, followed by the Mass for Septuagesima. Each member of the congregation will participate by holding a lighted candle during these ceremonies. The candle should be taken home and can be used on occasions such as when the priest brings Holy Communion and in time of illness. There will be two Masses tomorrow morning, at 7.45 and 9.30, omitting the Solemn Mass this year.

Women of St. Mark's—The regular monthly dinner and meeting for the Women of the Parish will be held on Thursday evening of this week at 6 o'clock. Kindly note the earlier hour for the dinner. Immediately following the dinner there will be an address by Public Relations Officer Thomas Senteni, of the 19th Police District, and discussion concerning police and family. This program should be of vital interest. There will be opportunity for questions and discussion. The business meeting with various reports will follow the program.

The Inquirers' Class will be resumed for a number of meetings on Monday evening, February 10, at 7.30 o'clock, in the parish house. This class is conducted for those recently confirmed, for those desiring confirmation at the visitation of the Bishop on April 13th, as well as new inquirers and interested persons.

Parish Quiet Day—Saturday, February 15th. The Very Rev. C. Patrick Hankey, Dean of Ely Cathedral, England, who is Special Lecturer in Ascetical Theology at General Theological Seminary during the Easter Term, has consented to be our Conductor. This will be an unusual privilege for the members of our congregation, both men and women, and our friends in the Diocese. Cards for registration will be mailed in the near future. Put this date on your calendar.

Silver Choir Crosses, awarded to the best boys of the previous month, are worn during February by John Badagliacco and Michael Kushner.

"Ask, Search, Knock. They are all active things, demanding effort and trouble on our part. How far are we prepared to give time and trouble to the things concerning our spiritual life? We have only to think of the effort we put into doing things in which we want to excel, to know how easily satisfied we are with a second best effort in matters of faith." St. Matthew 7: 7-11. The Rector's Message

Each of us has his own measure of success. In most cases it is a matter of achievement towards a material goal. "Things" are not bad in themselves, for God has made the world which includes all things we human beings enjoy. "Things", however, are not the true measure of success, for the Christian.

This is particularly true with the Church in the world. Success is not measured by numbers, size, magnificence, or prestige. One cannot say a parish with a large congregation is necessarily a successful parish in the Christian sense. True, the Church must fulfil its commission from Christ to bring all men into its fold. We must reach out and offer Christ to the world about us. But it is most unworthy for a parish to entice people by worldly standards of attractiveness. A fine church building is to the glory of God, not something to attract people. A choir is not something to draw crowds. The priest as a preacher or pastor cannot think that he wins souls, or that he is responsible for making a successful parish. Christ draws men and women to Himself whether it is in a magnificent cathedral or a tiny wooden church. It is Christ who must speak from the pulpit and raise His arms at the altar to call the faithful.

The successful parish is a parish which teaches Christ, loves Christ, follows Christ, and Him crucified. 5000 persons received food from our Lord on the hillside, but we know of none of them being at the Cross, or among the small nucleus of the Apostolic Church.

The Church has only one symbol of success—the Cross, and the successful Way is to deny self and take up that Cross and follow Him.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

The Rector's Message

Is the Episcopal Church equipped to minister to all sorts and conditions of men? Are we willing and able to reach out to men and women of all national origins and races? Have we a mission to the poor as well as the well-to-do, to the rural community as well as to the city and suburban dweller? Are we a Church for both labor and capital, for the college student, for the youth in our armed forces? Can we embrace in our fellowship the prisoner in jail, the patient in the mental hospital, and those in public institutions?

All these questions are vital if the Church's ministry is anything like our Lord's. All these questions can be answered with the same answer– an answer prefaced by a big IF. We can say "Yes" to the above IF the Episcopal Church is truly a Catholic Church, universal in "holding the Faith for all time", Catholic because it is "for all people"—Catholic because we are "sent to preach the Gospel to the whole world." (See Prayer Book, page 291.)

Our Church and its parishes and missions are Catholic in doctrine, in Apostolic Ministry and in sacraments. Are we Catholic in our witness to the heritage we possess? Can each parish—this parish—say yes to all the questions above? As individuals we all have mental and spiritual blocks which keep us from living truly Catholic lives. Some of us are a strange mixture of Catholic ceremonial custom and Protestant individualism. But as a corporate fellowship, as the Divine Society, we must subject individual taste, opinion and prejudice to the truth of Christ's Holy Catholic Church.

The Episcopal Church is not our Church; St. Mark's is not our parish. They belong to Christ to do with them as He sees fit that His Truth and His Grace may be extended to all men.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

THE FOLLOWING PROPER PREFACE is used during the first four weeks of Lent:—

" . . . Who by bodily fasting dost curb our sinfulness, uplift our hearts, and bestow both virtue and its reward upon us, through Jesus Christ Our Lord. . . ."

THE THOMAS McKEAN MEETING ROOM, in our remodeled Parish House, will be so dedicated today. This is, of course, the main, multi-purpose meeting room, where Coffee Hour is regularly held. This room was largely provided through the generosity of the late Katharine J. McKean, in memory of her son Thomas McKean. It is hoped that Miss Nancy McKean, a benefactress of the parish, will be with us. Everyone is invited to attend Coffee Hour after the 11 o'clock Mass today, for this special purpose, as well as for the usual gathering.

WOMEN OF ST. MARK'S—The regular monthly dinner and meeting for the Women of the Parish will be held this Thursday evening at 6 o'clock, in the parish house. Following dinner, two senior students of the Philadelphia Divinity School will speak on their experiences in the National Council Overseas Missionary Training Program for seminarians. Mr. John P. Bartholomew from our parish will speak on Mexico and Mr. Jacob D. Beck, of St. Luke's Parish, Kensington, will speak on Cuba. The talk will be illustrated with slides. This program should be of interest to both men and women of the parish.

LENTEN QUIET DAY at St. Margaret's House—Tuesday, March 11th, starting with Mass at 8.30 A. M. and closing at 3.15 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. W. E. Frieman, Th. D.

LENTEN QUIET EVENING at St. Margaret's House, Saturday, March 29th, from 4 30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Robert E. Sullivan. Please register early.

Excerpts from "Why I Belong to the Church of England"

By Fr. Kenneth N. Ross. (Church Times: December 5, 1957)

At Oxford I learned what the word Catholic meant. I read Bishop Gore, and had no doubt henceforward that the Church of England's claim on my allegiance rested on the fact that she was part of the Catholic Church, administering the Catholic sacraments. But I was attracted by the Evangelicals, as I still am; I was attracted by the Roman Catholics, as I still am. Always I have tried to go where reason led me, balancing my veneration for tradition with a respect for modern knowledge and common sense, and mistrusting both these if they seemed to lead me away from my personal allegiance to the Saviour. I pity those who wake up to find themselves in an intellectual straight-jacket, whether Catholic or Protestant.

The Church of England stands for a gloriously scriptural Catholicism, not in the sense that theological thought has made no progress since the last book of the New Testament canon was written, but in the sense that scripture is the norm or standard by which all subsequent teaching must be tested. It seems now as though the Roman Catholic Church is committed to belief in an ever-growing coral-reef of dogma and an unlimited "development" on the bare word of the Pope. The famous canon of St. Vincent of Lerins is outmoded; he needed to be sure that a doctrine had been taught always, everywhere and by all; but for the present-day Roman Catholic it is enough that the Pope says so.

Truth matters more than unity. It is good that there should be enthusiastic movements nowadays to promote unity, but it must always be unity in the truth. Far better have disunity than unity in falsehood. The scandal of a divided Church would be nothing to the scandal of a Church united in the service of a lie. Too many people change their ecclesiastical allegiance for frivolous reasons. "I decided I should be happier as a Roman Catholic"; "I like having the services in English, so I joined the Church of England." Truth is at a discount today, but it prevails in the end. . . . . .

I love the Church of England, not because she contains Catholics, but because she is Catholic. I love the Church of England, not because she contains Evangelicals, but because she is Evangelical. The desire to bring people to Jesus our Saviour unites Christians of whatever allegiance, for "Jesus only" is the watchword of all true Christianity. . . . .

It is no bad thing to be "plain Catholic", with no Roman additions or Protestant subtractions.

SILVER CHOIR CROSS AWARDS to the Boy Choir for the previous month: William Smith and William Nelson.

SUNDAY BREAKFASTS: The results from the recent "ballots" sent in by those interested in having breakfast in the parish house after the 8 and 9 o'clock Masses were not very encouraging. The few that said they would use this privilege are not a sufficient number to finance the cost of the project. We still believe that it is a good idea, one which finds hearty response in many parishes. There may still be a way of making this plan work. There may be enough who would join in a plan of preparing and serving the breakfasts themselves. Under a committee of the Women of St. Mark's, interested volunteers could serve as workers until the program gets under way.

READ, MARK, LEARN AND INWARDLY DIGEST — In Search of Quiet. By Sibyl Harton, London: Mowbrays. Does today's hurly-burly make you yearn for peace and quiet while at the same time producing an unconscious fear of being alone and silent? This little book, just 55 pages —easily read in an hour, will help you in whichever state of mind you may be. It is a compact little manual on Retreats, their history and usefulness. If you are a little afraid of Retreats it is a very practical and detailed guide as to just how to make the most of one, alone or in a group. An appendix provides a very solid reading list of modern and ancient books on "The Inner Life." One wishes that an American edition might provide as long a list of Retreat Houses as the British edition. (By a Communicant of St. Mark's.)

The Fourth Sunday in Lent

Mid-Lent Sunday; Laetare (Rejoicing) Sunday; Refreshment Sunday; Mothering Sunday; all these names for this Sunday help to describe the richness of Christian tradition associated with the day marking the middle of Lent. The violet vestments are put aside for more cheerful rose-colored ones. Symbolically, for a day the Church relaxes its liturgical austerity proper to this season of penitence. The deacon and sub-deacon wear the dalmatic and tunical again as a sign of holy gladness. The Introit bids Christian folk, in the midst of Lent's spiritual warfare, to REJOICE and so be filled with new strength and consolation. The Gospel for the day—feeding of the five thousand—suggests REFRESHMENT, and from this there was an ancient custom to distribute food to the poor on this Sunday. The Epistle speaks to us of our true native land and mother of us all, the heavenly Jerusalem. From this thought MOTHERING Sunday gets its name.

Several centuries ago in England the custom grew up for boys and girls who were away from their families as servants or at other work to spend this one day out of the year at home. Those young people went home to be "mothered" and to make their Communions with their mothers in their own parish churches. Those who could, brought home Simnel bread as an outward sign of their love.

For us, "Mothering Sunday" is a time to give thanks to God for all that mother means. First, we should give thanks for the Church, which is our Mother. She brings us into life in Christ at Holy Baptism; she feeds us with the Bread of Heaven in Holy Communion; she forgives us and with loving prayers takes care of us at the end of our lives. Secondly, we give thanks for our Lord's own Mother, the Blessed Virgin Mary. She cared for and loved Jesus all through His boyhood, and was at the Cross when He died for us. Thirdly, we give thanks for our own mothers whether they are in this world or the next, praying that we may all be united in our Lord Jesus Christ.

All our thanksgiving and prayers find their perfect fulfillment in our Communions when our Lord makes us one with Him—"that we may evermore dwell in Him and He in us."

Today, at the Coffee Hour, Simnel Bread will be blessed and served. It has been made for us through the generosity of one of our parish family. Our Simnel Bread can be for us the outward sign of our love—our love for our Mother the Church, for our own mothers and for our Lord's own gracious mother whom He shares with us.

Read, Mark, Learn and Inwardly Digest: Uncomfortable Words (Lent Book for 1958—London) by Joost de Blank, Archbishop of Cape Town. 120 pages.

We are all familiar with the "Comfortable Words" in the Communion Service which has brought encouragement and solace to countless people. However, in the season of Lent, asks the Archbishop, should we look for comfort? No, says he, it is a time to be shaken out of our complacency, that we may yield our lives more completely to His service.

With that end in view, he has selected ten of the most familiar, famous, and challenging sayings of Christ and called them "Uncomfortable Words". He shows us how they apply in our daily lives, and is utterly pertinent and practical, thoroughly understanding human nature and compelling your attention. Can you bear to squirm?

A communicant of St. Mark's.

"In the Silence"—by Father Andrew

This little book contains much of help to us, in these days, so filled with material things. We need to realize the benefit of the advice "come ye apart". It is as necessary in these days as when Our Lord spoke them. Fr. Andrew points out the great need; it is only in these times of quiet meditation, that we are able to make any progress in our spiritual lives. He gives some useful help that can draw us back to a complete union with God in humble prayer. He says our Lord wants, more than anything else, our love and ourselves.

In the back of this book is a retreat Fr. Andrew gave on the 84th Psalm, and another on St. Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians. Both of these are excellent.

The Rector's Message

The fascinating story of the battle over St. Mark's tower bells in the 1870's was retold earlier this year in an address before the Athenaeum by Nicholas B. Wainwright. Some present-day parishioners may not know that the protests of fashionable Locust street neighbors brought a law suit and an injunction restraining the people of St. Mark's from ringing their bells. Very soon, however, a compromise was reached permitting the bells to be rung at reasonable hours in a satisfactory manner. Mr. Wainwright reports that "it so happened that householders near St. Mark's were low-church Episcopalians, and St. Mark's was high-church." It is merely speculation to say that it was possibly more than the "disgusting sound" and the "jangling of metal music" that aroused nearby Episcopalians. They may have disliked what went on inside St. Mark's. Some even thought that Dr. Hoffman, the rector, later Dean of the General Seminary, was "a high-handed priest who was as jealous of his prerogatives as was George III."

Eighty years later there is ecclesiastical peace in the Rittenhouse Square area, bells peal from both Holy Trinity and St. Mark's, and the "householders of impressive social position" have fled to the Line or the Hills. Would they could hear the noise on Locust street today. Buses and great trucks can drown out the preacher, and even a subway rumbles below and shakes the rectory plaster. Our bedrooms in the rear are treated to a nightly bedlam of automobile motors and horns, mingled with the post-midnight shouts of garage attendants and too-happy revelers.

Our tower houses eight bells which are rung by ropes in the old-fashioned manner. Mr. Charles Miller, with the assistance of some of the boys of the parish, has just installed new ropes which make it possible to play the bells before Solemn Mass on Sundays. At noon the Angelus is rung. Someday we should modernize our bellringing equipment, install a clavier (keyboard) to play the bells, as well as an automatic Angelus ringer. In any case, we are in need of men who would like to learn to ring the bells, and take their turn on Sundays. It would be good to begin again to play the bells before Sunday Evensong, or even daily.

During the heat of the famous battle, Dr. Hoffman, the rector, expressed to the congregation one morning—"Long may the bells continue to announce the Lord's Day." We might add this further expression of hope—"Long may this House of Prayer on Locust street honor the Lord's Day, and worship Him every day with the Daily Offices and the Offering of the Holy Sacrifice."

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

Proceeds from the sale of the record will be used to purchase new recording equipment which we hope to install in such a way that it will not be visible to the congregation at any time.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, 36th and Baring Streets, of which Father Rementer is Vicar, will dedicate its newly rebuilt organ next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mr. Day has been invited to give the Dedication Recital at that time. Members of our congregation are cordially invited.

THE ANNUAL CHOIR OUTING is planned for June and the first call goes out to members of the congregation for contributions to the Summer Fund, from which the expenses of this outing are paid. Please send offerings to the Church office or place in the collection plate marked for this purpose. Our expenses will be greatly reduced if there are any members who would care to drive their cars on this occasion.

✠

WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY are Whitsuntide Ember Days. These are days of fasting on which, as our Prayer Book says, "the Church requires such a measure of abstinence as is more especially suited to extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion."

SUNDAY SCHOOL—All classes will end this Sunday, May 25th, instead of June 15th as previously announced. The Nursery Class (infants up through 3 years) will continue as long as enough interest is shown to warrant engaging a nurse for these months.

NEW TAPE RECORDER—Through the generosity of Mr. W. Paul Starkey, we are happy to announce a gift for the purchase and installation of new tape recording equipment. This is a most valuable parish asset, especially for our choirs.

"MUSIC AT ST. MARK'S" is a 12" LP record to be released soon. It will be available to members of the parish and others who are interested. The Choir has recorded the Hannahs' Mass written for our patronal festival, the lovely Titcomb "Victory Te Deum", and two Motets by Mr. Day. Organ music will include Miss Diemer's "Festival Voluntary for the Feast of St. Mark," a Bach Chorale Prelude and Sowerby's brilliant "Prelude on the King's Majesty."

MR. ROBERT KEEL, our seminarian for the past two years, will be ordained Deacon on Saturday of this week in All Saints Cathedral, Albany, N. Y. The prayers of the congregation are asked for him as he begins his Ministry in the Church of God.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE SUMMER FUND for the Annual Choir Outing may be sent to the Church Office or placed in the collection plate marked for this purpose. Are there members of the congregation who would drive their cars for this outing on June 21st?

TODAY, Mr. Day will give the dedication recital of the rebuilt organ at St. Andrew's Church, 36th and Baring Streets, at 3 o'clock. Members of the congregation are cordially invited.

A MEETING OF THE ALTAR SOCIETY, which includes all those who work at and care for the Altar, will be held in the meeting room on Thursday, June 5th, at 7.30 P. M. All other interested persons are invited.

QUIET EVENING at St. Margaret's House for women members of the Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament on the Eve of Corpus Christi, Wednesday, June 4th, from 5.15 to 9.00 P. M. Addresses at 5.15 and 7.30. Holy Hour, 8.00 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Robert L. Ducker. Early reservation appreciated.

CATHOLIC LAYMEN'S UNION—Tuesday, May 27th, at 8.00 P. M., at Trinity Church, 708 Bethlehem Pike, Ambler. Address by Rev. John A. Schultz on "The Layman's Mission in the Church."

READ, MARK, LEARN AND INWARDLY DIGEST—Those who like a lighter form of religious reading during the warmer months are invited to read the historical novels by Louis deWohl, a well-known European writer. Mr. deWohl centers his novels around a particular Saint, and the result is a series of delightfully written and interesting historical novels. The following are titles and the saints about which they center:

The Quiet Light—St. Thomas Aquinas.
Set All Afire—St. Francis Xavier.
The Restless Flame—St. Augustine.
The Living Wood—St. Francis Assissi.
The Golden Thread—St. Ignatius Loyola.

Father Becker will be in charge of the parish from July 18th through Labor Day.

With only one priest on duty during the summer months, you are asked to be patient if there is no immediate answer to the door bell or telephone. We shall do our best to keep up our usual practice of having a priest available twenty-four hours a day.

The Parish Office will be open from 9:30 to 1:30 daily, Monday through Friday, beginning July 1, until after Labor Day.

Holy Communion is administered at all Masses to confirmed members of the Episcopal Church, or to those in Communion with her. It is expected that all who present themselves at the Altar Rail are spiritually prepared and come fasting.

A Nursery will be provided from 10:45 A. M. until 12:30 P. M. on Sundays for infants up to three years of age.

Coffee Hour will continue during the summer. (Also something cool.)

Rowland Ricketts, M.D. will be in charge of the music during Mr. Day's vacation, (July 20 through August 31).

The 8 o'clock Mass will be resumed on September 7, and Mass at 11 o'clock will be Solemn beginning September 21. Evensong and Devotions will be resumed October 5.

The Rector's Message

With the return to the fall schedule today, we resume many of our parish activities. We welcome back our choir of men and boys. The Canterbury Choir did a splendid job this summer, and we thank them for their loyal service during those hot, humid summer Sundays. The weekday service schedule has a few changes. A 12.10 Mass on Wednesdays has been added, and the 7 o'clock Masses have been dropped except for important feast days.

I am pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Kirk Hartman, a middler at the Philadelphia Divinity School, as Seminarian on the parish staff. He and Mrs. Hartman have already made many friends in the parish.

Instruction classes for those wishing to be confirmed or received will begin very soon. The Inquirers' Class for adults will have its first meeting in the Thomas McKean Meeting Room on Tuesday evening, September 30th. All interested persons are invited whether they intend to be confirmed or not, as well as those wishing a refresher course. The Confirmation Class for children will meet for the first time on Saturday, October 4th, at 11 A. M. in the Parish House.

The growth of a parish is primarily important in the bringing of more people to know our Lord, to join in the great act of Eucharistic worship, and to receive sacramental grace. In many ways, evangelism is the most important task for a parish such as St. Mark's. We have a goodly heritage, and it is our privilege to share it with all, especially those in our community. The responsibility for this vital work falls on each member of the parish family. It is a rewarding experience to bring someone to our Lord and His Church. We must seek to interest people in the parish for the right reasons. The Church is a Holy Fellowship, but it is not a club of like-minded people. The parish should desire to offer to God beautiful services, fine appointments and excellent music, yet these are not the real things that should attract. People are hungry for God, and in our parish they should find Him in our corporate life and in each of us individually.

Our evangelism should extend to children and young people. There must be many children in our community who do not receive Christian Education. Our Sunday School is for them, and those we train in youth become the strength of the Church in the days to come.

Most Sundays in the year we have more people at services than we have communicants. This is not only due to visitors which we are privileged to welcome. It is also an evidence of the faithfulness of most of our members. It is our duty to "worship God every Sunday in His Church", and that worship, by Apostolic precept, is at the Holy Eucharist, which we commonly call the Mass. It is good to hold this normal standard before those we bring to our Lord, and assure them that this parish also believes in the regular use of the Sacrament of Penance (Confession) for its members. This is a Catholic parish, not that all parishes of the Episcopal Church are not part of the Catholic Church, but we stress the full Catholic life.

As I begin my eighth year as your rector, I am conscious of how far God has led us in our efforts to make St. Mark's truly a family in Christ. As He has given us strength in our parish life, I pray that He may guide us towards a growth which will bring many souls to the knowledge and love of our Blessed Lord in His Holy Church.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

BOOKS

"It is hardly possible to overestimate the influence of books upon the moral state of society. This influence is good or evil, according to the quality of the literature which is read . . . It cannot be disputed that there is a great quantity of literature in circulation, the influence of which is distinctly in the wrong direction. Books and pamphlets . . . novels and periodicals . . . paragraphs in the daily newspapers are widely circulated . . . and have for their avowed object the undermining of the foundations of divine truth and morality and the casting of doubts upon orthodox Christianity. . . . The Christian is wise in refusing to read anything which tends to cover the true estimate, and to disguise the real character of sin.

Whilst works of fiction, of a wholesome, elevating and entertaining description may be read in moderation . . . it is a duty to add to them, literature of a more solid and improving kind, such as works of science, art, travel, history, poetry, and the biographies of the great and noble. A book containing the story of the life of a good man or woman is full of precious seed . . . providing a noble model of character, and furnishing an example for our benefit. . . .

It would prove an immense advantage to the religious progress of Christian people if they would always have in hand a theological book of a definite, instructive character. An increased knowledge of religious truth is the basis of spiritual progress. Knowledge is power; and religious knowledge is religious power, because it acts upon the life. . . . The words of the Lord, recorded by the prophet Hosea, have a distinct application to our own times, "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge." (Hosea IV: 6.)

These extracts are taken from "The Practical Religion" by Vernon Haley. Can anyone deny that they are as pertinent today as they were when they were written sixty-one years ago?

Report from the Librarian

It is with much satisfaction that the Librarian is able to report on the Library and its use for the past year, from October 1957, to October 1958. Thanks to the Isaiah Williamson Library Fund, the Library has acquired 165 books, 4 of which were given. Considering that we had no access to the books for almost one year, due to the remodeling of the Parish House, and that in consequence the "religious" reading habits of the congregation were somewhat disrupted, it is gratifying that 90 people have borrowed books, and that over 200 books have been taken out.

This is a very good beginning.

As the Liturgical year unfolds, timely and pertinent books will be displayed on the Book Table at the Coffee Hour, that our religious knowledge may increase, always to the greater glory of God.

For example: September 29th was the Feast of St. Michael and All Angels. Today there will be displayed four books on "Angels". "Angelic" literature is scant. However, this "scantiness" can give us at least a nodding acquaintance with the Angel Host.

Evensong Is Resumed Today at 5.30 P. M. and is again a regular part of our Sunday schedule. This is an added opportunity to make Sunday the Lord's Day and it is hoped that an increasing number of people will join us in offering this Evening Office and showing devotion to our Lord and the Blessed Sacrament.

St. Mark's Station Day in the Cycle of Prayer sponsored by the American Church Union will be observed on Thursday of this week—(7.45 A. M.) Our intention at the Offering of the Holy Sacrifice will be for the A. C. U. in its great work of teaching and extending the Catholic Faith. Members of our parish should join in prayer with our brethren who seek to bring the full richness of our Catholic heritage to all the members of our beloved Church. This would be a splendid time for us to complete our yearly pledge of $52.00 to the A.C.U. Kindly send such contributions to the parish office marked for this purpose.

The Diocesan Altar Guild invites the Women of the Diocese to its Annual Quiet Evening on Wednesday, October 15th, at St. Clement's Church, from 5.30 to 9.00 P. M. The Rev. William J. Alberts, Rector of Christ Church, Media, will give the Meditations. Bring your own box supper. Coffee will be served.

St. Mark's Sunday School

The Sunday School is held each week at 11.00 A. M., so that parents and children may come to church as a family unit. There is also a Nursery for infants up through three years of age, which is conducted by Mrs. Carolyn Simcox whose weekday job is the care of the Nursery at Hahnemann Hospital.

Our Sunday School has four classes. We are not numerous enough as yet to divide children into the usual grades, but instead, we group them according to ages into Kindergarten, Primary, Junior and Junior High classes. We use the "Christian Fellowship" series of lessons which provides several courses for each group, so that there need be no repetition within the same age bracket. Teachers are as follows: Kindergarten: Mrs. William Forrest (Mr. Forrest is a seminarist at the Divinity School and sings in our choir.) Primary: Miss Sally Rentschler, a graduate of the Curtis Institute who teaches music in Wilmington. Junior: Mr. Robert Roth, who with Mrs. Roth, is a newcomer to St. Mark's, and need we say, a welcome one; and Junior High: Sister Darthea Margaret of the Sisters of St. Margaret. The choir boys have their own class taught by our parish Seminarist. Mr. Hartman.

Children learn mostly by doing, and so it is important that they be familiar with the church and its ceremonies and practices at this early age. For this reason the Sunday School joins us in church after the sermon. We have learned the sad results of years and years of Sunday Schools conducted apart from church life. Children do not become churchmen overnight upon their confirmation, nor do facts in the head a Christian make. The sense of belonging to the parish family is important too, and the matter of the family coming to worship God on Sunday as a unit cannot be overemphasized. Children always reflect the attitudes of their parents.

Children in the three younger groups will soon bring home a reading book. This is meant to be used at home, to go over the last Sunday's lesson, and to make the parent-child relationship include religion. If your child brings home his reader, please use it with him regularly. If you do not take his Sunday School seriously, neither will he. If you give him the impression that church-going is just for kids, he will not be able to wait until the day he is old enough to escape it. We must not go on repeating the errors of past methods of religious education, for the evident results are are all too familiar to us. M. R. B.

The Rector's Message

Three years ago we had our first three-year Stewardship Canvass. The results revealed to me how wonderful and dedicated the members of St. Mark's really are. As the three years unfolded, it showed that the people of our parish had meant what they said. We were able to rebuild the parish house and administer the regular program of the parish. The parish house is now paid for, and we realize what a blessing it is in the life of our parish family.

We learned many things these past three years. We have discovered what a joy there is in sacrificial giving. There are now a greater number of people who share a real sense of responsibility both to the work of the parish, and its financial support. St. Mark's in this generation is a parish with a new approach to its mission. It would make any priest proud to serve as rector of such a spiritual family.

We look ahead to another three years. There will be new opportunities and responsibilities. Many new members will wish to share in our program in the spirit shown three years ago, while those of us who are tried and tested will have satisfaction in continuing our giving to God.

I look forward, as you do, to our family party on Thursday evening. Will you join with me in prayer for our spiritual growth, for an increase of the faithful, and for a continuing responsibility in meeting parish needs and forwarding the program of the Church.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

On All Souls' Day we commemorate those of our departed relatives and friends whose names are submitted on the forms provided for this purpose. Kindly place them in the offering plate or send to the Church Office. You may designate at which Mass, 7.00, 9.30 or 12.10, you wish them remembered.

United Thank Offerings should be sent to Miss E. M. Fryer, 1906 Sansom St. before Nov. 12. In gathering Service held Nov. 19th.

Read, Mark, Learn and Inwardly Digest—Harry Balmires, a really stimulating English Christian writer of our day, is becoming better known in our country. His trilogy, with its provocative titles, "Blessings Unbounded", "Cold War in Hell", and "The Devil's Hunting Ground", is fictional, but teaches. His latest, "The Kirkbride Conversations", expounds part of the Christian Faith in a lively, entertaining and clear series of conversations. A "must" for all.

St. Margaret's House—Quiet Day for Women, Saturday, October 25, starting with Mass at 8.30 A. M. and closing at 3.15 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Vincent F. Pottle, S. T. D.

Quiet Evening on All Saints' Day, Saturday, November 1, from 4.30 to 9 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Robert W. Hill. Please register early.

"Music at St. Mark's"—A recording of our choir and of the organ will make a fine Christmas gift. The supply is limited; it may be wise not to delay in obtaining your copies. "The King's Majesty", by Sowerby, which appears on Side Two of the recording, will be played before the Solemn Mass next Sunday.

NOTES

Holy Communion is administered at all Masses at St. Mark's, but we do urge that the Church's disciplines and customs be maintained: Those coming to Holy Communion must be confirmed by a bishop of the Holy Catholic Church, be spiritually prepared by self-examination and confession of sin to Almighty God, and, finally, come after a proper period of fasting, in honor of Our Lord who comes to us in this great Sacrament. Those who have not been brought up in the customs of this parish and who find the 11 o'clock hour a convenient time to receive Holy Communion are asked to observe these historic practices.

The Motet sung at Communions of the Solemn Mass today was written for our Choir by the Choirmaster. It also appears on the recording "Music at St. Mark's", which may be purchased at the coffee hour following the service.

Tomorrow, Monday, is All Souls' Day, (transferred). There will be a Solemn Requiem at 7 o'clock, after which a buffet breakfast is served to all members of the congregation in the parish hall. Other Requiem Masses will be at 9.30 and 12.10. Requests to remember names of loved ones at any of these Services should be handed to the clergy today.

Women of St. Mark's—Dinner and Meeting. Thursday, November 6, at 6.00 P. M. Dinner $1.50. The Speaker will be Father Becker, who will present "Hope of the East", a film in color and sound. Please note change in Speaker.

United Thank Offering—Fall Ingathering on Wednesday, November 19th, at 8 P. M. in Holy Trinity Church, 19th and Rittenhouse Square. The Rev. Rowland Cox, of Alaska, will be the preacher. Send your U. T. O. offerings to Miss E. M. Fryer, Parish Custodian, 1906 Sansom St., before November 12.

Read, Mark, Learn and Inwardly Digest—"We are called to be Saints". All Saints' Day and All Souls' Day give us our subject reading matter for the month of November. If you think the lives of the Saints were dull, dreary and unexciting, and quite unlike ours, help yourself to one of the many volumes that are displayed on the book table today. St. Francis Assisi, St. Theresa of Avila, St. Francis de Sales, and St. Ignatius Loyola, to mention but a few, will change your mind.

Though not canonized, the lives of the great men and women of the Church, both priests and lay people, the Holy Souls, who gave their all for Christ and His work, serve as excellent examples, and prove how exciting and adventurous the living of the Christian religion can be. The Secret of Cure d'Ars, Brother Edward, Priscilla Lydia Sellon, are but a few.

The Rector's Message

St. Mark's is one of the parishes set in the center of Philadelphia. With a shift of population, there was a time, not many years ago, when most of the members of the parish lived out of center city or in the suburbs. In the last five years the trend has reversed; most of the members of St. Mark's live in areas of the city not far from 16th and Locust Streets. We are privileged in having many visitors at our services, churchmen staying at nearby hotels, or those who have moved into our community. It is a joy to welcome them, and I hope that they will be one of us when they are in town, and that they will come to coffee hour following Solemn Mass, where we can get acquainted.

We are always pleased when new people want to make St. Mark's their church home. Episcopalians who feel at home in our parish family will eventually want to become members of the parish through letters of transfer. Membership in a parish means responsibility for the life and work of the congregation. We would expect that people who would transfer to St. Mark's accept and believe in the standard of churchmanship for which this parish stands. This means a conviction that attendance at Mass each Sunday is a privilege and a duty; that the Sacrament of Penance (Confession) is a normal means of grace for the members of St. Mark's; and that each member pledges and gives to the support of God's work here and in the whole Church according to some standard of modern tithing.

We welcome ALL who come to worship with us regularly or on occasion. We do believe, however, that those coming to membership in the parish by transfer should be certain of their responsibilities to St. Mark's. I endeavor to discuss personally with those desiring to transfer to St. Mark's the Catholic standard of this parish and the share each one of us has in maintaining its life.

As evangelists, we are working for the growth of this parish, but loyal to our heritage, we believe that quality is more important than quantity. Few parishes equal us in the percentage of our members who attend Mass each Sunday. Our strength is in the loyalty and faithfulness in worship, work and sacrificial giving shown by the members of St. Mark's. I sincerely believe that it means something to be a member of this parish.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

Crime and Punishment, a major problem of our times, will be the theme of the Fall Institute of the Department of Christian Social Relations of the Diocese. The meeting will be Monday, November 17th, at Holy Trinity Church, and will be a Dinner Meeting, beginning at 6.30 P. M. Registration including dinner will be $2.00 and may be made at the parish office.

United Clothing Appeal—The Episcopal Church, through the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief, is cooperating with other Churches in the collection of clothing to be distributed to destitute people, including refugees and victims of disaster in other lands. Members of our parish are asked to take articles of clothing to the Presbyterian Center, 22nd and Locust Streets. Clothing should be clean and in good repair, marked with the name of the parish and the number of articles.

United Thank Offering—Fall Ingathering, Wednesday, November 19, 8 P. M., in Holy Trinity Church. Preacher: The Rev. Rowland Cox, of Alaska. Send offerings to Miss E. M. Fryer, 1906 Sansom Street, before November 12.

Notice—Anyone interested in helping with a short liturgical play for the Feast of the Epiphany, please see Fr. Becker.

ON COMPOSURE. From "Before Mass," by Romano Guardini

Composure is the spiritual man's "inhalation", by which, from deep within, he collects his scattered self and returns to his center. Only the composed person is really someone. Only he can be seriously addressed as one capable of replying. Only he is genuinely affected by what life brings him, for he alone is awake, aware. Once composure has been established, the liturgy is possible. It is not much use to discuss Holy Scripture, the deep significance of symbols, and the vitality of the liturgical renewal if the prerequisite of earnestness is lacking. Without it, even the liturgy deteriorates to something "interesting", a passing vogue. To participate in the liturgy seriously we must be mentally composed. But, like silence, composure does not create itself. It must be willed and practiced.

Above all, we must get to church early in order to "tidy up" inwardly. We must have no illusions about our condition when we enter the church; we must frankly face our restlessness, confusion, disorder. To be exact, we do not yet really exist as persons—at least not as persons God can address, expecting a fitting response. We are bundles of feelings, fancies, thoughts, and plans all at cross-purposes with each other. The first thing to do, then, is to quiet and collect ourselves. We must be able to say honestly: "Now I am here. I have only one thing to do—participate with my whole being in the only thing that counts, the sacred celebration. I am entirely ready."

Once we attempt this, we realize how terribly distraught we are. Our thoughts drag us in all directions: to the people we deal with, family, friends, adversaries; to our work; to our worries; to public events; to private engagements. We must pull our thoughts back again and again, repeatedly calling ourselves to order. And when we see how difficult it is, we must not give up, but realize only the more clearly that it is high time we returned to ourselves.

We do not come to church to "attend the service," which usually means as a spectator, but in order, along with the priest, to serve God. Everything we do: our entering, being present, our kneeling and sitting and standing, our reception of the sacred nourishment, should be divine service. This is so only when all we do "overflows" from the awareness of a collected heart and the mind's attentiveness.

THE GUILD OF ALL SOULS

"The time has come for an increase of members in this Church-wide, and world-wide, prayer-group which seeks to promote the Church's teaching in regard to the Faithful Departed, to pray for the dead in Christ, especially the departed members of the Guild, who are remembered by name on each anniversary, to encourage Christian customs in the burial of the dead, and to urge celebrations of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass especially at the time of burial and according to the Propers appointed in the Book of Common Prayer."

Thus speaks Dean Maynard, Superior General of the Guild of All Souls in the last Quarterly Intercession paper. There are 24 members in St. Mark's Branch. Are there not others who would like to promote the Church's teaching?

NOTES

SPECIAL THANKSGIVING ENVELOPES, found in the pews, offer members of the congregation an opportunity to support All Saints Hospital, a Diocesan Institution under the direction of the Episcopal City Mission. This is a real Episcopal Hospital and merits our interest and support.

ON THANKSGIVING DAY we shall have the Solemn Mass at 9.30 A. M. Our combined choirs will sing R. Vaughan Williams' Mass for Two Choirs and a setting of Old Hundredth, which he composed for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth. Trumpets will be used with the organ and choir. The Service should last about 45 minutes as there will be no sermon. Bring your family and friends to worship together on this American Day of Thanksgiving and Prayer.

A CORPORATE COMMUNION OF MEN AND BOYS is held the first Sunday in Advent througout the whole Episcopal Church. We shall join in this world-wide observance at 8 o'clock next Sunday. Following the Mass breakfast will be served in the parish house, followed by a brief program with the Rev. Judson S. Leeman as Speaker. We hope that every confirmed man and boy of our congregation will make his communion at this time and be present at the breakfast meeting.

THE REV. JOHN P. BARTHOLOMEW will be ordained to the priesthood on Saturday, November 29th, at 10 o'clock in the Church of the Good Samaritan, Paoli. The Bishop of the Diocese will ordain and the Rev. Emmett P. Paige will be the preacher. The members of the congregation extend their congratulations to Mr. Bartholomew on this occasion. It is hoped that many will be able to attend the Ordination of one of the young men of our parish.

QUIET DAY for the Women of the Diocese at St. Mark's Church, Wednesday, December 3rd, 10.30 to noon. Conductor: The Rev. Arthur C. Kelsey, Chaplain of the General Theological Seminary. The subject of the Meditations is "Silence".

Episcopal Community Services of the Diocese of Pennsylvania is the new official name of the Diocesan Agency known for many years as the Episcopal City Mission. The new name describes more accurately the large areas of work covered by the six divisions of the Diocesan Corporation.

It is well to recall that the Episcopal Community Services serves all the people of the Diocese through its six divisions: Family Counselling Service, Institutional Chaplains (ministering, with the assistance of volunteer Chaplains to over 80 institutions) Children's Service, Work among the Blind, James C. Smith Home for Women, and All Saints' Hospital for Chronic Diseases. This is a far reaching program and an excellent staff of clergy and social workers are doing an outstanding job for the Church, under the direction of the Executive Director, Rev. Arnold Purdie. Your Rector is privileged to serve on the Board of Counsel and on the Children's Service and Institutional Chaplains Committees.

E. P. P.

During Advent it is our custom to sing the Litany in Procession each Sunday before Solemn Mass. As at all Services, the congregation is urged to participate by standing during the Litany and joining in singing the familiar responses.

Read, Mark, Learn and Inwardly Digest: It is fitting that during Advent we should deepen our knowledge concerning the Incarnation of our Lord. Therefore all the books on the Book Table during that period will be on that subject.

There will also be a book, "The World's Great Madonnas", an anthology of pictures, music, stories, etc., centering in the life of the Madonna and her Son.

There will be for sale small books of meditation, "The Infant King", at 45 cents per copy.

The Rector's Message

Streets and stores are crowded; sales are up; it's going to be a good Christmas. The business and secular world has a wonderful time at Christmas. You do not have to be a Christian to make a good thing out of traditional Christian sentiment. The poor Christian finds himself trapped by once lovely Christmas customs, now become commonplace.

Some two thousand years ago a divine Gift was given to mankind. God entered into human life by sending the second Person of the Blessed Trinity to dwell among us. This was the sublimest of gifts. On the Birthday of Jesus, every man and woman who has been united to Him in Holy Baptism longs to thank God for the Gift of His Son. The lovely custom of sharing gifts among loved ones was a token of our devotion—our thanks to God for giving us a Saviour, a Redeemer.

What is left of Christmas for us? The carols have all been sung. The trees have been decorated—even before Thanksgiving. Santa—hundreds of them—have fooled the kids. What has the Church left to do or to offer?

Just this. The Church offers Jesus Christ Himself. When the tawdry decorations and cheap commercialism are through attracting buyers, the quiet of Christmas settles over us, and we turn to the supernatural Offering of the Holy Sacrifice, coming to the Altar for the greatest Gift of all—the Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ. The Christian kneels in adoration, and nothing matters except that God is Love, and the Gift of His Son is ever ours in Holy Communion.

What is left of Advent should remind us that we must prepare for that Gift. What a joy to get ready for the REAL Christmas. What a joy to come to the Altar having offered to God our sins. We can spend some time examining our lives. With faith in the loving forgiveness of the Saviour, we pause for a few moments in the confusion of worldly festivities, to receive the blessing of Absolution. Confession and Communion—the Christian's offering and receiving of real gifts. This is our Way—this is our Christmas—thank God.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

AN ADVENT CANTATA, "Rejoice, Beloved Christians", by Buxtehude, will be presented following Evensong this afternoon, by our Canterbury Choir. Members of the congregation are urged to attend and bring their friends.

THE SCHEDULE OF CHRISTMAS SERVICES emphasizes the family character of our observance. The Solemn Mass at Midnight has come to mean much to members of the parish and our friends. This Mass is primarily one for communions. A second Solemn Mass with procession and music by the choir of men and boys is scheduled for 9.30. We hope this will enable all the members of each family to come together to worship and to receive Holy Communion.

ON DECEMBER 28th there will be a Nursery but NO Sunday School.

CHRISTMAS FUND—It is not too late for some who may still wish to contribute to the Christmas Fund for parish activities.

CHURCHMAN'S ORDO CALENDARS may be obtained from the Women of the Church and at the office. Price 60 cents.

FLOWERS FOR CHRISTMAS — People wishing to send white memorial flowers for the Altar on Christmas Day will please have them at the Church by noon on Wednesday, December 24. It will help us greatly if you will notify Sister Darthea or the office of your intention to send such flowers and indicate the name or names if they are memorials.

THE BELOVED HYMN, "O come, O come, Emmanuel", is based on the texts of the "Great O" Antiphons of the Magnificat used the eight days before Christmas. Verse seven of the hymn is founded on the antiphon sung at Evensong today.

NOTES

The Clergy and Staff wish to say "thank you" to all the members of the congregation for the many cards and remembrances sent them at Christmas. They extend to each and every one good wishes for the New Year.

We Are Grateful for the generous contributions to the Christmas Fund this year. Remembrances to the sick and shut-ins and the festivities for the Sunday School and Choir Boys were provided for from these offerings.

Morning Prayer on Sunday—Beginning next Sunday, Morning Prayer will be said at 7.45 A. M. in the Lady Chapel. We have come to believe that the 10.30 hour is not convenient for most people and does not give the proper dignity to the Morning Office. The Daily Offices have been said Sunday and weekdays since the founding of this parish. It is hoped that the new hour in the Chapel, prior to the 8 o'clock Mass in the Church, will be more suitable.

Churchman's Ordo Calendar may be obtained from the Women of the Church and at the office. Price 60 cents.

Thanksgiving Offerings For All Saints' Hospital—The sum of $178.20 was sent to the Episcopal Community Services and the following acknowledgment from the Rev. Arnold Purdie, Executive Director, is shared with the congregation:

> " I cannot tell you how much it means to us to have received in the mail on Thursday a check from St. Mark's Church representing the amount given through the Thanksgiving offering for All Saints' Hospital. I know that you know what a problem we are having to finance the programs at the hospital and you also know how firmly the board is dedicated to maintaining this as a Church hospital . . . . . We welcome St. Mark's interest in All Saints' and hope that if any of the members of the parish care to do so, they will arrange to visit the hospital."

The Two Fridays between Christmas and Epiphany are not days of abstinence.

The Rector's Message

One becomes a member of a particular parish by being confirmed and by becoming a communicant, or by a Letter of Transfer from another parish. He remains on a parish list as long as he lives, unless he is transferred to another parish. A communicant in good standing is one who receives Holy Communion, even with a minimum regularity. Such members make up the communicant list which is reported to the bishop of the diocese at the beginning of each year. Those who have dropped away from the sacraments, or whose addresses are unknown, are placed on a special list, for no one, once a member of the Church, is ever "written off".

Many people now attending St. Mark's have not yet transferred to this parish where they now live, worship and share responsibility. The procedure for transferring is very simple. First, to speak to me, as rector, about your desire to become a communicant member of St. Mark's Parish. After this, a Letter of Transfer, as required by the Church's Canon Law, is obtained by the communicant himself from the rector of his previous parish. This letter is sent to me, and when your name has been entered on the Communicant Register of the parish, you are so notified.

Some weeks ago I wrote about the standard which we hold for membership in St. Mark's. I tried to say that we believe membership in our parish means an active share in the responsibility for the life, worship and work of the congregation. I also expressed an obvious fact that one would only be happy in this parish if he believed in the standard of Catholic life and practice which has always maintained at St. Mark's. Recently a person asked to be transferred to this parish because it did have such a standard. "It means something to be a member of St. Mark's. The parish expects its members to be at Mass every Sunday and to give sacrificially, to make the support of God's work first in life." One or two others misunderstood our point about transfers, and said, in effect, "We expected you to ask us to become members of the parish."

We want YOU, but I believe you respect this parish for wanting you for the right reasons—to share in a fellowship of Catholic life, worship, discipline and sacrifice.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

A New Sunday Class will begin on January 11th for ages 13, 14 and 15. Those pupils who have been confirmed will come to the 9.00 A. M. Mass and then have their breakfast afterwards in the Parish Hall. The class will start at 10.00 A. M. and end at 10.45 A. M. Miss Margaret Evans will be the teacher.

Men of St. Mark's—Mayor Richardson Dilworth will speak to the men of our parish at a dinner to be held Thursday, January 22, at 6.30 P. M., in the parish house.

Mayor Dilworth is a fellow Episcopalian, a member of Christ Church and an excellent speaker. We are pleased and honored to have him as our guest.

Notices and reply cards have been mailed to all men and boys of the parish. Please send in return card promptly (favorably, we hope).

Read and Mark: Several of the communicants of St. Mark's have given of their time and devotion to reading and reviewing various books in the library. These reviews are intended to stimulate reading and to help individuals choose books best suited to their needs. A different mimeographed sheet will be placed on the Book Table at the Coffee Hour for the next four Sundays. As there is only one copy of each book in the library, with a few exceptions, it may not always be possible to get your particular book immediately. But—patience!

Adult Confirmation Class—In preparation for the Bishop's Annual Visitation, the Inquirers' Class will be continued as a confirmation class for adults. The first meeting will be on Wednesday of this week at 7.30 P. M. in the parish house. Those interested in receiving this Sacrament must attend this class or make other arrangements for instruction.

We Look Forward to greeting the Rev. E. Frank Salmon, D. D., as our guest preacher next Sunday at 11 o'clock.

A Service of Witness, observing the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, will be held in St. Mark's Church next Sunday Evening, January 25th, at 8 o'clock. This Service is sponsored by the Philadelphia Chapter of the American Church Union. The Preacher on this occasion will be our good friend, the Rev. C. Edward Hopkin, Ph. D., Professor of Theology, Philadelphia Divinity School. It is earnestly hoped that the members of our parish will make every effort to be at this Service as we are host to a Diocesan-wide Observance. Evensong and Devotions, usually held at 5.30 P. M., will be omitted next Sunday because of this special Service.

Annual Theological Education Sunday will be observed throughout the Church next Sunday, January 25th. Special envelopes are available for persons desiring to support the education of our future priests. Undesignated offerings made through this parish are divided among the Philadelphia Divinity School, The General Theological Seminary and Nashotah House. It is natural for our parish to have a vital interest in our own Diocesan Seminary. In addition to Mr. Kirk Hartman, our seminarian, we have this year Mr. Gary Verrell and Mr. William Forrest from the Philadelphia Divinity School associated with St. Mark's. The Rector is an Alumnus of the General Theological Seminary, the official Seminary of the American Church under the General Convention. Father Becker is a graduate of Nashotah House, which has sent forth many great priests into the life of the Church. The congregation is asked to read the interesting brochures found at the entrance to the Church.

Pre Lent Parish Quiet Day—Saturday, February 7th, from 9.30 to 3 00 P. M. Conductor: Canon Reginald E. Cant, M. A., of York Cathedral, England. Please save this date on your calendar.

The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, which is closing with the Service of Witness next Sunday evening, is the only truly ecumenical movement in Christendom. Supported by Anglicans, Orthodox, Roman and Protestant Communions, it concerns the unification of all peoples in Christ, even those outside the Christian family, and makes no recommendation as to method or manner by which this is to be accomplished.

Begun in 1908, by a group of Anglicans in England, it has spread to universal acceptance. Fostered initially in this country by the American Church Union, it is appropriate that the ACU should be the sponsor of the Service of Witness.

Prayers for unity should be constant, universal and corporate. The Week of Prayer answers all these requirements for it is the co-operative praying "that they may be one, even as We are One."

Saints Peter and Paul have been waiting for many years to find a place in St. Mark's Church. At last they have found their proper niche and stand, reminding us of their great Witness for Christ and His Church, on the screen at the west end of the Nave.

These statues were two of six polychromed figures originally in the Lady Chapel. When the present memorial altar and related appointments were presented, the statues of St. Mary and St. Mark were placed on either side of the High Altar in the Sanctuary. St. John the Baptist and St. Mary Magdalene were placed in the Nave on either side of the porch doors. Saints Peter and Paul were relegated to a shelf in the sacristy.

The placing of these statues in the Church was made possible by the 1957 Advent Sunday Men's Offering and the 1958 Confirmation Class Thank Offering. St. Peter stands on the north side holding the Keys, with St. Paul on the south side holding the "Sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God."

NOTES

TRADITIONAL CANDLEMAS CEREMONIES will be observed tomorrow, the Purification of St. Mary the Virgin, at 7 A. M., preceding the Solemn Mass. This beautiful service will include the blessing of candles, their distribution to members of the congregation, and procession. All are invited to a buffet breakfast in the parish hall immediately following. Members are urged to invite their friends to participate in these ceremonies.

PARISH QUIET DAY—Saturday of this week, February 7th. The Rev. Reginald E. Cant, M. A., of York Cathedral, England, who is Special Lecturer in Ascetical Theology at General Theological Seminary during the Easter Term, will be the Conductor. This is an unusual privilege for the members of our congregation, both men and women, and our friends in the Diocese. Register for lunch ($1.50) before Thursday.

LENTEN READING—There will be placed on the Book Table today copies of "The Passion of the King"—Meditations for Lent—by Father Hughson. These have been prepared for busy people. Those who used "The Infant King" at Christmas will find these Lenten Meditations equally helpful. These are priced at 65 cents. "The Taming of the Tongue" will also afford profitable reading during Lent and provide many surprises. These are priced at 50 cents.

ST. MARK'S CHAPTER OF THE ORDER OF ST. VINCENT, the National Guild for Acolytes, admitted Edward S. Kessler and Nazareno Costanza to the Order last Sunday. There are now 15 active members of the Order in our parish, as well as three members in the Armed Forces and one now located in the West. The Guild has seven probationers and four junior probationers who, associated with those who have been admitted to the Order, give us a total membership of thirty. St. Mark's is proud of its Acolytes Guild, appreciative of the high standard it maintains in the Services and the strengthening of the spiritual life of the parish. It should be recalled that each member of the Order lives by a Rule of Life, which includes regular prayer and use of the Sacraments, including the Sacrament of Penance.

LENT calls us to make God the Real Center of our living, which means much adjustment. Prayer and sacraments help us, but we must know ourselves, our weaknesses and self-interests, so that we can shift from self to God. A rule will help, to:—

1. Be at a Mass every Sunday and receive Holy Communion frequently.
2. Make a regular time for Prayer and Meditation every day. The "Forward Booklet" is helpful.
3. Deny yourself: less food and fewer pleasures. Make an offering of Self-Denial.
4. Read at least one book from the Parish Library and give one tract to a friend.
5. Attend one week day Lenten service.
6. Help someone in need or some lonely person. Bring one person to church on Sundays.
7. Make your confession before Easter.

The joy of Easter depends upon the use of Lent.

The Church's Rule of Life from the Prayer Book : My bounden duty as a member of Christ's Church is to worship God every Sunday in His Church, and to work and pray and give for the spread of His Kingdom.

The Rector's Message

Our country has been blessed with many leaders who have been great humanitarians. Earlier in the month we made the annual observance of Abraham Lincoln who was one of the greatest, a wise and courageous yet humble and sympathetic man. Many who speak and write on Lincoln these days seem to stress the fact that he did not belong to any Church. One gets the impression that this was something of a virtue, that he was too big to belong to any part of the Christian Fellowship, Surely such thinking is confused, and it does not take away one iota from his greatness as a humanitarian or a leader to say that it is a pity he never would commit himself to responsibility in the corporate life of the Church. Humanitarianism and religion are two different things, yet the popular writer and speaker is always suggesting that they are synonymous. Christianity, the truly universal religion, exists to adore God and to come into union with Him. The fruits of religion should be shown forth in many humanitarian ways.

Mr. Lincoln is not the only one who sees the failure in Christian folk in whole-heartedly loving God with all their hearts, minds, souls and strength, and their neighbors as themselves. Members of the Church are sinners, and their first step in loving and serving God is to acknowledge that fact. A Christian is not above the acknowledgment that he is a sinner, falling far short of doing God's Will. Many humanitarians who say they will not be a part of the Church because its members fail to live up to its ideal seem to place themselves above the struggle towards the good life, towards becoming perfect as the Heavenly Father is perfect. Can there be virtue in staying apart from something because it is not immediately as perfect as we think it ought to be?

Many fine humanitarians might be drawn to the Church if they came to know it to be the Mystical Body of Christ. We, who are sinners, are joined by Holy Baptism to Christ Himself, the only good, the only Perfect Man. In a life of trying, the Christian, often failing, keeps close to his Lord, and, through Him, is presented to the Father.

You and I, by our teaching and by the lives we live, must show a world, often indifferent to Christianity, that true religion is salvation through Jesus Christ, that it is a life of penitence, yet a life of glory in the worship of God through the one Saviour, Jesus Christ.

SUGGESTIONS TO COMMUNICANTS—In the interest of good Church manners, the following suggestions are made to those who come to receive Holy Communion:

Coming forward to receive at the 8 and 9 o'clock Masses on Sunday, it is not necessary to have long lines in the aisle waiting for a place at the rail. Merely come forward at such intervals as to keep the rail full at all times. At the 11 o'clock Mass on Sunday, the acolyte stationed at the chancel rail will assist in the direction of communicants. At all times it is helpful to have the Altar rail completely filled, including the space at the center.

To the women of the congregation, church manners suggest three things (1) Lift your veil, even if it is a very short one, before coming to the Altar. (2) Remove both gloves and (3) Remove lipstick. (The reasons for this last should be obvious. We all agree that lipstick is a necessity to good appearance today, but on the Chalice it becomes both unedifying and unintentionally irreverent.)

Kneeling at the communion rail, place your right hand upon your left, palms open and fingers extended. Hands should be raised to almost shoulder height. It helps in communicating from the Chalice if you will guide the BASE of the Chalice with one hand. Only guide; do not grasp, and do not touch any part above the base. Stay at the rail until the third person at your left has received the Chalice.

The custom of Intinction, the dipping of the Host in the Chalice by the commuicant himself, is not practised in the parish.

These suggested church manners are not given as arbitrary rules, but should be thought of as ways of perfecting our worship together. E. P. P.

NOTES

Simnel Bread will be blessed and served at the Coffee Hour today. It has been made for us through the generosity of a member of our parish. Simnel Bread has been associated with the Fourth Sunday in Lent, which is often called Refreshment Sunday, Mothering Sunday, or Laetare (Rejoicing) Sunday. Young people who were away from their families came home this one day to be "mothered" and to make their communions with their families in their own parish churches. Those who could brought Simnel Cake as an outward sign of their love. Our Simnel Bread should be a token of our love—our love for our Mother the Church, for our own mothers and for our Lord's own gracious mother whom He shares with us.

St. Mark's Day Fair—Under the sponsorship of the Women of St. Mark's, the Second Annual Fair will be held at the Parish House, Friday, April 24th. The Fair will run from 9.00 A.M. to 6.00 P. M. Last year $1,000 was cleared after all expenses. The women were able to make suitable contributions to Diocesan Departments and to have a working fund for parish house needs and other responsibilities.

The assistance of both the men and women of St. Mark's is earnestly needed, both as workers and contributors. If you can be of aid in any way please contact the Chairman of the Fair, Mrs. McIlvaine Freeman, 343 S. 26th Street, or LO 7 0449.

St. Margaret's House—Lenten Quiet Day—March 10, starting with Mass at 8.30 A. M. and closing at 3.15 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. C. Edward Hopkin, Ph. D.

Quiet Evening—Saturday, Eve of Passion Sunday, March 14th, from 4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. A. Edward Chinn.

The Women of the Congregation have been invited to a Quiet Day to be conducted by Princess Ileana at Old Christ Church, Friday, March 13, from 11 to 3 P. M. Bring a box lunch. Coffee will be served.

Catholic Laymen's Union.—The Annual Lenten Quiet Evening will be held at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Rosemont, Saturday, March 14th, at 5 o'clock.

Red Cross Annual Appeal—Since its beginning the American Red Cross has symbolized a fellowship dedicated to serving one's fellow-man generously, sympathetically and selflessly. It provides a means whereby each of us may reach out beyond consideration of self to serve humanity and through which we may make our personal contribution to relieve human suffering whenever and wherever it may occur. The members of the congregation will want to support this great work.

Congratulations to Mrs. Enoch Marlin who is celebrating her 90th birthday today.

✠

On Passion Sunday we enter into the most solemn days of the Church Year. Crosses are veiled in purple and the music of the Services, without organ, brings a subdued note of devotion to our worship. The Gloria Patri is omitted both in the Mass and Daily Offices. The Liturgy of the day prepares us for the spiritual experiences we shall commemorate in Holy Week, recalling the Passion of our Blessed Lord,

The Liturgy of Palm Sunday will be celebrated in its fullness at 11 o'clock next Sunday. The members of the congregation and their friends are asked to be in their places for the beginning of the Service. There will be a Procession marking the triumphal entry of our Lord into Jerusalem and the liturgical singing of St. Matthew's Passion. Because of the great teaching of the Liturgy itself, the sermon will be omitted. Palms will be distributed at all Services.

The Watch on Maundy Thursday will begin at the end of the Mass and continue until midnight. We enlist participation from all members of the parish in this Watch. It is suggested that the Watch during the later hours be kept by the men and boys of the parish. Please sign your name as soon as possible on the schedule in the porch for the period you will take.

Flowers for Maundy Thursday—Offerings of white flowers for use at the Altar of Repose in the Lady Chapel on Maundy Thursday are welcome. Kindly indicate names if flowers are given as memorials. Send contributions to the parish office by March 23rd and flowers to the Church before noon March 25th.

Parking Privilege on the north side of Locust Street, between 16th and 17th, from 10.30 A. M. to 1.00 P. M. on Sundays is available for those attending St. Mark's. Cards to be displayed on your car are available upon your request at the Church office. We hope that all who take advantage of this parking privilege will secure and use the cards so that some check may be made on persons not entitled to this privilege.

St. Mark's Fair will be held Friday, April 24th. Donations of handwork, antiques, white elephants, toys, household ware and books are needed. Please leave them at the parish house, labelled St. Mark's Fair, with your name.

House of Rest—Benefit Card Party and Fashion Show, at St. Thomas' Parish House, Whitemarsh, on Thursday, April 16, at 1.30 P. M.

Congratulations to Mr. George Wharton Pepper, our Warden Emeritus and oldest member of St. Mark's, on the occasion of his 92nd birthday on March 16th.

O Lord, remove not thy succour afar from me, have respect to my defence, and hear me: deliver me from the mouth of the lion: yea, from the horns of the unicorns hast thou regarded my cry. Ps. My God, My God, look upon me, why hast thou forsaken me: and art so far from my health, and from the words of my complaint. Two Needlepoint Kneelers for servers at the High Altar have been made by Mrs. Elizabeth Haas and presented to the parish in loving memory of Clara Haas, a faithful member of this parish.

Women of St. Mark's—The regular monthly dinner and meeting will be held this Thursday Evening at 6 P. M. in the parish house. Following dinner, the Rev. John A. Schultz, Rector of Trinity Church, Ambler, will lead a discussion on "Our Personal Responsibility in the Ecumenical Movement." At 8.00 P. M. there will be an important meeting. We hope a large number of the women of the parish will be able to attend this important meeting.

The Bishop of the Diocese will visit the parish for Confirmation on Sunday, April 19th, at 11 A. M.

St. Mark's Fair—April 24—Leave donations at parish house labelled FAIR, with your name. We especially need articles of food (cakes, cookies, candy, casserole dishes). Lenten Mite Boxes should be brought to the Church NEXT Sunday.

Sunday Evensong has been a tradition of long standing in our parish. In recent years attendance has been very small and very few members of the parish attend this service, which concludes with Devotions to the Blessed Sacrament. Looking ahead to next fall—(1) Do the members of the congregation want this Service to continue? and (2) What hour other than 5.30 P. M. would be more convenient for you? Between now and September the Rector would appreciate constructive comments on these two points.

"Shall I Force My Child to Attend Sunday School and Church?"

"Yes, and with no further discussion about the matter."

How do you answer Junior when he comes to the breakfast table Monday morning and announces rebelliously, "I am not going to school today." You know! Junior goes. How do you answer when Junior comes in very much besmudged and says, "I am not going to take a bath." Junior bathes, doesn't he? Why all this timidity, then, in the realm of his spiritual guidance and growth? Are you going to wait and let him decide what church he'll go to when he's old enough to decide whether or not he wishes to go? Quit your kidding! You didn't wait until you were old enough! You don't wait until he's old enough to decide whether he wishes to be clean or dirty, do you? Do you wait until he's old enough to decide if he wants to take his medicine when he is sick? Do you?

Are you afraid he'll succumb to the old wives' story about too much religion when he was young—the parents-made-me-go sort of gag?

What shall we say when Junior announces he doesn't like Sunday School or church? That's an easy one. Just be consistent: "Junior, in our home we all attend Sunday School and church; that includes you."

Your firmness and example here will furnish a bridge over which youthful rebellion may travel into rich and satisfying experience in personal and religious living.

The parents of America can strike a telling blow against the forces which contribute to our juvenile delinquency, if our mothers and fathers will take their children to Sunday School and church regularly."

(J. Edgar Hoover, Director of F. B. I., Quoted Church Militant.)

THE POWER OF SUFFERING

We can quite justifiably look with alarm at the growing attitude even among Christians towards the whole matter of pain and suffering. Along with death these two facts seem now to have become THE great enemy to be avoided at all costs, and the Christian Religion is looked upon as a means to that end. This, of course, is very far removed from the Christian doctrine of the power of suffering, and it entirely vitiates the significance of the Cross.

God does not want us to suffer just for the sake of suffering, but by the same token, He may oftentimes permit pain in order that it might be used for our salvation. God the Father, after all, did not hesitate to let His own Son suffer and die in order that we might be saved. Christianity does not explain suffering, but it shows us what to do with it. Suffering can be (1) denied its existence, or (2) rebelled against. The first leads us to deny the facts of our own experience, and the second makes us bitter and only ends up by destroying us. The Christian accepts the fact of pain; he knows that it exists and that it hurts. He does not pretend. But he also knows that He can use pain; he can offer it to God the Father, along with the suffering of our Lord on the Cross, for others. If it is not God's will that pain be done away with, then God intends it to be used for some good. The Christian cannot believe (1) that our prayers are ignored, or (2) that God doesn't care if we suffer. The overriding fact is that all that happens to us in this life, good or bad, pleasant or painful, comes to us with God's full knowledge. If God is Love, then He permits pain and suffering only for our own good. After all, we must remind ourselves that the purpose of our redemption in Jesus Christ is not that we might be happy in this life, but that we might have life eternal. Pain is part of the Cross, and our Lord says to us, "He who does not bear his cross and come after me, cannot be my disciple." M. R. B.

ST. MARK'S CHOIRS

Three choirs provide the music for services in this parish: The Parish Choir of boys and men, one of the oldest of its type in the country, assists at the Solemn Masses on Sundays and other major Festivals except during the summer months. Since every service is provided with carefully chosen music appropriate to it, five rehearsals a week are scheduled for this choir. All are open to visitors; parishioners and others frequently "sit in" on these sessions. A high standard and a large and varied repertoire is sustained by the Parish Choir, remarkable in that this is accomplished without the benefit of a choir school.

The Men's Choir sings at Evensong and other special services, both at St. Mark's and at other churches. This devoted group of men sets a standard, especially in liturgical chant, known and appreciated far beyond parish bounds. Those who find it impossible to attend our Sunday afternoon service will have the opportunity of hearing special music sung by this Men's Choir at the Solemn Mass June 28.

Our Canterbury Choir was formed six years ago at the request of members of the parish to enable volunteer men and women interested in music to make a special contribution to our family worship life by providing music for services that otherwise could not have a choir. We are able, for example, to maintain a Sung Mass throughout the summer months while the boys are on vacation. The solemnity of our Holy Week services, of the Christmas and Easter midnight masses, is aided by these singers. Many will remember their presentation of the Buxtehude cantata before Christmas, and of the Mozart "Regina Coeli" a few weeks ago, and will appreciate the remarkable impetus (far surpassing any "professional" performance) given to the music by this enthusiastic choir. We find other singers anxious to join with us for our special music performances, yet we know our strength must come from within the parish. Amateur musicians, those with very little previous training, even those who "know nothing about music, yet like it" are needed. Although we thoroughly enjoy preparing unusual music requiring long preparation in advance of performance, we also take pride in preparing music for the occasional Solemn Masses during the season and for the summer Sung Masses. We are especially anxious to recruit more men and women now for these summer services, for which we rehearse on Tuesday, June 16, at seven o'clock. Even if you think you have no voice of great beauty, would you be willing to help "make a joyful noise unto the Lord"? WESLEY A. DAY.

The Nursery under the care of Mrs. John Migioia, R. N., is available during the 11 o'clock Mass for the summer. This service is for children up through three years of age.

The Summer Schedule, which begins tomorrow, is given on the front of this leaflet. Kindly save this for your information. It will be noted that beginning next Sunday, the 8 o'clock Mass will be omitted. The 12.10 Mass on Friday will continue throughout the summer.

Father Becker has begun his vacation and will spend his holiday in England. He will visit many friends made during the period of his service as Chaplain in the Navy during the Second World War.

Summer Reading—The Library will be open all summer. For those who like lighter reading, there are the religious novels in the Literature section. Biography also makes good reading in the summer. Let us ALL do some reading during the summer.

New Books—"Christian Proficiency," by the Rev. Martin Thornton, is the latest selection of the Episcopal Book Club. "This is a book of sound, practical instruction for those who desire to understand their faith and to make an honest, workmanlike job of living the Christian life in the modern world."

A Summer Temptation is to forget the regular weekly offering for the work of the Church and the parish. We may be enjoying a weekend away or our summer vacation, yet the expenses of your parish continue week by week throughout the summer months.

NOTES

BEQUESTS TO ST. MARK'S ENDOWMENT FUND have recently been received from the Estate of William H. Creamer and from the family of Mrs. Enoch Marlin. We have also been notified of bequests from the Estates of Mrs. Austin G. Brown and Miss Jennie Wilson. The parish is deeply grateful for these remembrances and as is our custom their names are entered on the permanent list of benefactors.

The continuing effectiveness of a great parish like St. Mark's has been made possible in these times through the benefactions of devoted parishioners. Each one of us may well take to heart the direction of the Prayer Book advising " . . . the People, whilst they are in health, to make Wills arranging for the disposal of their temporal goods, and, when of ability, to leave Bequests for religious and charitable uses."

Father Becker will be in charge of the parish from July 24th through Labor Day.

With only one priest on duty during the summer months, you are asked to be patient if there is no immediate answer to the door bell or telephone. We shall do our best to keep up our usual practice of having a priest available twenty-four hours a day.

The Parish Office will be open from 9:30 to 1:30 daily, Monday through Friday, beginning June 29th, until after Labor Day.

Holy Communion is administered at all Masses to confirmed members of the Episcopal Church, or to those in Communion with her. It is expected that all who present themselves at the Altar Rail are spiritually prepared and come fasting.

A Nursery will be provided from 10:45 A. M. until 12:30 P. M. on Sundays for infants up to three years of age.

Coffee Hour will continue during the summer. (Also, something cool.)

Rowland Ricketts, M. D. will be in charge of music during August while Mr. Day is on vacation.

Mass at 8 o'clock and Solemn Mass at 11 o'clock will be resumed on September 20th.

The Following is an Excerpt from The Living Church Editorial—"Worse Than Obscenity"

Last week we commented on the campaign to stop circulation of the book, "Lady Chatterley's Lover." One of the unstated reasons for our opposing censorship was the conviction that there is, in the literature of love, a type of writing that does more harm than obscenity.

We refer to a very common type of sentimental love story—the slushy, lavender-scented, moon-light-and-roses story of girl meets boy, girl loses boy, girl gets boy. Your most puritanical maiden aunt would not find such books and movies immoral. Perhaps no one except a literary critic would be shocked by them. No ministerial alliance will demand police action against their sale or exhibition.

They uphold, with great persuasiveness for some minds, a view of love, sex, and marriage which is completely secular, completely unchristian, and completely false to life.

By the thousands, our young people (and no few adults) drench their minds in glorification of romantic love. Nothing, according to the romantic-trash formula, can transcend this love.

Innumerable adolescents are tortured by a sense of personal failure because they do not encounter, in their real lives, the rapturous romances which fiction calls the norm of youthful life.

Innumerable young adults approach marriage with a sense of dissatisfaction because their intendeds and their courtships do not measure up to the standards of romantic fiction.

Innumerable young married people who have persuaded themselves that they had found "true love" in the sense that the slushy novels portray it are bitterly disappointed when they discover, in the daily give-and-take of real-life-marriage, that neither they nor their partners are capable of sustaining the moon-light-and-roses mood indefinitely.

In all these failures to achieve in life the impossibilities of the world of romantic fantasy, there are seeds of torment. Many a marriage breaks up because unrealistic expectations are not fulfilled. Many other marriages drag on into sour apathy for the same reason.

We have no quarrels with the real beauties and real joys of "falling in love."

But it is one thing to allow the free choice of men and women to work as well as it may in the choosing of a mate. It is something far different to allow flights of fancy, discontent with lost rapture, and the failure of unrealistic hopes for unique superbly romantic relationships to smash at the foundations of family life and marriage.

It is just this which romantic fiction (no matter how moralistic) does so steadily and so effectively.

We have no additions to make except to say that we aren't interested in a crusade against obscenity until somebody can figure out a way to censor the sentimental slush books, which are the greater danger.

NOTES

Last Sunday, on the first anniversary of the death of Mr. Carl Cunningham, a memorial offering for communion wafers was made by Mrs. Cunningham.

Parish Family Prayer Cycle—Beginning on October 1st, every family and individual member of our parish family will be remembered at the Altar at the 7.45 Mass throughout the year. A notice will be sent to you telling which day you or your family will be remembered, and it is hoped that you will be able to make your communion on that day. Because of the great number of names, they will have to be taken in regular order. This Cycle of Prayer should help us grow spiritually closer together as a Family of God.

The Communion Motet heard today is especially significant for Anglicans. Weelkes was one of the first composers to write for the Church in a language "understood of the people." The setting skillfully allows the text to predominate, subtly emphasizing the meaning of the prayer.

A New Funeral Pall and four sets of summer vestments have been acquired during the summer. The pall, of black brocade with green orphreys, is a worthy enrichment to parish appointments. The new Mass vestments were made in England especially for our parish.

The First Inquirers' Class will meet on Wednesday Evening at 7.30, in the parish house. A general invitation is extended to all persons interested in learning more about the Faith of the Church. The class is especially important to those who are looking forward to confirmation. It will also be a fine refresher course for those who are already communicants.

Canterbury Choir holds its rehearsals on Tuesday Evenings at 7.30. The famous "Requiem" by Faure will be presented on November 8th. Newcomers will be most welcome to this group of amateur singers. No voice test is required. Will you help?

NOTES

House of Rest for the Aged—Annual Donation Day—The women of the parish are especially invited to an Open House and Tea on Wednesday, October 14th, from 2 to 5 P. M. This Diocesan Institution is located at 5919 Wayne Avenue, Germantown, and should have the interest and support of all the people of the Diocese. Miss Nancy McKean is St. Mark's representative on the Board of the House of Rest.

Piano—It would be of great help to have a piano in the Thomas McKean Meeting Room and some member of the congregation may know of ways of securing a small spinet type piano for this use.

Annual Quiet Evening for Altar Guild members at St. Clement's Church, October 14th, beginning at 5.30 P. M. The Rev. Vincent F. Pottle, S.T.D., will give the Meditation. (Box Lunch.) Coffee will be served. Kindly notify the office if you are able to attend.

New Books—A variety of new books has been acquired since last Spring which are on display on the book table:

1. Philip Carrington, Archbishop of Quebec—"History of the Church in the First and Second Centuries". Interestingly written in modern style.
2. Robert E. Brown, Bishop—"Bigger than Little Rock". A must for all Christians.
3. Brother Choleric—"Cracks in the Cloister". Momentary relaxation!
4. Rev. Martin Thornton—"Christian Proficiency". For all who really want to live a proficient Christian life in this modern world.
5. Stephen Neill, Bishop—"A Genuinely Human Existence". Rewarding for thoughtful readers.
6. William Mayne—"A Swarm in May". Sheer enjoyment and relaxation and a delightful surprise.
7. H. J. Heagney—"Madame deChoutal". A fascinating biography, with French historical background, of the spiritual daughter of St. Francis de Sales.
8. Elizabeth Goudge—"My God and My All". Quite a different treatment of the life of St. Francis of Assisi.
9. Dom Hubert vanZeller—The "We" books—"We Live with Our Eyes Open", "We Work While the Light Lasts", "We Die Standing Up", "We Sing While There's Voice Left". The spiritual life and its problems in the world of today, treated with charm, humor, deep understanding, and a captivating style, but with down-to-earth realism. Short essays.

Reminder: Please note the new library rules.

Inquirers' Class meets on Wednesday Evenings at 7.30 P. M. in the parish house. Interested persons, whether or not they are looking forward to Confirmation, are invited to these meetings.

Women of St. Mark's—The following women have been elected to serve as officers for a two-year term:

President—Mrs. Ephraim R. McLean, Jr.
Vice-President—Mrs. John W. Williams
Secretary—Miss Dolores K. Beech
Treasurer—Mrs. Horace Ashley

These officers will be installed, following Evening Prayer, on the evening of the next monthly meeting, November 5th. About 50 women attended the October meeting, which was a splendid beginning for the year.

Organ Music before today's Solemn Mass consists of Bach's mighty Prelude and Fugue in B minor. The great Dr. Albert Schweitzer has written volumes regarding Bach's faith, his complete trust and joy in the Lord. Here, in the music, is a supreme example; truly a fitting preliminary to our worship.

A Dinner Meeting for all the men of St. Mark's will take place Thursday, October 29th, at 6.30 o'clock. The Speaker will be Mr. W. Thacher Longstreth, who was, a few years ago, the Republican candidate for the Office of the Mayor of Philadelphia. Letters to the men of the parish, with reply cards enclosed, are now in the mail.

Instruction Class for Adults—The first of these special monthly classes will be conducted by Father Becker this morning at 10 o'clock, in the parish hall.

It Is Not Too Late to join the Inquirers' Class which meets on Wednesday Evenings at 7.30.

The Composer of the Motet sung at communions of the Solemn Mass, William Harris, is a contemporary English musician. The words of this lovely setting: In the heavenly kingdom the souls of the Saints are rejoicing, who followed the footsteps of Christ their Master; and since for love of Him they freely poured forth their lifeblood, therefore with Christ they reign for ever. Alleluia, alleluia.

Letters Have Been Mailed to all men of the parish inviting them to to the Dinner Meeting on October 29th, at which Mr. W. Thacher Longstreth will give the Address. Mr. Longstreth is an excellent speaker, especially interested in the role of the ordinary business man in politics.

On All Souls' Day we commemorate those of our departed loved ones whose names are submitted on the forms provided for this purpose. Kindly place them in the offering plate or send to the Church Office. You may designate at which Mass, 7.00, 9.30 or 12.10, you wish them remembered.

United Thank Offerings should be sent to Miss E. M. Fryer, 1906 Sansom Street, before November 12. The In gathering service will be held on November 18.

NOTES

A Quiet Evening at St. Margaret's House, 5419 Germantown Avenue, on Saturday, November 7, from 4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Warren H. Davis. Please register early.

Librarian's Report—It is with much happiness that the Librarian makes his annual report. The following figures will best show some interesting facts:

There were 105 people who borrowed books—an increase of 15 over last year.

There were 434 books borrowed—more than double that of last year. This does not include the many members of families and friends who also read the books, and of whom there is no accurate account.

This is a healthy and encouraging growth in the religious reading habits of the people of St. Mark's.

In the past two years the Library has acquired 306 new books, thereby continuing the building up of a solid, helpful and useful parish library. Books are not bought for the sake of buying books and filling up shelves.

They are bought for their utter worthwhileness and their usefulness to the people.

And why do the writers of spiritual books recommend religious reading? It is summed up in the beautiful prayer of St. Richard of Wyck, Bishop of Chichester, 1245-1253.

> Thanks be to Thee, my Lord, Jesus Christ,
> For all the benefits which Thou hast given me,
> For all the pains and insults which Thou > hast borne for me,
> O most merciful Redeemer, Friend and Brother,
>
> > May I know Thee more clearly,
> > Love Thee more dearly,
> > And follow Thee more nearly.

NOTES

We Are Happy to welcome the Rev. E. Frank Salmon, D. D. as our preacher this morning. Dr. Salmon is the former Rector of Holy Trinity Church, having served as Dean of the Cathedral in Ottawa, Canada, prior to his coming to Philadelphia.

The Kingship of Christ has always made a special appeal to the creative talents of poets, writers and composers in the Church. Today's motet, a setting of Hymn 535, gives homage to the King in the best style of the Victorian period.

The Men's Dinner Meeting, scheduled for 6.30 o'clock this Thursday, has had a fine response. Mr. W. Thacher Longstreth will be the speaker. There is still time to arrange to bring a friend to the dinner. Just send in your card or call the Parish Office, PE 5 1416, before 4.30 o'clock Wednesday.

All Souls' Day will be observed on Monday, November 2nd, with Solemn Mass at 7.00 A. M., and other Masses at 9.30 and 12.10. On this day we commemorate those of our departed loved ones whose names are submitted on the forms provided for this purpose. Kindly place them in the offering plate or send to the Church Office. You may designate at which Mass, 7.00, 9.30 or 12.10, you wish them remembered.

The Famous "Requiem" by Faure will be sung by our Canterbury Choir at Evensong on Sunday, November 8, at 5.30 P. M. Save the date and plan to attend.

United Thank Offerings. Send to Miss E. M. Fryer, 1906 Sansom Street, before November 12. In-gathering service will be held on November 19.

NOTES

The Rt. Rev. J. Gillespie Armstrong, Bishop Suffragan of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, will observe the Tenth Anniversary of his Consecration on Wednesday. We extend to him the good wishes of our congregation and will remember him at the Altar on this day.

A Quiet Evening at St. Margaret's House, Saturday, November 7, 4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Warren H. Davis.

The Bohlen Lectures will be given in the Church of the Holy Trinity by the Most Rev. Arthur Michael Ramsey, D. D., Archbishop of York, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Evenings of this week at 8 o'clock. His subject is "The Bible Today". The public is invited.

The Laymen's Union will meet this Tuesday Evening at St. Barnabas Church, 6400 Haverford Avenue. Fr. Terry, O.H.C., will be the Speaker and his subject is "Our Bounden Duty". It is hoped that a number of men from our parish will attend these monthly meetings of the Union.

LIBRARY NOTE—New Books

1. "Now I Can Tell"—by Bishop Quentin K. Y. Huang. The strange and terrifying story of the first Bishop to be imprisoned by the Chinese Communists. Some may remember him when he spoke at a W. A. meeting several years ago.

2. "God's Board"—A manual for Holy Communion.

3. "The Light and the Rainbow"—by Hilda Graef. A study in Christian spirituality from its roots in the Old Testament and its development thru the New Testament and the Fathers to recent times.

Library Notes: We are all called to be saints and if we would know the way to sainthood, what better could we do than to read the "Lives of the Saints" whom we commemorate today. Hence, on the Book Table, there are many volumes of the "Lives", some of which are in more modern translations or versions. There is a pamphlet on the "Commemoration of the Saints in the Anglican Communion". The 'collective' biographies give short sketches of several "lives", thereby giving us a broader acquaintance in one volume.

Faure's "Requiem" will be sung today at 5.30 P. M., preceded by Evensong. This is the first of the special programs presented by our Canterbury Choir. Full scale presentations such as these deserve the fullest possible support, both in attendance and in contributions toward expenses. It is hoped that the costs of the concerts can be paid from the offerings of those who attend, or who are interested in fine programs. Although admission cannot be charged, comparison might be made with our willingness to purchase theatre or movie tickets. Individual offerings made on this basis will enable us to avoid a deficit. Will you help?

"UNDER INSTRUCTION"

Not long ago I was asked by another center-city parish to discuss with them our Sunday School program. I arrived armed with apologies for our small-scale operation here at St. Mark's, only to discover to my own astonishment that, counting even those churches whose whole program centers in the Sunday School, we have one of the few schools in existence. I had been summoned to explain our success!

At the present time we have a class period of instruction for every single age group within our parish family, and this includes two groups for adults. In this day the sermon is usually the only means of teaching adults, and those who come only to the 8 and 9 A. M. services miss even this opportunity to learn. Therefore, we now have an adult class which meets on the third Sunday of each month with Fr. Becker at 10 A. M. Adults may come to the 9 A. M. Mass, have breakfast in the parish hall (charge: 50c) and then have their class from 10.00 to 10.30 A. M. There is also a Wednesday evening class taught by Fr. Paige.

The High School and Junior High ages meet together on the first Sunday of each month with Fr. Becker at 10.00 A. M. The Junior High group meets on the other Sundays at the same hour with Miss Margaret Evans, and on the fourth Sunday of each month journeys out to the Philadelphia General Hospital to help the chaplain with his program there.

All other age groups meet each Sunday during the 11.00 A. M. Mass. With the exception of the Kindergarten and the Nursery these children come into the church after the sermon for the rest of the service, and this is probably the most important feature of our whole program for children. They do not suddenly become adult churchmen if they have never seen anything but a Sunday School class room. Experience has shown our mistake in this sort of thinking: Confirmation usually meant the last we saw of them!

There is a fully equipped Nursery for infants up through three years old. A registered nurse, Mrs. Magioia, is in charge from 10.45 A. M. until after the coffee hour.

Confirmation class for the youngsters meets each Saturday morning with Fr. Becker. The choir boys have two separate clssses taught by Mr. Hartman and Mr. Orr.

So you see, we are going about the business of Christian education at St. Mark's in a big way. Including all the classes, we have at present nearly one hundred persons under instruction. Nothing makes for a sound future foundation in any parish as does constant teaching. And it must always be remembered that instruction means more than the mere absorbing of facts and figures. The Church's teaching cannot be given or comprehended apart from daily life within the framework of the Church itself. It cannot be assimilated and profited from by those who seek merely to be well informed. The net result is to be a new life in Christ.

The Flowers on the Altar today are given by Mrs. Edward M. Bland in loving memory of her mother, Augusta Williams Howell.

Music of the Mass this morning includes a sensitive setting, sung during the ablutions, of the text, "Christ for our sakes became obedient unto death, wherefore God hath exalted him and given him a Name which is above all names." The Prelude and Postlude are played by Mrs. Robert Scace, guest organist.

On Thanksgiving Day we shall have the Solemn Mass at 9.30 A. M. Our combined choirs will sing R. Vaughan Williams' Mass for Two Choirs and an Anthem, "Praise to the Lord" by Fryxell. NOTES

The Advent Ember Days, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week, are days of fasting and abstinence. The prayers of the faithful are asked for the Ministry of the Church and those to be ordained to Holy Orders at this time.

An Advent Cantata, "Rejoice, Beloved Christians", will be sung by the Canterbury Choir next Sunday following Evensong at 5.30 P. M. We shall have the assistance of violinists from the Curtis Institute of Music. Robert Furey, of our Boy Choir, will be the soprano soloist. The members of the congregation are urged to invite their friends and neighbors to this outstanding musical event.

Posters displayed on the outside bulletin board for the Canterbury Choir concerts are designed, executed and donated to the Church by Miss Margaret Wadsworth. We are indeed fortunate to number among our parishioners such an artist.

The Christmas Fund, which provides festivities for the Sunday School and Choir, and remembrances for the sick and shut ins, needs your support. Contributions are to be sent to the Church Office marked for that purpose.

A Volunteer is needed for the care of the nursery during the Solemn Mass on Christmas Day at 9.30 A. M. Kindly contact Fr. Becker this week in order that we will be able to make an announcement in time.

Tune In Radio Station WIFI (FM 92.5) Sunday evenings at 9.30 P. M. in Advent for Evensong sung by St. Mark's Men's Choir.

Churchman's Ordo Kalendar may be obtained from the Women of St. Mark's and at the Office. Price 60 cents.

We Are Grateful for the generous Thanksgiving Offering of $302,07, which was designated for All Saints' Hospital, our Diocesan Institution under Episcopal Community Services.

The Quiet Devotion of St. Mark's has always been helpful to so many people who come here to worship and pray. Recently, in our desire to express the friendliness which should mark our parish fellowship we have become careless about talking in the Nave of the Church after Services. With ample parish house space, could we confine our visiting to this area, as well as the Church porch, west end vestibule and cloister.

Also, the Organ Voluntary at the end of the eleven o'clock Mass is a part of the Service, and those wishing to see the Lady Chapel or any part of the Church should wait until its conclusion. St. Mark's is primarily a house of prayer, and with Our Lord always sacramentally present, I know that each one will understand this request for a renewed devotional spirit.

NOTES

We Welcome the Very Rev. Albert H. Lucas, D. D., Dean of the Philadelphia Divinity School, as our preacher this morning. Dean Lucas grew up in this parish, was married here, and went forth from St. Mark's to the priesthood. It is good to have him back home on this occasion.

The Philadelphia Festival—Music of the Western Hemisphere features the music of the Solemn Mass at St. Mark's today. All of the music, except for the chant, is written by American Composers. The organ prelude is "Adagio for Strings," by Samuel Barber (1939) and the postlude is "March of the Magi," by Philip James (1952).

Both Father Paige and Father Becker are deeply grateful to Dr. Hopkin and Father Jones of the Philadelphia Divinity School, and Father Elwell, Rector of St. Clement's Church, for their timely assistance last weekend when the virus (a popular demon) laid low the clergy of St. Mark's. A group of wonderful parish people carried on the music and ceremonies, and the Lord's work went on quite normally. The clergy are justifiably proud of the parish they serve.

Parish Mission in Lent—The most important parish event in 1960 will be our Parish Mission, beginning on March 27th and continuing for one week. Our Missioner will be Father Bonnell Spencer, of the Order of the Holy Cross. Please give the Mission precedence in your date book, especially the evenings at 7.30 o'clock.

Ordo Kalendars—Have you bought yours yet?

Would you like to visit and inspect the new sacristy? The members of the congregation are invited to see the wonderful improvements which are now completed. After each of the Masses today, 8, 9 and 11, those wishing to make a "tour" will come forward to the chancel rail, where they will be guided by ushers. We are extremely proud of what has been accomplished. This has been made possible by the thoughtful study and planning of our architect, William Heyl Thompson, and the work of Unkefer Construction Company, our contractor. No small credit is due to the Committee on Building and Property, under the Chairmanship of George H. Kern, who have worked tirelessly for many months.

We Welcome into the life of the Church, and especially in our own parish, the following members, who received the Sacrament of Holy Confirmation last Sunday.

Stephen David Cooper
Daniel Poling Devlin
Robert Richard Dickens
Allen Lippincott Elfreth
Frederic Albert Epting
Robert Allen Furey
David Lloyd Jeffries
Robert Joseph Keevill
Daniel Lara
Elsie Lillias Minahan
Ann Marguerite Moore
William F. Rudolph
Marie Gloria Russo

Thomas Charles Orr was received from the Roman Communion.

The Flowers on the Altar Today are in loving memory of Ruth Nesbitt, and have been given by her mother and brother.

The Members of the Altar Guild and other interested women of the congregation are invited to attend a meeting of the Diocesan Altar Guild, Monday, February 15, at 2 P. M., in the Church House. The Rev. Raymond A. Gill, O. H. C., well known to our parish, is to speak and show pictures of the Holy Cross Liberian Mission.

Are You Saving the week of March 27th for your parish? This will be the week of our Parish Mission conducted by Fr. Spencer, O. H. C., and we hope that every member of the congregation, their friends and others in our community, will plan to be a part of this opportunity for spiritual renewal.

NOTES

A WEEK OF PRAYER FOR CHRISTIAN UNITY is observed by many Christians from January 18 to 25. Our parish will use the daily intentions at Mass and Intercessions issued by the American Church Union. Copies of these Daily Intentions for private and public use are found at the entrance to the Church. We pray during this week that her divisions may be healed and that the Church may be One; that the Church may be Holy in all her members and all her branches; that the Church may be truly Catholic for all men and in all truth, and that she may be Apostolic, firm in the faith and endowed with the missionary spirit of the first Apostles.

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION SUNDAY is observed throughout the Church on January 24th. Special envelopes are available for persons desiring to contribute towards the education of our future priests. Undesignated offerings made through this parish are divided among the Philadelphia Divinity School, The General Theological Seminary and Nashotah House. It is natural for our parish to have a vital interest in our own Diocesan Seminary. The Rector is an Alumnus of the General Theological Seminary, the official Seminary of the American Church under the General Convention. Father Becker is a graduate of Nashotah House, which has sent forth many great priests into the life of the Church. Offerings may be designated specifically for one of these three seminaries. The congregation is asked to read the interesting brochures found at the entrance to the Church.

THE SACRAMENT OF HOLY CONFIRMATION will be administered on Sunday afternoon, January 31, following Evensong st 5.30 o'clock. The Rt. Rev. Andrew Y. Y. Tsu, D. D., retired Bishop of the Anglican Church in China, will be the officiant and preacher.

UNITED CLOTHING APPEAL OF THE CHURCHES—The World Refugee Year focuses our attention upon the continuing need of millions of people throughout the world. Let the idle clothing in your closet go to work to help meet this need. All types of garments can be used, infant's wear, blankets and bedding and cloth remnants for sewing. A box will be placed in the Parish House for this purpose and clothing can be brought in at any time. Won't you look in your closet and see how much you can help? Please—Do it today.

THE DEPARTMENT OF UNITED CHURCH WOMEN, of the Council of Churches, will hold a luncheon on Thursday, January 28, at the Broadwood Hotel at 12.30 P. M. The Speaker will be Miss Helen B. Turnbull, Director of Leadership Education of the National Council of Churches, formerly of Windham House. Her topic will be "Cooperation of Men and Women in the Church and Society."

LIBRARY NOTES—Pre-Lenten Reading—It has been suggested that during the weeks preceding Lent it would be well to devote our reading time to a study of the Sacraments. Do we know how many there are? Do we know what the Church's teaching is concerning them? For some this would be a period of review. A periodic refreshing of our minds is always necesary. For others it would be a new knowledge gained, so very necessary for one's religious growth. There are some excellent books on this subject displayed on the Book Table.

FOR SALE—"A Pocket-Book for Christians", put together by a Religious of C. S. M. V. This little Pocket-Book is intended to be carried around with you always. The introductory chapter tells you why. Price 25 cents.

NOTES

THE SACRAMENT OF HOLY CONFIRMATION will be administered this afternoon at 5.30 P. M. by the Right Rev. Andrew Y. Y. Tsu, Retired Bishop of the Anglican Church in China. The members of the congregation will want to be present to welcome the newly confirmed and to greet Bishop Tsu on his first visit to St. Mark's.

TRADITIONAL CANDLEMAS CEREMONIES will be observed Tuesday, the Purification of St. Mary the Virgin, at 7.00 A. M., preceding the Solemn Mass. This beautiful service will include the blessing of candles, their distribution to members of the congregation, and procession. All are invited to a buffet breakfast in the parish hall immediately following. Members are urged to invite their friends to participate in these ceremonies.

THE WOMEN OF ST. MARK'S will meet for dinner on Thursday, February 4, at 6.15 P. M. in the parish house. Reports of Chairmen and Delegates will be presented and there will be an important discussion of future plans. ALL women of the parish are invited.

ST. MARK'S CHAPTER OF THE ORDER OF ST. VINCENT for Acolytes admitted the following members to the Order last Sunday morning:

David Beeler — Robin McIlvaine
Edward A. Joyce — James L. Snyder
Stephen W. Lohbrandt

There are now 23 active members in the parish chapter, with 3 probationers. The following members are Masters of Ceremonies, who prepare for and carry out the services in our parish: Messrs. William A. Hammer, George Hotton, John Rowan, Jr., Jesse Wood, J. H. Hannemann, Robert Patrick, Edward S. Kessler, Robert Gearhart and Thomas Malim.

The Guild meets together the fourth Sunday of each month for Holy Communion, followed by breakfast and a business meeting. Men and older boys who have a vocation to be acolytes are invited to express their interest to the Rector, who acts as Warden of St. Mark's Chapter.

THE 6.30 MASS ON THURSDAY MORNINGS was added to our schedule this year in the hope that it would meet the needs of Churchmen who must begin their duties early in the day. It is hoped that the members of the congregation will tell their friends of this Service.

WE SHOULD HAVE THE COMING PARISH MISSION in our prayers and plans. The Mission will be held the week of March 27th, with Father Bonnell Spencer, Order of the Holy Cross, as our Missioner.

NEW BOOKS: Serious Reading—"The Origin and Meaning of the Name, 'Protestant Episcopal'", by Robert W. Shoemaker. An exhaustive and interesting study. (2) "The Church, the Body of Christ" by Everett B. Bosshard. (Pamphlet). (3) "Who Are Members of the Church?" by Darwell Hone & F. W. Puller. (Pamphlet). Lighter Reading—A newly published historical novel by Louis DeWohl, woven around St. Benedict.

Did You Know that there is a Sunday morning class for adults? It meets on every third Sunday of the month at 10 A. M. in the Parish Hall. Fr. Becker is the teacher. Breakfast can be had after the 9 A. M. Mass by arrangement with Mr. Miller.

An Unusual Concert will be presented after Evensong on Sunday, February 28, by the Canterbury Choir. Bach's Cantata, "God's Time is Best" will be sung at that time with the original orchestra accompaniment of harpsichord, flutes, and ancient viols da gamba. Plan to attend.

Lenten Mite Boxes, especially used by the children of the Church, are available at the door for any others who care to share in self denial for missionary work.

The Catholic Laymen's Union will have its meeting here at St. Mark's on Tuesday Evening, February 23rd, preceded by a Service of Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament at 8.00 P. M. The men of the parish act as hosts on this occasion and we hope that many of the men will make every effort to be present. Father Gill, O.H.C., on furlough from Liberia, and well known to many of us, will speak on "Our Bounden Duty."

Library Notes—Lent will be here shortly. The Lenten Reading List is scheduled to be in the Sunday leaflet on Sexagesima Sunday. In preparation for Lent there are available for purchase several copies of "The Sins of the Day". Also Fr. Hughson's Lenten Meditations, "The Passion of the King", pamphlet; "The Taming of the Tongue", invaluable: and several copies of "St. Augustine's Prayer Book."

The Rector's Message

The announcement and plans for our Parish Preaching Mission in Lent are now in the hands of the members of the congregation. This will be the first Mission held at St. Mark's for many years. Some months ago I had a long talk with Father Turkington, Superior of the Order of the Holy Cross, telling him of the growth of this parish as a real family in Christ. It is not an easy thing for a center city parish, which has changed so radically in the past thirty years, to find a spiritual unity, bringing people from all walks of life and from different backgrounds together in common life and worship. We still have much to do in the days ahead, and there is the constant need to keep the "family" well and happy. Fr. Turkington thought that now was the time for a Parish Mission, the time for strengthening and renewing our part of the Holy Fellowship. So the Mission is now to be a fact, and Father Spencer, O.H.C., has been assigned as our Missioner.

First, will you say the Mission prayer each day? Then will you make your plan NOW to attend the Special Mission Service each evening Sunday, March 27, through Friday, April 1st? This will require effort and sacrifice—arranging for the care of the family, giving up an appointment or a concert, and bringing someone with you each night. It may mean bringing someone with you in your car—seeking out those who have no way to get in at night. But the end of our faithful response will be to the glory of God and the enlivening of our own souls.

There will be three masses Monday through Friday, and many will want to make it part of the Mission to come either at 6.30, 7.45 or 12.10 each of those days.

NOW is the time to make your plans, and set aside this week for Christ in the life of your parish family. The week can be a real blessing from God on St. Mark's and for each one of us.

ON READING THE PSALMS

For some reason Episcopalians seem to imagine that the saying of the Gloria Patri ("Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost") is the sacred right of clergy only and that lay-folk must say only the response "As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be. Amen." whenever it occurs at the end of Psalms or Canticles in Morning and Evening Prayer. Gloria Patri is said by whichever person it falls to in the course of reading the Psalm or Canticle verses alternately.

Nobody would think of trying to sing the hymns at his own tempo and to his own tune, and yet we do this when we read the Psalms, pausing for breath when and where we happen to run out of it, and observing the punctuation marks that strike our fancy. Since everbody's lung power differs, and because nobody is agreed about punctuation marks, general mumbo-jumbo and uncertainty follows. The Psalms are the heart of the Office, and therefore ought to be said carefully and reverently. Nor is it safe to rely upon the meaning of each verse, for your neighbour's interpretation and yours may be quite different.

The best plan is to observe the asterisk (*) in the middle of each verse. That is exactly why it is printed there. Read the first half of the verse, make a good pause for breath, and then read the second half. Anyway, this is the way all Hebrew poetry is composed, in parallel lines each half of which says almost what the other half does. Then, if it falls to your turn at the end, read the Gloria Patri.

Unless announced otherwise, we read the portion of the Psalms appointed in the Prayer Book for each day of the month, and so read through the whole 150 Psalms once each month.

NOTES

"God's Time is Best", a cantata by Bach, will be presented at Evensong next Sunday afternoon by the Canterbury Choir. Soloists will be Mary Ann Altmann, Ralph Purvis and David Hottman. The music is seldom heard and even then rarely with the original orchestration such as will be heard next Sunday, with harpsichord, flutes and violas da gamba. Please tell your friends about it and plan to come yourself.

Lenten Mite Boxes are available at the door for any who care to share in self denial for missionary work.

The Catholic Laymen's Union will meet here at St. Mark's on Tuesday Evening of this week. There will be the Service of Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament at 8.00 P. M. The men of the parish act as hosts on this occasion and we hope that many of the men will make every effort to be present. Fr. Gill,O.H.C., on furlough from Liberia, and well known to many of us, will speak on "Our Bounden Duty".

The List of Books For Lenten Reading in enclosed with today's leaflet. The books have been listed under one general heading, with sub divisions. The emphasis is on the "Devotional" (240), which also includes the Christians duty on what to do and what to avoid (241). It includes meditations and meditative subjects (242) and also urges Christians to conversion and repentance (243).

It is difficult to pinpoint all the books, and there is much overlapping, but these numbers serve as a rough guide. The books are on the book table today, and there are many more than can be included in this list.

Our next special program will be presented on the Wednesday of Holy Week, April 13, at 7.30 P. M. The ancient and dramatic service of Tenebrae, with sixteenth century motets, will be sung at that time. Our final concert will be presented on Sunday, May 1, at 5.30 P. NOTES

Special Noon Day Mass at 12.10 each weekday except Saturday. These Services are held in the Church and it would be appreciated if the congregation would sit in the forward part of the Nave. During Lent it is our custom to use the traditional Collects, Epistles or Lessons, and Gospels, simply commemorating whatever Saints' Days fall within the season.

Lenten Ember Days—Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are days of fasting and abstinence. The Church asks us to pray especially for the Ministry on these days.

The New Creed setting which we learned in Advent will be used again today and until Maundy Thursday. The music is printed in the Hymnal as an aid to fuller participation by the congregation. (See page 2 of this leaflet.)

St. Mark's Boy Choir will participate in a massed choir performance of Bach's St. Matthew Passion at the First Baptist Church, 17th and Sansom Streets, at eight o'clock this evening. You and your friends are invited. Selected boys have recently sung in a performance of "Tosca" at the Academy of Music and also with the Oratorio Choir of Philadelphia for a presentation of the cantata "St. Nicholas" by Britten.

Parish Mission Note—Forty-two men and women of the parish, who offered to assist in doing all they could to stress the importance of the Mission, met after Solemn Mass last Sunday. Each member of the congregation will be visited in order that all may learn about the Mission and signify their support. Please say the prayer for the Mission each day.

Lenten Mite Boxes for all who wish to share in self-denial for missionary work will be found at the door of the Church.

The Silver Medal of the Order of St. Vincent for Acolytes was presented to Vice Adm. Ephraim R. McLean last Sunday at the monthly meeting of St. Mark's Chapter, in recognition of the completion of twenty years as a member of the Order.

Library Notes—What is Charity? It is silence when your words would hurt, It's patience when your neighbor's curt; It's deafness when a scandal flows, It's thoughtfulness for others' woes; It's promptness when stern duty calls, It's courage when misfortune falls.

Lenten Reading — The Passion of the King — The Taming of the Tongue—St. Augustine's Prayer Book. These are on sale at the librarian's desk in the meeting room.

Lenten Quiet Day for Women, Tuesday, March 15th, at St. Margaret's House. Mass at 8.30 A. M. Closing at 3.15 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Philip T. Fifer. Please register early.

ALL SAINTS' HOSPITAL

Once again, new needs, new knowledge and changing conditions have brought about rearrangement of some of the facilities at All Saints' Hospital, an institution of the Episcopal Community Services. Late in 1959, sixteen additional beds were made available in the Chronic Disease Unit, in order to enable the Hospital to expand its services to the chronically ill of Philadelphia and the surrounding counties.

The additional beds will make it possible for us to serve those patients who have reached the limit of improvement under the program of rehabilitation but who need continued stimulation, motivation and help to hold the benefits achieved. Also, patients will now be admitted who are suffering from chronic illness needing prolonged, intensive nursing care, even if the prospect of improvement is not great. There will be no limit to the time patients may remain and they will receive whatever physical medicine and other treatment they may need.

NOTES

The Parish and the Catholic Church—"The Church is the Body of Christ because it feeds on his Eucharistic Body and Blood. The consecrated elements are Christ to the communicant; wholly and completely Christ, divide them into ten thousand fragments and each is the Body and Blood of Christ. So the Parish is the Catholic Church in microcosm. .... If the whole Body is complete at every altar, the whole communion of saints are in attendance at every altar. .... There is one Church and one Body, so the work of each server, each organist, each verger, each good lady who arranges the flowers is of Catholic significance because it is truly parochial. This is why the Church's Office, said by two souls in the village church on Monday night, is an infinitely tremendous thing; the "special" service with its teeming congregation is trivial by comparison."

Fr. Martin Thornton, our Good Friday preacher.
(From his book Pastoral Theology: A Reorientation)

Have You Chosen a Book for Your Lenten Reading?

Two Practical Reminders—The Coffee Hour after Solemn Mass each Sunday is a parish family get-together to greet each other and welcome friends and visitors. The Clergy use this occasion to greet new people and hope to keep this period free from all business. It would help the spirit of this weekly gathering if each member of the congregation would have the same objective and keep this period free from "business contacts".

The front of the Sunday leaflet indicates the numbers of the parish telephones. All calls to Father Paige and Father Becker should be made on PE 5-5195. The parish secretaries, Sister Darthea and Mr. Day can be reached only on PE 5-1416. Persons in the Meeting Room or kitchen can be reached on the public telephone KI 5-2991.

St. Mark's Day Fair will be held Friday, April 29th. Your help is needed. If able to participate will you be good enough to contact Mrs. McIlvaine Freeman, Chairman, LO 7-0449.

Lenten Quiet Evening, Saturday, April 2, at St. Margaret's House. 4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Robert W. Hill.

NEW BOOKS—The books listed below should appeal to various tastes and interests:

1.—"The Dark Night of the Soul"—By St. John of the Cross.

2.—Preceding the reading of the above should come "The Life of St. John of the Cross" by Crisogona de Jesus, a member of St. John's own order in Spain, a fascinating, fuller account than hitherto written and written in modern idiom. (1958). A good and modern translation.

3.—"The Offering of Man" by Harry Blamires, the well known English author. This is the latest Episcopal Book Club selection. Pertinent to the times, of a somewhat devotional character, and easily read.

4.—"Janet Erskine Stuart", by Pauline S. Steinmetz, a brief biography of this remarkable woman, very readable.

5.—"The Bible Word Book", by Bridges & Weigle. For all who are interested in Word Study, especially in the obsolete forms, and the changes that have come through the centuries. It is full of surprises.

6.—"Dear and Glorious Physician", by T. Caldwell, a story of St. Luke the Physician, for lighter reading. Presented by a member of St. Mark's.

Mozart composed three settings of the Regina Coeli; that which is heard today was probably written in May, 1779, and is thought to have been intended for use with the second performance of the composer's "Coronation" Mass. The text is that used for the Angelus in the Easter season; Mozart's music is appropriately joyous and exciting.

We are grateful for the generous support given these special programs during the season. Attendance has been gratifying and the extra expense involved has been met. Your contribution today will again be important.

✠

One of the signs of spiritual growth in the Church is the increasing understanding of Christianity as something more than a Sunday religion. We are Christians seven days a week, and twenty four hours each day. This concerns the way we live at home, with others and the ethics of our business and place in the community. Accepting this truth, we should remind ourselves that man has no power of himself to help himself. He cannot live his religion as he should in the daily round without grace. God knows our needs, and He gives us means of grace in prayer and sacrament.

Since we need grace day by day to live as members of Christ, we must rely on daily prayer and the frequent use of the sacraments. It is for this reason that the means of grace are available at your parish church, in the Eucharist celebrated daily, and through the readiness of your priests to administer Unction and the Sacrament of Penance upon call.

The daily Masses and the Prayer Book Offices twice each day are the breath of life in the parish family. These are offered because we believe they are the functions of normal parish life, but also in a real sense they are to meet the needs of the people. They are your services. The Masses, of which there are one or two each day, are opportunities for you to bring your prayers and intentions, your intercessions and commemorations for youselves and your loved ones before God. They are for the receiving of the Bread of Life, for strength and direction as you face the day or meet some new problem.

The Sunday-at-eleven churchman shares in a beautiful service offered to Almighty God, but unless he uses the sacraments, he will find himself drying up spiritually from the lack of grace. Those who follow a simple rule of life, especially in regard to daily prayer and weekly communion, with confession at intervals, are not only accepting the Church's way to God, but are finding the grace to do one's job, raise a family and live as becomes a child of God.

I urge each one of you to make full use of the daily services. Select for yourself a regular morning and come to share in offering the Holy Sacrifice and to receive Holy Communion. The services and the sacraments are God's Gift to you and me. The daily masses may be beyond the Christian's minimum obligation, but they are the appointed ways of our living the Christian Life to a fuller measure.

ST. MARY'S CHAPEL of St. Mark's Parish became ST. MARY'S CHURCH, SOUTH PHILADELPHIA, last Tuesday, when it was admitted into the Diocese as a parish by vote of the Convention. We are justifiably proud of the growth of St. Mary's to the point where it has become self-supporting, and can now go its own way witnessing to our Lord and the Faith on Bainbridge Street.

The work in South Philadelphia began as a mission center, and in 1883 permission was given to have it function as a Mission of St. Mark's with a priest and regular services. The cornerstone of the present building was laid in 1897 and the beautiful chapel building was opened and blessed by the bishop on February 1, 1898. Father Hughson, later of the Order of the Holy Cross, was the first vicar in the new edifice.

Definite plans for becoming a parish were begun in the fall of 1951. Father Little, who died while Vicar of St. Mary's, worked with great zeal toward self-support. Under Father Williamson's splendid leadership, St. Mary's has achieved its goal. The people of St. Mary's begin their life as a parish with an exceptional priest, with one of the finest church buildings in our city, with a parish organization free of debt, and with a zeal and dedication to fulfil their vocation for Christ.

On Saturday, June 18th, at 10.30 A. M., there will be a great service at St. Mary's to celebrate its becoming a parish. We are all invited. We say farewell to our mission and extend a warm welcome to the new parish. We congratulate Father Williamson and the people of St. Mary's, and ask God's blessing on St. Mary's Parish during its great years ahead.

SUCCESSFUL STEWARDS

"Who then is that successful and popular steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season?" This is not Holy Scripture, although if we were to revise our Lord's words according to modern-day ideals, it might appear to be. What our Lord did say was "Who then is that faithful and wise steward?". God does not ask his stewards to be successful and popular, but faithful and wise, and that is a different matter entirely. Things being what they are, if the steward is faithful and wise, he will most probably not be either successful or popular. Regrettably, the opposite is also true.

Not only the Bishop, as the chief shepherd of the flock, but priests and people as well, are all given the responsibility of stewardship in the Lord's household, the Church. He has left it in our keeping while He is away, and we are to use it to provide food for the household. He says, "Blessed is that servant whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing." We shall not be judged on our success, but on our faithfulness.

A good part of modern interest in organizational church unity is due to a desire for outward signs of success, numbers and status. Our Lord's entire ministry was spent training twelve men. He never filled a church. These twelve spread the Gospel to others not because of their success, but because of their faithfulness, which made it possible for the Holy Spirit to use them. Secular values are not all wrong, but they must not be mixed up with God's purposes, for they are seldom the same. Success is not the goal of the Church and parish, but faithfulness. God does not require His stewards to be successful and popular, but faithful and wise. He is never interested in the multitudes as such, and has never worked through them. He wants to convert the multitudes through the faithful few, and always has. By attracting outsiders with various lures, we only do them a great disservice by attracting them to the wrong things. They come for the wrong reasons. And it is our fault, not theirs. In our desire to be found successful, we become unfaithful. A "successful steward" in the eyes of God can only be a faithful one.

TODAY—10.00 A. M.—Class for Junior High. Meeting Room.
11.00 A. M.—Nursery and Sunday School. Parish House.
12.15 P. M.—Coffee Hour. Meeting Room.

MONDAY—MEMORIAL DAY—Mass at 7.45 A. M.
Today the Church will be closed after this Mass until Evening Prayer.
This will also be true on July 4th, Independence Day, and September 5th, Labor Day.

TUESDAY—7.30 P. M.—Canterbury Choir Rehearsal. Choir Room.

THURSDAY—Octave of the Ascension.

SATURDAY—Vigil of Pentecost.
5.30 P. M.—Special Evensong. (See note)

NEXT SUNDAY—WHITSUNDAY.

NOTES

Next Sunday is the Feast of Pentecost, commonly called Whitsunday, the Church's Festival in honor of God the Holy Spirit. On this day, or during the octave, every communicant should receive Holy Communion. We are also reminded that it is appropriate to make our confession before this Great Festival. A Solemn Procession will precede the Mass at 11 o'clock next Sunday.

The Annual Offering for the Altar Society will be taken today. Your generous support is asked for this important work. A fine group of women, under the direction of Sister Darthea, care for the vestments and appointments, with a special group meeting each Saturday to study ecclesiastical embroidery and the repair of vestments. Special envelopes will be found in the pews, or offerings may be sent at any time to the Church office.

Sunday School—Final session next Sunday, Whitsunday. The nursery will continue, however, throughout the summer months.

Mr. Kirk Hartman, our seminarian for the past two years, leaves us after the service today. He was graduated this week from the Philadelphia Divinity School and will return to the Diocese of Pittsburgh, where he will be ordained to the Diaconate and begin his ministry. We have enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Hartman as part of the parish family and extend to them our good wishes and the assurance of our prayers.

Evening Prayer Will Be Sung next Saturday, June 4th, at 5.30 o'clock by St. Mark's Men's Choir. Members of the New York and Philadelphia Chapters of the American Guild of Organists will be our guests at that time. The congregation is invited to this special service on the Eve of Whitsunday.

Recently the Men's Choir sang at the Acolytes' Festival held in the Church of the Advocate. The Parish Choir provides the music for a wedding at Holy Cross Lutheran Church on June 25; meanwhile the Canterbury Choir is preparing music for Sung Mass during the summer, and for fall concerts.

NOTES

The Ushers' Guild met recently for dinner and made plans for the future. Mr. Thomas B. Congdon, Jr., was appointed Chairman of the Guild for the coming year, with Mr. Anthony Nina as his assistant. Mr. Richard W. Smith will be the Secretary and arrange the schedule of ushering. We are grateful to the men who serve in this capacity and are especially appreciative of Mr. Charles J. Miller, who has been Chairman for the past year.

At a Service following the monthly meeting of St. Mark's Chapter of the Order of St. Vincent last Sunday, Clyde Cooper was admitted to the Order. We now have 22 active members of the Order in the parish, who follow the Rule of Life and share in the responsibilities for the Services Sunday and weekdays.

Our Lenten Mite Box offering this year totalled $69.04. We are glad to be a part of the offering from this Diocese, which was the largest in the American Church in 1959.

The Summer Fund for the Annual Choir Outing is still in need of contributions. Also Mr. Day would be glad to hear from any members of the congregation who would care to drive their cars for the trip on June 25th.

Episcopal Sunday at Phila. General Hospital is the fourth Sunday of every month. Chaplain Carpenter needs people to push wheel chair patients from the wards to the Chapel for Service. If you will volunteer for this work please tell Miss Margaret Evans or call her (CL 9-1587) to make arrangements.

The Election of a Coadjutor Bishop for the Diocese of Pennsylvania, requested by Bishop Hart at the recent Diocesan Convention, has been set for early October. This is an event of great importance to every Churchman in the Diocese. We should be most diligent in praying for the guidance of the Holy Spirit during the coming months. Bishop Hart has authorized the following prayer, which it is hoped you will use regularly:

"Almighty God, our heavenly Father, who knowest the needs of Thy Church in every place: look graciously, at this time, upon the people of this Diocese, and so guide and govern the clergy and laity, that they may faithfully and wisely make choice of a fit person to serve as Bishop Coadjutor: and to him who shall be ordained to this holy function, give Thy grace and heavenly benediction that he may serve before Thee in all diligence and lowliness of heart, and, by Thy blessing, bring many souls to the joys of Thy eternal kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

This is a small group of people within the parish who willingly undertake the important work of praying for others. God the Holy Spirit seeks to work through men and women by means of prayer. These people offer themselves to be instruments by which God may shed His grace and comfort upon others.

This is not a women's organization; it is meant for men and women who are interested in sharing the job of prayer, which is, after all, the most important work any of us can do, because it is Christ's own work, the offering of self in adoration for the needs of others. The work of the guild members is not the mere recitation of names on a list.

Since this work must be done voluntarily and joyfully, nobody is requested to do it, and members for the Fellowship are not solicited. There are no dues and no business meetings. There is an annual dinner (free) and an instruction period. An intercession list is sent out regularly.

If you are interested, please speak to Fr. Becker, who is the director. We are not looking for experts, but just those who are willing and want to learn and pray.

The Episcopalian is the name of the new monthly magazine published by the National Church. Individual subscription is priced at $3.00 per year, or $5.00 for two years. Subscriptions may be made through the Church office or directly to "The Episcopalian", Box 199, Madison Square Station, New York, N. Y.

NOTES

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Whitsuntide Ember Days. These are days of fasting on which, as our Prayer Book says, "the Church requires such a measure of abstinence as is more especially suited to extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion." Your prayers are especially asked for Mr. Kirk Hartman, our seminarian, and others who have finished their seminary studies and are being ordained to the Diaconate.

The Annual Parish Election for Vestrymen will be held tomorrow, Monday, between the hours of 5.00 and 6.00 P. M. in the Thomas McKean Meeting Room. Three vestrymen are to be elected to serve a term of four years. (See notice on bulletin board.)

The Sunday School will hold its final session today. The nursery will continue through the summer months for children through three years of age.

There Is Still Time to make contributions to the Summer Fund for the Annual Choir Outing. Mr. Day would be glad to hear from any members of the congregation who would care to drive their cars for the trip on June 18th.

Library Note—The concentrated devotional reading of Lent gives way to the more relaxed reading of the Great Fifty Days following. Very soon, however, will follow the "summer slump" for some. Others will do their best reading during this period. But, for one and all, let us not undo the good work started this past Lent, or during previous Lents, but continue a steady building-up of good religious reading through the years. Remember Screwtape and Wormwood? The Library will be open all summer. Kindly charge out all books.

A Conference on Vocation to the Religious Life for young women, between the ages of 18 and 30, will be held at the Convent of St. Helena in Newburgh, N. Y., September 3rd through 5th. Any who are interested should make immediate application as the enrollment is limited.

At the Spring Ingathering of the United Thank Offering the amount received from St. Mark's was $345.00.

NOTES

The Nursery under the care of Mrs. John Migioia, R. N., is available during the 11 o'clock Mass for the summer. This service is for children up through three years of age.

The Summer Schedule, which begins tomorrow, is given on the front of this leaflet. Kindly save this for your information. It will be noted that beginning next Sunday, the 8 o'clock Mass will be omitted. The 12.10 Mass on Friday will continue throughout the summer.

At the Annual Parish Election held last Monday, the following gentlemen were elected to serve on the Vestry of St. Mark's for a term of four years:

Mr. Benjamin C. Hand
Mr. George H. Kern
Mr. John E. McLaughlin

The Vestry meets on Tuesday to organize for the coming year.

A Red Stole, to match the recently acquired memorial red Solemn Mass set of vestments, was given as a thank offering by the members of the recent Confirmation Class. It was blessed and used for the first time on Whitsunday.

A Service of Thanksgiving will be held in St. Mary's Church, S. Philadelphia, formerly a Chapel of St. Mark's Church, on Saturday of this week, at 10.30 A. M. The Service is in celebration of their becoming a parish and the Rector, Vestrymen and members of our congregation are especially invited because of our long association with St. Mary's. It is hoped that many of us will be able to attend. The Service will be followed by a lunch in St. Mary's Parish Hall. Reservations ($5.00) should be made direct to Father Williamson, KI 5-7113.

THE WOMEN OF ST. MARK'S have made a contribution of $500.00 to the Diocesan Capital Fund. This generous offering will be credited to the quota of $17,500.00 which your Vestry accepted for St. Mark's in 1957. The Women were anxious to have this amount go to the program of the Church at Large.

The Diocesan Capital Fund was created for two purposes: To carry out a bold program of missionary extension in the Diocese and also to assist in development and improvement of the facilities at the Philadelphia Divinity School. It was designated that three-fifths of all contributions should go to the Diocesan Program and two-fifths to the Divinity School. It is interesting to note that of the contribution by the Women of St. Mark's Two Hundred Dollars will go to the Divinity School and Three Hundred Dollars for special Diocesan work.

When the full quota of $17,500.00 for our parish was accepted, the Vestry thought it best not to ask for special contributions from individuals, but to inform the members of the parish that regular payments would be made to the Diocesan Capital Fund from the pledged offerings of the parishioners. From these offerings regular payments, amounting to $8,891.66 have been paid to date, and it is planned to completely fulfil our obligation by the end of 1961.

Those of us who have been pledging on the basis of modern tithing, and all who become pledgers from time to time, should be aware that we also make regular monthly payments out of your offerings to the Missionary Program of the Diocese and the General Church, in the amount of $7,500.00 a year, as well as the regular payments to Capital Funds as described above.

We are grateful that the Women of St. Mark's appreciate the importance of the work covered by the Capital Fund and have helped our parish in its support of this worthy program.

NOTES

THIS MORNING THE BOYS OF OUR CHOIR sing their last Service until September. They had a most enjoyable outing yesterday at Hershey Park. We wish each of them a happy summer.

FATHER BECKER will begin his vacation tomorrow, spending his holiday with friends in California.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR CHILE DISASTER RELIEF may be made through the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. Checks will be forwarded from the Parish office or may be sent direct to 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City. Contributions may also be made to Chilean Earthquake Relief, care of the American Red Cross, 235 South 17th St. Our neighbors in South America need our assistance as well as our prayers at this time.

OF INTEREST TO THE WOMEN OF ST. MARK'S. Summer opportunities for Retreats or Conference.

1. School of Religion: Adelynrood, S. Byfield, Mass. July 5th to 9th. Conductor: Rev. Donald Parsons, of Nashotah House. Registration to House Secretary, Adelynrood, S. Byfield, Mass.

2. Community of St. Mary, Peekskill, N. Y. September 2nd to 6th. Conductor: Rev. William Elwell. Registration to Sister Madelein, C. S. M., Valhalla, N. Y.

NEXT SUNDAY and the Fourth Sunday of each month is Episcopal Sunday at Philadelphia General Hospital. Chaplain Carpenter needs interested people to wheel patients from the wards to the Chapel for Service. If you can volunteer call Miss Margaret Evans, CL 9-1587.

EACH WEEKDAY AT NOON THE ANGELUS is rung at St. Mark's. It has been the custom for many centuries to call the people to prayer with the ringing of the Angelus at the beginning of the day and at six o'clock in the evening, as well as at noon.

It is now necessary to ring the Angelus with a hand-pulled rope, which is also the way the bells are played on Sunday morning. We hope that some day a clavier or keyboard may be installed with a modernized bell-ringing equipment. An additional advantage would be the installation of an Angelus Ringer, which could be acquired separately. This device is automatic and by clock control would ring the Angelus at stated times.

There may be some one who would care to give this as a memorial and make it possible for St. Mark's bells (famous in Philadelphia) to call people to prayer three times each day.

COPIES OF THE EPISCOPALIAN (30c) are on the tract rack.

NOTES

The Church is Closed after the 7.45 Mass on Independence Day and Labor Day, but will be open again for Evening Prayer at 5.30. With the members of the staff having a holiday, it is necessary to take precautions against misuse of our Church when there is no supervision. Even with regular precautions there are frequent instances of petty theft and other malicious acts. In spite of this we shall continue, except on certain holidays, to have the Church open daily for prayer from 7.00 A. M. until after Evening Prayer.

The Sunday "Breakfast Club" has become a regular parish institution. Begun a few summers ago by Mr. Charles J. Miller for a few members of the parish who wished to breakfast together after the early Masses, it has now become a great convenience to all of us. Even during the summer, breakfast (50¢) will be served in the parish house following the 9 o'clock Mass. Our thanks to Mr. Miller for making this possible and to Mrs. Martha Black who comes in each Sunday to help us with the breakfast and coffee hour.

Four Men from Our Parish leave tomorrow to spend a few days at Holy Cross Monastery, West Park. This is a great privilege for laymen and we hope it will become a yearly event.

Library Note—Anyone who wishes to take a book out for the summer, will please speak to the Librarian first.

The many historical novels written around the life of a Saint, by Louis DeWohl, make good summer reading. Some of the newer biographies are also good reading.

An article in the Living Church on "Our Devotional Reading" is posted on the Bulletin Board and will bear thoughtful reading.

The Episcopalian, the new monthly magazine published by the National Church, should be found in the homes of our parishioners. Individual subscription is priced at $3.00 per year, or $5.00 for two years. Subscriptions may be made through the Church office or directly to "The Episcopalian", Box 199, Madison Square Station, New York, N. Y.

SUMMER IN OUR PARISH

✠

The Sunday leaflet goes on vacation after today until next September.

The Canterbury Choir will sing at the 11 o'clock Mass beginning next Sunday.

The worship of Almighty God goes on day by day, regardless of season, and all of us will do our best to attend Mass each Sunday whether we are at home or on vacation. We extend the hospitality of our parish to visitors, and especially invite them to the Coffee Hour after the late Mass.

A summer temptation is to forget the regular weekly offering for the work of the Church and the parish. We may be enjoying a weekend away or our summer vacation, yet the expenses of your parish continue week by week throughout the summer months.

Have a fine summer.

E. P. P.

The Fall Ember Days are on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week. According to the Book of Common Prayer, they are days of Fasting and Abstinence.

Hours for Confession will be the same on Saturdays from 12 noon to 1.00 P. M. with Fr. Paige usually in the confessional. Instead of Saturday night we shall also have time for Confessions scheduled on Fridays from 4.30 to 5.30 P. M. with Fr. Becker. We hope this change will be convenient for many penitents. With the increased number using this Sacrament, we can supply additional times if needed as the year goes on.

We Are Happy to Announce the appointment of Mr. Gary A. Gatza, a Middler at the Philadelphia Divinity School, as Seminarian on the parish staff. Mr. Gatza is a candidate for Holy Orders from the Diocese of Montana. He will frequently be Sub-Deacon at Solemn Mass, teach a class of choir boys and assist Fr. Becker in calling at the Graduate Hospital. We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Gatza to St. Mark's Parish Family.

The Canterbury Choir, our volunteer choir of men and women, greatly assisted our worship at Sung Mass this summer, and I know we are all grateful for the large number who were faithful Sunday by Sunday. The choir now prepares for its new season at its first fall rehearsal on Tuesday Evening at 7.30 P. M. The music of the Fauere "Requiem" is being prepared for a November concert, as well as music for the Liturgies of All Saints and All Souls Days. New members are always welcome. No voice test is given applicants. Please speak to the Choirmaster or the Clergy if you are interested.

ARE YOU—interested in inquiring about the Church and its Faith?
ARE YOU—desirous of preparing for the Gift of Holy Confirmation?
ARE YOU—in need of a refresher course in Faith and Practice?
If so—make your plans to attend the first meeting of the Fall Inquirers' Class to be held on Wednesday Evening, October 5, at 7.30 o'clock, in the Meeting Room.

The Confirmation Class for children will have its first meeting on Saturday morning, October 1, at 10.30 o'clock.

The Clergy should be called at all times on PE 5-5195 day or night whether they are in the rectory or in the parish office. The parish secretaries, Mr. Day and Sister Darthea can be reached only on PE 5-1416. Calls on one line cannot be transferred to the other. Frequently when both Fr. Paige and Fr. Becker have to be away at the same time, the Answering Service will take your calls on PE 5-5195. Kindly give them your number or such information as you wish to have the clergy receive.

The Convention of the Diocese will reconvene on Monday, November 7th, to elect a Coadjutor Bishop. Each of us is asked to pray daily for the guidance of the Holy Spirit in choosing one who will eventually be our Chief Pastor in this Diocese.

Two Faithful Members of St. Mark's, Mrs. Emily Fine and Mr. Earle Rixstine, departed this life during the summer. May they rest in peace.

NOTES

The Fall Schedule of Sunday and weekday services begins today. The full schedule is found on the front page of the Leaflet. You will note—

Today – Mass at 8, and Solemn Mass at 11 with the Choir of Men and Boys, are resumed.

Morning Prayer on Sundays will begin at 8.40 instead of 8.45.

Noonday Masses each week on Wednesday and Friday at 12.10.

Thursdays there will be a Mass at 9.30 A. M. (The hour of 6.30 last year did not prove successful.)

Evensong (choral) and Devotions will be resumed on Sunday, November 6. (Evening Prayer read each Sunday, as usual, at 5.30 P. M.)

The Sunday School and Program of Christian Education will begin this morning.

We hope that all children and young people will be here each Sunday for instruction. Our program includes something for all ages; the junior high group each Sunday at 10, following the 9 o'clock Mass and breakfast: graded classes from kindergarten through grade 6 at 11 A. M., and a class for adults, including high school age, at a time to be announced later. Breakfast is always available following the 8 and 9 o'clock Masses through the kindness of Mr. Charles Miller. Will you tell your friends and neighbors about our Sunday School program, and especially our nursery, under the supervision of Mrs. Magioia, our registered nurse, during the 11 o'clock Mass.

The Angelus will continue to be rung at noon each weekday and each of us, wherever we are, will pause, if possible, for the traditional versicles, responses, Hail Mary and the Collect for the Annunciation. The prayers and intercessions which were formerly said at noon, will now be said following the Evening Office at 5.30 o'clock. This will make it possible for a larger number to join in this work of prayer.

NOTES

The Inquirers' Class will hold its first meeting on Wednesday, October 5th, at 7.30 P. M. All interested persons are invited to these classes—whether you are looking forward to Holy Confirmation, have already been confirmed, or are just an "inquirer".

Parish Family Prayer Cycle—Beginning on Saturday, October 1st, every family and individual member of our parish family will again be remembered at the Altar at the 7.45 Mass throughout the year. A notice will be sent telling which day you or your family will be remembered, and it is hoped that you will be able to be present and make your communion on that day. Because of the great number of names, they will be taken in regular order. This Cycle of Prayer should help us grow spiritually closer together as a Family of God.

The Laymen's Union will have its first meeting of the Season on Tuesday Evening, at 8.00 P. M. at St. Luke's Church, 5421 Germantown Avenue. The Rev. Robert L. Ducker will give an address on "Launcelot Andrewes", one of our Post-Reformation Anglican Saints. An invitation is extended to all men of the Diocese to attend these monthly meetings and it is hoped there will be a good representation of men from St. Mark's.

Bishop Hart has authorized the following prayer for use by the people of the Diocese as we prepare for the election of a Bishop Coadjutor on November 7th. It is hoped that you will detach this and use it regularly.

"Almighty God, our heavenly Father, who knowest the needs of Thy Church in every place; look graciously, at this time, upon the people of this Diocese, and so guide and govern the clergy and laity, that they may faithfully and wisely make choice of a fit person to serve as Bishop Coadjutor: and to him who shall be ordained to this holy function, give Thy grace and heavenly benediction that he may serve before Thee in all diligence and lowliness of heart, and, by Thy blessing, bring many souls to the joys of Thy eternal kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

NOTES

The Flowers on the Altar Today are given by Mr. and Mrs. John Rowan in loving memory of her parents, John C. and Louisa M. Tevis.

Our Sunday School had its first session last Sunday and although we had a good attendance in spite of the weather, there are still a large number of children who should be coming. The importance of Christian Education cannot be stressed too emphatically, and the cooperation of parents is needed in any effective parish program. Just a reminder:

9.30 A. M.—Class for Choir Boys.
10.00 A. M.—Class for Junior High age.
11.00 A. M.—Nursery and classes from kindergarten through grade 6.

(Note—A class for adults, including high school age, will meet monthly at a date to be announced later.)

Small children should be left in the Nursery with Mrs. Magioia until after parents have been to the Coffee Hour and are ready to go home. We find that these small children under foot and under hot coffee constitute a hazard. We should be especially careful about letting children run through the parish house rooms and hallways.

The Confirmation Class for Children will have its first meeting in the parish house next Saturday morning, October 1st, at 10.30. The class will meet regularly on Saturdays, except for holiday periods, until after Confirmation, which is scheduled for February 5th.

Besides our fulfillment of this parish pledge there should be many individuals in the parish who will become members of the American Church Union. Membership dues are $4.00 a year, which includes a subscription to the American Church News. Vice Adm. Ephraim R. McLean, Jr. (Rtd.) is a Vice President of the American Church Union, and both he and the Rector will be happy to explain the work of the Union to any who may be interested.

Operation Lamp-Light is a Diocesan Wide Teaching Endeavor, sponsored by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Its purpose is to "provide an easily accessible refresher course of religious instruction that can be readily used in the business, social, church and family life of an individual; . . . and to stimulate the spiritual life of a layman so that he can talk intelligently and helpfully with others about his church."

Both men and women are invited to attend these classes, which are based on the Church's Teaching Series. The class in our area will be held at St. Peter's Church, 3rd and Pine Streets, on eight Wednesday Evenings, from 8 to 10 P. M., beginning October 19th. There is no charge for registration for this course, but each person will be asked to secure five books on the Church Teaching Series. It is hoped that there may be members of our congregation who will be interested in this course and will attend and register at the first session in St. Peter's on October 19th.

Library Note—The Library has acquired a Book-Cart and from now on all new books will be placed in it. A good many have been secured since last spring, and on succeeding Sundays they will be listed with comments. From time to time pamphlets, booklets, and books for sale will be found on a table at the library end of the meeting room. There is for sale an extra copy of "Revelations of Divine Love, Mother Julian of Norwich"—price $2.35.

Quiet Day For Women, St. Margeret's House, Wednesday, October 26. Starting with Mass at 8.30 A. M. and closing at 3.15 P.M. Conductor: Rev. Edward L. Lee. Please register early.

MEN OF ST. MARK'S—Save this date. On Thursday Evening, October 27, we will have our Fall Dinner with the Rt. Rev. Andrew Y. Y. Tsu, Retired Bishop of the Anglican Church in China, as our guest of honor and speaker.

The First Inquirers' Class will meet on Wednesday Evenings at 7.30 in the parish house. A general invitation is extended to all persons interested in learning more about the Faith of the Church. The Class is especially important to those who are looking forward to Confirmation. It will also be a fine refresher course for those who are already communicants.

Women of St. Mark's—Thursday, October 6, in the Parish House. 6.15 P. M. - Dinner ($1.00.) 7.00 P. M.—Business Meeting. Father Paige will be the Speaker. Every woman in our parish is invited to attend.

House of Rest for the Aged—Annual Donation Day—The women of the parish are especially invited to an Open House and Tea on Wednesday, October 12th, from 2 to 5 P. M. This Diocesan Institution is located at 5919 Wayne Avenue, Germantown, and should have the interest and support of all the people of the Diocese.

American Church Union—St. Mark's Station Day in the American Union Cycle of Prayer will be Saturday of this week. The Church "Cycle of Prayer" is a continuous work of prayer and intercession for the conversion of America and of the world to Christ, and for the spread of the Catholic Faith. Many parishes, schools, Religious Houses and other groups within the Church volunteer to keep the Cycle of Prayer for one day in each year.

On Saturday we shall have special Mass intentions and intercessions. A leaflet of Prayers and Intentions will be found at the entrance to the Church, along with envelopes for those who wish to make a Special Station Day Offering. This is a good time to ask the congregation to support our pledge of $60 for 1960. It is hoped that at least 60 members of the parish will contribute a dollar each within the next few weeks for the support of the American Church Union.

✠

Operation Lamplight, a Diocesan Wide Teaching Endeavor, consisting of 8 weekly sessions, will begin on Wednesday Evening, October 19th, at St. Peter's Church, 3rd and Pine Streets. We hope that interested persons will attend and register at the first session.

Boys Are Needed for the parish choir. Applicants should be between 8 and 11 years of age. Carfare and a small salary are paid each boy, since they rehearse Tuesday and Thursday afternoons as well as Friday night. If you know of any boy who might be interested please contact the choirmaster.

Religious Reading. Prayer and the Sacraments, and Religious Reading—the handmaid of both. A gentle reminder to keep the flow of Religious Reading steady this coming year. "To have always in hand a theological book of a definite, instructive character. An increased knowledge of religious truth is the basis of spiritual progress. Knowledge is power; and religious knowledge is religious power, because it acts upon the life."

New Books—(1) The Four Loves, by C. S. Lewis. Affection, Friendship, Eros and Charity—all clearly defined and differentiated, resulting in a "happy, sensible, profound book." "The author's power of expressing easily thoughts not very easy in themselves has never been more fully exhibited."

(2) The History of the Cross, by Norman Laliberté and Canon Edward W. West. Canon West's lucid and learned text combined with Mr. Laliberté's 50 six-color illustrations in modern art, in a large and beautiful format, result in interesting reading for all.

(3) A Testament of Turning, by Donet M. Roelofs. A real life story of conversion by a modern young woman, from atheism to the Episcopal Church, written in letter form as she originally wrote it to her friends. An E. B. C. selection.

ABOUT OUR SUNDAY SCHOOL

Our Sunday School is now well under way, and we have enrolled this fall exactly 70 pupils, which is encouraging. There are eight teachers helping us, and two assistants. In order to have everything run as well as possible, it is necessary that there be a few "rules and regulations" which we must all help to enforce. Most of these pertain to parents and adults.

First of all, because we use every inch of space, and because our partitions are not sound-proof, we must ask that children and others who are not in church or in a class, please not to lounge and talk in the parish hall during class times (from 11 A. M. to the coffee hour.)

Children are welcomed at the coffee hour, but this requires the cooperation of their parents. Smaller children receive fruit juice and cookies during their class time. Nothing kills attendance among adults at a social gathering as surely as children underfoot. I know you will see the point and cooperate. Nursery infants remain with Mrs. Magioia, our nurse, until their parents are ready to leave for home.

The older children this year are all being taught the catechism on Morals and Ethics, written and used by the Holy Cross Fathers in their children's missions. The younger ones have one of the courses put out by the Morehouse-Barlow company especially designed for smaller children. Fr. Becker teaches the Junior High group one Sunday each month, and this year this class will study the organization and work of the Episcopal Church. There is a Sunday class for adults each month at 10.30 A. M. on the third Sunday.

Again, be reminded that nothing takes the place of a family coming to church as a unit. Future devotion of our young people is not so much a matter of learning facts as it is of forming habits and attitudes. There will always be time enough to get the facts, but the opportunity to form the right attitudes can never be regained.

M. R. B.

NOTES

Flowers on the High Altar Last Sunday were given by Miss Charlotte Rogenmuser in loving memory of her sister, Thelma R. Righter.

St. Mark's Churchman's Kalendars for 1961 are now on sale by the Women of St. Mark's. These calendars, which include many Saints' Days throughout the year, may be purchased at the Church Office or at the Coffee Hour on Sunday. Price 60 cents.

In Your Planning for Thanksgiving, please remember the hours for the Masses on that day. 7.45 A. M.—Mass. 9.30 A. M.—Solemn Mass with music by combined choirs.

Corporate Communion of the confirmed men and boys of the parish the First Sunday in Advent at 8.00 A. M. A communion breakfast will follow this Service and you will shortly have an opportunity to indicate your presence on a return card.

Christ Church Hospital, 49th and Monument Avenue, extends an invitation to the members of the congregation to attend the Founders' Day Open House on Thursday, November 17, from 2.30 to 5.00 P. M. This is also Donation Day, when offerings may be made to this fine work. There will be a Residents' Hobby Sale during the afternoon and tea will be served.

The Right Reverend J. Gillespie Armstrong, D. D., S. T. D., Suffragan Bishop of Pennsylvania for the past 11 years, was elected Bishop Coadjutor of Pennsylvania at the election held in Holy Trinity Church last Monday. As a result of the election, Bishop Armstrong will succeed Bishop Hart upon his retirement. The clergy and people of St. Mark's Church extend their affectionate greetings and congratulations to him, offering him the assurance of our support and cooperation in the days to come. We know that Bishop Armstrong will feel at home in this parish, as he will in every parish and mission of the diocese. As we have been praying for the guidance of the Holy Spirit in this election, we now should have our new bishop constantly in our prayers as he begins his new office, and as he prepares for the tremendous task of leadership which will be his. Our diocese can find the increasing spiritual unity in Bishop Armstrong which has been manifested under the Apostolic care of Bishop Hart in recent years. May God bless our diocese, its bishops, priests and people.

An Organ Recital will be presented at St. Mark's on Monday, November 28, at 8 P. M. by Mr. Day. You and your friends are invited.

✠

ON THANKSGIVING DAY we shall have the Solemn Mass at 9.30 A. M. Both the Choir of Men and Boys and the Canterbury Choir will sing R. Vaughan Williams' Mass for Two Choirs and an Anthem, "Praise to the Lord", by Fryxell. Trumpets will be used with the organ and choir. No sermon. Invite your friends to come with you and your family to worship together on this day of National Thanksgiving.

SPECIAL THANKSGIVING DAY ENVELOPES, found in the pews, offer members of the congregation an opportunity to support All Saints' Hospital, a Diocesan Institution under the direction of the Episcopal Community Services. All Saints' is truly a Diocesan Institution and merits our interest and support. The hospital offers care especially for those with chronic diseases and has an excellent program of therapy towards recovery. It also continues the department for the care of tubercular, as well as for aged persons.

A CORPORATE COMMUNION OF CONFIRMED MEN AND BOYS is held the First Sunday in Advent throughout the Episcopal Church. We shall join in this Church wide observance at 8 o'clock next Sunday. Following the Mass, breakfast will be served in the parish house, (50c). Kindly return your acceptance card promptly. We hope that every confirmed man and boy of our congregation will make his communion at this time and remain for the breakfast meeting.

ON WEDNESDAY, the Feast of St. Clement of Rome, we shall remember at Mass the Rector, Priests and people of St. Clement's Church, our sister parish in Center City, with whom we have a warm association throughout the years.

PARISH REQUIEM MASSES are held at least once each month during the year and it is appropriate to have the names of our loved ones, whose anniversaries fall in the month, remembered at this time.

WE OF THE PARISH ARE GRATEFUL to Mr. Day and each member of the Canterbury Choir for the unusually fine Service of Evensong and the singing of the Faure Requiem recently. A very large congregation gathered for this Service and there was wide expression of the appreciation of those who assisted.

FOR YOUR CALENDAR—An Organ Recital will be presented at St. Mark's on Monday, November 28th, at 8 P. M., by Mr. Day. You and your friends are invited.

EPISCOPAL LAYMEN'S WEEK will begin tomorrow evening, with a special Laymen's Meeting in Holy Trinity Church at 8 P. M., with the Rev. Samuel Shoemaker, Rector of Calvary Church, Pittsburgh, as the Speaker. A general invitation is extended.

FOR YOUR DAILY BIBLE READING AND MEDITATION why not use the Forward Day-by-Day Advent issue now on the tract rack. (15c.)

ESCRU

A Conference on Racial Understanding was recently held at Seabury House, Greenwich, Conn. Bishop Hart invited over 30 priests of our diocese to join with him for two days of prayer and deliberation. At the close of the conference a statement of affirmations was recommended to the diocese. The statement declared—"We affirm that the essential mission of the Church is to witness to Jesus Christ, to bring men to one another and to God through Him. The Church, living by this mission, is one in Christ. It is called to embody the triumph of divine redemption over all the divisions of mankind. It recognizes no barriers except those it exists to remove. This mission is to be worked out by us in the 20th century with the special problems, challenges and opportunities that our time, place and social setting provide. It is to be worked out by us in the Protestant Episcopal Church with obedience and loyalty to the heritage, structure and leadership of that branch of the Catholic Church. The redemptive love of God, though it is universal, reaches us through the concrete particularities of life. And through us, in our historic, human, social context, it reaches others. We always sin in community; we are reborn in community."

You may ask, "What can I do towards racial understanding in the life of the Church?" You can participate by joining the Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity. "The purpose of this society shall be to encourage men to respond positively to God's call for unity in the Church. The unity of God with man, and man with man, is made in Baptism and Holy Communion. We commit ourselves to establish total participation in the Church for all persons without regard to race, class or national origin; to give mutual support to all acts in this ministry of reconciliation; and to expresss concern at parish levels and in more creative witness throughout the community at large."

Your rector was a member of the Bishop's Conference, and is also a member of ESCRU. YOU may find this Church society a vital step towards racial unity and understanding. I will be glad to discuss the Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity with any who are interested, and to explain the responsibilities of membership.

NOTES

The Rev. E. Frank Salmon, D. D. is our guest and preacher at the Solemn Mass this morning. It is always a joy to welcome Dr. Salmon to the parish and to have the privilege of hearing him preach.

The Advent Ember Days, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are designated as days of fasting and abstinence. Our prayers are especially asked for the Ministry of the Church, for those who are to be ordained to Holy Orders at this time, and for those who study in our seminaries.

The Canterbury Choir will present an Advent Program next Sunday, December 18th, at 5.30 P. M., following Evensong. Bach's Cantata, "Come, Now, Saviour of the Gentiles" and Buxtehude's "Rejoice, Beloved Christians" with harpsichord and orchestra, will be sung. Soloists will be Master Furey, Ralph Purvis our cantor, and Joseph Verna, Bass. Will you invite your friends to share this musical offering with you?

The Christmas Fund, which provides festivities for the Sunday School and Choir, and remembrances for the shutins, needs your support. Contributions are to be sent to the Church Office marked for that purpose.

St. Margaret's House — Quiet Evening in Preparation for Christmas, Saturday, December 17th, from 4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: Rev. Robert L. Ducker.

Our Thanksgiving Offering, in the amount of $318.27, has been sent to the Episcopal Community Services for the support of All Saints' Hospital, a diocesan institution.

The Birthday Offering, received during the year from both the children and an increasing number of adults, amounted to $191 C0 and goes to the Sisters of St. Margaret for their work in St. Vincent's School for handicapped children in Haiti.

WE should all be deeply grateful for the increasing interest shown, and the response made, to the work of the Church outside the parish, apart from our general missionary giving of $7,500.00 and the Capital Funds contribution of $17,500.00 over a three-year period. Recently our interests have reached from the United Thank Offering to our own diocesan Episcopal Community Services, to schools and institutions in the midwest, the work of our Sisters in Haiti, and the training of men for the priesthood at Kelham, England. The support of diocesan and other Church institutions by the Women of St. Mark's should be included in this outreaching of our parish. A truly Catholic parish is a missionary parish, and I am justifiably proud of the enlargement of our vision as evidenced in these offerings.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT. October, 1959-October, 1960 — The Librarian is happy that 96 readers took out books this past year, a few less than last year. About half a dozen came from other parishes—an interesting fact. There were 325 books borrowed, 206 of which were different books. This does not include the members of families and friends who also read the books, of whom we have no count. This past year 90 books were bought, a few of which are artistically very beautiful and unusual, and an addition to the Library. It is good to report that St. Augustine's Prayer Book is now in the sale of its fourth dozen. We would call attention to the two new magazines—"The Episcopalian" and "The Anglican World". Take a look at them each month.

Our religious reading is important, and we would do well to remember the words of Thomas à Kempis: "If thou wouldst profit by thy reading, read humbly, simply, honestly, and not desiring to win a character for learning."

NOTES

THE FEAST OF THE EPIPHANY, one of the great festivals of the Church, is celebrated on Friday, with Solemn Mass at 7.00 A. M. and additional Masses at 9.30 and 12.10. The Choir, Servers and members of the congregation are always invited to a buffet breaktast in the parish house following these early Masses.

THE CLERGY AND STAFF wish to thank all the members of the congregation and their friends for the many cards and remembrances sent to them at Christmas. A Happy New Year to All!

WE ACKNOWLEDGE WITH THANKS the contributions made to the Christmas Fund. From these offerings we were able to bring greetings from the parish to the shut-ins and make possible festivities for the Sunday School and Choir Boys.

ANNUAL CHOIR AWARDS will be made at the Solemn Mass today, as follows:

Gregory Washington—The Christie Memorial Cross.
John Stewart—The Elizabeth N. Cooke Memorial Cross.
Russell Nelson—The Caroline B. Cooke Memorial Cross.

Monthly silver crosses are worn during January by Eric Scace and Robert Furey.

MUSIC FOR THE OLD AND NEW YEARS was provided by J. S. Bach in his collection of organ chorale preludes, "The Liturgical Year." Both are heard at the Solemn Mass today since they were written for the calendar year rather than for Advent Sunday. The organ music of Evensong was composed for the Feast of the Circumcision.

THE WOMEN OF ST. MARK'S will meet for dinner on Thursday, January 5, at 6.15 P. M., after which Mrs. Henry Gideon, of the Episcopal Community Services, will speak on "Work Among the Blind." All women of the parish are invited.

CHRISTMAS ALTAR FLOWERS were given by Miss Nancy McKean and by Salvatore and Alfia Fichera. Also by the Haas family in memory of Albert C. Haas and Clara R. Haas: Miss Charlotte Rogenmuser in memory of Mrs. Thelma Righter: Mrs. Horace Ashley in memory of Mary and Arthur Ashley: Miss Mary Evans in memory of Gertrude Brooks: Mrs. Hall Vetterlein in memory of Mary B. and Charles B. NOTES

Theological Education Sunday is observed throughout the Church today. Special envelopes are available for persons desiring to support the education of our future priests. Offerings made through this parish are this year divided between The General Theological Seminary and Nashotah House. The congregation is directed to the interesting brochures found at the entrance to the Church. May our prayers and intercessions at this time be for the seminaries of the Church and that young men will be called from this and other parishes to serve in the Sacred Ministry of the Church.

The Sacrament of Holy Confirmation will be administered to a class of adults and children on Sunday afternoon, February 5, at 5.30 P. M. This will be Bishop Armstrong's first visit to the parish since his election as Coadjutor Bishop and the members of the congregation will want to plan to greet him at this time as well as welcome those who are being confirmed and beginning the fuller life of the Church.

The Laymen's Union will meet on Tuesday of this week at St. Clement's Church at 8.00 P. M. The Rev. Robert L. Ducker will continue his addresses on the lives of the saints who have lived since the Reformation. "Thomas Bray" is the topic for this week. An invitation is always extended to all men of the Church and it is hoped that a number from St. Mark's will attend this meeting in our neighboring parish.

1961 Diocesan School of Religion, sponsored by the Department of Christian Education, is being conducted in 8 parishes of the Diocese on the evenings of January 26, 27, 30 and 31. Full information about this school, the speakers and registration will be found posted on the porch bulletin board.

At a Meeting of St. Mark's Vestry on January 10th, Mr. William J. Stevens, Jr., tendered his resignation as a Vestryman and Secretary of the Vestry, due to his now living a great distance from the parish. Mr. Alan S. Evans, Sr., was elected to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Stevens. Mr. John E. McLaughlin was elected as Secretary of the Vestry.

Traditional Candlemas Ceremonies will be observed Thursday, the Purification of St. Mary the Virgin, at 7.00 A. M., preceding the Solemn Mass. This beautiful service includes the blessing of candles, their distribution to members of the congregation, and procession. Members are urged to invite their friends to participate in these ceremonies. All are invited to a buffet breakfast in the parish hall immediately following.

The Women of St. Mark's will meet for dinner on Thursday, February 2, at 6.15 P. M., in the parish house. Following dinner the Rev. James L. Jones, Th. D., will speak on "The History of the English Bible" with slides and display material. ALL women of the parish are invited.

The Sacrament of Holy Confirmation will be administered next Sunday at 5.30 P. M. by the Rt. Rev. J. Gillespie Armstrong, D. D., Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Pennsylvania. The members of the congregation will want to be present to welcome the newly confirmed and to greet Bishop Armstrong.

Library Note—Members of the congregation are urged to take advantage of our library and borrow books for home reading. However, books must be charged out at the desk and should be returned on time. We are trying to locate the following books, which were taken from the library without proper record.

"Introduction to the Devout Life" by St. Francis deSales.
"Pi in the High" by E. Mascall.

A misplaced book is a lost book—even in parish libraries.

"Let the sorrowful sighing of prisoners come before thee, and according to the greatness of thy power, preserve thou those who are appointed to die."

In the Spirit of Our Prayer Book Intercession and the Diocesan Convention of 1959, our parish church will be open from 9 to 9.30 P. M. tomorrow evening during the time of the execution of Arthur Grover Shuck by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Christians are re-thinking more and more the whole moral aspect of Capital Punishment, and on such an occasion as this execution it is well for us to re-examine our consciences that we may learn the will of God in regard to the taking of human life by the State.

WE WELCOME into the full life of the Church, and especially into our own parish family, the following members, who received the Sacrament of Holy Confirmation yesterday afternoon.

Rosemary Badagliacco	Walter Streeper Kenworthy
Robinson Augusta Bland	Russell James Nelson
Joseph Gregory Caruso	Kenneth Thomas Nelson
Paul Melton Dodd, M. D.	Richard B. Pittmon
Jean Todd Freeman	John Salvatore Russo
Linda Ellen Gearhart	William Robert Scott
Constance Anne Gilmore	William Edward Smith

Margery Ann Ring was received from the Roman Communion.

SPECIAL NOON DAY MASS at 12.10 each weekday except Saturday. These Services are held in the Church and the congregation is requested to sit in the forward part of the Nave. During Lent it is our custom to use the traditional Collects, Epistles or Lessons, and Gospels, only commemorating whatever minor Saints' Days fall within the season.

LENTEN EMBER DAYS—Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week are days of fasting and abstinence. The Church asks us to pray especially for the Ministry on these days.

LENTEN MITE BOXES, used by the children and young people during Lent, are available at the door of the Church for any person of the congregation who wishes to share in self-denial for missionary work of the Church.

OUR CANTERBURY CHOIR will present a special program at Evensong next Sunday, February 26, at 5.30 P. M. The Bach Cantata, "God's Time is Best," and the Magnificat in C by Pachelbel will be sung with soloists, harpsichord and orchestra. You and your frienda are invited.

IN THE TRACT CASE will be found copies of the Lenten Forward Day by Day, with daily Bible readings and brief meditations; many devotional and instructional tracts; and, while they last, copies of The Living Church, the American Church News and Holy Cross Magazine; and other pamphlets from time to time.

LENTEN QUIET DAY, at St. Margaret's House, 5419 Germantown Avenue, Tuesday, March 7, starting with Mass at 8.30 A. M. and closing at 3.15 P.M. Conductor: The Rev. G. W. Davison. Please register early.

LIBRARY NOTE—We hope there will be a large increase in users of our books during Lent. You will certainly find something valuable on the Lenten Book Shelf in the Meeting Room. Will you help us by observing the following procedure and regulations:—

1.—ALL books must be charged out at the desk. Please fill out cards as sample indicates. The book card remains in the book. The other card is filed in the box as indicated.

2.—Lenten books may be kept until Easter. Knowing human nature, we suggest you do not loan parish library books to friends but ask them to take out books under their own name.

3.—Because of some recent experiences we must remind the members of the congregation that all borrowers are responsible for any damage to, or loss of, books.

Rev. Harold M. Lufkin, Librarian.

The Sacrament of Holy Confirmation will be administered this afternoon at 5.30 P. M. by the Right Rev. J. Gillespie Armstrong, Bishop Coadjutor of Pennsylvania. The members of the congregation will want to be present to welcome the newly confirmed and to greet Bishop Armstrong on his first visit to St. Mark's since his election. The newly confirmed will make their first communion at 8.00 A. M. next Sunday morning.

The Flowers on the Altar Today are in loving memory of Ruth Nesbitt, and have been given by her mother and brother.

The Offering for Theological Education amounted to $378.20, which is a most encouraging increase from our parish toward the training of priests. This 1961 offering will be divided between the General Theological Seminary in New York and Nashotah House, Wisconsin.

Lenten Reading—The Lenten Reading List will be in the leaflet next Sunday. It is hoped that every one will choose a book for their Lenten reading.

INCORPORATION IN CHRIST

A Christian is someone to whom something has happened. This is contrary to the contemporary idea that being a Christian is the result of something we do, or believe. Becoming a Christian is an action which God originates and does; our incorporation into the human, ascended and glorified Body of Jesus Christ, and our re-birth in and into this Body. Thus, being a Christian is not an intellectual process of assent to Christ's teachings, or an agreement to follow a code of ethics or of human behaviour. Both the New Testament and the Book of Common Prayer make it clear enough that by Holy Baptism we are incorporated into Christ's Body and are regenerate, neither of which things can happen to us "by nature".

And because man is a social being he is incorporated not merely into a private and individual relationship, but into the redeemed community, the Body of Christ which is the Church. By our incorporation into Christ's Body, we are all members one of another. It is impossible for us to be one with Christ's Body and not be one with each other. This is the true basis of the whole idea of the brotherhood of man, and the only basis for any real fruit to grow from such brotherhood. The Church family is not just a congregation of like-minded individuals, but the fellowship of those who are one by reason of their common incorporation and new-birth in and with Christ Jesus.

The sharing of the life of Jesus also means the common sharing of His death. The Christian life is the life of the crucified Christ; we are baptized into His death. But, we shall also rise to newness of life in Him.

Being a Christian is not at all the same as being a "nice person", or "good" or "righteous"; it is possible to be all of these without being a Christian. A Christian is someone to whom something has happened: he has become incorporated into the Body of Christ. M. R. B.

NOTES

HOURS FOR CONFESSION on Shrove Tuesday—12 to 1 and 4.30 to 5.30 P. M. Making a good confession is the right way to begin the Holy Season of Lent.

LENTEN SERVICES, in addition to the regular schedule, include weekday Mass at 12.10 daily except Saturday. Beginning on Ash Wednesday Evening at 7.30 there will be Stations of the Cross, followed by an Address, each Wednesday until Holy Week.

THE ASHES made from the burning of palm branches from last Palm Sunday are traditionally used to mark the foreheads of Christians on the first day of Lent. In token of penitence, of a humble and contrite heart, the priest says, "Remember, O man, that thou art dust, and unto dust shalt thou return," as he imposes the ashes. In the Gospel for Ash Wednesday the following words of Our Lord give us the true spirit of our Lenten Fast—"When thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face; that thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret." It would seem fitting to suggest that once we are anointed with ashes we should not wear them outside the Church so as to appear unto men to fast. Our Lord further tells us that "thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly."

FORWARD DAY BY DAY, a booklet of daily Bible readings and brief meditations, will be found most helpful during Lent. Copies are available on the tract case.

LENTEN MITE BOXES, used by the children and young people during Lent, are available for any person of the congregation who wishes to share in self-denial for missionary work of the Church.

NEW DATE FOR CONFIRMATION—Bishop Armstrong will come to St. Mark's next Saturday afternoon, February 18th, at 4.00 P. M. to administer the Sacrament of Holy Confirmation. The Service will be brief, and it is hoped as many members of the congregation as possible will come on this postponed date. The First Communion of the newly confirmed will take place the following morning at 8.00 A. M.

OUR CANTERBURY CHOIR will present a special program at Evensong on Sunday, February 26, at 5.30 P. M. The Bach Cantata, "God's Time is Best," and the Magnificat in C by Pachelbel will be sung with soloists, harpsichord and orchestra. You and your friends are invited.

LENTEN READING—The Lenten Reading List is in the leaflet today. Books are on the book table and may be kept for the whole Lenten period.

There are for sale pamphlets and books at the desk.

"O YE ICE AND SNOW, BLESS YE THE LORD: PRAISE HIM AND MAGNIFY HIM FOREVER".

Another difficult Sunday and week end have come and gone; yet there were 330 people at services last Sunday. We had some visitors, but most of the credit goes to the faithful members of our congregation. Even the weekday Masses have been well attended during these past eight weeks. Storm conditions made it impossible for Bishop Armstrong to get away from his home last Sunday, and he expressed deep regret that the Confirmation Service had to be postponed. We are grateful for every effort of the members of our staff, our choir members and acolytes who made it possible for us to "Praise Him and Magnify Him" as usual in spite of Ye Ice and Snow.

MEMBERSHIP IN THE PARISH FAMILY

When we received Holy Baptism, we became Christians and members of the Holy Catholic Church. In brief, we joined the Christian Family. Although the Church is one family in Christ (divided as it may be here on earth) each of us lives our Christian life related to one another in a parish. When we are baptized we are entered as members of a particular parish, and when we are admitted to Holy Communion, after Confirmation, we assume full responsibilities of parish membership.

If we move to a new place, we naturally associate ourselves with the nearest Episcopal Church, share in its worship and sacramental life, and eventually become a full and responsible member of our "new" parish family by bringing a Letter of Transfer from the former parish.

In a city where there are many parishes, we have the privilege of attending the one where we are most spiritually at home, although we would be well to choose a parish which is accessible for regular attendance and full participation. Even in a center city parish there must be a stable and responsible membership. A "family" such as ours at St. Mark's should be as closely knit in prayer, sacrament and service as any village parish. We believe this is possible if certain standards are held up to those who would join us by transfer of letter. First, we welcome all those who come to us to all services and parish activities even though they have not yet become members by transfer. After some months of regular participation, one will know if he wishes to accept all the responsibilities as well as the privileges of St. Mark's.

We expect that all members of St. Mark's will "worship God every Sunday in His Church." Mass on Sundays and all major Holy Days is normal for members of this family. Also, we expect all members not only to "give for the spread of His Kingdom", but to pledge—to make a commitment for Christ in a tangible way. Lastly, we expect all who join this parish family to accept the full sacramental life. According to Anglican principles we should never use the sacraments as tests, nor should we coerce churchmen to receive them. Yet our parish has always held the Sacrament of Penance (Confession) as normally part of the Catholic Life, and we would expect members to hold this and other sacraments in high regard.

We hope that our Parish will grow both in strength and numbers. Naturally we want new members. I would be happy to discuss the matter of transfer to St. Mark's with any of the congregation who have found their home here, and wish to share in the full responsibilities of our "family" life.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

NOTES

The Response, "Praise be to thee, O Christ", which follows the singing of the Holy Gospel, will be sung instead of said beginning at Solemn Mass today. The brief melody is the same that we use in the singing of "Glory be to thee, O Lord", after the announcement of the Gospel. This change has been recommended by the Joint Commission on Church Music.

Simnel Bread will be blessed and served at the Coffee Hour following Solemn Mass today. We hope that members of the congregation will come immediately to the parish house following the Service. We are grateful to several of the women of St. Mark's who have made the bread for us this year. Simnel (a bread made of fine flour) has been associated for many years in the English Church with the Fourth Sunday in Lent. Young people who were away from their families, at work or school, came home this one day to be "mothered" and to make their communions with their families in their own parish church. Those who could brought Simnel Bread as an outward sign of their devotion. Simnel Bread continues to be a symbol of our love for the Church on "Mothering Sunday". This Sunday is also called "Refreshment Sunday" because of the feeding of the five thousand in the Gospel for the day. Rose is the traditional color for the vestments used at the Mass for this Sunday, as we pause halfway through the Season of Lent.

We Are Grateful to a member of our parish for the gift of a reed organ, replacing a worn instrument used by the Canterbury Choir when it sings in the back part of the Nave during some of the Holy Week Services.

Corporate Communion for the Women of the Diocese on Friday, March 24th, at 8.00 A. M., in the Chapel of the Philadelphia Divinity School, 42nd and Spruce Sts. Breakfast tickets ($1.00), can be secured at the Women's Office, 202 W. Rittenhouse Square, before March 20th.

The Laymen's Union will have its Annual Passiontide Quiet Evening at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Rosemont, on Saturday, March 18th, starting with Evening Prayer at 5.00 P. M., and closing at 9.00 P. M. Conductor: Rev. Joseph Parsell, O. H. C.

St. Mark's Fair, Wednesday, May 3rd. Keep this date in mind! Donations are needed—books, antiques, housewares, bric a brac, costume jewelry handwork, etc.

Quiet Evening at St. Margaret's House, Saturday, March 25th, from 4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Robert W. Hill. Please register early.

A Group of Young People from St. Paul's Church, Washington, D. C., visited St. Mark's Church during a pilgrimage to Philadelphia recently. Last Sunday a large number of young people from the Broomall Presbyterian Church, with their pastor, visited St. Mark's for Evensong and were given an instructive tour before the Service.

NOTES

On Passion Sunday we enter into the most solemn days of the Church Year. Crosses are veiled in purple and the music of the Services, without organ, brings a subdued note of devotion to our worship. The congregation will find it helpful to sing the Mode IV Creed from the Hymnal, No 720. The Gloria Patri is omitted through Passiontide both in the Mass and Daily Offices. The Liturgy of the day prepares us for the spiritual experiences we shall commemorate in Holy Week, recalling the Passion of our Blessed Lord.

The Liturgy of Palm Sunday will be celebrated in its fulness at 11 o'clock next Sunday. There will be a Procession marking the triumphal entry of our Lord into Jerusalem and the liturgical singing of St. Matthew's Passion. Because of the great teaching of the Liturgy itself, the sermon is omitted. Palms will be distributed at all Services.

The Watch on Maundy Thursday will begin at the end of the Mass and continue until Midnight. We enlist participation from all members of the parish in this Watch. It is suggested that the Watch during the later hours be kept by the men of the parish. Please sign your name as soon as possible on the schedule in the porch for the period you will take.

Flowers for Maundy Thursday—Offerings of white flowers for use at the Altar of Repose in the Lady Chapel on Maundy Thursday should be sent to the Church before noon March 29th. Contributions should be sent to the parish office by March 27th. Kindly indicate the names of those in whose memory the flowers are given.

St. Mark's Fair, Wednesday, May 3rd. Books are needed. Please tie securely, label for the Fair and bring to the parish office. If it is necessary to have them collected call CH 7 7744. Have you other donations to give—antiques, housewares, bric a brac, costume jewelry, handwork, etc.?

Quiet Evening For Women at St. Margaret's House, Saturday, March 25th, from 4.30 to 9.00 P. M. Conductor: The Rev. Robert W. Hill. Please register early.

Doris Hayes, contralto, will give a recital at Town Hall on April 6th for the benefit of the Organ Fund of the Church of the Advocate. Tickets may be secured at the Advocate Parish Office or from its members.

Corporate Communion for the Women of the Diocese on Friday, March 24th, at 8.00 A. M., in the Chapel of the Philadelphia Divinity School, 42nd and Spruce Sts. Breakfast tickets ($1.00), can be secured at the Women's Office, 202 W. Rittenhouse Square, before March 20th.

"COULD YE NOT WATCH WITH ME ONE HOUR?" On the night before His Crucifixion, Jesus asked His disciples to stay with Him in the quiet of the Garden of Gethsemane. Our "Watch" from the Mass of the Lord's Supper until midnight the night before Good Friday is a time of meditation as we kneel for a period before the Eucharistic Presence. Each one of us should plan our day so that we can spend some time with Him. We hope each one will come into the chapel to "do" something—not merely as a spectator to "see". At this time it is customary to use the double genuflexion as one enters and leaves the Altar of Repose. (This reverence is to kneel on both knees and bow.) Books of devotion will be found to assist in meditation.

THE PREACHING OF THE PASSION is a three-hour service with eight addresses by the Rt. Rev. Edmund R. Morgan, D. D., retired Bishop of Truro, England. The most helpful use of this service is to think of it as a three-hour retreat or quiet day. Some will have to spend shorter periods, and are asked to enter and leave only during the singing of the hymns. We hope many of our congregation and friends of the parish will be with us on Good Friday, but frankly we discourage people coming in just for a casual visit. We hope everyone understands our point—not to drive people away but to make the Three Hour Service more and more what it should be—a time of conducted meditation for those who want to be with our Lord at the foot of His Cross.

Hymns at 9.00 A. M. Mass today—Nos. 90 and 196 (sung kneeling)

The Singing of Two Hymns at the 9 o'clock Mass for the first time last Sunday was an innovation. We are planning to do this during Eastertide as an experiment. At the end of this period we can better evaluate the helpfulness of the introduction of music at this time. The first hymn is sung as we stand to share in the Offertory. The second hymn will be a Communion Hymn, sung kneeling during our Post-Communion devotions.

Flowers for Maundy Thursday and Easter were given in loving memory of: Mary and Arthur Ashley, Edna Beck, Carl G. Cunningham, Col. Robert B. Ennis, David S. Goodyear, Victor R. Fritz, Albert C. Haas, Clara R. Haas, Mary B. and Charles B. Hall, Jean P-G. Hancock, May Klosterman, Mary S., Robert N. and Mary Tash Lloyd, Mary R. Lore, Henrietta Morton, Com. Homer H. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Reifsneider, Thelma Righter, John H. Stokes, Harpur M. Tobin, Agnes and Charles A. Waghorn and Frances P. Williams. Also by Mrs. Dorothy Bazett, Mrs. Alfia Fichera and family, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hammer, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas DePasquale, and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Starkey.

St. Mark's Fair, Wednesday, May 3rd, from 7.00 A. M. to 6.00 P. M. Your help is needed. Please contact Mrs. E. R. McLean, Chairman, CH 7-7744, or Mrs. E. M. Bland, PE 5-6890. Donations of books, antiques, housewares, bric a brac, costume jewelry, handwork, etc., are needed. Please leave at Parish House marked "Fair" and with your name.

St. Mark's Church will be host to the Nashotah Seminary Alumni on Tuesday of this week. There will be a Mass at 12 noon, followed by a luncheon and meeting. Father Becker is a graduate of Nashotah House.

The Final Program of Special Music of the season is to be presented at Evensong on Sunday, May 7. Mozart's "Regina Coeli" and Sowerby's "A Liturgy of Hope" will be featured, with Vivian Stanchick Wagner as soloist. Help us to publicize this event, and put it now on your own calendar.

The House of Rest for the Aged will receive the proceeds from two card parties to be held on Wednesday afternoon April 19th, beginning at 1.30 o'clock. The host parishes will be St. George's, Ardmore, and St. Peter's, Glenside. Our support is solicited for this splendid Rest Home, officially under the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

Holy Week and Easter were a rewarding experience for all worshippers at our numerous services, and especially for those who prepared for and participated in them. We are especially grateful to Sister Darthea and her Altar Society workers for the care of the Altars, and especially the very beautiful Altar of Repose. Mr. Day and the members of the Choir of Men and Boys and the Canterbury Choir led us with music of unusual beauty for the numerous liturgical services. We also thank St. Vincent's Guild of Acolytes, the Ushers and members of our staff for their faithful and devoted services during this wonderful week. Large and responsive congregations shared these services with us, with over 850 in attendance at the Services on Easter Day. The clergy and staff appreciate the numerous greetings which they received. E. P. P.

Participants in this special program may be met in the Parish House after the service. Conversation and visiting is welcome and appropriate there, but not in the church itself, please.

Mozart composed three settings of the Regina Coeli, that which is heard today was probably written in May, 1779, and is thought to have been intended for use with the second performance of the composer's "Coronation" Mass. The text is that used for the Angelus in the Easter season; Mozart's music is appropriately joyous and exciting.

Our Canterbury Choir begins rehearsals on June 6 for our vital summer duty of providing choral music for the 11 00 A. M. Sunday masses, and for our fall concerts. Friends and members of St. Mark's are invited to join the group. Neither voice test nor dues are required. If you are interested, please speak to the Choirmaster.

We are grateful for the support given these special programs during the season. Attendance has been gratifying. However, the extra expense involved has not been met, so your contribution today will be important. An opportunity for you to help us will be provided during the service.

NOTES

The Archbishop of Capetown, S. Africa, will preach at 11 o'clock next Sunday, Whitsunday. The Most Rev. Joost deBlank, D. D. will honor our congregation by being a guest of the parish on this great Festival and will preside at the Solemn Mass. His great witness for the Church's faith in S. Africa is known throughout the world.

Archbishop deBlank will give the Bohlen Lectures in Holy Trinity Church on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Evenings, May 21, 22 and 23, at 8 o'clock. His subject is the "The Gospel of Reconciliation." The public is invited.

Next Sunday, The Feast of Pentecost, commonly called Whitsunday, is the Church's Festival in honor of God the Holy Spirit. We are reminded that it is appropriate to make our confession before this great Festival and to receive Holy Communion on the day or during the Octave.

Our Lenten Mite Box Offering this year totalled $63.96. We are glad to have this offering from the children and other persons in the congregation as a part of our large Diocesan offering to the missionary program of the Church.

The Summer Fund enables you to give the boys of our choir an annual outing in June. Offerings may be sent to the Church office or placed on the plate, marked for this purpose. If you care to drive your car for the occasion kindly tell Mr. Day.

A Weekend Retreat at Holy Cross Monastery is being planned by the Men of St. Mark's for the latter part of July. Accommodations are limited. Please speak to Mr. Frank Terry at the Coffee Hour, or call SU 9-9239.

The American Church Union ($60 for '61) is the amount St. Mark's has pledged for work of the American Church Union. At the recent dinner meeting of the Men of St. Mark's, Father Henry Beck, Editor of the A. C. News, gave us a delightful and spirited account of his work and the program of the Union. We of St. Mark's are pleased that Adm. McLean is a Vice-President of the A.C.U. At the General Convention this fall in Detroit, the Union will play an important part with its influence of witness to the Catholic faith. Funds will be necessary to outfit a booth and publish a daily news sheet. We hope that many individuals in the congregation will become members of the A. C. U. At least let's get our "60 for '61" paid, right away. The Rector will be glad to receive your offering for this.

NOTES

Religious Life Sunday is being observed today in many parishes of the Episcopal Church. We should remember the Orders for both men and women at this time, giving thanks for the extensive work the Orders do, and pray for an increase of vocations to the religious life. We think especially of the Society of St. Margaret and the Order of the Holy Cross, both having had many years of close association with St. Mark's. In recognition of this day, the thank offering of the recent Confirmation Class, in the amount of $67.00, has been sent to the Holy Cross Liberian Mission to assist in the education of Liberian youth.

St. Mark's Family Party, on Thursday Evening of This Week, at 6.15 P. M., is for all members of the parish, both men and women. Come and bring one edible "offering" for the buffet. Entertainment and colored slides. Fun for all!

The Women of St. Mark's, at their monthly meeting last Thursday, elected the following women for the coming year as officers:

President -	Mrs. Maybelle Marston
Vice-President -	Mrs. Dorothy McQueen
Secretary - -	Miss Dolores Beech
Treasurer - -	Mrs. Helen M. Ashley
United Thank Offering	Mrs. Janet McLean

It is a distinct honor to welcome The Most Reverend Joost deBlank, D.D., Archbishop of Capetown, S. Africa, to St. Mark's Parish this morning. On this great Festival of the Holy Spirit the Archbishop will be our Guest Preacher and will also preside at the Solemn Mass. The Archbishop of Capetown is the Metropolitan of the Province of S. Africa, which has recently declared itself a Republic, separated from the British Commonwealth.

The Bohlen Lectures will be given by Archbishop deBlank in Holy Trinity Church beginning this evening at 8.00 o'clock. The second and third lectures will be Monday and Tuesday Evenings at the same hour. The subject of the Bohlen Lectures is "The Gospel of Reconciliation". We are grateful to the Rector of Holy Trinity Church for the choice of such outstanding men to give the Bohlen Lectures. The public is invited and we hope that many members of our congregation will avail themselves of this unusual opportunity.

George Wharton Pepper, lifelong member of St. Mark's Parish, entered into Rest Eternal on Wednesday, May 24. The Burial Office was read on Friday afternoon and burial was in the graveyard of St. David's, Radnor. He gave much of himself to the service of God and country, and our community and parish will always have him in grateful remembrance. May he rest in peace.

The Annual Offering for the Altar Society will be taken today. Your generous support is asked for this important work. A fine group of women, under the direction of Sister Darthea, care for the vestments and appointments, with a special group meeting each Saturday to study ecclesiastical embroidery and the repair of vestments. Special Envelopes found in the pews may be used for the offering, which may be placed on the plate or sent to the Church Office at any time.

Our Canterbury Choir resumes rehearsals for summer Sunday Mass on Tuesday, June 6, at 7.30 P. M. This is a volunteer adult group of parishioners and others which makes a very real contribution to our corporate worship. If you would like to help, please speak to the clergy or to the choirmaster.

Father Parsell, O.H.C., sends his personal thanks to the members of the class confirmed last February for their thank offering, which was contributed to the Holy Cross Liberian Mission to help educate Liberian youth.

Word Was Received of the death of Sister Mary Regina, C.S.M., this past week. She was the daughter of the late Rev. Frank L. Vernon, esteemed Rector of this parish for many years. Her many friends are saddened at this news, but remember gratefully her outstanding work as head of St. Mary's School, Peekskill, N. Y. She will be remembered at a Requiem Mass on Wednesday morning of this week.

You Are Invited to attend Evensong at 7 o'clock this evening at St. Augustine's Church of the Covenant, 27th and Girard Avenue. The Service is under the auspices of the Local Chapter of the Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity. The Rev. John B. Morris, Executive Director of the Society, will preach.

To All the Members of St. Mark's Parish Family:

May I please make use of the Sunday leaflet to express my very real gratitude to all those who planned and provided for the anniversary reception on Whitsunday, and my further thanks to the many of you who sent greetings to me on that occasion. It was a delight and honor to have the Archbishop with us, but it was a greater one to receive so many good wishes from the parish family. I am truly grateful.

OUR ST. MARK'S SUNDAY SCHOOL

TODAY marks the last session of our 1960-1961 Sunday School year. Little by little, we continue to grow—and exercise our ingenuity trying to locate places in our parish house to have the classes. But how encouraging that is, to be pinched for room! We are not a little proud of our St. Mark's Sunday School and the impression it has made here in the center part of the city.

Most of the credit goes to the faithful teachers, who appear ready and on time each Sunday to take their classes, in all kinds of weather. Our most faithful Nursery nurse, Mrs. Magioia, gives us invaluable help by caring for the infants during the 11:00 A. M. Mass each Sunday. Sister Darthea's class is already bursting out of the Parish Office where they have been meeting each Sunday. Miss Margaret Evans, Mrs. Charles Maurer, Mrs. Robert Gearhart, Miss Elizabeth Geary, Mr. Daniel Devlin, Mr. Robert Scace, Mr. Gary Gatza—they all rate and deserve your thanks even if you do not happen to have a child in the Sunday School. We have shown to others that it is possible to have a real and alive school in the heart of the city without resorting to any kind of "sales gimmick" or trying merely to draw in children without reference to their family life within the parish. Because at St. Mark's church-going is a family affair, we have almost no trouble with our attendance. We have been able to give visible demonstration to others of the workability of this viewpoint.

It is also noteworthy that most of our children continue to come to church throughout the summer months with their parents, and we want to encourge all families to come as a unit. This has great meaning for children, and sets a pattern they will follow later on.

M. R. B.

Father Becker will be in charge of the parish from July 17th through September 1st.

With only one priest on duty during the summer months, you are asked to be patient if there is no answer to the door bell. We shall do our best to keep up our usual practice of having a priest available twenty-four hours a day. Our Answering Service will take telephone calls when we are out.

The Parish Office will be open from 9:30 to 1:30 daily, Monday through Friday, beginning July 3rd, until after Labor Day.

Holy Communion is administered at all Masses to confirmed members of the Episcopal Church, or to those in Communion with her. It is expected that all who present themselves at the Altar Rail are spiritually prepared and come fasting.

A Nursery will be provided from 10:45 A. M. until 12:30 P. M. on Sundays for infants under four years of age.

Coffee Hour after the 11 o'clock Mass will continue during the summer. (Also something cool).

Rowland Ricketts, M.D. will be in charge of music during August while Mr. Day in on vacation.

Mass at 8 o'clock, and Solemn Mass at 11 o'clock, will be resumed on September 10th.

NOTES

THE FALL SCHEDULE of Sunday and weekday services begins today. The complete schedule is found on the front page of this Leaflet.
You will note—

TODAY—The Mass at 8 and the Solemn Mass at 11 are resumed. The Canterbury Choir, which has so faithfully led our praises these summer Sundays, will sing today, and the Choir of Men and Boys will return next Sunday.

THURSDAYS—The additional Mass will now be at 12.10 P. M., giving us three noonday Masses each week—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

EVENSONG—(choral) and Devotions will be resumed on November 5th. Evening Prayer will be read as usual at 5.30 P. M. until then.

THE 9 O'CLOCK MASS ON SUNDAYS is becoming more and more a Family Mass, as the number of children and young people increases. It is good for them especially to learn and sing the great hymns of the Church, and for others as well who come only to this Mass to hear a brief sermon or instruction. Beginning today we shall have two hymns and a brief sermon at 9 o'clock. The first hymn will be sung as we make the Offertory, and a second one kneeling after the communions. Various members of our parish family will assist Mr. Day in playing at this service.

OUR SUNDAY SCHOOL begins today, and as before we shall have classes for all age groups. This includes an adult class on the third Sunday of each month at 10 o'clock following the 9 o'clock Mass and breakfast. Classes for children 11 years old through Junior High School will meet at 10 each Sunday. Classes for children up through 10 years old will meet at 11 o'clock, and there will be a Nursery at this hour for infants up through 2 years old. Father Becker will be glad to make any adjustments he can as to age groups and times. It is physically impossible to have all our children come at the same hour, therefore we have to divide up the school in this way. It is best to have the older groups meet at 10 so that those who are confirmed can make their communions at the 9 o'clock Mass, and have breakfast afterwards.

A WORD FROM THE FAIR COMMITTEE of the Women of St. Mark's: To all those who helped make the 1961 Fair a success by their labors and contributions, we are extremely grateful. After expenses, a total of $1,203.57 was cleared—a notable accomplishment.

The Rector's Message

Today we of St. Mark's join many parishes of the Episcopal Church and the American Church Union in a Sunday of Witness to the Faith—opening "A Week of Prayer for the Church and for the 60th General Convention."

Every three years in our American Church, clerical and lay deputies as well as the bishops of the various dioceses and missionary districts meet for a General Convention. Next week, in Detroit, the 1961 convention opens. The convention is organized somewhat like our national Congress with two houses meeting and legislating separately, the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies (priests and laymen). Both Bishop Hart and Bishop Armstrong are members of the House of Bishops, and, as in all dioceses, four priests and four laymen are elected as members of the House of Deputies from this diocese.

In most cases prominent, that is, well-known, priests and laymen are elected at diocesan conventions for these posts. As is frequent in the democratic process, these men have to pass on matters which have doctrinal implications, such as Prayer Book revision, relations with other Christian bodies, and reunion proposals. They may or may not be versed with, or have any real understanding of, these matters. As most of us would be tempted to do under such circumstances, they frequently vote from sentiment and feeling, rather than from knowledge.

Such is the legislative procedure of our Church, and its hazards, and it will probably be with us for some time. We as Churchmen should learn to live with it for in general, no better organization seems at hand. Our present system could be greatly improved if diocesan conventions had the wisdom to elect as deputies men with conviction and understanding as to what the Church is and the Faith that has been given to us. Deputies should be trained in the discipline of prayer, and know the richness of the Prayer Book way of life.

It is probable that new Church unity schemes will come before the Detroit convention. The great danger is that they will be considered on the emotional level. Regardless, each of us should remember that we are called to work and pray for the oneness of all Christians in Christ's Holy Catholic Church. We also know that we cannot achieve unity by merely turning the clock back. I suspect that even the Pope recognizes that reunion cannot ever be on Roman terms alone —"return to the one true Church"—as if there had been no Reformation.

So many modern unity proposals are based on the idea of compromise, that is, you give a little, and we'll give a little. If this were merely a matter of giving up man-made customs and organization structures, it would be all right. We must admit that the matter of vestments and appointments of worship do not make a valid Mass in themselves. A bishop can be a true successor of the Apostles without ever wearing a cope and miter. Also, there are other rites quite as valid as those in our Prayer Book. We all could give a little here and there on these external matters. (This is what we do in the amazing variety of our own Episcopal Church right along.) However, when it comes to giving away a little here and there of the Faith of the Creed or the Sacramental Life, generally necessary to salvation, we have to say "no" to such compromise, for these things are not ours to barter.

General Convention has no authority to make changes in the Apostolic Faith—"once delivered to the saints". It would be quite proper for the Church to study the Blake-Pike proposal IF we would leave it in the realm of serious study and discussion for an adequate period. The danger is that the pressure of silver-tongued oratory may win a sentimental response to ACT hurriedly.

We can do our part this coming week and during the convention. We can witness to the Faith by a renewed devotion to Our Lord and His Church. We can work for unity by making the essentials of the Faith the real issue, leaving "high-church" externals to personal choice. We can show how much the Faith means to us by disciplined Catholic lives—being men and women of prayer—using the sacraments as means of grace, not tests of churchmanship—being evangelists, bringing others to Jesus Christ.

Specific action?—yes—PRAY earnestly that the Holy Spirit may preside in the Council of the Catholic Church to be held in Detroit these September days of 1961.

EMMETT P. PAIGE.

Hymns at the 9 o'clock Mass today—Nos. 388 and 204 (sung kneeling)

NOTES

The Confirmation Class for Children will have its first meeting on Saturday morning, October 7th, at 10.30 o'clock in the Meeting Room.

Special Music Programs are already being rehearsed by the Canterbury Choir which meets on Tuesday evenings at 7.30 o'clock. New volunteers are always welcome. Sopranos and altos are especially needed at this time. A new volunteer chamber orchestra to accompany the group is now being formed. If you would like to participate in either group by singing or playing an instrument, please speak to Mr. Day, our Choirmaster.

It is with deep regret that we announce the resignation of Mrs. McFaul as our parish secretary. Mrs. McFaul has served St. Mark's for many years, and her many friends and co-workers will miss her very much. We are grateful to her for her loyal service. Mrs. William Christie, who has been the assistant secretary, will assume the office of parish secretary.

Faithful Stewards. It is now almost six years since we began our parish program of Stewardship Giving, pledging for periods of three years as close as we could to the principle of tithing. The response was splendid at each of the canvasses, and it is most encouraging how well most of our members have fulfilled their responsibilities. It is time for our third Stewardship Canvass this fall, and the vestry committee on parochial support under the chairmanship of Mr. Alan Evans is making careful preparations. This month is an excellent time for some of us to catch up on our giving, if we are behind. Mr. Hand, our Accounting Warden, will be glad to give you information about your account, if you need it to complete your pledged giving. We not only depend on your faithful stewardship to fulfill the parish program, but also to meet our missionary pledge to the diocese and Church at large, the support of the diocese and to complete our part in the Capital Funds Program of the diocese.

NOTES

An Adult Class for instruction and discussion will meet today and the third Sunday of each month at 10 o'clock in the Meeting Room of the Parish House. On this Sunday there is no address at the 9 o'clock Mass so that Father Becker will have ample time with the group. Breakfast is available right after the close of the Mass.

Our Sunday School had its first session last Sunday with a very good initial attendance. The importance of Christian Education cannot be over-stressed. Your priests and the teachers who give faithfully of their time can only do their job in this respect with the full cooperation of the parents. Our goal is to reach every child and young person in the parish as well as reach out to the other children of the community. Our ideal is that each child in our Sunday School will be here EVERY Sunday to worship God and to learn of Him.

The General Convention of the Church opens today in Detroit. Those representing the Church and the work of the convention should be in our prayers daily. A special prayer is found on page 36 of the Prayer Book.

The Fall Ember Days are on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week. According to the Book of Common Prayer, they are days of Fasting and Abstinence. We should pray for the Ministry of the Church at this time, for our seminaries, the members of the faculties and those preparing for Holy Orders.

The Inquirers' Class will have its first meeting on Wednesday evening, October 4th, at 7.30 o'clock in the Parish House. An invitation is extended to all interested persons to attend:

—those who wish to inquire about the Church and the Faith.
—those who seek the Sacrament of Holy Confirmation.
—those who feel they need a refresher course in Faith and Practice.

Hymns at the 9 o'clock Mass today—Nos. 391 and 209 (sung kneeling)

NOTES

Our Parish Pledge for 1961 to the American Church Union is still incomplete. If you have not assisted in this work yet, the Rector will be pleased to have your offering. The ACU is doing an excellent job at the General Convention, and does merit our support at this time.

THE RECEIVING OF HOLY COMMUNION. Following the principles of the historic Catholic Church and the directives of our own Book of Common Prayer, all persons coming to receive Holy Communion should have first been confirmed in the Episcopal Church, or in some part of the Church with which we are in communion. We should also be prepared through self-examination and some form of confession, as well as coming to the Sacrament as the first food of the day—fasting.

In the interest of good Church manners we make the following suggestions:

—It would seem helpful if communicants would come forward from their pews at such intervals as to keep the rail full, not forming long lines down the center aisle. At all times it would help to fill the rail completely, including the space at the center.

—To the women of the congregation we suggest three things: (1) Lift your veil, even if it is a very short one, before coming to the altar. (2) Remove both gloves and (3) Remove lipstick. (The reason for this last is obvious. We agree that lipstick is a necessity to good appearance today, but on the chalice it becomes both unedifying and hard on the chalice linens.

—To receive the Host, kneel upright, with the hands raised almost to shoulder height. The right hand, the hand of honor, should be placed upon the left, with palms flat. (Our Prayer Book directs that we receive the Host in our hands as the normal practise.) The base of the chalice should be guided with one hand. Merely guide; do not grasp, and do not touch any part above the base. It is most considerate to remain at the rail until the third person at your left has received the chalice.

—The custom of Intinction, the dipping of the Host in the chalice by the communicant himself, is not practised in this parish.

These "church manners" are not set forth arbitrarily, but should be thought of as ways in which we may perfect our common worship and devotional practices. E. P. P.

They are under the excellent care of Mrs. Magioia, our trained nurse. Other small children should be taken to the nursery while their parents are at the Coffee Hour. There is a hazard if they are under foot in the meeting room with the large number of the congregation trying to meet their friends and balance cups of coffee.

Your Birthday Offering. Those of you who have received a Birthday Card from the parish, and have sent in your Birthday Offering of a penny a year (or more, if you desire) will be pleased to know that the money sent to the Sisters of St. Margaret for their work in Haiti last year came to $191.00, and that so far this year we have sent them $116 towards their fine and important hospital and school work there. Sister Joan Margaret writes: "We are most grateful to you for this extra help, and I do thank you on behalf of all who will benefit from it."

We are all grateful for this improvement. The lounge is available for those who have breakfast after the 9 o'clock Mass and wish to wait for the Solemn Mass on Sunday mornings. We should try to clear the meeting room as soon as possible after the 9.30 breakfast as Sunday School classes begin at 10 o'clock.

"May I use this means to thank each member of the parish for the wonderful observance of our 10th anniversary together last Sunday. I am especially grateful to the committee of the Women of St. Mark's for the Coffee Hour reception, and the beautiful cakes which we all shared. To the many parishioners and friends who sent me messages, cards and affectionate tokens I can only say that they warmed my heart more than they can know. Last Sunday gave us all the assurance that we begin the new decade as a united parish family—at one in our Blessed Lord. Again—my sincere thanks."

Christian Folk in the Greater Philadelphia Area will be interested in the visit of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King this week. The public is invited to a mass meeting on Tuesday Evening, October 24, in the Academy of Music sponsored by Fellowship House. Dr. King is well known for his acceptance of the principle of love expressed in non-violent opposition to intrenched injustice.

From John Wesley's "Suggestions for Congregational Singing of Hymns." (1761 A. D.)

"Sing them exactly as they are printed here, without altering or mending them at all; and if you have learned to sing them otherwise, unlearn it as soon as you can.

Sing all. See that you join with the congregation as frequently as you can. Let not a slight degree of weakness or weariness hinder you. If it is a cross to you, take it up, and you will find it a blessing.

Sing lustily, and with a good courage. Beware of singing as if you are half-dead or half-asleep; but lift up your voice with strength. Be no more afraid of your voice now, nor more ashamed of its being heard, than when you sing the songs of Satan.

Sing modestly. Do not bawl, so as to be heard above or distinct from the rest of the congregation—that you may not destroy the harmony—but strive to unite your voices together so as to make one clear melodious sound.

Sing in time. Whatever time is sung be sure to keep with it. Do not run before nor stay behind it.

Above all, sing spiritually. Have an eye to God in every word you sing. Aim at pleasing Him more than yourself, or any other creature."

The Stewardship Canvass for the members of our congregation for the next three years is now under way. It was a very happy "family" that gathered for dinner last Thursday evening, and in the church, following the dinner, we heard something of our parish opportunities and responsibilities, and how each of us is privileged to give according to the plan of modern tithing. A definite pledge is implied in being a member of this parish. What one gives is between God and himself after thoughtful prayer. Regular, responsible giving is like regular attendance at the Lord's Service on the Lord's Day—they are normal for each member of the Family. Each one "carries his weight"—not by the amount he gives or how busy he is—but by a life of faithfulness in worship and the use of the sacraments, and by sacrificial giving of self and one's possessions. NOTES

Pachelbel's "Magnificat in C" will be sung this afternoon following our first Evensong of the season at 5.30 o'clock. This is the first of the special programs presented by the Canterbury Choir which will be assisted by an orchestra.

The Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity (Philadelphia-Delaware area chapter) will hold its meeting in St. Mark's parish house this Saturday morning. The group will attend the 9.30 Mass, have a light breakfast, and convene the meeting about 10.15 o'clock. The members of the congregation are cordially invited to this meeting to hear about the program of ESCRU, and to learn how one can put into action the Church's mission to men and women of all cultures and races.

Hymn Boards were very helpful to a congregation in the days before Sunday leaflets listed all hymns to be sung in a service. With the hymns listed each week for both the 9 o'clock Mass and the Solemn Mass at 11 as well as for Evensong, we wonder if listings on the hymn boards are any longer necessary. Would you miss the hymn numbers on the boards?

The spirit and real meaning of Sacrificial Giving comes to us in a text from St. John's Gospel—"God so loved the world that He GAVE....." Giving is always the response of Love.

CATHOLICS AND THE ECUMENICAL MOVEMENT

Many Episcopalians of Catholic heritage and training have viewed with concern the growing movements for unity amongst Christians, believing that in the desire for Christian fellowship and the showing of charity, some essential elements of the Faith will be given up or neglected. That there is a real danger in this regard is obvious, not alone in yielding on matters of the ancient threefold Ministry (which we believe is of the very essence of the Church), but also on other essential matters of the Faith. However, we do not believe that any action was taken at Detroit that jeopardized our Anglican heritage, although we know that in the years ahead we shall have to work and pray hard to be sure that the movement for unity moves in the right direction, that is, to "the Faith once delivered to the Saints".

Fortunately, we have as the new Archbishop of Canterbury a man who is a sound theologian, one who sees the situation clearly and is devoting the rest of his life to making certain that the Anglican Communion does not disappear into a new and vague sect of Christianity, but rather guides the churches into the fullness of the Catholic and Evangelical truth. Surely, we who have been blessed with Catholic understanding and practice must throw ourselves into the stream of Christian discussions about unity, think about it, learn more about it, pray about it, talk about it with other Christians, and enter into "Christian dialogues". In this way we can be certain that under the Holy Spirit the Ecumenical Movement will move in the right direction and towards the final re-union of all Christendom.

WORLD COUNCIL AT NEW DELHI

The theme of the Third Assembly of the World Council of Churches which meets at New Delhi, India, from November 18th to December 6th of this year is "Jesus Christ, the Light of the World." That this is an important gathering is evidenced by the fact that representatives of nearly all major Protestant, Orthodox and Anglican bodies will be present. While no Roman Catholics will be present as delegates, there will be official observers there, an important advance in inter-church relationships. All in all, several hundred Christian bodies will be represented.

The World Council was founded in 1948 at Amsterdam, after many years of negotiation between various Christian bodies.

Perhaps the best known activities of the World Council are in the areas of WITNESS, SERVICE and UNITY. The first represents the desire of the many Christian bodies to reach out to all people in presenting the Gospel to all mankind. The second covers the whole field of frightening social, economic and political problems which face the twentieth century, and for which solutions can be found only through the Christian ministry of reconciliation and redemption. The problem of Christian Unity is of course a major concern—in fact, it is out of this desire that the Council was first formed. It seeks to explore every avenue which may lead to the reunion of Christendom in accordance with the will of Him who prayed "that they all may be one". Thus the various bodies are seeking common ground for a new outpouring of the Holy Spirit.

NOTES

THE SOLEMN MASS ON THANKSGIVING DAY at 9.30 A. M. is a glorious Family Eucharist. Both the Choir of Men and Boys and the Canterbury Choir will sing, assisted by trumpeters. The Service will include Missa Brevis by Brian Trant, composed in 1960, as well as R. Vaughan Williams' anthem based on Old 100th Psalm Tune. The Nursery will be open for the 9.30 Mass; also there will be NO sermon. Bring your family—invite your friends to worship with you on this day of National Thanksgiving.

OUR SPECIAL THANKSGIVING OFFERING goes for the Church's work in two of our hospitals. We plan this year to divide the offering between All Saints' Hospital, a division of Episcopal Community Services, and the Episcopal Chaplaincy at Episcopal Hospital now being carried on by two priests of our diocese. All Saints' Hospital offers care especially for those with chronic diseases, and has an excellent program of therapy towards recovery. It also continues a department for the care of tubercular patients, as well as for the aged. If any of the congregation wish to specify that their offerings go particularly to the work at All Saints', will they so indicate.

THE LAYMEN'S UNION will hold its monthly meeting at St. Mark's on Tuesday evening, November 28th. The Men of St. Mark's will be hosts, and it is hoped that a goodly number can attend the service and meeting at 8 o'clock.

THE PARISH STEWARDSHIP CANVASS is officially over, but there are some odds and ends to bring in before the job is complete. We know that each canvasser and member who has "unfinished business" in this part of the Lord's work will care for it immediately. We as a parish are grateful to Mr. Alan Evans and all who served as workers in the canvass, as well as to the women who made the parish dinner possible, and to our parish staff.

NOTES

The Laymen's Union of the diocese will hold its November meeting here at St. Mark's on Tuesday evening of this week. At 8 o'clock there will be Eucharistic Devotions in the Church, followed by a meeting in the parish house. Father Wappler, of Christ Church, Media, will continue his series of addresses on "The Drama of the Eucharist". We hope that the Men of St. Mark's as hosts for the occasion will be present.

The Women of St. Mark's will hold their next meeting and dinner on December 7th, Thursday evening, at 6 o'clock, following Evening Prayer. The speaker for the evening will be Miss Lena Brosius, Director of the Children's Center of the Episcopal Church.

Advent Retreats for Women at St. Margaret's House:

December 12—Quiet Day conducted by the Rev. Edward L. Lee, Jr. 8.30 A. M. to 3.15 P. M.

December 16—Quiet Evening conducted by the Rev. Richard J. Herschel. 4.30 P. M. to 9.00 P. M.

Please register early.

When You Register upon entering a hospital, or a school, or sign up for the armed forces, insist that you be put down as an Episcopalian (and not under the general heading of "Protestant") so that the chaplains can minister to you properly. This is now the legal right of all in the armed forces, and most institutions will gladly oblige if you explain the matter to them.

Library Changes—The books have been rearranged on the shelves. The "100's" are now at the end nearest the kitchen, followed by the rest in consecutive order. The staff believes that this will prove to be a more advantageous arrangement.

Our Men in the Armed Forces—These men from our parish ought to be remembered in our own private prayers from time to time, and they are prayed for daily at the end of Evening Prayer.

WHO IS A "MEMBER" OF THE CHURCH? And what is a "communicant in good standing"? The recent General Convention has revised Canon 16 to make it much clearer, and to answer these questions.

Canon 16—"Of Regulations Respecting the Laity."

Section 1. All persons who have received the sacrament of Holy Baptism with water in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, and whose baptism has been duly recorded in this Church, are members thereof.

Section 2. All such baptized persons who shall for one year next preceding have fulfilled the requirements of the Canon "Of the Due Celebration of Sundays", unless for good cause prevented, are members of this Church in good standing.

Section 3. All such members in good standing who have been confirmed by a Bishop of this Church or a Bishop of a Church in communion with this Church or have been received into this Church by a Bishop of this Church, and who shall, unless for good cause prevented, have received Holy Communion at least thrice during the next preceding year, are communicants in good standing.

Canon 19.—"Of the Due Celebration of Sundays".

All persons within this Church shall celebrate and keep the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday, by regular participation in the public worship of the Church, by hearing the Word of God read and taught, and by other acts of devotion and works of charity, using all godly and sober conversation.

Translation:

1. Chorus-Chorale—Come now, Saviour of the heathen, Child born of a virgin. All the earth marvels that the Lord so comes.
2. Tenor Aria—Behold, O Man, the great mystery revealed to the world; the treasures of heaven are disclosed to earth, he feeds us with manna. O wonder! the spotless Virgin's virgin birth.
3. Bass Recitative—So he sets forth from the Father's throne, the Only-begotten Son. The Lion of Judah comes to earth swiftly, joyfully running his course for us. Born to redeem the lost and sinning, O Splendour bright! O Priceless Star of Blessing!
4. Bass Aria—Fight on, vanquish, bold Hero; in our flesh conquering all with thy might. Do not delay, strengthen our weak natures.
5. Chorus Recitative—Acknowledging the Godhead, we now approach Thy cradle and joyfully praise your gift; the dark is dispelled by everlasting light.
6. Chorus-Chorale—Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost; As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Participants in this special music program may be met after the service in the Lounge on the upper floor of the Parish House, where you and your friends may gather to visit.

All soloists and instrumentalists as well as the choir heard today have volunteered their services. We appreciate the generosity of these musicians and thank them for their help. We shall again need the help of volunteer instrumentalists; three trombone players for our February concert, and string, brass and woodwind players for the May program. If you would like to participate as a singer or as an instrumentalist, or if you know of others who might do so, please speak to the Choirmaster.

Our next special program will be presented on Sunday, February 18, at 5.30 P. M. Two Motets by Anton Bruckner and Sowerby's "Liturgy of Hope," with Vivian Stanchik as soloist will be heard at that time.

Hymns at the 9 o'clock Mass today—Nos. 10 and 198 (sung kneeling)

NOTES

The Advent Ember Days, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, are designated by the Prayer Book as days of fasting and abstinence. The Mass intentions for those days will be for the increase of the Sacred Ministry, for candidates for Holy Orders and for our Seminaries.

Flowers for Christmas—Members of the congregation wishing to have memorial flowers on the High Altar on Christmas Day are asked to send their contributions, in either check or cash, to the parish office by next Thursday, December 21st. Kindly indicate the name or names of those you wish to memorialize at this time.

The Christmas Fund welcomes your contributions, which may be placed in the alms basins or sent to the parish office. With this fund we remember the shut-ins, and give a Christmas "treat" to the Sunday School and boys of the choir.

No Sunday School Classes Next Sunday. Instead, there will be a special service for all children, parents and members of their families, at 5.30 P. M., which is Christmas Eve. There will be the Evensong of Christmas, followed by a procession to the Manger. COME AT 4.30 P. M. for a CHRISTMAS TREAT in the Parish House. There will be the NURSERY as usual on Christmas Day at 9.30 A. M.

A Special Program of Organ Music will precede Evensong next Sunday afternoon. The recital will begin at 5 o'clock.

Your New Offering Envelopes which begin on January 7th should now be in your hands—or on the table near the font—if you have made a pledge. Should there be some error—or if for some reason the canvasser was unable to reach you for your pledge—kindly call Mrs. Christie at the parish office between 9.30 and 2.30 the early part of this week.

BRAIN — UNWASHED

We like to condemn other societies for brain-washing its people. One of our most beloved legends is that in our own society this sort of thing cannot happen. What gives us this fond illusion is that other societies do it in a different way. They do it openly and brutally, threatening sickening consequences if the lies are not accepted as truth. We always manage it more pleasantly.

We almost never try it openly, and as for consequences, we seldom even mention them—we just put them into immediate effect. We don't go in much for physical torture, but we can manage some rather effective psychological pain for those who refuse to go along. We would not think of employing a thumb-screw to our victims, but a telephone makes a fine substitute.

As we grow up, we are gently brain washed by our education, by our peers, by advertizing, by all sorts of ways and means. And we are urged to build our lives upon these folk-facts. The Church, always ready to be in on a good thing, has helped out a lot. It has mostly devoted its Sunday Schools to giving God's blessing to the folk-facts: George Washington and the Father Founders meet in happy companionship with the Twelve Apostles, and the basic tenets of our religion have a way of being the basic tenets of our economy. Denominations are divided not so much by theology as by class distinction.

When, as has been the case recently, these folk-facts are knocked into a cocked hat by the realities of life today, and by a generation that can think for itself, the total psychological effect upon our society can be catastrophic. It is silly to run around asking what on earth has happened to us. Plenty has happened to us—we have had the props knocked out from under us. It is a compliment to our stability and ingenuity that we are doing as well as we are.

It seems to me that the Church's task in this situation of a nation that has, as it were, lost its mind temporarily, is to try to help ease the pain and to apply the medicines, to help us all see that what has been taken away from us was not the truth at all, but only what we had put there in place of the truth. Sometimes, when someone who is very ill finally faces the grim fact of the reality of his illness, he gains a strength and a courage he never had known before. We could do that if we wished to, if we can bring ourselves to see that all that is happening to us is that we are being brain-unwashed.

NOTES

IMPORTANT SERVICE NOTE: Psalms, the ancient hymns of the Church, will be used at the beginning of the Liturgy at the 11 o'clock Mass, starting today. They are intended to be sung by the entire congregation, so a very simple melody will be used. All the words will be sung on one note with two variations: the last syllable of the first half of each verse (marked by an asterisk in the Prayer Book) rises one note; the last syllable of each verse drops one note in the second half. All choir members will sing the melody to lead the congregation, while the organ will provide harmonies for variety.

CANTERBURY CHOIR began almost eighteen years in response to the expressed wish for ladies and men of the congregation to participate in the music-worship life of the parish. We have always welcomed singers from outside the parish too. Our Evensong-Concerts developed as a means of providing interesting and challenging music in addition to that which was required for the various services provided by this choir. An additional opportunity came to us in providing a choir for the summer services when the Parish Choir of men and boys was on vacation. Recently the number of parishioners in the choir has been outnumbered by non-parishioners. We need ladies and men from the congregation and from the parish as soon as possible. Our immediate concern is the Ascension Day Mass at 6 P. M. and the Evensong-Concert on the afternoon of May 10. Rehearsal for these is held on Tuesday at 6:45 P. M. There are no extra rehearsals for the summer Sunday morning services. Next fall rehearsals will be changed to Wednesdays at 7:30 P. M. in the hope of increasing participation by our St. Mark's folk. Won't you help? We need unskilled as well as skilled people. No voice test is required, and there are no membership dues. Friends of the parish will continue to be most welcome also.

THE GIVING OF THE "PEACE" TO START ON WHITSUNDAY

In our use of the Trial Liturgy here at St. Mark's we have not so far done anything at the time of the "Peace." It is the intention of the Liturgy that the congregation actually greet each other at this point in the service. When we began to use the Trial Liturgy, we did not think that the old way of doing the Peace would be very helpful, and we could not figure out just exactly how to fit it into the framework of the Trial Liturgy and our own parochial needs and situation. Now after many months of thinking about it, talking it over with many people, reading about it, and learning what other congregations are doing, we think we have come up with some conclusions which should help us to start doing something at the time of the Peace.

The first thing we learned was that you have to get rid of two traditional viewpoints about the Peace: (1) that it is a "chain-reaction" thing starting at the Altar and going down unbroken through the congregation, and (2) that it is some kind of a ceremony, which everyone must do in a fixed way. Since in the Trial Liturgy the Peace has nothing to do with the Altar, it becomes simply a time for Christians to greet each other (one of the most ancient Christian customs we have). It seems best, therefore, to do this quite informally and as spontaneously as we can to keep it from becoming a ceremony. The only "system" will be that we all do it at the same place in the service. Even what you say and what you do will not be fixed, only suggested.

The traditional "kiss of peace" seems much too exotic and much too complicated. Unless you know how to do it, it becomes difficult and easily ludicrous. Besides, it is far too formal. We simply do not greet one another that way today. The most natural thing to do would be to shake hands with the person on either side of you . . . and use his or her name if you happen to know it and to say "The Peace of the Lord be always with you" (since that it what it gives us in the Liturgy) and to respond, when someone shakes your hand, with "And with your spirit." If it is your wife (husband, child, fiancee, sweetheart) you might kiss them. It's up to you. But whatever you do, it should be natural, informal and pleasant.

The signal for this will be the words of the Celebrant, who will say "The Peace of the Lord be always with you" and you will make the usual response of "And with your spirit." That is his greeting to you. Then he will turn and greet the Deacons on either side of him, which is your cue to do the same with the person on either side of you. Of course, if you insist upon sitting all alone, you wont be able to do this. But you might try greeting someone behind or in front of you. In any case, greet someone. Then the Offertory will proceed as usual.

It is hard for us to be natural and informal in church. This will be a good experience for us. If at first you feel like giggling, then giggle. At least smile, because it is meant to be a joyful action.

NOTES

THE FLOWERS at the High Altar today are given by Mrs. John R. Rowan in memory of her late husband.

OUR ANNUAL PARISH PARTY will follow the 6 P. M. Mass on Thursday, Ascension Day. The party consists of a buffet Supper to which each family or individual is asked to bring a "food offering." Because of space it is necessary to limit the party to members of the congregation, their families and all members of the Canterbury Choir. A program will follow the supper. No reservations are necessary for the meal—just come and bring something good for the "smorgasbord."

THE EVENSONG-CONCERT next Sunday at 4.30 P. M. will conclude with an organ recital by Peggy Haas. The attractive young musician is a finalist in the Young Organists Competetion sponsored by the American Guild of Organists, to be held in Buffalo in June. You and your friends are invited to attend.

TO THE CANTERBURY CHOIR—our thanks for your faithful services during the summer months.

TO THE PARISH CHOIR OF MEN AND BOYS—welcome back this morning after what we hope was a happy summer.

WE WELCOME Mr. Frederick H. Foerster, a student at the Philadelphia Divinity School, as Seminarian on the parish staff. Mr. Foerster will assist at the Sunday services, in the Sunday School and visiting patients at the Graduate Hospital.

WE OF ST. MARK'S PARISH FAMILY were saddened by the death of John E. McLaughlin the latter part of August. Jack was a faithful member of the parish and a vestryman for many years. Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. McLaughlin.

MRS. WILLIAMS, our parish secretary, will be away the greater part of September recovering from an operation. Frequently, during this period, the office may be closed and the telephone on the answering service. We know that members of the parish will understand and leave messages for the clergy when necessary.

A BIT OF HISTORY

In 1848 a group of men met to form the first Vestry of St. Mark's Parish and to build a new church "in the growing southwest portion of the city" the architecture of which was to facilitate the carrying out of the then contemporary "catholic revival" in the Church of England. John Notman, a Philadelphia architect, was given the commission.

So wealthy were its first congregation that it was soon known as "the millionaires' church" and with the arrival of Mrs. Rodman Wanamaker, who was an Episcopalian, and the subsequent interest of her husband in the parish, it soon got the extra reputation of being "the Wanamaker church." That it never was. The family were, and still are, Presbyterians.

In company with almost every other wealthy city parish of the day St. Mark's built "mission" churches in the less elegant parts of the city: St. Mary's, on Bainbridge Street, for blacks, and St. Michael's for "white working men." Both are now independent parishes, St. Michael's having moved to Yeadon. Many churches in the southern part of town were built in this way, for it was the day of the "institutional church" designed to help and evangelize the "less fortunate" members of our society. The large parish house buildings complete with gymnasiums and auditoriums are a remaining millstone around the necks of these churches.

Just before and during World War I the number of communicants at St. Mark's dropped from 1700 to 600. It was the time of the exodus of the wealthy to the suburbs. Between the two world wars the congregation dropped even farther in numbers, so much so, that when Fr. Paige arrived in 1951 the then bishop told him that he was a fool to accept the job because he would probably have to close the parish within five years' time! But with a new Vestry, whose vision and attitudes were realistic, a new congregation was developed from the immediate community, and the stewardship-giving idea was begun (up until then hardly anyone made a pledge, the deficits being made up at the end of the year by a few wealthy men). The Parish House was remodeled as visible evidence that St. Mark's was alive and meaning to continue on in the community.

Today's congregations are quite different, being a real cross-section of the city community. One third live within walking distance, and few live in the suburban areas, and there are more people under thirty than before. Had St. Mark's stayed the same as it was in 1850, or in 1910, or even in 1950, the bishop's gloomy prophecy would have been fulfilled. Change is inevitable; it is, after all, a sign of life. Only dead things no longer change. And judging by the past history of this parish, change has often been beneficial.

NOTES

A FIRST FOR ST. MARK'S—the entire organ works of J. S. Bach will be played here at St. Mark's in a series of fourteen bi-weekly programs, sponsored by the Musical Fund Society of Philadelphia, and played by organist Joseph Kline. The concerts will be presented on alternate Saturday afternoons at 4 o'clock, beginning on October 9th. Our Parish Choir will participate in three of the programs, singing the chorales upon which Bach based some of his organ settings. A season ticket for the entire series may be obtained without charge by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to:

Musical Fund Society of Philadelphia
c/o Stanley Myers
240 Shawnee Road
Ardmore, Pa. 19003

Be sure to mention that you are a member of St. Mark's congregation, because special tickets for a reserved section are being issued to us. Requests will be filled in the order received until tickets are exhausted.

THE COPY FOR THESE SUNDAY LEAFLETS must be prepared and sent off to our printer ten days ahead of time, so if you desire a notice to be included, please have it into Fr. Becker far enough in advance.

WE WELCOME TO ST. MARK'S THIS MORNING The Very Rev. Dr. Cuthbert Pratt, Dean of the Southwark Deanery in which St. Mark's is. It is the custom in our diocese for the Deans to act as Institutor for the Bishop whenever a new Rector is instituted into a parish. We are also glad to have with us The Rev. George Swayne of the Order of the Holy Cross, who is our preacher today. There has been a long and happy relationship between St. Mark's and Holy Cross for a good many years, during which they have served in the parish at times when we required help, and also have many times been our Good Friday preachers. Fr. Swayne is the Novice Master of the Order.

WE WELCOME AS GUEST PREACHER NEXT SUNDAY the Very Rev. Edward G. Harris, dean of the Philadelphia Divinity School, who will preach at 11 A. M.

NOTES

THE BOYS OF OUR PARISH CHOIR are assisting the choir of St. Peter's Church this afternoon on the occasion of the diocesan celebration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of the "Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society" of the Church.

PLEASE VOTE! Part of any Christian's basic duty is to try to make his world a better place to live in. The very least we can do is to go out and cast our vote.

IN HONOR OF FATHER PAIGE. This afternoon from 4 to 6 P.M. we shall have a reception in honor of Fr. Paige. When he retired on September first of this year, Fr. Paige had been Rector of St. Mark's for twenty years, and his rectorship marks a definite and distinct period in the life of the parish, one which will be remembered by those who have had the privilege of knowing and working with him.

When Fr. Paige came to St. Mark's in 1951, the then Bishop told him that he had been a fool to accept the job, because the church would in all probability be closed within five years' time. But by taking a realistic view of things, and by his leadership and inspiration, the parish came out of its doldrums and into a new era. Instead of mourning the loss of its former congregation, St. Mark's found a new one, the major portion of which lived in the community.

A "stewardship program" was begun, which came to have great effect. It was not just another gimmick to increase membership, but a symbol of real commitment on the part of Clergy and Congregation. As a visible sign of the new outlook the parish house was completely renovated to let the community know that, far from dying, St. Mark's was alive and well and intended to continue on Locust Street.

St. Mark's owes much to Fr. Paige, whose pastoral guidance brought it through a difficult transition. There are not many here now who were here when Fr. Paige arrived, but those few will recall the difference his ministry has made. This is a place that has quite literally brought out of its treasury things both new and old. The fine old traditions we owe to other pastors; the new life we owe to Emmett P. Paige.

At least some of the sadness of saying good-bye is removed for us by realizing how very fortunate we have been in the last twenty years to have had Fr. Paige as our Rector.

ST. MARK'S has had a long history of special concern for urban ministry to its surrounding community, beginning with the building of one of the first parish houses in this country in 1850 for the purpose of educating the immigrant working people who lived just south of Locust Street, so that they might earn a living. A second program was begun on Kater Street, and then later expanded into a large complex at 19th and Lombard, which included St. Michael's Chapel, a home for aged women, educational facilities, a library for working men, and a home for the Sisters of St. Margaret. A fund was set up to provide coal for poor families in the area, as well as to provide the means for a decent Christian burial. The service tonight is a celebration of that special concern as it has been carried on. We rejoice in company with EPISCOPAL COMMUNITY SERVICES whose ministries to this city can be read about in the enclosed leaflets. Please join with us, and give thanks to God, because it is not our ministry, but His in which we, by His infinite goodness, are allowed to share.
